A 17-year-old Salem youth was injured fatally late Tuesday night when his car collided head - on with a tractor - trailer truck on Route 62, west of Salem.

A Rogers woman and her son were hurt in another mishap early today near Wellsville.

Richard Arthur Girard of 368 Columbia St., Salem, was pronounced dead at Salem City Hospital with fractures of the neck, jaw and leg.

THE OHIO Highway Patrol at Lisbon said his 1960 sedan was headed east on Route 62, about 1½ miles west of Salem, when it went left of the center line and rammed an oncoming rig operated by Glenn Charles Hayes, 38, of Canton. The crash occurred at 11:55 p. m.

The car and the 1957 tractor were demolished in the collision, officers said. Hayes was taken to Salem Central Clinic for treatment of back injuries.

The youth, a gas station attendant, was the son of Mrs. Esther Girard. He would have been a senior at Salem High School.

His death was the 20th road fatality in Columbiana County this year, compared with 12 at this time in 1964. There have been six killed on county roads so far this month. Another Salem youth — Kenneth Konnerth, 16—was killed in a one-car mishap on Route 9 just 10 days ago.

Mrs. Grace McLeod, 34, of Rogers R.D. 1 was in "good" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered when the car in which she was a passenger overturned along a curve of Route 45 at 2:25 a. m. today.

SHE WAS in a car driven by Helen Olexa, 38, of 152 Belmont Court, Toronto, whose 1956 sedan was demolished in the mishap about five miles north of Wellsville.

The patrol said she veered off a curve and the auto overturned on an embankment, landing on its wheels.

Mrs. McLeod received bruises of the hand, abrasions of the leg and shoulder and possible back and neck injuries.

The driver was treated for bruises of the arm and Ronald McLeod was treated for abrasions of the right forearm.

The driver was charged with speeding.

Robert John Nelson, 19, of Steubenville was cited for speeding after his car rammed the rear of another on Route 30 in the Substation area yesterday morning at 8:25.

Officers said his car hit the rear of one operated by Raymond Larrick, 47, of Akron. Damage was minor.

Johnson To Get Measure

Health Care Bill Due Senate's OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill providing a new health-care system for the elderly and other sweeping increases in Social Security comes up for a final Senate vote today, with leaders predicting approval by a margin of at least 3 to 1.

Passage would send the legislation to President Johnson, who has placed a top-priority tag on the measure.

The House passed Tuesday, 307 to 116, the compromise version of legislation embodying the greatest single expansion of Social Security ever voted. The health-care portion ends a generation of effort in Congress to write such a provision into the Social Security System.

The Senate took up the measure Tuesday but held up the final vote until today so that some absentees could be on hand.

Sponsors said they were certain Johnson would sign the bill this month, probably Thursday or Friday, so that the increases in present Social Security benefits can come in September.

The $6.5-billion bill contains broad new health protection available to all 19 million Americans 65 or over as a matter of right and at small cost.

It also increases all present Social Security checks — for retirees, disabled persons and family survivors — by 7 per cent, retroactive to Jan. 1. Checks going to 20 million beneficiaries will be increased.

Everyone is guaranteed an increase of at least $4 a month. An individual who has been receiving the present retirement minimum, $40, will get $44. One who has been receiving the maximum, $127, will have his check increased to $135.90. Couples in which the wife also is of retirement age get 50 per cent above the single person's figure in each case.

The pay-roll tax is increased to help pay for the benefit expansions.

The health program is in two parts:

1. A basic plan financed under Social Security covering hospital stays, posthospital nursing-home care, outpatient hospital diagnostic services, and some health visits.

2. A voluntary supplemental insurance plan covering doctors' fees for services at home, in the office or the hospital, as well as some other services not included in the basic plan.

Nearly all features of this program take effect July 1 next year.

Was Severed By Train, Re-Implanted

Youth, 15, Breaks Arm That Made Medical News

BOSTON (AP) — Everett Knowles, 15, has broken one of the most important right arms in medical hsitory.

The frisky, freckle-faced teenager, whose arm was cut off more than three years ago by a wheel of a slow work train but was then successfully re-implanted, fell recently from a stone wall — and landed on the still highly sensitive arm.

The Associated Press has learned that the boy was then rushed to the Massachusetts General Hospital where some of the surgeons who performed the original operation re-examined the arm.

They worked late into the night a week ago Tuesday and found that the arm had been broken less than an inch from where it had been torn from his body in the freight yard accident.

It was on May 23, 1962 that the doctors had performed what is believed to be the first operation in which a human limb was successfully rejoined to the body. Since then there have been several others.

The hospital confirmed today that young Knowles will have to remain hospitalized for several weeks because of the break and a knee injury also suffered in the fall.

Knowles said he and some friends had gone out for the evening and were sitting on damp grass on the side of a monument in his hometown of Somerville, near Boston, when he slipped and fell.

He said, in an interview, he dropped about 12 feet to the pavement and as he hit, thought, "My God, the arm."

"I knew I had hurt it because I couldn't straighten it out anymore," Knowles said. "Actually the bang on the knee hurt more than the arm."

A spokesman for the surgical-medical team at the hospital said it now appears that the bone break, a crack in the upper forearm, will probably have no effect on the long re-implantation process.

"The arm had become so strongly re-implanted that the

Heath Chosen New Head Of British Party

Conservative Set For Onslaught On Labor Government

LONDON (AP) — Edward Heath took control of Britain's Conservative party today at a critical stage in British politics, signaling a furious onslaught on the embattled Labor government.

Heath's two declared rivals, Reginald Maudling and Enoch Powell, withdrew from the race. The withdrawals came after Heath, on a first ballot of Conservative members of the House of Commons, won 150 of the 298 votes cast Tuesday.

The party's new rules required the winner to poll both a majority and 15 per cent more than the runner-up. Although he had the majority, Heath lacked the 15 per cent because Maudling polled 133 votes. But the latter bowed out and promised to fully support Heath.

New trials emerged for Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Laborites, who rule with a majority of only three votes in Commons.

Wilson's financial executive, Chancellor of the Exchequer James Callaghan, announced a series of urgent economic measures. Callaghan ordered tighter controls on mortgages and installment buying, cuts in government spending both at home and abroad, and a general squeeze on public and private spending.

His purpose was to accelerate the process of balancing Britain's trade and so maintain the value of the pound sterling. The new program was sure to cause grumbling among the voters.

Heath, 49, will make his first real assault on the government as opposition chief next Tuesday.

Up for debate is a Conservative motion deploring the 7 per cent increase in the cost of living since Labor turned the Tories out last October. If the government loses the censure vote, it will have to resign.

Truck Mishap Hurts Beaver County Driver

Melvin Rowley, 27, of Industry R.D. was in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with possible back injuries received in a truck mishap.

Driver for the T. B. Ferguson Trucking Co., of Darlington, Pa., he was admitted to the hospital at 10 a. m. Authorities lacked details of the accident, but said it occurred in southern Beaver County.

The company reported his truck went into a ditch along Route 168 between Laughlin's Corners and Frankfort Springs.

U.S. Planes Hit Reds In North Viet

First Direct Attack In Sector Made To Protect Airman

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. warplanes made their first announced direct attack on North Vietnamese troops in North Viet Nam today. They strafed an advancing Communist force to protect a downed pilot until he could be lifted to safety by helicopter.

The action 65 miles north of the border followed by 24 hours the first American aerial strikes at Soviet-supplied missile bases in the Hanoi area.

Military spokesmen said five U.S. Air Force F105 fighter-bombers were lost on the strikes Tuesday. Pilots reported they destroyed one missile site and damaged another about 40 miles northwest of Hanoi.

The spokesmen said three of the jets were shot down by conventional ground fire and two others crashed after colliding near their home base as they returned from the raids.

Planes involved in the action against the North Vietnamese troops were Navy fighter-bombers from the carrier Midway, a spokesman said. Newsmen were told mechanical trouble forced down a Navy A4 Skyhawk during raids on a group of bridges. The pilot parachuted.

North Vietnamese soldiers moved up a hill toward the plane but were held off by rocket-and cannon-fire of a half-dozen Navy Skyraiders, the spokesman said. Casualties, if any, among the troops were not determined.

A U.S. Air Force helicopter picked up the pilot. He was reported in good condition.

Meantime, U.S. Marines and Vietnamese troops joined in a sweep under guerrilla fire through rice paddies 60 miles south of Da Nang in an attempt to smash Viet Cong forces estimated to total three battalions. They overran the village of Duc An in a sweep toward the sea from a helicopter landing zone inland.

The Marines killed 12 Viet Cong and captured three. American and Vietnamese casualties were termed light.

First news of the strike against the missile sites came from the Pentagon in Washington Tuesday. Briefing officers here added some details today.

Two of the pilots whose planes were shot down were presumed to have been killed or captured, an announcement said, while the third was rescued.

The pilots of the two planes which collided were presumed to have been killed, the announcement said.

Father, 4 Children Killed In 2-Car Crash

BLUFFTON, Ind. (AP)—William Caley and his four children died in a traffic accident Tuesday night at the same intersection where his parents and three other persons were killed nearly six years ago.

Police said Caley's car collided with another at the intersection of Ind. 116 and Ind. 303, 10 miles northwest of Bluffton. Caley's wife and the other driver were injured.

The Caleys, of Markle Ind., were en route to a 4H fair in Bluffton, where the children were showing livestock.

Caley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Caley, were killed in an auto collision at the same intersection Sept. 17, 1959, as they returned from a Bluffton fair.

Missile Site Bombing May Spur Escalation Of War

Chips May Be Down Soon For Russians In Viet Nam

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

The time may be near when the chips will be down for the Russians in the Viet Nam crisis.

The Pentagon announcement that U.S. bombers knocked out an antiaircraft missile site and damaged another in North Viet Nam could mean a big step has been taken in escalation of the war. The Soviets' installed the sites and probably are manning them.

From all appearances, this is the sort of development the Russians feared. The Kremlin felt obliged to install antiaircraft missiles sites in North Viet Nam to demonstrate its willingness to aid a brother Communist regime. Now the sites have been attacked. Will it mean another confrontation similar to the 1962 Cuban missile crisis when Nikita Khrushchev backed away from a brink-of-war situation?

The development can cause trouble in the Kremlin, already involved in jockeying as the result of internal and external pressures.

Perhaps a large section of the Communist world has banked on years of U.S. involvement in a costly Vietnamese war. Peking, at least, seemed to be gambling on it. Red China could afford to be patient, to look upon attrition as a useful tool against the United States and at the same time against Soviet influence in Asia.

Up to now, at relatively small expense, Red China seemed the principal beneficiary of a prolonged war. It would seem that the longer the localized conflict, the more Peking stood to gain through the losses of others.

The United States so far has paid a price in men, material, prestige and propaganda setbacks, in prospective domestic dislocations from increasingly heavy commitments, in quarrelling at home over policy, in the diffusion of U.S. forces and in the impact on U.S. alliances.

Quotas Due Increasing To 35,000

President Declares Reserves Not Now Needed In Strategy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson announced today that monthly draft calls will be more than doubled — from 17,000 to 35,000 — in order to help increase the U.S. military forces in South Viet Nam from 75,000 to 125,000 men.

Johnson, reporting to the nation on Viet Nam policy talks, told a news conference that "additional forces will be needed later and they will be sent."

But he said he has concluded there is no need at this time to mobilize military reserve units or call any National Guard forces to active duty.

"If that necessity should later be indicated," he said, "I will give the matter careful consideration, and I will give the country due and adequate notice before acting."

Expressing American determination in Viet Nam, Johnson said: "We will not surrender. And we will not retreat."

The news conference was held in the East Room of the White House, and was carried into millions of homes by radio and television.

As he has many times before, the President spoke of eagerness to promote peace in Southeast Asia, and he announced an initial assignment for Arthur J. Goldberg, the new U.S. ambassador to the United Nations. He said:

"I have directed Ambassador Goldberg to go to New York immediately and to present to the secretary-general a letter from me requesting that all the resources, energy and immense prestige of the United Nations be employed to find ways to halt aggression and bring peace in Viet Nam."

Speaking of his own dreams as President, Johnson said he wants to promote education,

School, Liquor Sale Bills

2 Big Ohio Issues Face Showdown

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two of the biggest issues of the legislative session headed for a showdown today in the Ohio House.

Representatives were scheduled to vote on Senate amendments to the veto-threatened school foundation bill and the hotly contested measure to permit restricted sale of liquor on Sunday.

The school bill was considered the biggest roadblock to final adjournment, which the lawmakers had hoped would come this week.

Its fate was clouded again Tuesday when Finance Director Richard Krabach warned of an impending veto by Gov. James A. Rhodes unless the House took out $9 million added to the bill by the Senate Finance Committee.

Krabach said the additional money would force local governments to hike their taxes. Members of the Senate committee said money would be available to cover the increase and described the finance director's remarks as "ill advised."

The bill, as passed by the Senate, would earmark $634 million for Ohio school districts in the 1965-67 biennium.

House leaders called the controversial liquor bill up for a vote but announced preparation of an amendment which would limit sales to the state's two largest counties — Cuyahoga and Hamilton.

The Senate-approved measure, as recommended by the House Liquor Committee, would allow Sunday sales after 1 p.m. in counties of 200,000 or more population, subject to approval at local elections.

The amendment expected to be offered today would restrict sales to counties of 800,000 or more population.

In rapid fire order, the Senate approved two and a half dozen bills Tuesday in a bid to clear its decks.

Among them was a House-passed measure providing increases in the pensions of Ohio's three state retirement systems. An etimated 50,000 retired employes would receive $10 monthly increases this year under the proposal.

Housing Bill Due Approval Of President

Measure Expected To Be Given Swift Presidential Okay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Only President Johnson's signature was needed today to put into law a housing bill that includes the first program of rent subsidies to aid low-income families.

Swift presidential approval was expected for the $7.5-billion measure which follows the main lines of Johnson's housing recommendations to Congress earlier in the year.

The bill, given final congressional clearance by a 251-168 House vote Tuesday, provides new money and authorizations for the major government housing programs over the next four years.

The rent subsidy proposal makes available $350 million over a four-year period to help some of the families eligible for public housing.

In effect, the program would provide an alternative for publicly financed housing developments for such persons. Eligible low-income families — the standards would vary from place to place — who are occupying substandard housing, or are elderly or handicapped, or have been displaced from their

Youth Seized After Taking $120 At Home

A 17-year-old Pennsylvania youth was apprehended shortly after committing a burglary in an East End home early today.

The youth, who resides in Smiths Ferry, entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cledith Miller, 2218 Crawford Ave., while they were sleeping about 3 a. m. and took $120 in cash from the pocket of Miller's trousers.

The youth was spotted taking the money by Mrs. Miller, who had awakened. He then fled.

The money, six $20 bills, was recovered when the youth was picked up a short time later near the Pennsylvania - Ohio state line.

Police said the front door at the home was not locked at the time of entry.

LONDON (AP) — Edward Heath took control of Britain's Conservative party today at a critical stage in British politics, signaling a furious onslaught on the embattled Labor government.

Heath's two declared rivals, Reginald Maudling and Enoch Powell, withdrew from the race. The withdrawals came after Heath, on a first ballot of Conservative members of the House of Commons, won 150 of the 298 votes cast Tuesday.

The party's new rules required the winner to poll both a majority and 15 per cent more than the runner-up. Although he had the majority, Heath lacked the 15 per cent because Maudling polled 133 votes. But the latter bowed out and promised to fully support Heath.

New trials emerged for Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Laborites, who rule with a majority of only three votes in Commons.

Wilson's financial executive, Chancellor of the Exchequer James Callaghan, announced a series of urgent economic measures. Callaghan ordered tighter controls on mortgages and installment buying, cuts in government spending both at home and abroad, and a general squeeze on public and private spending.

His purpose was to accelerate the process of balancing Britain's trade and so maintain the value of the pound sterling. The new program was sure to cause grumbling among the voters.

Heath, 49, will make his first real assault on the government as opposition chief next Tuesday.

Up for debate is a Conservative motion deploring the 7 per cent increase in the cost of living since Labor turned the Tories out last October. If the government loses the censure vote, it will have to resign.

Father, 4 Children Killed In 2-Car Crash

BLUFFTON, Ind. (AP)—William Caley and his four children died in a traffic accident Tuesday night at the same intersection where his parents and three other persons were killed nearly six years ago.

Police said Caley's car collided with another at the intersection of Ind. 116 and Ind. 303, 10 miles northwest of Bluffton. Caley's wife and the other driver were injured.

The Caleys, of Markle Ind., were en route to a 4H fair in Bluffton, where the children were showing livestock.

Caley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Caley, were killed in an auto collision at the same intersection Sept. 17, 1959, as they returned from a Bluffton fair.

Was Severed By Train, Re-Implanted

Youth, 15, Breaks Arm That Made Medical News

BOSTON (AP) — Everett Knowles, 15, has broken one of the most important right arms in medical hsitory.

The frisky, freckle-faced teenager, whose arm was cut off more than three years ago by a wheel of a slow work train but was then successfully re-implanted, fell recently from a stone wall — and landed on the still highly sensitive arm.

The Associated Press has learned that the boy was then rushed to the Massachusetts General Hospital where some of the surgeons who performed the original operation re-examined the arm.

They worked late into the night a week ago Tuesday and found that the arm had been broken less than an inch from where it had been torn from his body in the freight yard accident.

It was on May 23, 1962 that the doctors had performed what is believed to be the first operation in which a human limb was successfully rejoined to the body. Since then there have been several others.

The hospital confirmed today that young Knowles will have to remain hospitalized for several weeks because of the break and a knee injury also suffered in the fall.

Knowles said he and some friends had gone out for the evening and were sitting on damp grass on the side of a monument in his hometown of Somerville, near Boston, when he slipped and fell.

He said, in an interview, he dropped about 12 feet to the pavement and as he hit, thought, "My God, the arm."

"I knew I had hurt it because I couldn't straighten it out anymore," Knowles said. "Actually the bang on the knee hurt more than the arm."

A spokesman for the surgical-medical team at the hospital said it now appears that the bone break, a crack in the upper forearm, will probably have no effect on the long re-implantation process.

"The arm had become so strongly re-implanted that the

Truck Mishap Hurts Beaver County Driver

Melvin Rowley, 27, of Industry R.D. was in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with possible back injuries received in a truck mishap.

Driver for the T. B. Ferguson Trucking Co., of Darlington, Pa., he was admitted to the hospital at 10 a. m. Authorities lacked details of the accident, but said it occurred in southern Beaver County.

The company reported his truck went into a ditch along Route 168 between Laughlin's Corners and Frankfort Springs.

School, Liquor Sale Bills

2 Big Ohio Issues Face Showdown

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two of the biggest issues of the legislative session headed for a showdown today in the Ohio House.

Representatives were scheduled to vote on Senate amendments to the veto-threatened school foundation bill and the hotly contested measure to permit restricted sale of liquor on Sunday.

The school bill was considered the biggest roadblock to final adjournment, which the lawmakers had hoped would come this week.

Its fate was clouded again Tuesday when Finance Director Richard Krabach warned of an impending veto by Gov. James A. Rhodes unless the House took out $9 million added to the bill by the Senate Finance Committee.

Krabach said the additional money would force local governments to hike their taxes. Members of the Senate committee said money would be available to cover the increase and described the finance director's remarks as "ill advised."

The bill, as passed by the Senate, would earmark $634 million for Ohio school districts in the 1965-67 biennium.

House leaders called the controversial liquor bill up for a vote but announced preparation of an amendment which would limit sales to the state's two largest counties — Cuyahoga and Hamilton.

The Senate-approved measure, as recommended by the House Liquor Committee, would allow Sunday sales after 1 p.m. in counties of 200,000 or more population, subject to approval at local elections.

The amendment expected to be offered today would restrict sales to counties of 800,000 or more population.

In rapid fire order, the Senate approved two and a half dozen bills Tuesday in a bid to clear its decks.

Among them was a House-passed measure providing increases in the pensions of Ohio's three state retirement systems. An etimated 50,000 retired employes would receive $10 monthly increases this year under the proposal.

Housing Bill Due Approval Of President

Measure Expected To Be Given Swift Presidential Okay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Only President Johnson's signature was needed today to put into law a housing bill that includes the first program of rent subsidies to aid low-income families.

Swift presidential approval was expected for the $7.5-billion measure which follows the main lines of Johnson's housing recommendations to Congress earlier in the year.

The bill, given final congressional clearance by a 251-168 House vote Tuesday, provides new money and authorizations for the major government housing programs over the next four years.

The rent subsidy proposal makes available $350 million over a four-year period to help some of the families eligible for public housing.

In effect, the program would provide an alternative for publicly financed housing developments for such persons. Eligible low-income families — the standards would vary from place to place — who are occupying substandard housing, or are elderly or handicapped, or have been displaced from their

Youth Seized After Taking $120 At Home

A 17-year-old Pennsylvania youth was apprehended shortly after committing a burglary in an East End home early today.

The youth, who resides in Smiths Ferry, entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cledith Miller, 2218 Crawford Ave., while they were sleeping about 3 a. m. and took $120 in cash from the pocket of Miller's trousers.

The youth was spotted taking the money by Mrs. Miller, who had awakened. He then fled.

The money, six $20 bills, was recovered when the youth was picked up a short time later near the Pennsylvania - Ohio state line.

Police said the front door at the home was not locked at the time of entry.

Police were called and Pa-

Visits City's Negro Area

Dr. King In Cleveland To Press Voter Signup

CLEVELAND (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., after breakfast at dawn today with area clergymen, prepared to visit the city's Negro area to encourage voter registration.

The integration leader planned to spend the second day of his two - day Cleveland visit in appearances at shopping centers, street rallies and indoor rally before leaving tonight for Philadelphia. This is the second of four northern cities King will visit.

The Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, King's assistant, addressed a rally of some 2,000 persons at a recreation center Tuesday night, calling for a "grand alliance of labor, civil rights groups and religious organizations."

He said the main goal of the alliance "is to attack the primary problems of education and police brutality."

"We are ready to go to jail in Cleveland and we will stand with you and do whatever you want us to do—as long as you want us to," he said. "They had better get the Cleveland jails clean."

At a meeting with seven Cleveland civil rights groups before the rally, King pledged himself and his Southern Christian Leadership Conference to a massive Negro voter-registration drive in Cleveland.

He said the aim is to use the polls to remove all city officials and members of the Cleveland Board of Education who are considered against the civil rights movement.

King arrive in Cleveland Tuesday from Chicago, accompanied by 10 civil rights leaders.

At a news conference at Cleveland Hopkins International Airport, King said he wanted "to find out what type and quality of leadership there is in Cleveland."

He mentioned the possibility of a civil rights march here, but said "one had not been decided on at the moment." King led some 10,000 demonstrators through downtown Chicago the day before arriving here.

During his Cleveland stay, the 36-year-old 1964 Nobel Peace Prize winner will review Cleveland problems which aides summarized for him in advance.

He said increased Negro voter registration is "necessary here in Cleveland because the Negro has felt for a long time that he has nothing for which to vote in Northern cities.

Leaders "should articulate to the Negroes that the vote is the way to solve many problems of deprivation," King said.

Retired Generals See Need Of More Force In Viet Nam

By The Associated Press

Some retired American generals who fought the Communists in Korea believe greater force is needed to bring victory in Viet Nam.

Four of the generals say there should be a single armed forces command for U.S. and South Vietnamese troops.

One of the generals, Edward M. Almond, favors use of atomic bombs if "needed to protect our troops."

Gens. Mark Clark and John E. Hull say there is no present need for such a weapon in Viet Nam. However, Clark says he might change this view if there is increased participation by an outside Communist power, such as Red China.

The four generals — Almond, Clark, Hull and Matthew Ridgway—made their comments on Tuesday's 12th anniversary of the Korean armistice, in response to an Associated Press survey.

Clark, 69, was supreme Allied commander when he signed the Korean armistice in 1953. Almond, 72, commanded the 10th Army Corps which was hit by the first Communist attack in Korea.

Hull, 70, succeeded Clark as commander of U.N. forces in the Far East.

Ridgway, 70, was former U.N. commander in Korea during the fighting.

Glenmoor Man Fined Here For 'Wrecker's' Condition

A Glenmoor man charged with driving an unsafe vehicle—an auto wrecker — was fined $10 and costs at a hearing today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Eugene P. Bowyer of the Y. & O. Rd. pleaded guilty to the charge filed by the State Highway Patrol.

Bowyer was operating a wrecker owned by Robert's Sunoco of Route 30 at the scene of an accident on County Rd. 424 the night of July 19. The investigating patrolman noticed the wrecked did not have tail lights in operation.

The officer said he checked and found the wrecker also did not have stop lights, clearance lights, a windshield and the door glass on the right side of the cab was cracked bad enough to cause some view obstruction.

The judge commented that the wrecker seemed to be in worse shape than the car it was sent to tow. He warned Bowyer to make sure the wrecker is in good condition before he uses it again, pointing out, "You are the one that got stuck with the fine."

One of the drivers involved in the accident also was fined. He is John F. Schmitt Jr. of the Cannons Mills Rd., who was charged with failure to yield half of the roadway.

He pleaded no contest and was fined $15 and costs. Schmitt said he swerved to avoid hitting something in the road and then struck an oncoming car. The patrol said he crossed over a double yellow line and hit the other vehicle head-on.

Raymond E. Humphrey, 34, of 1851 Smithfield St. was given a 10-day suspended jail sentence on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident. He was ordered to pay damages to Harold Moore, 47, of Dixonville, whose pickup truck was hit in the mishap Saturday at the intersection of Boyce St. and Pennsylvania Ave.

Humphrey was arraigned Monday, but the case was continued to allow him to obtain an attorney.

Humphrey testified he did not realize the truck had been hit by his car. Testimony showed damage was very minor.

Five members of the 1924 Washington Senators managed in the major leagues. They were Bucky Harris, Ossie Bluege, Roger Peckinpaugh, Herold (Muddy) Ruel and Walter Johnson.

Shadyside And The Future

The efforts of Cindy Deshler, an 11-year-old girl, and other Shadyside Ave. district residents to have the narrow, hazardous hillside road improved should not be considered a pure self-interest project.

The safety of many children and adults is involved, along with convenience of travel and increased residential benefits.

Shadyside represents both a city street and a county road leading to an area which has a great potential for further development.

Here is not just a matter of widening a roadway for a few people. Shadyside is an artery which could be instrumental in the further development of Liverpool Township as part of the larger complex pattern of regional growth.

As the area's officials and residents become more aware of the inter - relationships of each community and each subdivision, the need for keeping our highways, utilities, residential and industrial standards as efficient and modern as possible becomes more evident to all.

Shadyside Ave. should represent more than a project of a determined 11-year-old girl interested primarily in safer school bus travel.

It is a needed improvement to which city and county authorities should continue to devote serious attention. Action is in order as quickly as possible.

Seal The Caves

At their meeting this week, the Wellsville Jaycees renewed a discussion of sealing cave entrances along the East Liverpool-Wellsville highway.

They would be performing another service if they turned the discussion into action, with the actual sealing resulting. Permanent closing of a dangerous cave could mean the saving of a life or lives.

Other organizations might give the project serious attention in their areas if the situation so demands.

A New Chief For HEW

The next secretary of health, education and welfare will be John W. Gardner, whose background indicates he may be the best qualified of the appointees so far to this still new responsibility in federal service.

Mr. Gardner has a diversified background in both education and welfare.

The only other secretary of the department with comparable qualifications was Arthur S. Flemming, a highly regarded educator with a long record of federal service in a variety of assignments.

The first secretary was Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby of Texas, a token woman appointee in President Eisenhower's cabinet. She was replaced by Marion S. Folsom, who had been a pioneer in organizing private social security and employment plans.

President Kennedy's choice for the position was Abraham A. Ribicoff, who was followed by Anthony J. Celebrezze. Both were noted for their organizing ability, Ribicoff as a popular and successful governor of Connecticut, Celebrezze as a popular and successful mayor of Cleveland.

Mr. Gardner's accession to this potentially vital cabinet position will give President Johnson a chance to move Mr. Celebrezze into a federal judgeship on the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the 6th District.

It will give Mr. Gardner a chance to put more push into the educational role of a department still feeling its way in federal service.

With a little luck, the next head of the department might even be a health expert.

Unrest In Greece

The clash between 25-year-old King Constantine of Greece and 77-year-old George Papandreou, the ousted premier, is an embarrassment to Americans who have invested more than $3 billion in Greek aid.

It also is a threat to the hopes of those who remember how the Truman Doctrine of military support for Greece and Turkey stopped the westward march of Communism in Europe.

This makes it that much harder to understand why Greeks today are attacking President Johnson and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

There can be only one explanation for such behavior—that more than a domestic political crisis is involved.

When Papandreou was dismissed by King Constantine, he is believed to have been trying to purge a right-wing group in the Greek army. His son, Andreas, a member of the Greek parliament, has been accused of and denied being involved with a secret left-wing group in the army.

The new premier, George Athanassiades-Novas, has the implicit support of NATO. Papandreou is supported by the Greek working class. Unfortunately, much of the tumult in his behalf is being stimulated by known Greek leftists.

Why Casey Stengel Exists

The whole world knows that Casey Stengel, whose 75th birthday was a major sports event last Sunday, broke his hip Saturday night and couldn't attend the party.

The unanswered question is whether Casey Stengel exists or is a figment of the sports world's imagination.

People who have studied Stengelmania can produce evidence to show the latter is true. The 75-year-old manager of the New York Mets, they feel sure, exists only in imagination—the public's and his own.

They say he is a showman who plays a winning role to the hilt; that the real Charles Dillon Stengel is a person apart from the giant gnome whose mannerisms and words have been built into American folklore.

But granted they are right, what has been proved?

Was the late Bernard M. Baruch really a sage whose advice could have saved the country from grief if it had been heeded?

Was the late Douglas MacArthur really a military genius with special insight into strategy and tactics?

Does Ed Wynn really get that much fun out of being silly, does Maurice Chevalier go through life on a song, does Dwight D. Eisenhower always go into a brown study over Republican policy, did the late Eleanor Roosevelt always carry the weight of the world on her shoulders?

It takes all kinds of images to sustain the American way of life. Casey Stengel is one of them. We have to believe there can be a 75-year-old man who thrives on whimsy, humor, circumlocution and enjoys dressing up in a baseball suit and taking part in a kid game every day during the good old summertime.

Long Live Papa!

By Truman Twill

Some of my fellow patriots are grousing about disclosures that the late John F. Kennedy got into his pants one leg at a time when he was president of the United States.

They want to believe the chief executive comes into possession of supernatural power when he takes the oath.

These people need to believe in a father image to make life bearable. They look upon every president of the United States as being either 10 feet or 10 inches tall, depending on their partisanship.

For them to learn, as they have been learning from the writings of confidants of President Kennedy, that he went through the same agonies of indecision, remorse, frustration and bitter recriminations that other mortals go through is more than they can bear.

But when, in the name of reality, was it ever any other way?

Every U.S. president has embodied all the human frailties along with varying amounts of human strength.

If we could know what they cried into their pillows about, whom they cursed behind closed doors, what deplorable blunder they had on their consciences, what misgivings gnawed at their composure and how often they doubted their ability to perform their duties, the superman doctrine of government would be shattered.

As it is, the doctrine is nursed along by escapists who cannot face the reality of representative democracy, which commits all of us to the ministrations of people not measurably smarter or less fallible than we are.

Starting with George Washington, every president has been staggered by the faith of those among his fellow citizens who elevated him to supernatural standing. Our first president had to throw cold water on the idea that he might turn into a king.

Yet as recently as the era of Franklin Roosevelt, Americans still were idolizing their chief executive. It is contrary to the American ideal.

John Kennedy was a Massachusetts politician, son of a wealthy father who wanted a presidency in the family and methodically laid the groundwork to make it possible. It was a narrow squeak in the showdown — only a handful of votes.

John Kennedy was charming. As presidents go, he was adequate. But it should be no surprise to learn that he got into his pants one leg at a time, that he didn't always make infallible judgments between right and wrong, workable and unworkable.

Yet, the information is being resented by hero-worshippers.

Hero worship has no place in a people's government — never did. That's the whole idea of popular sovereignty — that the American people are capable of ruling themselves - that they need no kings and no dictators. It's still a shock to people who can't believe anything is so unless Papa says it is.

The Ballot Box Schizophrenic!

Reds Threaten Friendly Jamaica

By Victor Riesel

KINGSTON, JAMAICA

Many folks think of the tiny Caribbean nations as beaches instead of possible beachheads for some future enemy.

Victor Riesel

Then when the riots break out and the machine guns sputter and stutter and general strikes are called to paralyze a friendly land which Americans long took for granted — as they flared in Santo Domingo — everybody back home is surprised.

No one should be surprised. No one should let the brilliant sands of the gold coasts obscure the two worlds of tiny nations, such as the island country known as Jamaica.

It's not generally realized that this city of Kingston, far from the gay beaches where among others Charlie Chaplin and his brood have been cavorting, is the capital of the only truly labor government in the free world.

Since its independence three years ago little Jamaica has had a prime minister who also has been the leader of the island's most powerful labor movement.

KNOWN AS "BUSTA," he is named Sir William Alexander Bustamante. And the name of the labor movement is Bustamante's Industrial Trade Union (BITU). It is as though George Meany had been president of the U.S.

This union federation is the basis of power of the Jamaican Labor party and a pattern for a blend of politicalized industrial action in vital islands stretching across thousands of miles vital to the U.S.

Nor is the opposition Peoples' National Party much different. Its strength is based on its National Workers' Union.

At the moment these parties are pro-U.S. In this firecely proud island nation — which has a firm voice in the United Nations and all other affiliated international bodies—there was scarcely a ripple when President Johnson poured 22,000 American troops, airmen and marines into nearby Santo Domingo.

THE JAMAICANS are with us. Communist Cuba which is 90 miles distant might as well be on the moon for all the influence Castro has among the 1.7 million Jamaicans, most of whom are of African descent. So much with us are they that some of their press are running features on the progress of the Negroes in South Carolina.

But here and there the glow of friendship begins to dim a bit. Uneasiness is developing. The people are poor. Sunshine does not fill an empty belly.

Some 70 per cent of this island's working force is below hunger level.

They earn about $9 a week or less.

Out in the countryside — the other world — where the slum towns sprout on the hillsides—at least 20 per cent are jobless or without any means of support.

Here in this traffic jammed city of some 400,000 people, some 25 per cent are unemployed.

Sugar is the blood of the economy. And Cuba, with its slave labor battalions in the cane fields, is knocking the cane world from under these people.

Already there is restlessness — though ever so slight and barely noticed except by the close observer.

NEATLY LETTERED anti-American slogans have begun appearing on walls in the city and out near the prime minister's home. "Yankee Get Out of Viet Nam and Jamaica" and "Yankee Go Home" say the messages.

Left wing forces in the opposition party are pressuring the leadership to get up in Parliament and attack the U.S. for its recent actions in Viet Nam and Santo Domingo.

Government officials to whom I spoke privately, mentally leapfrog the next few years. What concerns them is the grim fact that some 40 per cent of the population is under 14 years old. What happens to this little land in five to ten years when they become stalwart young men and women without jobs or means of support?

What happens to this pivotal island nation in the guts of whose mountains is the world's largest deposit of bauxite, from which aluminum is made? And the world's most accessible deposit, too.

WHAT HAPPENS to this little nation with its beautiful bay—fifth or sixth largest in the world—just a few hours' run from Cuba?

What happens to this tiny band of people if their land should fall into the hands of loud leftists some day—leftists who can shout so loudly it would seem that Jamaica's 4,411 square miles are as vast as the Chinese mainland? It happened in Cuba. It happened in Santo Domingo. It could happen here.

All this could happen if the moderate labor leaders are driven from the leadership of the movements here.

This land is more than a beach. As a nation it's one of the rare, devoted friends the U.S. has anywhere in the world. It must be kept from ever becoming a beachhead.

British Holidays

Though Britain's national holidays are geared to the suspension of bank business, they are as dear to the Anglo - Saxon heart as fiestas are to Latins.

Commercial streets are still as tombs. Cities turn inside out as the outdoors - minded British take to the countryside in a tangle of cars, buses, bikes and charabancs.

Britons celebrate four bank holidays each year. They are Whitmonday (June 7, in 1965), the last Monday in August, Boxing Day on Dec. 26 and Easter Monday. Banks also close on two religious national holidays—Christmas and Good Friday.

The business holiday is fitting, for Britain led the industrial revolution. The Bank of England is the mother of banks. London's financial center, the City of London, remains the citadel of the sterling area and is often called the world's richest square mile.

Surprisingly, Britain and the United States have only one holiday in common — Christmas. As in most countries, however, British holidays stem largely from religious festivals.

Coy Candidates

By David Lawrence

Rockefeller May Be Setting Stage

The best way to be a presidential candidate evidently is to appear not to be one. That's the paradoxical lesson which national politics has taught over the years. Hence, in declaring he "will not be a candidate in the next presidential election," Gov. Rockefeller of New York may be said to have made the wisest statement possible for someone in his position. It may do more to get him the Republican presidential nomination some day than anything he has done thus far.

David Lawrence

The strategy is not new and has been effective on more than one occasion. The late Adlai Stevenson, when governor of Illinois, tried it in the pre-convention days of 1952 on the Democratic side and won the presidential nomination

Back in 1916, Charles Evans Hughes, as a Supreme Court justivce, couldn't campaign or even issue statements of a generalized character, but he was the most talked-about man in the Republican party in the months preceding the Republican national convention. He was nominated despite his declarations that he was not a presidential candidate and had no intention of doing anything to bring about his own nomination.

IN THE PRE-CONVENTION period, however, leaders in the Republican party had urged the draft of Mr. Hughes, even though there was some fear that, if he were nominated, he wouldn't accept. This correspondent recalls writing of a visit to Washington by ex-President William Howard Taft on May 16, 1916, and excerpts from that dispatch follow:

"Realizing the extraordinary sentiment for a man who has made no campaign, who has not sought the nomination, but whose high character and record as governor of New York bear him steadily onward as the logical choice of the party, Mr. Taft thinks that the selection of Hughes is almost a certainty. . . .

"Mr. Taft authorized no statement while he was here. But in the not-far-distant future, it may fall to him to remove the doubts of skeptical Republicans as to whether or not Justice Hughes should accept if nominated. If the man who put Hughes on the bench thinks the justice ought to heed the call of higher duty, that certainly should have great weight with the justice himself."

The Republican party in 1916 had experienced the worst split in its history. Unlike 1964 when the split was merely a defection from support of Sen. Goldwater by some leading Republicans and no corresponding pledge to vote for the Democratic presidential nominee, there had been in 1912 a third party under former President Theodore Roosevelt which actually polled more votes than the regular Republican nominee, William Howard Taft. Mr. Hughes in 1916 seemed to be the best possible harmonizer of discordant elements in the party.

GOV. ROCKEFELLER has stated that he plans to be a harmonizer. He speaks of the "scars" of the 1964 campaign and the necessity of healing them. He recognizes, by implication, that the Goldwater bloc has to be given at least respectful treatment in party councils, for it does represent a sizeable number of Republican votes.

There is more, however, to Mr. Rockefeller's strategy than the uniting of his party for the next presidential contest in 1968. He himself has to win re-election to the governorship of New York State in 1966. If he were defeated, he certainly would be eliminated from consideration for a presidential nomination two years later.

It's important, too, for him to assure the voters of New York State that he isn't going to be diverted from a concentration on the problems of the state.

It's necessary also for him to give the impression that he means to serve out his four-year term in Albany if he wins re-election. A draft movement for the 1968 nomination, therefore, would not be attributable to his activities.

Gov. Rockefeller may even be thinking in terms of 1972 as the time he might possibly get the big prize. By then, some of the obstacles he faced in 1964 may not really be as important as they seemed to be last year. His 64th birthday would be at convention time. Six men have been inaugurated president of the United States at the age of 60 or over, and President Eisenhower was 66 when re-elected in 1956.

SOME NEWSPAPER reports spoke of Mr. Rockefeller's declaration on television on Sunday as a "Sherman-like" statement. But Gen. Sherman said: "If nominated, I will not accept; if elected, I will not serve." Nothing so explicit or final has come from the lips of any possible presidential nominee since those days.

So, if Gov. Rockefeller acts like a man who really isn't trying to get a presidential nomination, he may wind up with it just the same. Everything will depend on how successful he is in producing the very "concensus" that brings about a "draft" that is really a draft.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO—Five generations were represented at the family reunion of the descendants of Henry Cooley, near Rogers, at the summer camp of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Boggs.

Mrs. Elmer Eppley, director of the Junior Choir of the Chester First Methodist Episcopal Church, was honored with a surprise party by members of the choir.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—The Chester Flower and Garden Club made arrangements for its first show in September.

With only 458 votes cast, Mayor G. Cecil Rauch won renomination at Lisbon.

Lee's AME Chapel of Wellsville launched a drive for $1,500 to complete the auditorium of its church, which was swept by fire in December of 1943.

TEN YEARS AGO — Boatswain's Mate William L. Grier of Beechwood St., a veteran of 10 years in the armed services, received a commendation from the Navy for his part in helping rescue the crew of a crashed helicopter in Far eastern waters.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce announced plans to provide a scholarship to the City Hospital School of Nursing. The committee in charge included Dr. K. W. Turner, Winston A. Porter and Robert E. Goodman.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

Members of the local Board of Education in fumbling with the proper phraseology to impose a 3.5-mill levy on the citizens, would do well to forget the whole thing.

They are surely aware of the action of the state legislature in granting a $200 increase to every teacher in Ohio. They are cognizant of the passage of the second proposed constitutional amendment, granting aid to Ohio's educational facilities. They must surely know that federal aid to education is now a law. Then, too, they are seeking to increase the sales tax by a 25 per cent increase in the November election. Where is this going to stop?

To have the business agent of the teachers' group come into our city and decree that our citizens can afford this terrific increase in taxes is an insult to the property owners of our city, who have already been more than generous.

No matter how the proponents of this tax increase try to dress it up, the fact is that passage of it will almost double our present tax rates. And we haven't felt the impact of the new school building program yet. It's not on the tax duplicate.

Various governmental agencies have recognized the burden the property owners have been bearing to educate our children, and have met the issue partially, as mentioned before.

Let us hope the local board will let this matter die now, without further injustice to our fellow taxpayers.

This makes it that much harder to understand why Greeks today are attacking President Johnson and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

There can be only one explanation for such behavior—that more than a domestic political crisis is involved.

When Papandreou was dismissed by King Constantine, he is believed to have been trving to purge a right-wing group in the Greek army. His son, Andreas, a member of the Greek parliament, has been accused of and denied being involved with a secret left-wing group in the army.

The new premier, George Athanassiades-Novas, has the implicit support of NATO. Papandreou is supported by the Greek working class. Unfortunately, much of the tumult in his behalf is being stimulated by known Greek leftists.

Why Casey Stengel Exists

The whole world knows that Casey Stengel, whose 75th birthday was a major sports event last Sunday, broke his hip Saturday night and couldn't attend the party.

The unanswered question is whether Casey Stengel exists or is a figment of the sports world's imagination.

People who have studied Stengelmania can produce evidence to show the latter is true. The 75-year-old manager of the New York Mets, they feel sure, exists only in imagination—the public's and his own.

They say he is a showman who plays a winning role to the hilt; that the real Charles Dillon Stengel is a person apart from the giant gnome whose mannerisms and words have been built into American folklore.

But granted they are right, what has been proved?

Was the late Bernard M. Baruch really a sage whose advice could have saved the country from grief if it had been heeded?

Was the late Douglas MacArthur really a military genius with special insight into strategy and tactics?

Does Ed Wynn really get that much fun out of being silly, does Maurice Chevalier go through life on a song, does Dwight D. Eisenhower always go into a brown study over Republican policy, did the late Eleanor Roosevelt always carry the weight of the world on her shoulders?

It takes all kinds of images to sustain the American way of life. Casey Stengel is one of them. We have to believe there can be a 75-year-old man who thrives on whimsy, humor, circumlocution and enjoys dressing up in a baseball suit and taking part in a kid game every day during the good old summertime.

Long Live Papa!

By Truman Twill

Some of my fellow patriots are grousing about disclosures that the late John F. Kennedy got into his pants one leg at a time when he was president of the United States.

They want to believe the chief executive comes into possession of supernatural power when he takes the oath.

These people need to believe in a father image to make life bearable. They look upon every president of the United States as being either 10 feet or 10 inches tall, depending on their partisanship.

For them to learn, as they have been learning from the writings of confidants of President Kennedy, that he went through the same agonies of indecision, remorse, frustration and bitter recriminations that other mortals go through is more than they can bear.

But when, in the name of reality, was it ever any other way?

Every U.S. president has embodied all the human frailties along with varying amounts of human strength.

If we could know what they cried into their pillows about, whom they cursed behind closed doors, what deplorable blunder they had on their consciences, what misgivings gnawed at their composure and how often they doubted their ability to perform their duties, the superman doctrine of government would be shattered.

As it is, the doctrine is nursed along by escapists who cannot face the reality of representative democracy, which commits all of us to the ministrations of people not measurably smarter or less fallible than we are.

Starting with George Washington, every president has been staggered by the faith of those among his fellow citizens who elevated him to supernatural standing. Our first president had to throw cold water on the idea that he might turn into a king.

Yet as recently as the era of Franklin Roosevelt, Americans still were idolizing their chief executive. It is contrary to the American ideal.

John Kennedy was a Massachusetts politician, son of a wealthy father who wanted a presidency in the family and methodically laid the groundwork to make it possible. It was a narrow squeak in the showdown — only a handful of votes.

John Kennedy was charming. As presidents go, he was adequate. But it should be no surprise to learn that he got into his pants one leg at a time, that he didn't always make infallible judgments between right and wrong, workable and unworkable.

Yet, the information is being resented by hero-worshippers.

Hero worship has no place in a people's government — never did. That's the whole idea of popular sovereignty — that the American people are capable of ruling themselves - that they need no kings and no dictators. It's still a shock to people who can't believe anything is so unless Papa says it is.

Reds Threaten Friendly Jamaica

By Victor Riesel

KINGSTON, JAMAICA

Many folks think of the tiny Caribbean nations as beaches instead of possible beachheads for some future enemy.

Victor Riesel

Then when the riots break out and the machine guns sputter and stutter and general strikes are called to paralyze a friendly land which Americans long took for granted — as they flared in Santo Domingo — everybody back home is surprised.

No one should be surprised. No one should let the brilliant sands of the gold coasts obscure the two worlds of tiny nations, such as the island country known as Jamaica.

It's not generally realized that this city of Kingston, far from the gay beaches where among others Charlie Chaplin and his brood have been cavorting, is the capital of the only truly labor government in the free world.

Since its independence three years ago little Jamaica has had a prime minister who also has been the leader of the island's most powerful labor movement.

KNOWN AS "BUSTA," he is named Sir William Alexander Bustamante. And the name of the labor movement is Bustamante's Industrial Trade Union (BITU). It is as though George Meany had been president of the U.S.

This union federation is the basis of power of the Jamaican Labor party and a pattern for a blend of politicalized industrial action in vital islands stretching across thousands of miles vital to the U.S.

Nor is the opposition Peoples' National Party much different. Its strength is based on its National Workers' Union.

At the moment these parties are pro-U.S. In this firecely proud island nation — which has a firm voice in the United Nations and all other affiliated international bodies—there was scarcely a ripple when President Johnson poured 22,000 American troops, airmen and marines into nearby Santo Domingo.

THE JAMAICANS are with us. Communist Cuba which is 90 miles distant might as well be on the moon for all the influence Castro has among the 1.7 million Jamaicans, most of whom are of African descent. So much with us are they that some of their press are running features on the progress of the Negroes in South Carolina.

But here and there the glow of friendship begins to dim a bit. Uneasiness is developing. The people are poor. Sunshine does not fill an empty belly.

Some 70 per cent of this island's working force is below hunger level.

They earn about $9 a week or less.

Out in the countryside — the other world — where the slum towns sprout on the hillsides—at least 20 per cent are jobless or without any means of support.

Here in this traffic jammed city of some 400,000 people, some 25 per cent are unemployed.

Sugar is the blood of the economy. And Cuba, with its slave labor battalions in the cane fields, is knocking the cane world from under these people.

Already there is restlessness — though ever so slight and barely noticed except by the close observer.

NEATLY LETTERED anti-American slogans have begun appearing on walls in the city and out near the prime minister's home. "Yankee Get Out of Viet Nam and Jamaica" and "Yankee Go Home" say the messages.

Left wing forces in the opposition party are pressuring the leadership to get up in Parliament and attack the U.S. for its recent actions in Viet Nam and Santo Domingo.

Government officials to whom I spoke privately, mentally leapfrog the next few years. What concerns them is the grim fact that some 40 per cent of the population is under 14 years old. What happens to this little land in five to ten years when they become stalwart young men and women without jobs or means of support?

What happens to this pivotal island nation in the guts of whose mountains is the world's largest deposit of bauxite, from which aluminum is made? And the world's most accessible deposit, too.

WHAT HAPPENS to this little nation with its beautiful bay—fifth or sixth largest in the world—just a few hours' run from Cuba?

What happens to this tiny band of people if their land should fall into the hands of loud leftists some day—leftists who can shout so loudly it would seem that Jamaica's 4,411 square miles are as vast as the Chinese mainland? It happened in Cuba. It happened in Santo Domingo. It could happen here.

All this could happen if the moderate labor leaders are driven from the leadership of the movements here.

This land is more than a beach. As a nation it's one of the rare, devoted friends the U.S. has anywhere in the world. It must be kept from ever becoming a beachhead.

British Holidays

Though Britain's national holidays are geared to the suspension of bank business, they are as dear to the Anglo - Saxon heart as fiestas are to Latins.

Commercial streets are still as tombs. Cities turn inside out as the outdoors - minded British take to the countryside in a tangle of cars, buses, bikes and charabancs.

Britons celebrate four bank holidays each year. They are Whitmonday (June 7, in 1965), the last Monday in August, Boxing Day on Dec. 26 and Easter Monday. Banks also close on two religious national holidays—Christmas and Good Friday.

The business holiday is fitting, for Britain led the industrial revolution. The Bank of England is the mother of banks. London's financial center, the City of London, remains the citadel of the sterling area and is often called the world's richest square mile.

Surprisingly, Britain and the United States have only one holiday in common — Christmas. As in most countries, however, British holidays stem largely from religious festivals.

Coy Candidates

By David Lawrence

Rockefeller May Be Setting Stage

The best way to be a presidential candidate evidently is to appear not to be one. That's the paradoxical lesson which national politics has taught over the years. Hence, in declaring he "will not be a candidate in the next presidential election," Gov. Rockefeller of New York may be said to have made the wisest statement possible for someone in his position. It may do more to get him the Republican presidential nomination some day than anything he has done thus far.

David Lawrence

The strategy is not new and has been effective on more than one occasion. The late Adlai Stevenson, when governor of Illinois, tried it in the pre-convention days of 1952 on the Democratic side and won the presidential nomination

Back in 1916, Charles Evans Hughes, as a Supreme Court justivce, couldn't campaign or even issue statements of a generalized character, but he was the most talked-about man in the Republican party in the months preceding the Republican national convention. He was nominated despite his declarations that he was not a presidential candidate and had no intention of doing anything to bring about his own nomination.

IN THE PRE-CONVENTION period, however, leaders in the Republican party had urged the draft of Mr. Hughes, even though there was some fear that, if he were nominated, he wouldn't accept. This correspondent recalls writing of a visit to Washington by ex-President William Howard Taft on May 16, 1916, and excerpts from that dispatch follow:

"Realizing the extraordinary sentiment for a man who has made no campaign, who has not sought the nomination, but whose high character and record as governor of New York bear him steadily onward as the logical choice of the party, Mr. Taft thinks that the selection of Hughes is almost a certainty. . . .

"Mr. Taft authorized no statement while he was here. But in the not-far-distant future, it may fall to him to remove the doubts of skeptical Republicans as to whether or not Justice Hughes should accept if nominated. If the man who put Hughes on the bench thinks the justice ought to heed the call of higher duty, that certainly should have great weight with the justice himself."

The Republican party in 1916 had experienced the worst split in its history. Unlike 1964 when the split was merely a defection from support of Sen. Goldwater by some leading Republicans and no corresponding pledge to vote for the Democratic presidential nominee, there had been in 1912 a third party under former President Theodore Roosevelt which actually polled more votes than the regular Republican nominee, William Howard Taft. Mr. Hughes in 1916 seemed to be the best possible harmonizer of discordant elements in the party.

GOV. ROCKEFELLER has stated that he plans to be a harmonizer. He speaks of the "scars" of the 1964 campaign and the necessity of healing them. He recognizes, by implication, that the Goldwater bloc has to be given at least respectful treatment in party councils, for it does represent a sizeable number of Republican votes.

There is more, however, to Mr. Rockefeller's strategy than the uniting of his party for the next presidential contest in 1968. He himself has to win re-election to the governorship of New York State in 1966. If he were defeated, he certainly would be eliminated from consideration for a presidential nomination two years later.

It's important, too, for him to assure the voters of New York State that he isn't going to be diverted from a concentration on the problems of the state.

It's necessary also for him to give the impression that he means to serve out his four-year term in Albany if he wins re-election. A draft movement for the 1968 nomination, therefore, would not be attributable to his activities.

Gov. Rockefeller may even be thinking in terms of 1972 as the time he might possibly get the big prize. By then, some of the obstacles he faced in 1964 may not really be as important as they seemed to be last year. His 64th birthday would be at convention time. Six men have been inaugurated president of the United States at the age of 60 or over, and President Eisenhower was 66 when re-elected in 1956.

SOME NEWSPAPER reports spoke of Mr. Rockefeller's declaration on television on Sunday as a "Sherman-like" statement. But Gen. Sherman said: "If nominated, I will not accept; if elected, I will not serve." Nothing so explicit or final has come from the lips of any possible presidential nominee since those days.

So, if Gov. Rockefeller acts like a man who really isn't trying to get a presidential nomination, he may wind up with it just the same. Everything will depend on how successful he is in producing the very "concensus" that brings about a "draft" that is really a draft.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO—Five generations were represented at the family reunion of the descendants of Henry Cooley, near Rogers, at the summer camp of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Boggs.

Mrs. Elmer Eppley, director of the Junior Choir of the Chester First Methodist Episcopal Church, was honored with a surprise party by members of the choir.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—The Chester Flower and Garden Club made arrangements for its first show in September.

With only 458 votes cast, Mayor G. Cecil Rauch won renomination at Lisbon.

Lee's AME Chapel of Wellsville launched a drive for $1,500 to complete the auditorium of its church, which was swept by fire in December of 1943.

TEN YEARS AGO — Boatswain's Mate William L. Grier of Beechwood St., a veteran of 10 years in the armed services, received a commendation from the Navy for his part in helping rescue the crew of a crashed helicopter in Far eastern waters.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce announced plans to provide a scholarship to the City Hospital School of Nursing. The committee in charge included Dr. K. W. Turner, Winston A. Porter and Robert E. Goodman.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

Members of the local Board of Education in fumbling with the proper phraseology to impose a 3.5-mill levy on the citizens, would do well to forget the whole thing.

They are surely aware of the action of the state legislature in granting a $200 increase to every teacher in Ohio. They are cognizant of the passage of the second proposed constitutional amendment, granting aid to Ohio's educational facilities. They must surely know that federal aid to education is now a law. Then, too, they are seeking to increase the sales tax by a 25 per cent increase in the November election. Where is this going to stop?

To have the business agent of the teachers' group come into our city and decree that our citizens can afford this terrific increase in taxes is an insult to the property owners of our city, who have already been more than generous.

No matter how the proponents of this tax increase try to dress it up, the fact is that passage of it will almost double our present tax rates. And we haven't felt the impact of the new school building program yet. It's not on the tax duplicate.

Various governmental agencies have recognized the burden the property owners have been bearing to educate our children, and have met the issue partially, as mentioned before.

Let us hope the local board will let this matter die now, without further injustice to our fellow taxpayers.

Fenn College Trustees Agree On State School

CLEVELAND (AP) — Fenn College, a private institution that will die Aug. 31, could not compete in the years ahead without becoming part of a state institution.

H. F. Burmester, chairman of the Fenn Trustees, made that remark Tuesday as trustees approved an agreement to turn Fenn into Cleveland State University.

Johnson

equal opportunity, better housing and improved health.

"And I do not want to see all those hopes — the dreams of so many people for so many years — ground in the wasteful ravages of war."

Johnson pledged that "I will do all I can so that never happens."

The President opened the news conference by reading a 1,200-word statement that grew out of a week of high-level policy talks here on Viet Nam. He noted that "15 efforts have been made to start discussions" with the Communists aimed at peace — all without response.

"But we will persist, if persist we must," he said, "until death and desolation have led to the same conference table where others could not join us at so much smaller cost."

Johnson said his first goal in Viet Nam is to "convince the Communists that we cannot be defeated by force of arms."

In a key passage on the dispatch of increased American manpower to the jungle war, the President said:

"I have today ordered to Viet Nam the Air Mobile Division, and certain other forces which will raise our fighting strength from 75,000 to 125,000 men. Additional forces will be needed later and they will be sent. This will make it necessary to increase our active fighting forces by raising the monthly draft call from 17,000 — which it now is — to 35,000; and stepping up our campaign for voluntary enlistments."

In advance of the conference, there had been much speculation about a possible goal of 200,000 men in Viet Nam and an order for the muster of reservists and National Guard units.

"After this past week of deliberations," Johnson said, "I have concluded it is not essential to order Reserve units into service. If that necessity should later be indicated, I will give the matter careful consideration, and I will give the country due an adequate notice before acting."

Johnson made only a passing reference to the mounting cost of the war in Viet Nam. He said Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara "will ask the Senate Appropriations Committee to add a limited amount to present legislation to help meet part of this new cost."

Johnson indicated that a supplemental defense appropriation measure, involving more money, would be sent to Congress next January.

"These steps, like our actions in the past," he said, "are carefully measured to do what must be done to bring about an end to aggression and a peaceful settlement."

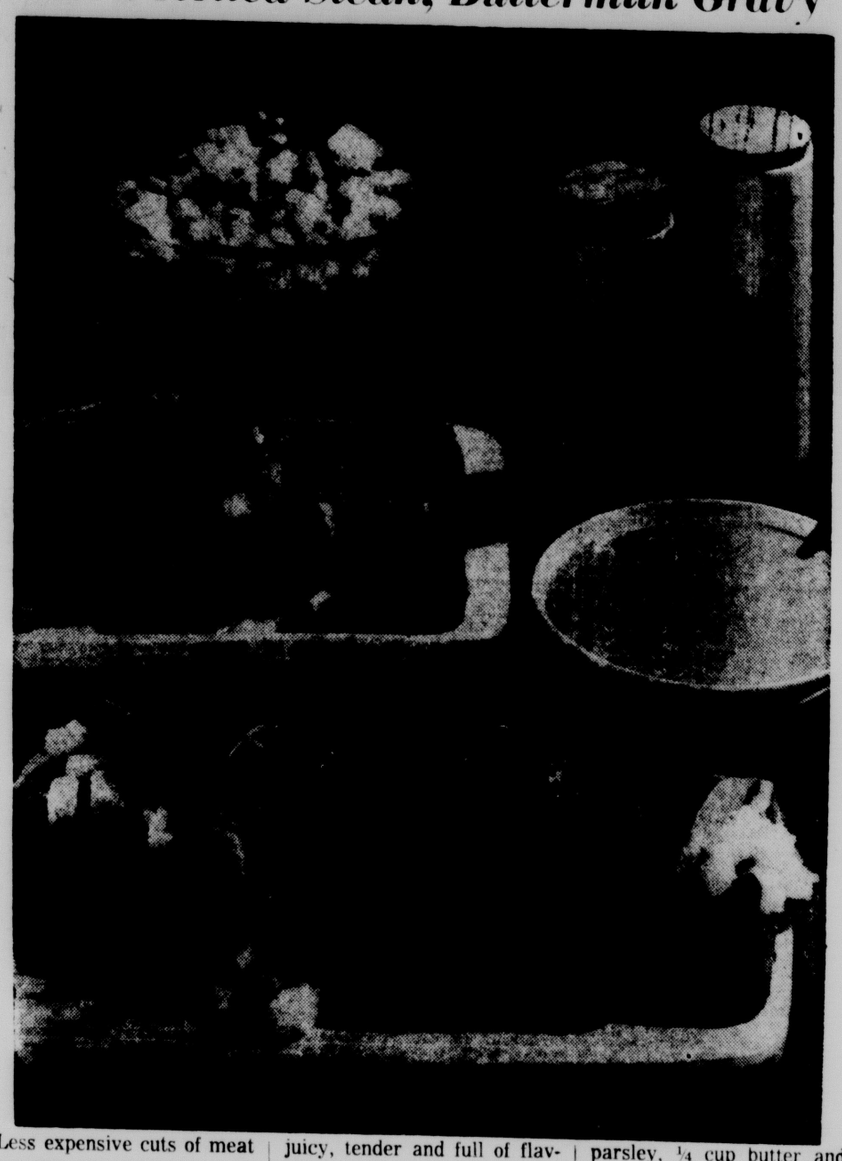
Johnson predicted that "once the Communists know, as we know, that a violent solution is impossible, then a peaceful solution will be inevitable."

Youths Get Probation

CLEVELAND (AP) — An 18-month probation is the penalty given two Bedford youths accused of stealing 90-millimeter artillery shells from the Ravenna Arsenal earlier this month.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Nathaniel R. Jones placed the youths — 16 and 17—on probation Tuesday after conferring with them and their parents.

Stuffed Rolled Steak, Buttermilk Gravy



Less expensive cuts of meat are a blessing to budget-conscious homemakers.

A major part of the food dollar is spent on protein sources such as meat, and the less expensive cuts are just as good a source of protein as the more expensive ones.

Less expensive cuts of meat are usually less tender and are cooked with moist heat. A pot roast is an example of a delicious main dish prepared from a less tender cut of meat.

Stuffed rolled steak with buttermilk gravy is another main dish that features a less tender cut of meat. As you know, the long, slow cooking makes the final product juicy, tender and full of flavor.

The delicately - seasoned bread stuffing adds to the flavor or does the buttermilk gravy served over the meat.

STUFFED ROLLED STEAK WITH BUTTERMILK GRAVY

4 cups bread cubes
2-3 cup chopped onion
¼ cup chopped parsley
½ cup butter, melted (1 stick)
3 teaspoons seasoned salt
2 1-pound slices boned round steak, cut ¼- to ⅜-inch thick
½ cup water
2 beef bouillon cubes
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
2 cups buttermilk

Combine bread cubes, onion, parsley, ¼ cup butter and 1 teaspoon seasoned salt; mix. Divided in half. Sprinkle remaining seasoned salt over 2 slices of meat. Cover each slice of meat with ½ of meat mixture.

Roll each up and tie. Melt remaining ¼ cup of butter in large frypan over low heat. Brown meat rolls on all sides, turning as needed. Add water and bouillon cubes; cover and cook slowly until meat is tender, about 2 hours.

Remove meat from pan. Blend flour and salt into pan drippings. Add buttermilk; cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Slice meat and serve with gravy. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Fortas Given Justice Post By President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson today named Abe Fortas — quoted two days ago as saying he wanted no government job "from president on down" — to be a justice of the Supreme Court.

Fortas, 55 and a Washington lawyer, will succeed Arthur J. Goldberg, who formally resigned Monday to become U.S. ambassador to the United Nations as successor to the late Adlai E. Stevenson.

Johnson said Fortas was his first choice for the high court vacancy.

Fortas is a close friend and unofficial adviser to the President. His service to presidents —official and unofficial —dates back to New Deal days.

Russians

leadership also stood to lose. Reliable sources say that apart from the specter of a new missile confrontation, the Kremlin feared that Soviet-U.S. strains would force big military budget increases, setbacks to the consumer economy program, the use of Viet Nam indefinitely by the Chinese as a stick to beat Moscow for lack of total support to a revolutionary cause, and enhancement of Chinese chances to spread influence at Moscow's expense.

Something new was added when the missile bases were bombed. Red China already is crying that "a showdown between the people (meaning the Communists) of the world and U.S. imperialism is inevitable." In effect, Peking tells Moscow: "Put up or shut up."

U.S. Planes Attack In Rescue Operation

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Navy fighter-bombers attacked North Vietnamese troops in North Viet Nam today in support of a rescue operation for a downed American pilot, a military spokesman announced tonight.

The spokesman said it was the first reported case of U.S. war planes making a deliberate assault against troops in North Viet Nam. He gave this account:

The soldiers were moving up a hill toward a U.S. Navy A4 Skyhawk that went down because of mechanical trouble on a mission 65 miles north of the border.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Fenn College, a private institution that will die Aug. 31, could not compete in the years ahead without becoming part of a state institution.

H. F. Burmester, chairman of the Fenn Trustees, made that remark Tuesday as trustees approved an agreement to turn Fenn into Cleveland State University.

The agreement will take effect in October after court approval. Fenn, founded in 1881 with a small evening program, will cease at the end of August and Cleveland State University will begin operations in the present Fenn buildings Sept. 1.

Man Hit With Brick Treated At Hospital

A city man was treated at City Hospital Tuesday night for a laceration of the forehead suffered when struck in the head with a brick during a fight in Green Ln.

Lawrence Mathes, of 312 E. 3rd St. was taken to the hospital in a cruiser after walking to City Hall to report the incident.

He told police he was in a fight with two men. One hit him between the eyes with a brick, Mathes said. No charges were filed.

Johnson

equal opportunity, better housing and improved health.

"And I do not want to see all those hopes — the dreams of so many people for so many years — ground in the wasteful ravages of war."

Johnson pledged that "I will do all I can so that never happens."

The President opened the news conference by reading a 1,200-word statement that grew out of a week of high-level policy talks here on Viet Nam. He noted that "15 efforts have been made to start discussions" with the Communists aimed at peace — all without response.

"But we will persist, if persist we must," he said, "until death and desolation have led to the same conference table where others could not join us at so much smaller cost."

Johnson said his first goal in Viet Nam is to "convince the Communists that we cannot be defeated by force of arms."

In a key passage on the dispatch of increased American manpower to the jungle war, the President said:

"I have today ordered to Viet Nam the Air Mobile Division, and certain other forces which will raise our fighting strength from 75,000 to 125,000 men. Additional forces will be needed later and they will be sent. This will make it necessary to increase our active fighting forces by raising the monthly draft call from 17,000 — which it now is — to 35,000; and stepping up our campaign for voluntary enlistments."

In advance of the conference, there had been much speculation about a possible goal of 200,000 men in Viet Nam and an order for the muster of reservists and National Guard units.

"After this past week of deliberations," Johnson said, "I have concluded it is not essential to order Reserve units into service. If that necessity should later be indicated, I will give the matter careful consideration, and I will give the country due an adequate notice before acting."

Johnson made only a passing reference to the mounting cost of the war in Viet Nam. He said Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara "will ask the Senate Appropriations Committee to add a limited amount to present legislation to help meet part of this new cost."

Johnson indicated that a supplemental defense appropriation measure, involving more money, would be sent to Congress next January.

"These steps, like our actions in the past," he said, "are carefully measured to do what must be done to bring about an end to aggression and a peaceful settlement."

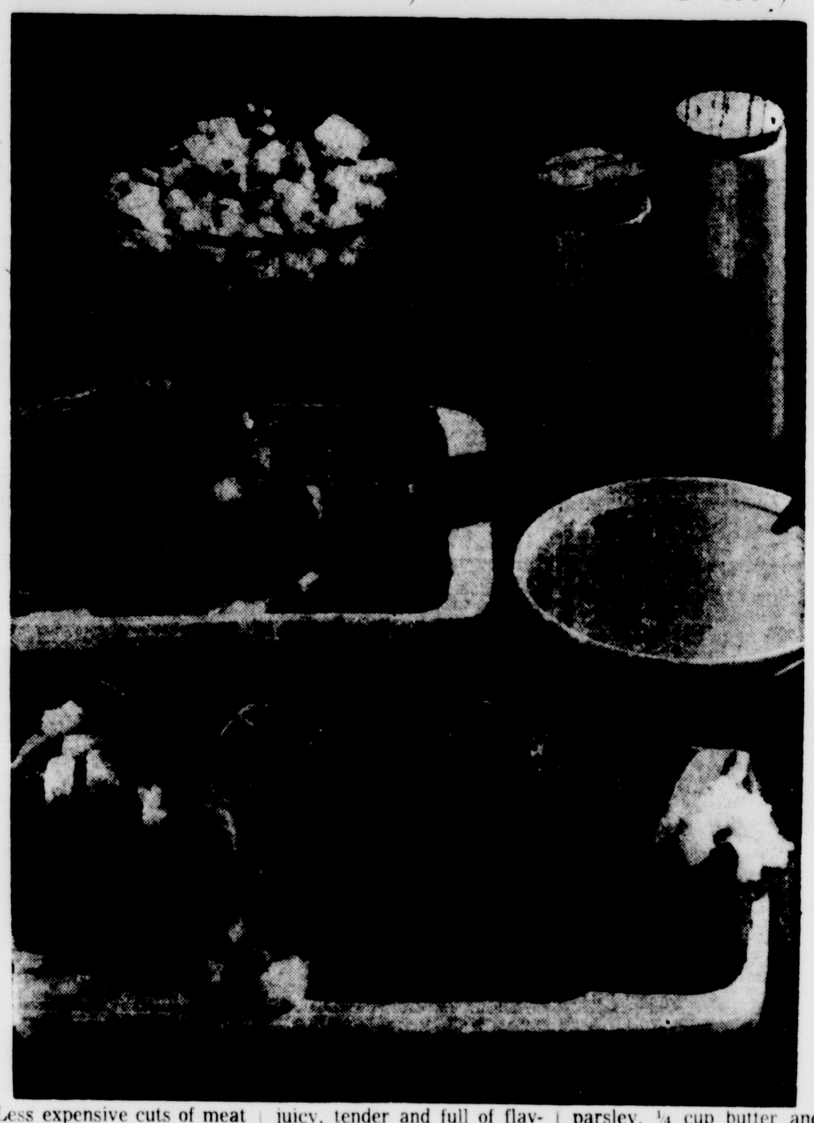
Johnson predicted that "once the Communists know, as we know, that a violent solution is impossible, then a peaceful solution will be inevitable."

Youths Get Probation

CLEVELAND (AP) — An 18-month probation is the penalty given two Bedford youths accused of stealing 90-millimeter artillery shells from the Ravenna Arsenal earlier this month.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Nathaniel R. Jones placed the youths — 16 and 17—on probation Tuesday after conferring with them and their parents.

Stuffed Rolled Steak, Buttermilk Gravy



Less expensive cuts of meat are a blessing to budget-conscious homemakers.

A major part of the food dollar is spent on protein sources such as meat, and the less expensive cuts are just as good a source of protein as the more expensive ones.

Less expensive cuts of meat are usually less tender and are cooked with moist heat. A pot roast is an example of a delicious main dish prepared from a less tender cut of meat.

Stuffed rolled steak with buttermilk gravy is another main dish that features a less tender cut of meat. As you know, the long, slow cooking makes the final product juicy, tender and full of flavor.

The delicately - seasoned bread stuffing adds to the flavor or does the buttermilk gravy served over the meat.

STUFFED ROLLED STEAK WITH BUTTERMILK GRAVY

4 cups bread cubes
2-3 cup chopped onion
¼ cup chopped parsley
½ cup butter, melted (1 stick)
3 teaspoons seasoned salt
2 1-pound slices boned round steak, cut ¼- to ⅜-inch thick
½ cup water
2 beef bouillon cubes
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
2 cups buttermilk

Combine bread cubes, onion, parsley, ¼ cup butter and 1 teaspoon seasoned salt; mix. Divided in half. Sprinkle remaining seasoned salt over 2 slices of meat. Cover each slice of meat with ½ of meat mixture.

Roll each up and tie. Melt remaining ¼ cup of butter in large frypan over low heat. Brown meat rolls on all sides, turning as needed. Add water and bouillon cubes; cover and cook slowly until meat is tender, about 2 hours.

Remove meat from pan. Blend flour and salt into pan drippings. Add buttermilk; cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Slice meat and serve with gravy. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Fortas Given Justice Post By President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson today named Abe Fortas — quoted two days ago as saying he wanted no government job "from president on down" — to be a justice of the Supreme Court.

Fortas, 55 and a Washington lawyer, will succeed Arthur J. Goldberg, who formally resigned Monday to become U.S. ambassador to the United Nations as successor to the late Adlai E. Stevenson.

Johnson said Fortas was his first choice for the high court vacancy.

Fortas is a close friend and unofficial adviser to the President. His service to presidents —official and unofficial —dates back to New Deal days.

Russians

leadership also stood to lose. Reliable sources say that apart from the specter of a new missile confrontation, the Kremlin feared that Soviet-U.S. strains would force big military budget increases, setbacks to the consumer economy program, the use of Viet Nam indefinitely by the Chinese as a stick to beat Moscow for lack of total support to a revolutionary cause, and enhancement of Chinese chances to spread influence at Moscow's expense.

Something new was added when the missile bases were bombed. Red China already is crying that "a showdown between the people (meaning the Communists) of the world and U.S. imperialism is inevitable." In effect, Peking tells Moscow: "Put up or shut up."

U.S. Planes Attack In Rescue Operation

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Navy fighter-bombers attacked North Vietnamese troops in North Viet Nam today in support of a rescue operation for a downed American pilot, a military spokesman announced tonight.

The spokesman said it was the first reported case of U.S. war planes making a deliberate assault against troops in North Viet Nam. He gave this account:

The soldiers were moving up a hill toward a U.S. Navy A4 Skyhawk that went down because of mechanical trouble on a mission 65 miles north of the border.

Agent Cites Tax Evasion In Testimony

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Internal Revenue Service intelligence agent Frank Coots has testified that income of $347,157 in 1958, 1959 and 1960 was not reported by operators of the now - closed Glen Rendezvous gambling casino in Newport.

Coots told a U.S. District Court jury his two-year investigation indicated Tito Carinci and Abraham Maius ran the operation. Carinci and Maius, accused of evading $176,000 in taxes for the Glen Corp. during the three - year period, have pleaded innocent.

Coots' testimony Tuesday came after the defense conceded the prosecution could introduce 617 witnesses who could testify they gave checks for gambling losses.

U.S. Dist. Atty. E. W. Rivers used Coots to connect Carinci and Maius with gambling operations during the years the alleged tax deficiencies occurred.

The IRS agent said his investigation showed a daily report covering winnings and losses was prepared by Maius and that Carinci used these to prepare a ledger book from which tax returns were composed.

He added that the probe showed the casino collected checks for $40,940 in October, November and December, 1960, but that no entries were put on the ledger for check income during that period.

Seven men testified they lost a total of more than $45,000 in a relatively short time and that they paid by checks made out to cash.

Banana Almond Cake, A Delicious Dessert

Many a former GI will remember — whenever he munches a banana out of hand —the how - to - survive - on land-and-sea advice given by the War Department: "Watch monkeys. You can eat anything a monkey eats. . ."

This was in case of an unplanned landing in some jungle and monkeys are wild for bananas.

Bananas should be ripened at room temperature, then stored in the refrigerator, as far as possible from the freezing unit. In time the skin will turn dark brown or black after such chilling, but the inside will show no discoloration or side effects of low temperature.

This rich and flavorful cake, topped with halved bananas and broiled - on nut - and - coconut spread, makes a delicious dessert after an otherwise low-calorie main course.

BANANA ALMOND CAKE

½ cup soft butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
2 large eggs
2 cups sifted cake flour
½ teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
1-3 cup buttermilk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 cup mashed ripe bananas
¼ cup butter or margarine, melted
½ cup dark brown sugar
¾ cup flaked coconut
½ cup chopped almonds

Cream butter or margarine and sugar until light. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Sift together cake flour, soda, salt and baking powder. Add to creamed mixture alternately with buttermilk, starting and ending with dry ingredients. Stir in vanilla extract and mashed bananas.

Turn into a greased and lightly floured 7½x12-inch pan. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 50 minutes or until cake tester inserted in the center comes out clean. Let cool 5 minutes.

Slice bananas in half lengthwise and arrange on cake. Combine ¼ cup melted butter or margarine, brown sugar, coconut and almonds and spread on cake. Place 3 to 4 inches under broiler and broil until topping is browned, about 2 minutes. Yield: One loaf cake.

BANANA PUDDING

1 cup mashed ripe bananas
1 teaspoon fresh lemon juice
1 package (8 oz.) cottage cheese, strained
1 cup confectioners' sugar
1 teaspoon rum flavor
1 oz. unsweetened chocolate, grated
5 to 6 (½ cup) macaroons, crumbled

Blend together bananas, lemon juice, cottage cheese, sugar and rum flavor using medium speed of mixer. Beat 2 to 3 minutes until smooth. Add chocolate and stir until blended.

Sprinkle crumbs in bottom and side of buttered 1-quart casserole. Pour in mixture and refrigerate until firm and chilled. Yield: 6 servings.

BANANA LONG SHORTCAKE

2 cups sifted all - purpose flour
2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1-3 cup sugar
1 teaspoon grated orange peel
½ cup butter or margarine
2 large eggs, beaten
¼ cup milk
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
2 tablespoons sugar
6 ripe bananas
1 cup heavy cream
1 tablespoon sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla extract
½ teaspoon fresh lemon juice

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, sugar, orange peel and the ½ cup butter or margarine. Mix with a pastry blender or two knives until consistency of coarse crumbs. Stir in beaten eggs and milk to form a light dough.

Turn into a greased 11x7x2-inch pan. Brush top of dough with melted butter or margarine and sprinkle sugar over entire surface. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (375 degree F.) 20 minutes or until golden. Remove from oven and cool.

Cut bananas into ¼-inch lengthwise slices and arrange over top of cake. Whip cream with sugar and vanilla extract until stiff; stir in lemon juice. Spread over top of cake and top with additional banana slices if desired. Yield: One loaf cake.

down six U.S. planes Tuesday and said three American pilots were captured.

A U.S. military spokesman reported that another F105 Thunderchief was shot down Tuesday on a strike against the Cam Doi barracks 30 miles west-northeast of Hanoi. The spokesman said no parachute was observed and the pilot was presumed killed.

The Pentagon announced Tuesday that 46 F105 Thunderchiefs made a low-level attack on the missile sites. The Pentagon said pilots reported one site destroyed and the other damaged.

It was the first attack reported against missile sites which the Soviet Union is presumed to have installed in North Viet Nam. An Air Force F4C Phantom jet was downed in a raid near Hanoi Saturday, and the Defense Department said there were indications it was hit by an antiaircraft missile.

In the only strike reported today against North Viet Nam, eight F105s and four F4C Pahntoms struck the Dien Bien Phu barracks 180 miles northwest of Hanoi, spokesmen said.

Pilots reported 12 buildings were destroyed and seven others damaged.

Housing

homes by governmental preemption or natural disaster, would be eligible for the subsidies.

These would help pay a fair rent for accomodations in structures owned or to be built by churches, cooperatives or other nonprofit or limited-dividend organizations. It was estimated the subsidies would stimulate use of 375,000 such units. Subsidies would not be paid to private landlords in business for profit.

While the congressionally approved legislation went along with the principle of subsidies, a new departure advocated by the President, it changed the application significantly. The original proposal was designed to help those with income too high for low-rent public housing but too low for privately built homes and apartments at the going rates.

A family receiving the subsidy would have to pay 25 per cent of its income for rent. The subsidy would then make up the difference between this payment and the rent needed to obtain adequate housing in the specified kind of project. If the family's income increased, the subsidy would decline or be eliminated entirely.

break itself was no different than what could happen to anyone else, and probably will mend just as easily," he said.

Knowles said until the fall last week, he had been able to lift as much as 15 pounds with the arm. He said he has no real use of his fingers. He can move them only slightly.

Since the first operation, he has undergone a series of others to try to regain full use of the arm and hand. Tendons have been connected and nerves repaired. Just last month a one-inch piece of bone was placed inside the palm of the hand to keep his thumb in better position. His arm was in a cast when he fell.

Knowles blamed the cast for the break. He said he did not think the arm would have broken had the upper arm and shoulder not been forced to bend against it.

Agent Cites Tax Evasion In Testimony

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Internal Revenue Service intelligence agent Frank Coots has testified that income of $347,157 in 1958, 1959 and 1960 was not reported by operators of the now - closed Glen Rendezvous gambling casino in Newport.

Coots told a U.S. District Court jury his two-year investigation indicated Tito Carinci and Abraham Maius ran the operation. Carinci and Maius, accused of evading $176,000 in taxes for the Glen Corp. during the three - year period, have pleaded innocent.

Coots' testimony Tuesday came after the defense conceded the prosecution could introduce 617 witnesses who could testify they gave checks for gambling losses.

U.S. Dist. Atty. E. W. Rivers used Coots to connect Carinci and Maius with gambling operations during the years the alleged tax deficiencies occurred.

The IRS agent said his investigation showed a daily report covering winnings and losses was prepared by Maius and that Carinci used these to prepare a ledger book from which tax returns were composed.

He added that the probe showed the casino collected checks for $40,940 in October, November and December, 1960, but that no entries were put on the ledger for check income during that period.

Seven men testified they lost a total of more than $45,000 in a relatively short time and that they paid by checks made out to cash.

Rotary Hears Dr. Paxson

'Unity Of Nations' Seen Under Common Market

"The European Common Market will be used to establish a continuity of nations like never seen before. . .and will accomplish a unity, through economic means, which has eluded attempts through military action for many years," according to Dr. A. M. Paxson, who spoke at a noon luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club Tuesday at the Travelers Hotel.

Dr. Paxson, administrative director of the Economic and Business Foundation and educator and economist at Youngstown University, feels the Common Market "is the prime way of establishing political stability, and will eventually result in a United States of Europe."

He explained that the forerunner of the Common Market was the Treaty of Benelux in 1948 among Belgium, Netherlands and Luxemburg, which was a move to expedite trade by lowering and /or eliminating tariffs.

The European Economic Community became a reality in 1957 when Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxemburg were joined by France, West Germany and Italy, who agreed on a 12-point program.

Among the goals was the gradual elimination of tariffs, quotas and other barriers of trade among the member nations, with reductions to be temporarily postponed, where adjustments forced by tariff reductions would be too severe.

Over the transition period, a uniform tariff schedule will be created by the six to apply to imports from the rest of the world. Dr. Paxson explained, however, that even though by 1967 all tariff barriers will be eliminated, those to the rest of the world will not be. He said the purpose of the agreement is to eliminate tariffs among the member nations and to negotiate as a single unit and tariff adjustments with the rest of the world.

Other goals include the abolition of restrictions on movements of services, labor, capital and business enterprises among the six nations.

The speaker pointed out it was decided that cartels and similar trade restraints are prohibited unless they contribute to improvements in production and distribution or technological and economic progress and declared that member nations are to coordinate their monetary and fiscal policies.

The member nations agreed that two investment funds are to be established to channel capital from the more advanced areas to the less developed areas (one to operate in Europe and the other in the territories) and voted to establish equal pay for men and women.

A social fund was established to help relieve possible economic injuries to workers resulting from trade liberalization and an administrative organization to rule the market was decided upon.

Copied from the United States and Switzerland forms of government, the administrative unit will be governed by a council of ministers made up of memberships of one each from each of the six countries.

Their function will be to "coordinate general economic policies of members and decide important issues arising in establishing and maintaining the Common Market."

In discussing France's opposition to England's entering the market, Dr. Paxson explained he believes DeGaulle is concerned with restoring France to the days of grandeur such as under Napoleon, and wants to conquer the continent. . .by economic means rather than with military power."

Dr. Paxson said he believes DeGaulle fears that England's trade position would replace France's as the Common Market leader. The educator predicted, however, that within five years Germany, and not France, will be the dominating power in the market, "due to its vast industrial growth."

He outlined several of the accomplishments of the market since 1957 and noted that many of the trade advantages — including the offering of lower priced goods due to lower tariffs — were becoming less effective, due to a growing rate of inflation and higher wages resulting from a shortage of labor.

Dr. Paxson was introduced by George Hargraves. Leland Pittenger was program chairman.

'Fedicare' Offered As New Political Word

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Republican leader, Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, has contributed a word — "fedicare" — to the political vocabulary.

Saigon Report Says U.S. Sailor In Reds' Hands

SAIGON (AP) — An unconfirmed report reached Saigon today that Donald Dawson, the American sailor who came to Viet Nam to trace his missing brother, was seen in Viet Cong captivity early this month.

Dawson, 25, of Astoria, Calif., came to Viet Nam in January after his older brother, Lt. Daniel L. Dawson, a U.S. Army pilot, was shot down in the jungle in November.

Dawson spent several dangerous months trying to trace his brother. Then, finally believing that he was dead, he determined to find the body.

He decided to go into the Viet Cong-controlled D Zone north of Saigon to meet guerrilla leaders who were reported to have said they would take him to his brother's grave.

The Viet Cong demanded that Dawson bring his own interpreter. Collette Emberger, 21, a Vietnamese citizen, agreed to accompany him.

A source close to the Emberger family said today the family had received a report in the past few days that the two were seen being taken through a village in D Zone early in July.

Judge Suspends Jail Penalty In Job Benefit Case

A Glenmoor man, charged with obtaining Ohio unemployment benefits fraudulently, was given a suspended sentence this morning in Municipal Court after Judge Samuel Chertoff was advised full restitution of the money had been made.

George R. Virden, 28, of Glenn St., Glenmoor, had pleaded guilty to the charge at a hearing July 15. The judge continued Virden's case for sentencing after Virden agreed to make restitution for the $156 he allegedly obtained by reporting he was unemployed for three weeks.

Victor DeGeorge, an investigator for the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, told the judge that Virden had paid back all the money.

Virden was accused of filing the false certification in February.

The judge said he had to sentence Virden on his admission of guilt. He then decreed a 10-day term in the Columbiana County Jail at Lisbon, which was suspended, and ordered him to pay court costs.

Warrants Issued On Tax Charges

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff issued bench warrants for two persons who failed to appear this morning for hearings on charges of violating the city income tax ordinance by failing to file returns.

A third defendant appeared, but his case was continued to allow him time to make payment.

The bench warrants were issued for Thomas White, 1428 Dorothy St., and Frank Christy, 740 Cartwright St.

They were among 12 issued warrants to appear today. All the others appeared and made payment, according to Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson, who then had the charges withdrawn.

Donley C. Davis, 1149 Pennsylvania Ave., appeared and said he had not filed a final report on his 1964 earnings because he did not have a statement.

After a discussion, the judge directed Davis to file a report immediately or make arrangements to pay. He continued Donley's case until Aug. 3 to give him time to complete the filing.

The Law

One of the more unusual cases decided in recent tax law involved what most of us would simply consider a hole in the ground.

The problem was one of determination of the proper use of a tax depreciation allowance when it came to certain types of property. The result set a new precedent in the law.

This case involved the owner of a refuse dump. The dump was a large excavation which had been purchased for the specific purpose of using it for such a disposal area.

WHEN IT came time to pay income taxes, the dump's owner claimed a very unusual type of depreciation which would reduce his taxes. He said, in effect, that he had purchased a "hole," not the land surrounding it.

He contended that because the hole was becoming smaller as he filled it with refuse it would not last indefinitely so a deduction should be allowed for depreciation. The amount of taxes, he concluded, should be affected by the space remaining in the hole, not on its original size.

The government, however, felt differently about the matter and took the case into court. They contended that the dump was simply real estate with a permanent life and that the taxes were based on the solid terra firma, not a "hole." The law doesn't permit such a depreciation, they contended.

THE COURT, however, ruled in favor of the owner of the dump, thus putting a new interpretation on tax law as involves real property. The court said that the dump owner could take the depreciation deduction upon this "hole" used in his refuse business, based on the quantity of space exhausted by filling in each year.

In its ruling, the court noted that so - called superadjacent air space can be subdivided for various purposes in such places as multistories office buildings and elsewhere.

They did say, however, that the hole is not a true "natural resource," on which other tax laws apply. The fact that the hole was put there by man, rather than natural forces, rued out this possibility, the court said.

Acoustic tile can be painted successfully, according to the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association. Flat paint, somewhat thinned, should be used. Before thinning the paint, talk to your dealer about your project.

Chicken Casserole Has A Piquant Touch

Young chickens can be fried, broiled or barbecued, but the secret of repeat menu appeal is a surprise flavor note in serving variety.

For instance, adding a piquancy with the touch of brown prepared mustard to a sauce makes the dish fresh as spring. Take tender chicken breasts, as an idea, and combine them in a casserole with peas and ham strips.

Then spoon over a mustard-seasoned cream sauce before baking. It's a delicious combination and a seasoning success.

For a real summer menu, serve the casserole with fresh asparagus, green onions and cherry tomatoes, and fresh strawberries with cream for dessert.

Chicken Casserole

2 chicken breasts
6 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
6 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 (10 oz.) pkg. frozen peas
1 cup cooked or canned ham strips
2 envelopes golden seasoning and broth*
1½ cups water
3 tablespoons prepared mustard
½ cup heavy cream
*or 2 chicken bouillon cubes

Cut 2 chicken breasts into halves. Preheat oven 350 degrees F. Mix flour, salt, pepper together. Set aside 4 tablespoons seasoned flour. Use remaining flour to coat chicken breasts. Melt 3 tablespoons butter in skillet. Add floured chicken breasts and brown on both sides.

Pour boiling water over frozen peas. Drain very well. Put peas in bottom of 9-inch baking dish. Mix ham strips with peas. Arrange chicken breasts on top of ham and peas. Melt remaining 3 tablespoons butter.

Stir in flour and mustard. Mix seasoning and broth with hot water. Gradually add to butter - flour mix, mixing until smooth.

Cook, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens. Stir in heavy cream. Cook for 1 minute longer. Pour over chicken. Cover and bake 40 minutes. Makes four servings.

Paint Brush Will Last If Given Proper Care

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

There are some things you just can't check.

One of them is the amount of money wasted each year by home owners who don't take care of paint brushes.

Good-quality, modern brushes are designed to last for years. But it is the rare individual indeed who gets years of wear out of them. Most of us are inclined to use them a few times, then permit them to harden or get out of shape, or both.

When it comes time to paint again, we look at the battered brush, think how much trouble it will be to restore it to usefulness, then go out and buy a new one.

All this is fine for the paint brush manufacturers, although it must be admitted most of them are constantly urging us to take care of their products. But it's not good for our pocketbooks.

An allied disadvantage of lack of care is that we sometimes use an abused brush and wonder why we don't get good results.

When a professional painter buys a new brush, he takes it to his place of business, twirls the handle briskly between his hands for several minutes, then rubs one hand back and forth across the bristles a while longer.

He then wraps the brush in heavy paper that doesn't have print on it and suspends it for 24 hours in raw linseed oil. Note that he suspends it, being careful not to bend the bristles. After the one-day bath, the brush is removed from the oil, which is squeezed out by rubbing the flat side of the bristles against the edge of a board or across a smooth wire.

Arinsing in turpentine, a thorough drying — and the brush is ready to put a new finish on the interior or exterior of your home. If you intend to do the painting yourself, why not follow the professional's example?

When finished with a job, clean the brush with the same solvent for the particular finishing material for which it was used.

That is, if you used paint, varnish or enamel, the solvent is turpentine or mineral spirits. For water-base or any of the latex paints, the solvent is water. For lacquer, it's lacquer thinner. And for shellac, it's denatured alcohol. Always read the label on the container of an odorless paint to determine the type of cleaning agent for the brush or, for that matter, for a roller.

If the brush is not to be used for a while, wrap it in aluminum foil, wax paper or any similar type of material and store it so that the bristles will not be bent.

1 would receive 6.06 per cent boosts. Widows and survivors of deceased members would get $6 more a month. At present, there are about 250,000 contributing members of the public employes, teachers retirement, and public school employes retirement systems.

The Senate reinstated a provision, stricken by the House, under which maximum pensions would be $18,000 a year.

The Senate also went along Tuesday night with a bill aimed at putting the financially troubled Highway Patrol pension program on a sounder basis. It increases investment authority of the Patrol Pension Board and boosts state contributions from the present 5 per cent to a minimum of 9 per cent and maximum of 21 per cent.

In other developments during a busy, 12-hour day, the House agreed to Senate amendments to a measure creating additional common pleas judgeships in Cuyahoga, Summit, Hamilton, Stark, and Medina counties. It now goes to the governor.

The House also accepted Senate amendments and completed passage of a Senate bill extending tax exemption to industries installing water pollution control equipment after next Jan. 1.

Before applying paint to floors, you must be sure that the surface is properly cleaned, warns the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association. Otherwise the foreign matter will interfere with the adhesion of the paint to the floor.

The Law

One of the more unusual cases decided in recent tax law involved what most of us would simply consider a hole in the ground.

The problem was one of determination of the proper use of a tax depreciation allowance when it came to certain types of property. The result set a new precedent in the law.

This case involved the owner of a refuse dump. The dump was a large excavation which had been purchased for the specific purpose of using it for such a disposal area.

WHEN IT came time to pay income taxes, the dump's owner claimed a very unusual type of depreciation which would reduce his taxes. He said, in effect, that he had purchased a "hole," not the land surrounding it.

He contended that because the hole was becoming smaller as he filled it with refuse it would not last indefinitely so a deduction should be allowed for depreciation. The amount of taxes, he concluded, should be affected by the space remaining in the hole, not on its original size.

The government, however, felt differently about the matter and took the case into court. They contended that the dump was simply real estate with a permanent life and that the taxes were based on the solid terra firma, not a "hole." The law doesn't permit such a depreciation, they contended.

THE COURT, however, ruled in favor of the owner of the dump, thus putting a new interpretation on tax law as involves real property. The court said that the dump owner could take the depreciation deduction upon this "hole" used in his refuse business, based on the quantity of space exhausted by filling in each year.

In its ruling, the court noted that so - called super-adjacent air space can be subdivided for various purposes in such places as multi-stories office buildings and elsewhere.

They did say, however, that the hole is not a true "natural resource," on which other tax laws apply. The fact that the hole was put there by man, rather than natural forces, rued out this possibility, the court said.

Chicken Casserole Has A Piquant Touch

Young chickens can be fried, broiled or barbecued, but the secret of repeat menu appeal is a surprise flavor note in serving variety.

For instance, adding a piquancy with the touch of brown prepared mustard to a sauce makes the dish fresh as spring. Take tender chicken breasts, as an idea, and combine them in a casserole with peas and ham strips.

Then spoon over a mustard-seasoned cream sauce before baking. It's a delicious combination and a seasoning success.

For a real summer menu, serve the casserole with fresh asparagus, green onions and cherry tomatoes, and fresh strawberries with cream for dessert.

Chicken Casserole

2 chicken breasts
6 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
6 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 (10 oz.) pkg. frozen peas
1 cup cooked or canned ham strips
2 envelopes golden seasoning and broth*
1½ cups water
3 tablespoons prepared mustard
½ cup heavy cream
*or 2 chicken bouillon cubes

Cut 2 chicken breasts into halves. Preheat oven 350 degrees F. Mix flour, salt, pepper together. Set aside 4 tablespoons seasoned flour. Use remaining flour to coat chicken breasts. Melt 3 tablespoons butter in skillet. Add floured chicken breasts and brown on both sides.

Pour boiling water over frozen peas. Drain very well. Put peas in bottom of 9-inch baking dish. Mix ham strips with peas. Arrange chicken breasts on top of ham and peas. Melt remaining 3 tablespoons butter.

Stir in flour and mustard. Mix seasoning and broth with hot water. Gradually add to butter - flour mix, mixing until smooth.

Cook, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens. Stir in heavy cream. Cook for 1 minute longer. Pour over chicken. Cover and bake 40 minutes. Makes four servings.

Paint Brush Will Last If Given Proper Care

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

There are some things you just can't check.

One of them is the amount of money wasted each year by home owners who don't take care of paint brushes.

Good-quality, modern brushes are designed to last for years. But it is the rare individual indeed who gets years of wear out of them. Most of us are inclined to use them a few times, then permit them to harden or get out of shape, or both.

When it comes time to paint again, we look at the battered brush, think how much trouble it will be to restore it to usefulness, then go out and buy a new one.

All this is fine for the paint brush manufacturers, although it must be admitted most of them are constantly urging us to take care of their products. But it's not good for our pocketbooks.

An allied disadvantage of lack of care is that we sometimes use an abused brush and wonder why we don't get good results.

When a professional painter buys a new brush, he takes it to his place of business, twirls the handle briskly between his hands for several minutes, then rubs one hand back and forth across the bristles a while longer.

He then wraps the brush in heavy paper that doesn't have print on it and suspends it for 24 hours in raw linseed oil. Note that he suspends it, being careful not to bend the bristles. After the one-day bath, the brush is removed from the oil, which is squeezed out by rubbing the flat side of the bristles against the edge of a board or across a smooth wire.

Arinsing in turpentine, a thorough drying — and the brush is ready to put a new finish on the interior or exterior of your home. If you intend to do the painting yourself, why not follow the professional's example?

When finished with a job, clean the brush with the same solvent for the particular finishing material for which it was used.

That is, if you used paint, varnish or enamel, the solvent is turpentine or mineral spirits. For water-base or any of the latex paints, the solvent is water. For lacquer, it's lacquer thinner. And for shellac, it's denatured alcohol. Always read the label on the container of an odorless paint to determine the type of cleaning agent for the brush or, for that matter, for a roller.

If the brush is not to be used for a while, wrap it in aluminum foil, wax paper or any similar type of material and store it so that the bristles will not be bent.

1 would receive 6.06 per cent boosts. Widows and survivors of deceased members would get $6 more a month. At present, there are about 250,000 contributing members of the public employes, teachers retirement, and public school employes retirement systems.

The Senate reinstated a provision, stricken by the House, under which maximum pensions would be $18,000 a year.

The Senate also went along Tuesday night with a bill aimed at putting the financially troubled Highway Patrol pension program on a sounder basis. It increases investment authority of the Patrol Pension Board and boosts state contributions from the present 5 per cent to a minimum of 9 per cent and maximum of 21 per cent.

In other developments during a busy, 12-hour day, the House agreed to Senate amendments to a measure creating additional common pleas judgeships in Cuyahoga, Summit, Hamilton, Stark, and Medina counties. It now goes to the governor.

The House also accepted Senate amendments and completed passage of a Senate bill extending tax exemption to industries installing water pollution control equipment after next Jan. 1.

Before applying paint to floors, you must be sure that the surface is properly cleaned, warns the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association. Otherwise the foreign matter will interfere with the adhesion of the paint to the floor.

Cincinnati Mass March Eyed

Rights Leaders Set Plan To Block Building Work

CINCINNATI (AP) — Local civil rights leaders say their program for the rest of the summer includes tying up all construction work in town and a possible mass march in the streets.

"To start down the street one day with about 150 Negro clergymen from the Cincinnati area leading us...this is my personal aim and that is the thing we pray most for," Clyde W. Vinegar, community coordinator of the Congress of Racial Equality, said Tuesday night.

The round of demonstrations began Monday when 16 persons, many of them members of CORE, were arrested when they climbed on building forms and into the cellar of an unfinished school site stopping the work. All were freed on bail the same day.

That demonstration was to protest alleged racial discrimination in the building trades unions and Vinegar said there will be more demonstrations on the theory of "work for everybody where public funds are concerned, or work for none."

He said another aim for the demonstrations will be "to unite the Negro community and white people who believe in justice and freedom and fill up all the building sites and jails."

"We will use up all the police department's money locking us up and filling the jails," he told a civil rights rally at Carmel Presbyterian Church in the Avondale section. About 220 persons attended the rally.

As targets for demonstrations, Vinegar named "about half a dozen" school sites, the University of Cincinnati, General Hospital and the new convention hall the city is building as part of its urban renewal program.

The building trades unions have denied they practice discrimination, and have offered to give jobs to qualified Negroes. CORE and other civil rights groups contend Negroes can only get jobs as common laborers.

The demonstration Monday at the East Avondale Elementary School led to the city's getting a temporary restraining order to bar CORE from more such demonstrations, but civil rights leaders feel this applies only to that one site.

Sheriff's Deputy Killed, Partner Hurt In Wreck

CHARDON, Ohio (AP) — A veteran Geauga County sheriff's deputy was killed and his partner injured today in a collision involving their cruiser on U.S. 322 about four miles southeast of here.

Dead at the scene was Lummie Sanders, 50, of Chagrin Falls, 20 years a deputy.

Deputy Eugene Baker, 31, of Chesterland was admitted to Geauga County Community Hospital with serious head injuries.

Also hospitalized was Frank Roblesky, 27, of Huntsburg, driver of the other car in the crash. Four passengers in his car suffered less severe injuries.

The Highway Patrol said the sheriff's cruiser, driven by Baker, crashed into the oncoming Roblesky car when it skidded as Baker applied the brakes to avoid hitting a car that turned left in front of the cruiser to enter a service station.

The cruiser overturned following the collision and both deputies were thrown out, with Sanders pinned beneath the vehicle.

Expect Enlarged Draft

Governors Wait Johnson Report On Viet Situation

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — The nation's governors, awaiting President Johnson's televised report on the situation in Viet Nam, obviously expect the President to announce an enlarged draft on American resources and manpower to balance off the Communist aggression.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey told the governors as much Tuesday night in carefully screened words at the black-tie dinner that marks the social peak of their annual conference.

Humphrey cautioned the governors that the decisions Johnson will announce at a Washington news conference today will touch the lives of thousands of American families.

Humphrey pledged the governors that "we are not going to falter" in opposing an effort by aggressors in South Viet Nam to "demonstrate that murder and terrorism — and not peaceful coexistence — is the path of eventual Communist triumph."

The governors were to take a look at the Johnson administration's antipoverty program today.

Humphrey exercises general supervision of the program, but it was up to Sargent Shriver Jr., director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, to answer to the governors for what several of them regard as its shortcomings.

A majority of the governors vigorously opposed the House action which all but eliminated their veto over projects in their states.

The governors acted on two issues by unanimous consent Tuesday.

They adopted a resolution calling for a study of the possibility of returning to the states a portion of the revenues the federal government collects, and approved a report calling for a comprehensive highway study.

Health Service Reports

2.4 Million Americans Have Never Seen Doctor

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service reported today that an estimated 2.4 million Americans — or 1.3 per cent of the civilian population — say they've never seen or talked to a physician for care or advice.

Most of them are under 15 years of age, and most are nonwhites, but a few contend they've gone 75 years or more without seeking out a doctor.

Estimates of the total number are based on a nationwide household sampling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. James Z. Appel, president of the American Medical Association, has called for rejection of the administration plan for a network of regional medical centers.

Appel told the House Commerce Committee Tuesday that the proposed legislation is vague and unclear.

The centers would include a medical school and teaching hospital, plus research institutes and diagnostic and treatment stations in outlying community hospitals.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Young Americans for Freedom have announced plans for a national campaign against trade with Communist Romania.

President Robert E. Bauman said Tuesday the goal will be to show the administration "just how strongly the average American citizen is opposed to trade with Communist countries which can be used to increase Communist military potential."

The decision followed a Senate speech by Sen. J. W. Fulbright D-Ark., and a presidentially ordered investigation of a now dropped plan to build a synthetic rubber plant in Romania.

Fulbright said the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. scotched such plans after a pressure campaign by the Young Americans for Freedom. He also said a Firestone competitor, Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., tried to capitalize on this by linking Firestone with the Communist country.

500 In Sudan To Face Trial After Rebellion

CAIRO (AP)—Sudan's government radio announced today that about 500 persons will go on trial in connection with a recent rebellion in the black belt of south Sudan.

The broadcast said mass arests followed the outbreaks in the provinces of Equatoria, Bahr El Ghazal and Upper Nile earlier this month. Unconfirmed reports said more than 120 persons were killed.

It apparently was a revival of the dispute between south Sudan's Negro population and the Moslem Arabs of the north who dominate the Sudanese government.

Cope emphasized that "we have no quarrel with the city government—we just think it's time for a change."

"This year's slate of candidates is a working crew and we intend to win in November," he added.

Mrs. Ruth Geiger, club president, announced that the annual club picnic will be Aug. 7 at City Park, with Don Gosney of Columbiana and John P. Vargo of Lisbon guest speakers.

July 4 In August

The skies put on their own Fourth of July display in August.

The Perseid meteor shower occurs around Aug. 11 each year. Then the earth is bombarded with tons of debris from space. Meteors streak across the sky every minute by the thousands in a pyrotechnic display.

The speed with which the meteors fall generates great heat from air friction, the National Geographic Society says. They become white - hot and often blaze bright trails of incandescent gas.

Old Faithful of meteor showers, the Perseids were first recorded in A.D. 36. Unlike other swarms that wheel around the sun in clusters, the Perseids form a stream that fills their entire orbit with dust and pebbles. Every August, the earth passes through this cosmic river.

In 1862, Italian astronomer Giovanni Schiaparelli, while observing a faint, unspectacular comet, noticed that its orbit was almost identical to that of the Perseids. He concluded it was the source of the August display.

Bidders On Milwaukee Building

Ship On Bottom Of Lake Will Be Auctioned Today

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — How do you auction off a ship lying under water?

This is the way it will be done Wednesday when the Prins Willem V, a 258-foot Dutch ocean-going diesel cargo ship lying at the bottom of Lake Michigan, is auctioned off.

Prospective bidders will assemble atop one of Milwaukee's newest and tallest downtown buildings commanding a splendid view of the harbor. The auction will start at $27,000.

Experienced divers will be available on request to assist potential buyers.

The Prins Willem V was insured for $2 million. It sank Oct. 14, 1954, after colliding with a towed oil barge. It is lying on its side in about 75 feet of water four miles east of the Milwaukee harbor entrance. Sporadic efforts have been made to bring the ship to the surface. The ship's sealed cargo was insured for $750,000.

At first it was believed that the highest point of the sunken ship was 31 feet below the surface and thus a hazard to navigation. As such it became U.S. government property with the ship owners relinquishing title.

The Army contracted with Max Eugene Nohl, a Milwaukee deep sea diver, to clear the wreckage to a safe depth of 40 feet. The terms gave Nohl title to the Prins Willem.

The navigational hazard turned out to be a gangplank. A few strokes of a diver's knife and Nohl had fulfilled the contract. After some litigation he collected nearly all of his $50,000 contract figure.

Nohl and his wife were killed in an automobile accident in Arkansas in 1960. A corporation formed by his heirs contracted with Samuel L. Witnernitz, a Chicago industrial auction firm, to sell the ship and cargo on an "as is, where is" basis.

The 715-ton cargo consists of printing machinery, chemicals in steel drums, leather, hides, television picture tubes, musical instruments, outboard motors, slide projects and other items of U.S. manufacture. The cargo, sealed and packed for export, is presumed to be undamaged.

Best Photo Of Mars Shows It's Dead Orb

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Times reported today that Mariner 4's best pictures of Mars show the red planet apparently is a dead orb similar to the moon.

The newspaper said it learned that the pictures — not yet made public — show craters gouged in the surface of the planet but no evidence of canals.

Some astronomers have theorized that canals exist on Mars.

Sheriff's Deputy Killed, Partner Hurt In Wreck

CHARDON, Ohio (AP) — A veteran Geauga County sheriff's deputy was killed and his partner injured today in a collision involving their cruiser on U.S. 322 about four miles southeast of here.

Dead at the scene was Lummie Sanders, 50, of Chagrin Falls, 20 years a deputy.

Deputy Eugene Baker, 31, of Chesterland was admitted to Geauga County Community Hospital with serious head injuries.

Also hospitalized was Frank Roblesky, 27, of Huntsburg, driver of the other car in the crash. Four passengers in his car suffered less severe injuries.

The Highway Patrol said the sheriff's cruiser, driven by Baker, crashed into the oncoming Roblesky car when it skidded as Baker applied the brakes to avoid hitting a car that turned left in front of the cruiser to enter a service station.

The cruiser overturned following the collision and both deputies were thrown out, with Sanders pinned beneath the vehicle.

Expect Enlarged Draft

Governors Wait Johnson Report On Viet Situation

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — The nation's governors, awaiting President Johnson's televised report on the situation in Viet Nam, obviously expect the President to announce an enlarged draft on American resources and manpower to balance off the Communist aggression.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey told the governors as much Tuesday night in carefully screened words at the black-tie dinner that marks the social peak of their annual conference.

Humphrey cautioned the governors that the decisions Johnson will announce at a Washington news conference today will touch the lives of thousands of American families.

Humphrey pledged the governors that "we are not going to falter" in opposing an effort by aggressors in South Viet Nam to "demonstrate that murder and terrorism — and not peaceful coexistence — is the path of eventual Communist triumph."

The governors were to take a look at the Johnson administration's antipoverty program today.

Humphrey exercises general supervision of the program, but it was up to Sargent Shriver Jr., director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, to answer to the governors for what several of them regard as its shortcomings.

A majority of the governors vigorously opposed the House action which all but eliminated their veto over projects in their states.

The governors acted on two issues by unanimous consent Tuesday.

They adopted a resolution calling for a study of the possibility of returning to the states a portion of the revenues the federal government collects, and approved a report calling for a comprehensive highway study.

Health Service Reports

2.4 Million Americans Have Never Seen Doctor

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service reported today that an estimated 2.4 million Americans — or 1.3 per cent of the civilian population — say they've never seen or talked to a physician for care or advice.

Most of them are under 15 years of age, and most are nonwhites, but a few contend they've gone 75 years or more without seeking out a doctor.

Estimates of the total number are based on a nationwide household sampling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. James Z. Appel, president of the American Medical Association, has called for rejection of the administration plan for a network of regional medical centers.

Appel told the House Commerce Committee Tuesday that the proposed legislation is vague and unclear.

The centers would include a medical school and teaching hospital, plus research institutes and diagnostic and treatment stations in outlying community hospitals.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Young Americans for Freedom have announced plans for a national campaign against trade with Communist Romania.

President Robert E. Bauman said Tuesday the goal will be to show the administration "just how strongly the average American citizen is opposed to trade with Communist countries which can be used to increase Communist military potential."

The decision followed a Senate speech by Sen. J. W. Fulbright D-Ark., and a presidentially ordered investigation of a now dropped plan to build a synthetic rubber plant in Romania.

Fulbright said the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. scotched such plans after a pressure campaign by the Young Americans for Freedom. He also said a Firestone competitor, Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., tried to capitalize on this by linking Firestone with the Communist country.

500 In Sudan To Face Trial After Rebellion

CAIRO (AP)—Sudan's government radio announced today that about 500 persons will go on trial in connection with a recent rebellion in the black belt of south Sudan.

The broadcast said mass arests followed the outbreaks in the provinces of Equatoria, Bahr El Ghazal and Upper Nile earlier this month. Unconfirmed reports said more than 120 persons were killed.

It apparently was a revival of the dispute between south Sudan's Negro population and the Moslem Arabs of the north who dominate the Sudanese government.

Brig. Gen. R. Hartono's statement in the armed forces newspaper Ngyatan Bersendjata did not elaborate on the bomb project. President Sukarno said recently Indonesia would be capable of producing the bomb "in the near future."

Mrs. Glen Brady of Georgetown was honored as the oldest guest and Louis Andrew Kolenich, 10-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kolenich of Burgettstown, as the youngest. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Aten of Inverness, Fla., traveled the farthest.

Democrats Hear Palestine Speech

EAST PALESTINE — Byron Cope served as spokesman for candidates during a meeting of 30 members of the Democratic Club Tuesday night at City Park.

Cope emphasized that "we have no quarrel with the city government—we just think it's time for a change."

"This year's slate of candidates is a working crew and we intend to win in November," he added.

Mrs. Ruth Geiger, club president, announced that the annual club picnic will be Aug. 7 at City Park, with Don Gosney of Columbiana and John P. Vargo of Lisbon guest speakers.

July 4 In August

The skies put on their own Fourth of July display in August.

The Perseid meteor shower occurs around Aug. 11 each year. Then the earth is bombarded with tons of debris from space. Meteors streak across the sky every minute by the thousands in a pyrotechnic display.

The speed with which the meteors fall generates great heat from air friction, the National Geographic Society says. They become white - hot and often blaze bright trails of incandescent gas.

Old Faithful of meteor showers, the Perseids were first recorded in A.D. 36. Unlike other swarms that wheel around the sun in clusters, the Perseids form a stream that fills their entire orbit with dust and pebbles. Every August, the earth passes through this cosmic river.

In 1862, Italian astronomer Giovanni Schiaparelli, while observing a faint, unspectacular comet, noticed that its orbit was almost identical to that of the Perseids. He concluded it was the source of the August display.

Bidders On Milwaukee Building

Ship On Bottom Of Lake Will Be Auctioned Today

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — How do you auction off a ship lying under water?

This is the way it will be done Wednesday when the Prins Willem V, a 258-foot Dutch ocean-going diesel cargo ship lying at the bottom of Lake Michigan, is auctioned off.

Prospective bidders will assemble atop one of Milwaukee's newest and tallest downtown buildings commanding a splendid view of the harbor. The auction will start at $27,000.

Experienced divers will be available on request to assist potential buyers.

The Prins Willem V was insured for $2 million. It sank Oct. 14, 1954, after colliding with a towed oil barge. It is lying on its side in about 75 feet of water four miles east of the Milwaukee harbor entrance. Sporadic efforts have been made to bring the ship to the surface. The ship's sealed cargo was insured for $750,000.

At first it was believed that the highest point of the sunken ship was 31 feet below the surface and thus a hazard to navigation. As such it became U.S. government property with the ship owners relinquishing title.

The Army contracted with Max Eugene Nohl, a Milwaukee deep sea diver, to clear the wreckage to a safe depth of 40 feet. The terms gave Nohl title to the Prins Willem.

The navigational hazard turned out to be a gangplank. A few strokes of a diver's knife and Nohl had fulfilled the contract. After some litigation he collected nearly all of his $50,000 contract figure.

Nohl and his wife were killed in an automobile accident in Arkansas in 1960. A corporation formed by his heirs contracted with Samuel L. Witnernitz, a Chicago industrial auction firm, to sell the ship and cargo on an "as is, where is" basis.

The 715-ton cargo consists of printing machinery, chemicals in steel drums, leather, hides, television picture tubes, musical instruments, outboard motors, slide projects and other items of U.S. manufacture. The cargo, sealed and packed for export, is presumed to be undamaged.

Best Photo Of Mars Shows It's Dead Orb

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Times reported today that Mariner 4's best pictures of Mars show the red planet apparently is a dead orb similar to the moon.

The newspaper said it learned that the pictures — not yet made public — show craters gouged in the surface of the planet but no evidence of canals.

Some astronomers have theorized that canals exist on Mars.

Bert Campaneris has found a job he likes. He's busy digging the Kansas City Athletics out of the American League cellar.

Campaneris, the Athletics' ambidextrous shortstop-outfielder, rapped six hits, including an inside-the-park homer, scored six runs and stole two bases Tuesday night, leading a 7-3, 10-8 KC sweep of the skidding Boston Red Sox.

The doubleheader victory moved the A's within one game of the ninth- place Red Sox. They can escape 10th place for the first time since April 21 by winning the remaining two games of the Boston series.

Campy, who does everything but pitch and catch for the A's, dazzled the Red Sox with his bat and legs Tuesday night. He singled twice in the first game and stole his 35th and 36th bases — high in the league — before stroking a triple and two more singles in addition to his fourth homer in the nightcap.

He leads the league in triples with 10, ranks fifth in hits with 104 and has a creditable .273 batting average.

At the other end of the AL ladder, first-place Minnesota, paced by Don Mincher's two-run homer in the seventh, beat Washington 9-5 in the second game of a twi-night double header after dropping the opener 10-7. The split cut the Twins' lead to four games over the second-place Baltimore Orioles, who edged the Los Angeles Angels 3-2 in 10 innings.

Elsewhere, Pedro Gonzalez led Cleveland to a 7-3 victory over the Chicago White Sox while New York and Detroit divided a twin bill, the Yankees winning the twilight game 4-3 on Tom Tresh's two-run homer and the Tigers taking the night game 3-0 with a three-run rally in the eighth.

Mincher's 13th home run put Minnesota ahead to stay in the Washington nightcap after Earl Battey's second homer of the evening pulled the league leaders within range. Mike Brumley, a .142 hitter going into the doubleheader, sparked the Senators in the opener with his first and second homers of the year.

Brooks Robinson's single off Dean Chance in the 10th scored Russ Snyder, who led off the inning with a pinch hit double, with the winning run at Baltimore. The loss was Chance's eighth in 14 decisions.

Gonzalez drove in three Cleveland runs with a double and single, helping Ralph Terry record his 10th victory as the third-place Indians moved within 4½ games of first place.

Whitey Ford became the league's first 12-game winner in the New York opener but needed relief help from Pedro Ramos and Steve Hamilton after Tresh's sixth-inning homer erased a 3-2 Detroit lead.

The Tigers broke up a scoreless duel between Joe Sparma and New York's Jim Bouton in the nightcap on Don Wert's sacrifice fly, Jerry Lumpe's squeeze bunt and a bases-loaded walk to Dick McAuliffe in the eighth. The victory was Sparma's fourth straight against the Yankees this season.

Spahn Goes Distance But Loses 3-0 To Cards

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Lou Brock broke for first. He had struck out, but the ball evaded catcher Tom Haller. When Haller tried to pick it up, the ball wasn't there. Umpire Augie Donatelli, trying to get out of the way, had kicked it.

That brief fiasco occurred in the third inning Tuesday and foreshadowed the kind of night Warren Spahn was in for.

Brock didn't score —Spahn picked him off — but the fading southpaw still lost a four-hitter 3-0 as St. Louis defeated San Francisco.

The complete game was the first since June 11 for the 44-year-old pitcher, who is making a determined effort to prove he still can win. He hasn't won since May 25, but he certainly can expect more chances at improving on his record as the winningest left-hander in history.

Spahn, now 4-13 with a nine-game losing streak, whittled his earned run average from 4.57 to 4.40 while watching his week-old teammates go scoreless for the first time in a month.

The performance was in great contrast to his first start with the Giants after leaving the New York Mets. Cincinnati rocked him for three runs in only 2 1-3 innings last Thursday.

The Cardinals, however, were anything but brutal as they backed Bob Purkey's five-hit pitching. After Bill White homered in the second inning, Spahn allowed only two hits. St. Louis, in fact, didn't even get a hit in scoring its final run in the ninth.

Curt Flood grounded to third baseman Jim Hart, who tossed the ball past first base. Flood raced to second, then continued all the way home when Haller picked up the ball and fired it into left field.

Elsewhere in the National League, Los Angeles outlasted Cincinnati 9-7 in a wild game, Milwaukee whipped Houston 7-1, Pittsburgh edged Philadelphia 3-2 in 10 innings after losing 3-1 and Chicago defeated New York 6-3.

The Dodgers recorded two errors, four wild pitches and a passed ball, but Jim Gilliam powered them past the Reds, driving in four runs with a homer, double and single. Maury Wills extended his hitting streak to 20 games and stole his 70th and 71st bases. Deron Johnson hit a two-run homer for Cincinnati.

Milwaukee swept by Houston behind Felipe Alou and Joe Torre. Each hit a homer and drove in two runs. Billy O'Dell saved Tony Cloninger's 13th triumph against eight defeats, pitching out of a bases-loaded jam in the seventh inning.

Philadelphia relief pitcher Gary Wagner split a doubleheader, losing the second game when Pittsburgh's Willie Stargell doubled and Donn Clendenon singled him home in the 10th. The Phillies had tied it in the eighth when John Herrnstein singled in Clay Dalrymple.

Bob Friend was headed for his second straight shutout in the opener until the Phillies erupted for three runs with two out in the ninth. Tony Gonzalez tied it with a run-scoring single, and Cookie Rojas won it with a two-run double.

Ernie Banks drove in four runs with a bases-loaded double and a bases-empty home run as Chicago downed the Mets, who played under interim manager Wes Westrum. Bob Buhl posted his 11th victory against seven defeats.

EL Merchants Lose 12-8 To Beaver Falls

The Friendly Bowling-Merchants waited until the sixth inning to score eight runs but this didn't prove enought as Beaver Falls picked up a 12-8 victory Tuesday at Crucible Field in a Beaver County League game.

The winners clubbed three triples in gaining the victory while Meeks tagged one for the Merchants.

Robin Roberts Placed On Waivers By Orioles

BALTIMORE (AP) — Robin Roberts, still planning his pitching future near the end of a brilliant baseball career, has been placed on waivers by the Baltimore Orioles at his own request.

Dropped out of the starting rotation after losing seven straight decisions, the 38-year-old right-hander didn't relish his unfamiliar role as a spot starter and long reliever.

"I have no quarrel at not being used as a starter," Roberts said prior to Tuesday night's game against the Los Angeles Angels. "I just don't want to participate otherwise."

Roberts, who ranks No. 16 among all-time major league winners with 276 victories, viewed his bullpen duty as the possible prelude to his final season.

The veteran campaigner said he wanted to become a regular starter with another club for the rest of the season, "thus placing myself in a position of pitching as a regular next year."

Mike Brumley, a .142 hitter going into the doubleheader, sparked the Senators in the opener with his first and second homers of the year.

Brooks Robinson's single off Dean Chance in the 10th scored Russ Snyder, who led off the inning with a pinch hit double, with the winning run at Baltimore. The loss was Chance's eighth in 14 decisions.

Gonzalez drove in three Cleveland runs with a double and single, helping Ralph Terry record his 10th victory as the third-place Indians moved within 4½ games of first place.

Whitey Ford became the league's first 12-game winner in the New York opener but needed relief help from Pedro Ramos and Steve Hamilton after Tresh's sixth-inning homer erased a 3-2 Detroit lead.

The Tigers broke up a scoreless duel between Joe Sparma and New York's Jim Bouton in the nightcap on Don Wert's sacrifice fly, Jerry Lumpe's squeeze bunt and a bases-loaded walk to Dick McAuliffe in the eighth. The victory was Sparma's fourth straight against the Yankees this season.

Spahn Goes Distance But Loses 3-0 To Cards

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Lou Brock broke for first. He had struck out, but the ball evaded catcher Tom Haller. When Haller tried to pick it up, the ball wasn't there. Umpire Augie Donatelli, trying to get out of the way, had kicked it.

That brief fiasco occurred in the third inning Tuesday and foreshadowed the kind of night Warren Spahn was in for.

Brock didn't score —Spahn picked him off — but the fading southpaw still lost a four-hitter 3-0 as St. Louis defeated San Francisco.

The complete game was the first since June 11 for the 44-year-old pitcher, who is making a determined effort to prove he still can win. He hasn't won since May 25, but he certainly can expect more chances at improving on his record as the winningest left-hander in history.

Spahn, now 4-13 with a nine-game losing streak, whittled his earned run average from 4.57 to 4.40 while watching his week-old teammates go scoreless for the first time in a month.

The performance was in great contrast to his first start with the Giants after leaving the New York Mets. Cincinnati rocked him for three runs in only 2 1-3 innings last Thursday.

The Cardinals, however, were anything but brutal as they backed Bob Purkey's five-hit pitching. After Bill White homered in the second inning, Spahn allowed only two hits. St. Louis, in fact, didn't even get a hit in scoring its final run in the ninth.

★ ★ ★ Dodgers Win; Bucs Split ★ ★ ★

Curt Flood grounded to third baseman Jim Hart, who tossed the ball past first base. Flood raced to second, then continued all the way home when Haller picked up the ball and fired it into left field.

Elsewhere in the National League, Los Angeles outlasted Cincinnati 9-7 in a wild game, Milwaukee whipped Houston 7-1, Pittsburgh edged Philadelphia 3-2 in 10 innings after losing 3-1 and Chicago defeated New York 6-3.

The Dodgers recorded two errors, four wild pitches and a passed ball, but Jim Gilliam powered them past the Reds, driving in four runs with a homer, double and single. Maury Wills extended his hitting streak to 20 games and stole his 70th and 71st bases. Deron Johnson hit a two-run homer for Cincinnati.

Milwaukee swept by Houston behind Felipe Alou and Joe Torre. Each hit a homer and drove in two runs. Billy O'Dell saved Tony Cloninger's 13th triumph against eight defeats, pitching out of a bases-loaded jam in the seventh inning.

Philadelphia relief pitcher Gary Wagner split a doubleheader, losing the second game when Pittsburgh's Willie Stargell doubled and Donn Clendenon singled him home in the 10th. The Phillies had tied it in the eighth when John Herrnstein singled in Clay Dalrymple.

Bob Friend was headed for his second straight shutout in the opener until the Phillies erupted for three runs with two out in the ninth. Tony Gonzalez tied it with a run-scoring single, and Cookie Rojas won it with a two-run double.

Ernie Banks drove in four runs with a bases-loaded double and a bases-empty home run as Chicago downed the Mets, who played under interim manager Wes Westrum. Bob Buhl posted his 11th victory against seven defeats.

TWO DEAD HEATS occurred in the same race for first and third places in the fifth race Tuesday at Monmouth Park. Graig Lynn (3) is nose to nose with Trojan Fleet (8) for first place while Morrislea (1) and Peto (7) finish in a dead heat for third. (UPI Telephoto)

EL Merchants Lose 12-8 To Beaver Falls

The Friendly Bowling-Merchants waited until the sixth inning to score eight runs but this didn't prove enought as Beaver Falls picked up a 12-8 victory Tuesday at Crucible Field in a Beaver County League game.

Beaver Falls tallied five runs in the first inning, one in the third and six in the fourth.

The winners clubbed three triples in gaining the victory while Meeks tagged one for the Merchants.

Hasenstab paced Friendly at the plate with three hits.

Friendly will meet Monaca today at Crucible Field at 6 p. m.

Robin Roberts Placed On Waivers By Orioles

BALTIMORE (AP) — Robin Roberts, still planning his pitching future near the end of a brilliant baseball career, has been placed on waivers by the Baltimore Orioles at his own request.

Dropped out of the starting rotation after losing seven straight decisions, the 38-year-old right-hander didn't relish his unfamiliar role as a spot starter and long reliever.

"I have no quarrel at not being used as a starter," Roberts said prior to Tuesday night's game against the Los Angeles Angels. "I just don't want to participate otherwise."

Roberts, who ranks No. 16 among all-time major league winners with 276 victories, viewed his bullpen duty as the possible prelude to his final season.

The veteran campaigner said he wanted to become a regular starter with another club for the rest of the season, "thus placing myself in a position of pitching as a regular next year."

Frank Paytors was on the mound for Chester while Gerald Bryson was the loser.

Florists Halt Dentists Bid For Playoffs

The Dentists need a victory tonight over the Riverview Florists if they expect to make the Colt League playoffs. Riverview handed the Dentists a 5-3 setback Tuesday and the same two teams meet tonight in the final regularly scheduled game.

Riverview posted a run in the first inning and three in the third to clinch the victory. All three Dentists' runs came in the third.

Bob Pancake bested Mike Piatt on the mound as both hurlers gave up five hits.

Buzz Arrington with a double and single paced Riverview while Duffy collected two hits for Dentists.

Wooster Lad Captures Jaycee Links Tourney

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Dave Anderson of Wooster maintained his mastery over the 7,000-yard River Bend Country Club course Tuesday, shooting a one-under-par 71 to win the Ohio Junior Chamber of Commerce Championship with a 36-hole score of 140.

Anderson, 17-year-old golfer who twice has won the Cleveland Junior championship, broke out of a three-way tie after Monday's opening round and led the field by two strokes.

Doug Steffen of Mogadore finished second with an even-par 72-72—142.

The top four scorers won the right to represent Ohio in the National Jaycee Tournament Aug. 8-13 at Houston, Tex.

Deon Good of Salem, who tied for fourth place with Chris Hardman of Greenville and Jerry Lammers of Toledo, at 144, won a one-hole playoff to qualify for the national competition.

Reds Obtain New Sponsor, Hoyt Seen Out

CINCINNATI (AP) — When the Cincinnati Reds start playing next season they'll most likely have a new radio announcer to report their games.

The Reds announced a change of sponsors Tuesday, with the Wiedemann Brewing Co. succeeding Burger Brewing Co., and this probably will mean the departure of Waite Hoyt, who has reported Reds games for Burger since 1941.

Hoyt's successor apparently will be Paul Sommerkamp, a Cincinnati advertising man who has made announcements on the Crosley Field public address system for 14 years. Sources indicated his partner will be someone with previous experience in major league broadcasting.

The 65-year-old Hoyt, a former New York Yankees pitching star, has both ardent fans and bitter critics among the thousands who follow the Reds' fortunes on radio.

While Sommerkamp declined to comment on reports about his future, Hoyt said in Los Angeles, "You might say my status is in a suspended state at this time."

The future of Hoyt's partner, Claude Sullivan, also remained unclear. Sullivan came here last year from Louisville, Ky.

Casey Should Be Back On His Feet By Friday

NEW YORK (AP) — Indomitable old Casey Stengel, his left hip held together by a metal ball following successful surgery for a displaced fracture, looked forward today to being back on his feet and walking with the aid of a cane by the end of the week.

Stengel, who'll be 75 Friday, was expected to remain in Roosevelt Hospital for three weeks.

Dr. Peter LaMotte, club physician of the New York Mets, headed a team of orthopedic surgeons who performed the 45-minute operation on the elderly manager Tuesday.

Dr. LaMotte said the use of a metal ball instead of the conventional pin as a coupling device would enable Stengel to walk sooner. The operation was described as not complex but, because of Casey's age, a serious one.

Casey's wife, Edna, flew from their Glendale, Calif. home to be at her husband's side before the operation.

Stengel suffered the injury early Sunday morning following a party for oldtimers of the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants. The Mets had honored the oldtimers at Shea Stadium Saturday afternoon.

Dr. LaMotte said he thought the manager had injured himself getting out of a car. "I think he twisted his hip," the physician said. "He complained of pain before going to bed that night, and when he got up, the pain was more severe."

New U. S. Open champion Gary Player tied for 23rd place in the 1964 event with 295 and won $475. This year he shot 282, beat Kel Nagle in a playoff and earned $26,000.

Browns Recall Memories About Past Star Games

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—As the Cleveland Browns near the College All-Star Game at Soldier Field in Chicago Aug. 6, a variety of memories are recalled about games—college and professional—played there in the past.

Pleasant memories were recalled at the Browns' training camp Tuesday by quarterback Jim Ninowski. He clicked with receiver Bobby Mitchell for two touchdown passes as the Detroit Lions fell to the collegians in 1958. Mitchell and Ninowski won co-honors for being the most valuable players in the game.

Fullback Jim Brown has mixed memories about games played at the Chicago field.

The first game there was with the collegians in 1957—the year Brown rode the bench most of the game. He says the experience was irritating but made him more determined to become an outstanding pro football player.

Reds Obtain New Sponsor, Hoyt Seen Out

CINCINNATI (AP) — When the Cincinnati Reds start playing next season they'll most likely have a new radio announcer to report their games.

The Reds announced a change of sponsors Tuesday, with the Wiedemann Brewing Co. succeeding Burger Brewing Co., and this probably will mean the departure of Waite Hoyt, who has reported Reds games for Burger since 1941.

Hoyt's successor apparently will be Paul Sommerkamp, a Cincinnati advertising man who has made announcements on the Crosley Field public address system for 14 years. Sources indicated his partner will be someone with previous experience in major league broadcasting.

The 65-year-old Hoyt, a former New York Yankees pitching star, has both ardent fans and bitter critics among the thousands who follow the Reds' fortunes on radio.

While Sommerkamp declined to comment on reports about his future, Hoyt said in Los Angeles, "You might say my status is in a suspended state at this time."

The future of Hoyt's partner, Claude Sullivan, also remained unclear. Sullivan came here last year from Louisville, Ky.

Casey Should Be Back On His Feet By Friday

NEW YORK (AP) — Indomitable old Casey Stengel, his left hip held together by a metal ball following successful surgery for a displaced fracture, looked forward today to being back on his feet and walking with the aid of a cane by the end of the week.

Stengel, who'll be 75 Friday, was expected to remain in Roosevelt Hospital for three weeks.

Dr. Peter LaMotte, club physician of the New York Mets, headed a team of orthopedic surgeons who performed the 45-minute operation on the elderly manager Tuesday.

Dr. LaMotte said the use of a metal ball instead of the conventional pin as a coupling device would enable Stengel to walk sooner. The operation was described as not complex but, because of Casey's age, a serious one.

Casey's wife, Edna, flew from their Glendale, Calif. home to be at her husband's side before the operation.

Stengel suffered the injury early Sunday morning following a party for oldtimers of the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants. The Mets had honored the oldtimers at Shea Stadium Saturday afternoon.

Dr. LaMotte said he thought the manager had injured himself getting out of a car. "I think he twisted his hip," the physician said. "He complained of pain before going to bed that night, and when he got up, the pain was more severe."

New U. S. Open champion Gary Player tied for 23rd place in the 1964 event with 295 and won $475. This year he shot 282, beat Kel Nagle in a playoff and earned $26,000.

Planes Flies Wagner, Bride To Gulf Island

MARCO ISLAND, Fla. (AP)— A private plane whisked New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner and his bride to this Gulf of Mexico island for a 10-day honeymoon in seclusion.

The mayor and the former Barbara Joan Cavanagh flew here from Tampa Tuesday after a flight from New York, where they were married Monday.

Marco Island is about 50 miles south of Fort Myers.

Stone Age Tribe

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — A hitherto unknown primitive tribe which still uses stone age implements has been discovered living on the northern fringe of the fast desert wastes of Southwest Africa.

The discovery was made by a scientific expedition from the Windhoek Museum. They made a brief film of the bushy-haired tribesmen, all of whom were just over 5 feet tall.

Interpreters had extreme difficulty in understanding the tribesmen, who spoke a strange, previously unheard, Herero dialect.

The men of the tribe are able to skin a buck in minutes using their stone (quartz) cutting tools.

Stone Age Tribe

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — A hitherto unknown primitive tribe which still uses stone age implements has been discovered living on the northern fringe of the fast desert wastes of Southwest Africa.

The discovery was made by a scientific expedition from the Windhoek Museum. They made a brief film of the bushy-haired tribesmen, all of whom were just over 5 feet tall.

Interpreters had extreme difficulty in understanding the tribesmen, who spoke a strange, previously unheard, Herero dialect.

The men of the tribe are able to skin a buck in minutes using their stone (quartz) cutting tools.

Man Freed From Prison Thanks One Who Saved Him

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — When short, wiry Richard Reilly walked out of the Tennessee State Prison a free man, one of the first things he did was go to the man who spared his life 18 years ago.

Reilly, gray at 38, had a job, a diploma, and a $300 college scholarship waiting for him.

First he wanted to thank former Gov. James McCord, "who had tears in his eyes the first time he met me around Easter in 1947.

"I just barged in the house like it was home," said Reilly in an interview Tuesday night.

"Gov. McCord seemed happy to see me. It was a far cry from our first meeting when he made me realize how final death is."

It was after this meeting that McCord commuted Reilly's death sentence to life imprisonment. The commutation came just 25 minutes before Reilly was to have walked to the electric chair.

McCord, now 86, appeared before the State Board of Pardon and Paroles two months ago to plead for Reilly's release on parole. His request was granted Tuesday.

Reilly, a native of Pittsburgh, Pa., was 20 years old when he was convicted of murdering a Memphis clothing store salesman. Until five years ago, prison officials say he was a troublemaker. Once he escaped. He spent three years in solitary confinement.

When Harry Avery became Tennessee corrections commissioner, he interviewed Reilly and released him from solitary.

"Gov. McCord saved my life, but Commissioner Avery gave me a chance to make something out of it," Reilly said.

Reilly began educating himself. Soon he was teaching other convicts such subjects as trigonometry, a course in which he scored 99 of a possible 100 by correspondence.

He recently won the college scholarship from the American School in Chicago in recognition of his outstanding grades — a four-year average of 94.

Housing Bill

Questions, Answers On Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are some questions and answers on major provisions of the housing bill awaiting President Johnson's signature, with its new feature of rent subsidies.

Q. Will the government pay part of the rent for everybody who thinks he needs a bigger or better apartment or house than he can afford?

A. No. In the first place, only those families whose income is low enough to qualify them for the present kinds of public housing would be eligible.

Q. How much is that?

A. The figure varies from place to place and according to family size. Local housing authorities set the level in each community. A family that meets this income test, is inadequately housed, or elderly or handicapped, or has lost its housing because of official condemnation of property or natural disaster, would be eligible for the subsidies.

Q. How much help would this mean?

A. The family would pay rent equivalent to 25 per cent of its income. The subsidy would cover the difference between that figure and a fair rent for safe and sanitary housing.

Q. The government would just pay the family's landlord the difference?

A. Not to just any landlord — no private landlord renting property for profit. The payments could be made to groups like churches, cooperatives, labor unions or limited-dividend organizations building or owning moderate cost housing. Part of the idea is to encourage such groups to build housing. The present bill would help finance 375,000 family units.

Q. Does the bill do anything else for inadequately housed people?

A. Several things. For example, there is a program of grants to impoverished homeowners to help them make their rundown properties livable. Those with annual incomes of $3,000 or less could get a grant of up to $1,500. The bill also provides for 240,000 units of public housing, with a new feature intended to provide housing quickly: up to 100,000 of these units could be obtained by purchase or rent of existing housing.

Q. How about the ordinary home owner or would-be home owner?

A. In general, existing housing, mortgage guarantee and similar programs are continued. There is a new plan of FHA-insured homes for servicemen and veterans with reduced down payments and a new plan for rural housing loans. An extra $150 million for direct loans for housing for the elderly also is provided.

Q. Does the legislation do anything about city improvement and real estate development?

A. A number of things. There are grants for urban beautification and land improvement, an additional $325 million for acquisition of land to be kept in open spaces, a new mortgage assistance program to assist in assembling tracts for development — and the urban renewal programs for slum clearance and the like are continued.

An Irondale man escaped injury, but was cited for driving left of center and operating an unsafe vehicle by the Wintersville state patrol following a skidding mishap on Rt. 213, about a mile and a half south of Wellsville Tuesday at 2:05 p. m.

Officers said Thurman Allgood, 33, of Box 243 Irondale, was traveling west when he slid off the right side of the road, striking two poles and a gas pump located on the Aqua Club boat landing property and owned by Orville Howell of Irondale.

Officers estimated $150 in property damage and $100 in damages to Allgood's auto.

Allgood is to be given a hearing Tuesday before Squire A. H. Evans of Toronto.

Automation Takes Over Job Of Winding Clock

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — No longer need George Bewig trudge up five flights of steep, winding stairs inside an ancient church spire to crank up the city clock.

Automation has taken over and the 62-year-old town clock winder is glad. "It's a wearisome task," he says.

"I had to first crank up the weights that strike the gong — and they weigh 1,200 pounds. Then, I had to crank up the weight that runs the clock itself — it weighs 175 pounds.

"Doing both of these each week — well, it isn't easy," said Bewig, who is 6 feet tall and weighs 200 pounds.

Bewig, a jeweler whose family firm was founded in 1871 by an uncle, has not missed a week in the three years he has been climbing the tower stairs at the First Presbyterian church to wind and adjust the clock.

Since 1857, the city has been paying someone to do this job.

I've been trying to get them to install an electrically powered gear system," said Bewig, whose clock-winder salary is $150 yearly.

"The city couldn't afford it until they put in a recent one-cent sales tax increase. Now, they can pay for the changeover."

The changeover will cost the city about $1,000 — double the amount paid 118 years ago for the original clock.

Bewig is not out of a job — he will continue to maintain the clock.

"If a power failure occurs, it will have to be set to the correct time, and it will still need maintenance and oiling. Now, I'll only have to go up about once every two or three months."

Drivers Aren't Hurt As Autos Sideswipe

No injuries or arrests were reported following a two-car collision on Hollow Rock Rd., about three miles south of Wellsville, Tuesday at 11:10 p.m., the Wintersville state patrol said.

Cars driven by Kenneth Tharp, 28, of Toronto and Robert Ray Morrison, 24, of Rogers sideswiped when they met on a narrow bridge, officers said.

Tharp was traveling south and Morrison north. Moderate damage was sustained by both cars.

Some stock also is missing, Mrs. McBurney told the officers.

Records Are Set By National Steel

PITTSBURGH — The National Steel Corp. attained all-time quarterly records for sales and shipments in the second quarter, ended June 30. Chairman Paul H. Carnahan has announced.

In addition, Carnahan disclosed, the company established records for any second quarter in net earnings and ingot production. In each case, second quarter performance was exceeded only by the 1964 fourth quarter earnings and ingot production.

"This record-setting performance," Carnahan said, "was due in part to the very high level of steel consumption by a booming American economy, in part to inventory accumulation by our customers against the uncertainties of a protracted labor contract negotiation, and in part to National Steel's readiness for such unprecedented demand as a result of its continued heavy capital spending for modern, high-capacity equipment."

Net income, after all charges, for the second quarter was $24,413,726, equal to $1.55 per share. This was an increase of 18 per cent over net income of $20,632,851, or $1.32 per share, for the second 1964 quarter.

First half net income of $47,166,811, was 21 per cent greater than first half 1964 earnings, which totalled $39,086,139. Per share earnings for the 1965 first half were $3, compared with $2.50 per share for the comparable 1964 period.

Payne, who will appear before Judge J. L. MacDonald in Southwest Area County Court here, is allegedly one of two men who bound and gagged Stella Frantum at a rest home. He was arrested July 22 by the Columbiana County sheriff's office.

Payne is free on $3,000 bond.

County's 20th Traffic Fatality

Salem Youth, 17, Killed When Car, Truck Collide

County's 1965 Traffic Toll
20 KILLED
This date in 1964—12 killed!
STAY ALIVE IN '65!

A 17-year-old Salem youth was injured fatally late Tuesday night when his car collided head - on with a tractor - trailer truck on Route 62, west of Salem.

A Rogers woman and her son were hurt in another mishap early today near Wellsville.

Richard Arthur Girard of 368 Columbia St., Salem, was pronounced dead at Salem City Hospital with fractures of the neck, jaw and leg.

THE OHIO Highway Patrol at Lisbon said his 1960 sedan was headed east on Route 62, about 1½ miles west of Salem, when it went left of the center line and rammed an oncoming rig operated by Glenn Charles Hayes, 38, of Canton. The crash occurred at 11:55 p. m.

The car and the 1957 tractor were demolished in the collision, officers said. Hayes was taken to Salem Central Clinic for treatment of back injuries.

The youth, a gas station attendant, was the son of Mrs. Esther Girard. He would have been a senior at Salem High School.

His death was the 20th road fatality in Columbiana County this year, compared with 12 at this time in 1964. There have been six killed on county roads so far this month. Another Salem youth — Kenneth Konnerth, 16—was killed in a one-car mishap on Route 9 just 10 days ago.

Mrs. Grace McLeod, 34, of Rogers R.D. 1 was in "good" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered when the car in which she was a passenger overturned along a curve of Route 45 at 2:25 a. m. today.

SHE WAS in a car driven by Helen Olexa, 38, of 152 Belmont Court, Toronto, whose 1956 sedan was demolished in the mishap about five miles north of Wellsville.

The patrol said she veered off a curve and the auto overturned on an embankment, landing on its wheels.

Mrs. McLeod received bruises of the hand, abrasions of the leg and shoulder and possible back and neck injuries.

The driver was treated for bruises of the arm and Ronald McLeod was treated for abrasions of the right forearm.

The driver was charged with speeding.

Robert John Nelson, 19, of Steubenville was cited for speeding after his car rammed the rear of another on Route 30 in the Substation area yesterday morning at 8:25.

Officers said his car hit the rear of one operated by Raymond Larrick, 47, of Akron. Damage was minor.

Jonathan Morgan, 8, Killed Near Marietta

Jonathan P. Morgan, 8, of Marietta, a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Don Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morgan of East Liverpool, was injured fatally when struck by a car in the Marietta area Tuesday afternoon.

Son of William Morgan and Deborah Smith Morgan of Marietta, he apparently was playing on a bridge on Route 60, about 10 miles north of Marietta, when struck by the auto.

He was taken to a Marietta hospital, where he died. The boy was visiting relatives when the accident happened about 5 p. m.

Besides his parents and grandparents, he is survived by three sisters, Rebecca Morgan, 7, Beth Morgan, 6, and Ruth Morgan, 5; and three brothers, Daniel Morgan, 9, David Morgan, 3, and Nathaniel Morgan, 2 months.

The McClure Funeral Home at Marietta is in charge of arrangements.

Johnson To Get Measure

Health Care Bill Due Senate's OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill providing a new health-care system for the elderly and other sweeping increases in Social Security comes up for a final Senate vote today, with leaders predicting approval by a margin of at least 3 to 1.

Passage would send the legislation to President Johnson, who has placed a top-priority tag on the measure.

The House passed Tuesday, 307 to 116, the compromise version of legislation embodying the greatest single expansion of Social Security ever voted. The health-care portion ends a generation of effort in Congress to write such a provision into the Social Security System.

The Senate took up the measure Tuesday but held up the final vote until today so that some absentees could be on hand.

Sponsors said they were certain Johnson would sign the bill this month, probably Thursday or Friday, so that the increases in present Social Security benefits can come in September.

The $6.5-billion bill contains broad new health protection available to all 19 million Americans 65 or over as a matter of right and at small cost.

It also increases all present Social Security checks — for retirees, disabled persons and family survivors — by 7 per cent, retroactive to Jan. 1. Checks going to 20 million beneficiaries will be increased.

Everyone is guaranteed an increase of at least $4 a month. An individual who has been receiving the present retirement minimum, $40, will get $44. One who has been receiving the maximum, $127, will have his check increased to $135.90. Couples in which the wife also is of retirement age get 50 per cent above the single person's figure in each case.

The pay-roll tax is increased to help pay for the benefit expansions.

The health program is in two parts:

1. A basic plan financed under Social Security covering hospital stays, posthospital nursing-home care, outpatient hospital diagnostic services, and some health visits.

2. A voluntary supplemental insurance plan covering doctors' fees for services at home, in the office or the hospital, as well as some other services not included in the basic plan.

Nearly all features of this program take effect July 1 next year.

Was Severed By Train, Re-Implanted

Youth, 15, Breaks Arm That Made Medical News

BOSTON (AP) — Everett Knowles, 15, has broken one of the most important right arms in medical hsitory.

The frisky, freckle-faced teenager, whose arm was cut off more than three years ago by a wheel of a slow work train but was then successfully re-implanted, fell recently from a stone wall — and landed on the still highly sensitive arm.

The Associated Press has learned that the boy was then rushed to the Massachusetts General Hospital where some of the surgeons who performed the original operation re-examined the arm.

They worked late into the night a week ago Tuesday and found that the arm had been broken less than an inch from where it had been torn from his body in the freight yard accident.

It was on May 23, 1962 that the doctors had performed what is believed to be the first operation in which a human limb was successfully rejoined to the body. Since then there have been several others.

The hospital confirmed today that young Knowles will have to remain hospitalized for several weeks because of the break and a knee injury also suffered in the fall.

Knowles said he and some friends had gone out for the evening and were sitting on damp grass on the side of a monument in his hometown of Somerville, near Boston, when he slipped and fell.

He said, in an interview, he dropped about 12 feet to the pavement and as he hit, thought, "My God, the arm."

"I knew I had hurt it because I couldn't straighten it out anymore," Knowles said. "Actually the bang on the knee hurt more than the arm."

A spokesman for the surgical-medical team at the hospital said it now appears that the bone break, a crack in the upper forearm, will probably have no effect on the long re-implantation process.

"The arm had become so strongly re-implanted that the

Heath Chosen New Head Of British Party

Conservative Set For Onslaught On Labor Government

LONDON (AP) — Edward Heath took control of Britain's Conservative party today at a critical stage in British politics, signaling a furious onslaught on the embattled Labor government.

Heath's two declared rivals, Reginald Maudling and Enoch Powell, withdrew from the race. The withdrawals came after Heath, on a first ballot of Conservative members of the House of Commons, won 150 of the 298 votes cast Tuesday.

The party's new rules required the winner to poll both a majority and 15 per cent more than the runner-up. Although he had the majority, Heath lacked the 15 per cent because Maudling polled 133 votes. But the latter bowed out and promised to fully support Heath.

New trials emerged for Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Laborites, who rule with a majority of only three votes in Commons.

Wilson's financial executive, Chancellor of the Exchequer James Callaghan, announced a series of urgent economic measures. Callaghan ordered tighter controls on mortgages and installment buying, cuts in government spending both at home and abroad, and a general squeeze on public and private spending.

His purpose was to accelerate the process of balancing Britain's trade and so maintain the value of the pound sterling. The new program was sure to cause grumbling among the voters.

Heath, 49, will make his first real assault on the government as opposition chief next Tuesday.

Up for debate is a Conservative motion deploring the 7 per cent increase in the cost of living since Labor turned the Tories out last October. If the government loses the censure vote, it will have to resign.

Truck Mishap Hurts Beaver County Driver

Melvin Rowley, 27, of Industry R.D. was in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with possible back injuries received in a truck mishap.

Driver for the T. B. Ferguson Trucking Co., of Darlington, Pa., he was admitted to the hospital at 10 a. m. Authorities lacked details of the accident, but said it occurred in southern Beaver County.

The company reported his truck went into a ditch along Route 168 between Laughlin's Corners and Frankfort Springs.

Doubling Of Draft Calls Ordered In Viet Step-Up

U.S. Planes Hit Reds In North Viet

First Direct Attack In Sector Made To Protect Airman

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. warplanes made their first announced direct attack on North Vietnamese troops in North Viet Nam today. They strafed an advancing Communist force to protect a downed pilot until he could be lifted to safety by helicopter.

The action 65 miles north of the border followed by 24 hours the first American aerial strikes at Soviet-supplied missile bases in the Hanoi area.

Military spokesmen said five U.S. Air Force F105 fighter-bombers were lost on the strikes Tuesday. Pilots reported they destroyed one missile site and damaged another about 40 miles northwest of Hanoi.

The spokesmen said three of the jets were shot down by conventional ground fire and two others crashed after colliding near their home base as they returned from the raids.

Planes involved in the action against the North Vietnamese troops were Navy fighter-bombers from the carrier Midway, a spokesman said. Newsmen were told mechanical trouble forced down a Navy A4 Skyhawk during raids on a group of bridges. The pilot parachuted.

North Vietnamese soldiers moved up a hill toward the plane but were held off by rocket-and cannon-fire of a half-dozen Navy Skyraiders, the spokesman said. Casualties, if any, among the troops were not determined.

A U.S. Air Force helicopter picked up the pilot. He was reported in good condition.

Meantime, U.S. Marines and Vietnamese troops joined in a sweep under guerrilla fire through rice paddies 60 miles south of Da Nang in an attempt to smash Viet Cong forces estimated to total three battalions. They overran the village of Duc An in a sweep toward the sea from a helicopter landing zone inland.

The Marines killed 12 Viet Cong and captured three. American and Vietnamese casualties were termed light.

First news of the strike against the missile sites came from the Pentagon in Washington Tuesday. Briefing officers here added some details today.

Two of the pilots whose planes were shot down were presumed to have been killed or captured, an announcement said, while the third was rescued.

The pilots of the two planes which collided were presumed to have been killed, the announcement said.

Radio Hanoi claimed that North Vietnamese gunners shot

Father, 4 Children Killed In 2-Car Crash

BLUFFTON, Ind (AP)—William Caley and his four children died in a traffic accident Tuesday night at the same intersection where his parents and three other persons were killed nearly six years ago.

Police said Caley's car collided with another at the intersection of Ind. 116 and Ind. 303, 10 miles northwest of Bluffton. Caley's wife and the other driver were injured.

The Caleys, of Markle Ind., were en route to a 4H fair in Bluffton, where the children were showing livestock.

Caley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Caley, were killed in an auto collision at the same intersection Sept. 17, 1959, as they returned from a Bluffton fair.

Missile Site Bombing May Spur Escalation Of War

Chips May Be Down Soon For Russians In Viet Nam

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

The time may be near when the chips will be down for the Russians in the Viet Nam crisis.

The Pentagon announcement that U.S. bombers knocked out an antiaircraft missile site and damaged another in North Viet Nam could mean a big step has been taken in escalation of the war. The Soviets' installed the sites and probably are manning them.

From all appearances, this is the sort of development the Russians feared. The Kremlin felt obliged to install antiaircraft missiles sites in North Viet Nam to demonstrate its willingness to aid a brother Communist regime. Now the sites have been attacked. Will it mean another confrontation similar to the 1962 Cuban missile crisis when Nikita Khrushchev backed away from a brink-of-war situation?

The development can cause trouble in the Kremlin, already involved in jockeying as the result of internal and external pressures.

Perhaps a large section of the Communist world has banked on years of U.S. involvement in a costly Vietnamese war. Peking, at least, seemed to be gambling on it. Red China could afford to be patient, to look upon attrition as a useful tool against the United States and at the same time against Soviet influence in Asia.

Up to now, at relatively small expense, Red China seemed the principal beneficiary of a prolonged war. It would seem that the longer the localized conflict, the more Peking stood to gain through the losses of others.

The United States so far has paid a price in men, material, prestige and propaganda setbacks, in prospective domestic dislocations from increasingly heavy commitments, in quarrelling at home over policy, in the diffusion of U.S. forces and in the impact on U.S. alliances.

Quotas Due Increasing To 35,000

President Declares Reserves Not Now Needed In Strategy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson announced today that monthly draft calls will be more than doubled — from 17,000 to 35,000 — in order to help increase the U.S. military forces in South Viet Nam from 75,000 to 125,000 men.

Johnson, reporting to the nation on Viet Nam policy talks, told a news conference that "additional forces will be needed later and they will be sent."

But he said he has concluded there is no need at this time to mobilize military reserve units or call any National Guard forces to active duty.

"If that necessity should later be indicated," he said, "I will give the matter careful consideration, and I will give the country due and adequate notice before acting."

Expressing American determination in Viet Nam, Johnson said: "We will not surrender. And we will not retreat."

The news conference was held in the East Room of the White House, and was carried into millions of homes by radio and television.

As he has many times before, the President spoke of eagerness to promote peace in Southeast Asia, and he announced an initial assignment for Arthur J. Goldberg, the new U.S. ambassador to the United Nations. He said:

"I have directed Ambassador Goldberg to go to New York immediately and to present to the secretary-general a letter from me requesting that all the resources, energy and immense prestige of the United Nations be employed to find ways to halt aggression and bring peace in Viet Nam."

Speaking of his own dreams as President, Johnson said he wants to promote education,

Governors To Meet President Thursday

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Gov. Grant Sawyer of Nevada announced today that the country's governors will hold a three-hour conference at the White House Thursday with President Johnson on the Viet Nam situation.

Sawyer, chairman of the National Governors Conference, told his colleagues to be ready to leave early Thursday afternoon for a 5 p.m., Washington time, briefing by the President.

School, Liquor Sale Bills

2 Big Ohio Issues Face Showdown

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two of the biggest issues of the legislative session headed for a showdown today in the Ohio House.

Representatives were scheduled to vote on Senate amendments to the veto-threatened school foundation bill and the hotly contested measure to permit restricted sale of liquor on Sunday.

The school bill was considered the biggest roadblock to final adjournment, which the lawmakers had hoped would come this week.

Its fate was clouded again Tuesday when Finance Director Richard Krabach warned of an impending veto by Gov. James A. Rhodes unless the House took out $9 million added to the bill by the Senate Finance Committee.

Krabach said the additional money would force local governments to hike their taxes. Members of the Senate committee said money would be available to cover the increase and described the finance director's remarks as "ill advised."

The bill, as passed by the Senate, would earmark $634 million for Ohio school districts in the 1965-67 biennium.

House leaders called the controversial liquor bill up for a vote but announced preparation of an amendment which would limit sales to the state's two largest counties — Cuyahoga and Hamilton.

The Senate-approved measure, as recommended by the House Liquor Committee, would allow Sunday sales after 1 p.m. in counties of 200,000 or more population, subject to approval at local elections.

The amendment expected to be offered today would restrict sales to counties of 800,000 or more population.

In rapid fire order, the Senate approved two and a half dozen bills Tuesday in a bid to clear its decks.

Among them was a House-passed measure providing increases in the pensions of Ohio's three state retirement systems. An etimated 50,000 retired employes would receive $10 monthly increases this year under the proposal.

Housing Bill Due Approval Of President

Measure Expected To Be Given Swift Presidential Okay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Only President Johnson's signature was needed today to put into law a housing bill that includes the first program of rent subsidies to aid low-income families.

Swift presidential approval was expected for the $7.5-billion measure which follows the main lines of Johnson's housing recommendations to Congress earlier in the year.

The bill, given final congressional clearance by a 251-168 House vote Tuesday, provides new money and authorizations for the major government housing programs over the next four years.

The rent subsidy proposal makes available $350 million over a four-year period to help some of the families eligible for public housing.

In effect, the program would provide an alternative for publicly financed housing developments for such persons. Eligible low-income families — the standards would vary from place to place — who are occupying substandard housing, or are elderly or handicapped, or have been displaced from their

Youth Seized After Taking $120 At Home

A 17-year-old Pennsylvania youth was apprehended shortly after committing a burglary in an East End home early today.

The youth, who resides in Smiths Ferry, entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cledith Miller, 2218 Crawford Ave., while they were sleeping about 3 a. m. and took $120 in cash from the pocket of Miller's trousers.

The youth was spotted taking the money by Mrs. Miller, who had awakened. He then fled.

The money, six $20 bills, was recovered when the youth was picked up a short time later near the Pennsylvania - Ohio state line.

Police said the front door at the home was not locked at the time of entry.

Police were called and Pa-

Dieter Breaks Pattern Of Overeating

Ida Jean Kain

Food tastes are not unalterable, and a rambunctious appetite can be checked. One reader used a brief illness to launch a slimming program through improved nutrition. She reports:

"I was a compulsive eater from away back. It sounds ridiculous that I, a grown woman, could feel powerless to stop overeating when I knew it was endangering my health and ruining my looks — especially when it was something I didn't even want to eat. I know the books say your emotional life has much to do with eating compulsions, but as far as I can figure, I'm quite happy and contented. I'm not monstrous in size, but at 150 pounds for my short stature I looked messy and felt fat.

"BUT — I THINK I've licked my problem and I feel like an addict who's kicked the habit. It all began when I became ill and was confined to bed for a short time. For two days I felt so wretched, I couldn't stand the sight of food. When I started my regular meals again, I found I simply didn't want so much to eat. I decided to take advantage of this lull in appetite and to continue to eat very lightly. G'ory be, I have cut that ravenous appetite down to size. But most marvelous of all, I'm free of that horrible craving for something sweet that kept me nibbling long after mealtimes were over.

"From this experience I learned that one's food capacity can be lessened. I know that doctors do not recommend starvation diets, but I think if one can hold out a day or two without eating anything, this shrinks your stomach so that you then can feel contented on half the food you formerly consumed. I lost nine pounds in 10 days without really trying. Maybe this might help someone else, who knows?"

LET'S ANALYZE what helped this dieter: For two days she had no desrie for food, and following this brief fast she ate lightly. She decided to take advantage of her lessened appetite . . . and continued to eat small meals, avoiding sweets.

It is true that the less you eat sweets, the less you crave sweets. You will want them at first, for nature takes a little time to adjust to change. But once you recognize the necessity of stopping the powerful stimulus to insulin secretion that is causing the craving, with its rebound to hunger, you're in the control tower. Nutrition knowledge is power when you put it into effect.

This dieter will be the winner if she decides to never again deliberately overeat. Overeating generally, or at any one meal enlarges the stomach and increases food capacity. In short, overeating lessens resistance to overeating.

Talk with your own doctor about a two - day fast, followed by smaller meals.

West Virginian Tells Story Of How He Got Into Politics

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Harley O. Staggers, West Virginia Democrat who is in line to become chairman of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee, tells the story of how he got into politics.

"I was walking along the street at home some years ago when I overheard some friends talking about how they had just selected their candidate for county sheriff," he said.

"I continued walking but then decided to go back and ask them who the candidate would be. 'It's you,' they told me. That was the first I'd heard of it."

Staggers said he didn't take the matter seriously until more friends looked him up and told him they wanted him to run. He finally decided to go along with their proposal and then went on to win the election.

Staggers served as West Virginia's Mineral County sheriff from 1937 to 1941.

After World War II service as a naval aviation navigator, Staggers was elected to the 81st Congress in 1948.

He has been re-elected in eight consecutive elections, thus building up the seniority that placed him in line for the chairmanship of the Commerce Committee.

He also got an assist from Rep. John Bell Williams, the Mississippi Democrat who was stripped of his party seniority because he supported Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater last year.

Williams arrived in Congress one term earlier than Staggers. Except for the party disciplinary action he would have been in line for the chairmanship.

President Johnson's announcement Monday that he was nominating Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., Commerce Committee head, to be a judge in the U.S. District Court in Arkansas cleared the way for Staggers to move into the chairmanship when Harris leaves Capitol Hill.

The White House announcement said that Harris is expected to remain in Congress until the present session adjourns.

Desegregation In U.S. Farm Agencies Occurring Rapidly

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Behind the more dramatic forms of racial problems, desegregation has occurred quietly and rapidly in federal agricultural agencies and related activities over much of the South.

Dual staffs of agricultural extension services have been consolidated. Negroes have been named to state advisory committees and review posts for the first time. Functions of 4-H Clubs and home demonstration clubs are being traced on an unsegregated basis. Biracial committees judge 4-H Club records.

Some of Alabama's home demonstration clubs decided to disband rather than sign desegregation compliance forms. "We cannot see staying in the program under the present circumstances," said Mrs. Leo Pynes of Dupree, Ala. She was president of the Dupree clubs which disbanded in June.

Under the Civil Rights Act federal employes, such as the county farm agent and home demonstration agent, cannot participate in segregated activities.

"This does not affect our work with individuals," said Dr. Fred Robertson, director of the Department of Agriculture Extension Service at Auburn University.

"It could have some far-reaching effects on our program and cause us to work with some groups, individuals, rather than county or statewide groups," Robertson said.

In 4-H Clubs, Robertson said, we have to work with schools that either are desegregated or working under plans approved by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare."

These agencies have until Dec. 31 to come into full compliance with the law.

An Associated Press survey indicated, however, that most of the extension agencies in the South have moved into desegregation without trouble.

Sweetened Drinks Should Be Limited

Dr. Garry Myers

Children and adults need to consume adequate liquids, especially during hot weather. But most of the soft drinks on the market are sweetened. The sugar they contain do harm to the teeth. Besides, it may contribute to excessive weight, or dull the appetite for amply balanced nutritious foods, or cause malnutrition. Some of the most frequently consumed soft drinks contain stimulating substance such as caffein.

Parents who wouldn't think of letting their young children drink tea or coffee, think nothing of letting them have several bottles a day of pop which may be as stimulating to the nervous system as one or more cups of coffee.

SOME summer camps, which may supply the children in them with well-balanced meals, also may make available many soft drinks and other sweets which the children buy, limited only by their spending money. Revenue from these sweets may go to provide special services or to add to the camp's profits.

During the last school year your child may have attended an elementary school where the children were taught in the classroom the value of well-balanced nutritious food. They were also taught to avoid such stimulants as tea and coffee.

Yet in that same school building these children may have been lured by soft-drinks made available there for them to purchase freely. Some of these soft - drinks may have been highly stimulating.

Then teachers and parents often wonder why there are so many jittery children! Of course, the revenue from these soft-drinks may go for purchase of library books and other school services.

FAMILIES going with children on motor trips in summer find that these children often want to stop for a bottle of soft-drink. A certain father once told me he could hardly get his youngsters past a gas station "without stopping for some pop."

Even if such excessive consumption of soft-drink were not physically harmful to the children, there is still the character problem of their learning to limit the frequency and amount of expenditure, of learning within reason to wait and of not always having what they want right when they want it.

During summer at home, or away from home, some children consume so much pop between meals that they have a poor appetite for the wholesome foods prepared for them at mealtime.

Some parents make available at home a generous supply of soft-drinks which their youngsters consume at pleasure, thereby reducing their desire to make several trips a day to the nearest drugstore.

A FEW other parents limit the quantity of such on hand, and the amount of money their children may have to spend, through a budgeted allowance. Still some other parents provide at home a reasonable amount of fruit juices, fruits and milk, especially during summer, as a substitute or partial - substitute for sweetened soft-drinks.

We have no desire to deny children of all such luxuries. The purpose of this column today is to cause some parents who read it to face the problems it suggests. Parents who doubt what has been stated, might be wise in checking with their child's dentist and pediatrician.

My bulletins, "Allowances," and "Eating Problems: Their Prevention and Solution I & II," may be secured by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Visits City's Negro Area

Dr. King In Cleveland To Press Voter Signup

CLEVELAND (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., after breakfast at dawn today with area clergymen, prepared to visit the city's Negro area to encourage voter registration.

The integration leader planned to spend the second day of his two - day Cleveland visit in appearances at shopping centers, street rallies and indoor rally before leaving tonight for Philadelphia. This is the second of four northern cities King will visit.

The Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, King's assistant, addressed a rally of some 2 000 persons at a recreation center Tuesday night, calling for a "grand alliance of labor, civil rights groups and religious organizations."

He said the main goal of the alliance "is to attack the primary problems of education and police brutality."

"We are ready to go to jail in Cleveland and we will stand with you and do whatever you want us to do—as long as you want us to," he said. "They had better get the Cleveland jails clean."

At a meeting with seven Cleveland civil rights groups before the rally, King pledged himself and his Southern Christian Leadership Conference to a massive Negro voter-registration drive in Cleveland.

He said the aim is to use the polls to remove all city officials and members of the Cleveland Board of Education who are considered against the civil rights movement.

King arrive in Cleveland Tuesday from Chicago, accompanied by 10 civil rights leaders.

At a news conference at Cleveland Hopkins International Airport, King said he wanted "to find out what type and quality of leadership there is in Cleveland."

He mentioned the possibility of a civil rights march here, but said "one had not been decided on at the moment." King led some 10,000 demonstrators through downtown Chicago the day before arriving here.

During his Cleveland stay, the 36-year-old 1964 Nobel Peace Prize winner will review Cleveland problems which aides summarized for him in advance.

He said increased Negro voter registration is "necessary here in Cleveland because the Negro has felt for a long time that he has nothing for which to vote in Northern cities.

Leaders "should articulate to the Negroes that the vote is the way to solve many problems of deprivation," King said.

Retired Generals See Need Of More Force In Viet Nam

By The Associated Press

Some retired American generals who fought the Communists in Korea believe greater force is needed to bring victory in Viet Nam.

Four of the generals say there should be a single armed forces command for U.S. and South Vietnamese troops.

One of the generals, Edward M. Almond, favors use of atomic bombs if "needed to protect our troops."

Gens. Mark Clark and John E. Hull say there is no present need for such a weapon in Viet Nam. However, Clark says he might change this view if there is increased participation by an outside Communist power, such as Red China.

The four generals — Almond, Clark, Hull and Matthew Ridgway—made their comments on Tuesday's 12th anniversary of the Korean armistice, in response to an Associated Press survey.

Clark, 69, was supreme Allied commander when he signed the Korean armistice in 1953. Almond, 72, commanded the 10th Army Corps which was hit by the first Communist attack in Korea.

Hull, 70, succeeded Clark as commander of U.N. forces in the Far East.

Ridgway, 70, was former U.N. commander in Korea during the fighting.

Glenmoor Man Fined Here For 'Wrecker's' Condition

A Glenmoor man charged with driving an unsafe vehicle—an auto wrecker — was fined $10 and costs at a hearing today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Eugene P. Bowyer of the Y. & O. Rd. pleaded guilty to the charge filed by the State Highway Patrol.

Bowyer was operating a wrecker owned by Robert's Sunoco of Route 30 at the scene of an accident on County Rd. 424 the night of July 19. The investigating patrolman noticed the wrecked did not have tail lights in operation.

The officer said he checked and found the wrecker also did not have stop lights, clearance lights, a windshield and the door glass on the right side of the cab was cracked bad enough to cause some view obstruction.

The judge commented that the wrecker seemed to be in worse shape than the car it was sent to tow. He warned Bowyer to make sure the wrecker is in good condition before he uses it again, pointing out, "You are the one that got stuck with the fine."

One of the drivers involved in the accident also was fined. He is John F. Schmitt Jr. of the Cannons Mills Rd., who was charged with failure to yield half of the roadway.

He pleaded no contest and was fined $15 and costs. Schmitt said he swerved to avoid hitting something in the road and then struck an oncoming car. The patrol said he crossed over a double yellow line and hit the other vehicle head-on.

Raymond E. Humphrey, 34, of 1851 Smithfield St. was given a 10-day suspended jail sentence on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident. He was ordered to pay damages to Harold Moore, 47, of Dixonville, whose pickup truck was hit in the mishap Saturday at the intersection of Boyce St. and Pennsylvania Ave.

Humphrey was arraigned Monday, but the case was continued to allow him to obtain an attorney.

Humphrey testified he did not realize the truck had been hit by his car. Testimony showed damage was very minor.

Five members of the 1924 Washington Senators managed in the major leagues. They were Bucky Harris, Ossie Bluege, Roger Peckinpaugh, Herold (Muddy) Ruel and Walter Johnson.

Ratio In Viet Put At 8 To 1

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon thinking now tends toward the view that an 8 to 1 edge, rather than the often-quoted 10 to 1 ratio, is a more realistic goal for a manpower advantage needed to deal with Communist insurgents in South Viet Nam.

Even an 8 to 1 ratio would indicate a far greater input of U.S. troops than seems in prospect. The indicated buildup need under this formula would come to perhaps 650,000 more men. If a 10 to 1 ratio were applied, it would point to a requirement for about 900,000 more troops in South Viet Nam.

American troops there now or due soon total about 83,000 and indications are that about 100,000 will be added by the end of this year. Both figures are far short of filling the 8 to 1 ratio.

Calculations for troop strength needed to handle the guerrillas have been lowered because of the rising number of Communist troops, coupled with their bigger fighting units.

The basis for this seeming paradox is the theory that the more the Viet Cong insurgents get away from hit and run tactics and the more men they field, the easier it becomes to hit them.

The 650,000-man increase on the 8-to-1 ratio is based on the current estimate that about 165,000 Communist troops are opposing about 500,000 Vietnamese troops, plus the 83,000 Americans there or expected shortly and several thousand Koreans, Australians and New Zealanders.

EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW

A Dependable Newspaper Serving the Tri-State District

Shadyside And The Future

The efforts of Cindy Deshler, an 11-year-old girl, and other Shadyside Ave. district residents to have the narrow, hazardous hillside road improved should not be considered a pure self-interest project.

The safety of many children and adults is involved, along with convenience of travel and increased residential benefits.

Shadyside represents both a city street and a county road leading to an area which has a great potential for further development.

Here is not just a matter of widening a roadway for a few people. Shadyside is an artery which could be instrumental in the further development of Liverpool Township as part of the larger complex pattern of regional growth.

As the area's officials and residents become more aware of the inter - relationships of each community and each subdivision, the need for keeping our highways, utilities, residential and industrial standards as efficient and modern as possible becomes more evident to all.

Shadyside Ave. should represent more than a project of a determined 11-year-old girl interested primarily in safer school bus travel.

It is a needed improvement to which city and county authorities should continue to devote serious attention. Action is in order as quickly as possible.

Seal The Caves

At their meeting this week, the Wellsville Jaycees renewed a discussion of sealing cave entrances along the East Liverpool-Wellsville highway.

They would be performing another service if they turned the discussion into action, with the actual sealing resulting. Permanent closing of a dangerous cave could mean the saving of a life or lives.

Other organizations might give the project serious attention in their areas if the situation so demands.

A New Chief For HEW

The next secretary of health, education and welfare will be John W. Gardner, whose background indicates he may be the best qualified of the appointees so far to this still new responsibility in federal service.

Mr. Gardner has a diversified background in both education and welfare.

The only other secretary of the department with comparable qualifications was Arthur S. Flemming, a highly regarded educator with a long record of federal service in a variety of assignments.

The first secretary was Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby of Texas, a token woman appointee in President Eisenhower's cabinet. She was replaced by Marion S. Folsom, who had been a pioneer in organizing private social security and employment plans.

President Kennedy's choice for the position was Abraham A. Ribicoff, who was followed by Anthony J. Celebrezze. Both were noted for their organizing ability, Ribicoff as a popular and successful governor of Connecticut, Celebrezze as a popular and successful mayor of Cleveland.

Mr. Gardner's accession to this potentially vital cabinet position will give President Johnson a chance to move Mr. Celebrezze into a federal judgeship on the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the 6th District.

It will give Mr. Gardner a chance to put more push into the educational role of a department still feeling its way in federal service.

With a little luck, the next head of the department might even be a health expert.

Unrest In Greece

The clash between 25-year-old King Constantine of Greece and 77-year-old George Papandreou, the ousted premier, is an embarrassment to Americans who have invested more than $3 billion in Greek aid.

It also is a threat to the hopes of those who remember how the Truman Doctrine of military support for Greece and Turkey stopped the westward march of Communism in Europe.

This makes it that much harder to understand why Greeks today are attacking President Johnson and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

There can be only one explanation for such behavior—that more than a domestic political crisis is involved.

When Papandreou was dismissed by King Constantine, he is believed to have been trying to purge a right-wing group in the Greek army. His son, Andreas, a member of the Greek parliament, has been accused of and denied being involved with a secret left-wing group in the army.

The new premier, George Athanassiades-Novas, has the implicit support of NATO. Papandreou is supported by the Greek working class. Unfortunately, much of the tumult in his behalf is being stimulated by known Greek leftists.

Why Casey Stengel Exists

The whole world knows that Casey Stengel, whose 75th birthday was a major sports event last Sunday, broke his hip Saturday night and couldn't attend the party.

The unanswered question is whether Casey Stengel exists or is a figment of the sports world's imagination.

People who have studied Stengelmania can produce evidence to show the latter is true. The 75-year-old manager of the New York Mets, they feel sure, exists only in imagination—the public's and his own.

They say he is a showman who plays a winning role to the hilt; that the real Charles Dillon Stengel is a person apart from the giant gnome whose mannerisms and words have been built into American folklore.

But granted they are right, what has been proved?

Was the late Bernard M. Baruch really a sage whose advice could have saved the country from grief if it had been heeded?

Was the late Douglas MacArthur really a military genius with special insight into strategy and tactics?

Does Ed Wynn really get that much fun out of being silly, does Maurice Chevalier go through life on a song, does Dwight D. Eisenhower always go into a brown study over Republican policy, did the late Eleanor Roosevelt always carry the weight of the world on her shoulders?

It takes all kinds of images to sustain the American way of life. Casey Stengel is one of them. We have to believe there can be a 75-year-old man who thrives on whimsy, humor, circumlocution and enjoys dressing up in a baseball suit and taking part in a kid game every day during the good old summertime.

Long Live Papa!

By Truman Twill

Some of my fellow patriots are grousing about disclosures that the late John F. Kennedy got into his pants one leg at a time when he was president of the United States.

They want to believe the chief executive comes into possession of supernatural power when he takes the oath.

These people need to believe in a father image to make life bearable. They look upon every president of the United States as being either 10 feet or 10 inches tall, depending on their partisanship.

For them to learn, as they have been learning from the writings of confidants of President Kennedy, that he went through the same agonies of indecision, remorse, frustration and bitter recriminations that other mortals go through is more than they can bear.

But when, in the name of reality, was it ever any other way?

Every U.S. president has embodied all the human frailties along with varying amounts of human strength.

If we could know what they cried into their pillows about, whom they cursed behind closed doors, what deplorable blunder they had on their consciences, what misgivings gnawed at their composure and how often they doubted their ability to perform their duties, the superman doctrine of government would be shattered.

As it is, the doctrine is nursed along by escapists who cannot face the reality of representative democracy, which commits all of us to the ministrations of people not measurably smarter or less fallible than we are.

Starting with George Washington, every president has been staggered by the faith of those among his fellow citizens who elevated him to supernatural standing. Our first president had to throw cold water on the idea that he might turn into a king.

Yet as recently as the era of Franklin Roosevelt, Americans still were idolizing their chief executive. It is contrary to the American ideal.

John Kennedy was a Massachusetts politician, son of a wealthy father who wanted a presidency in the family and methodically laid the groundwork to make it possible. It was a narrow squeak in the showdown — only a handful of votes.

John Kennedy was charming. As presidents go, he was adequate. But it should be no surprise to learn that he got into his pants one leg at a time, that he didn't always make infallible judgments between right and wrong, workable and unworkable.

Yet, the information is being resented by hero-worshippers.

Hero worship has no place in a people's government — never did. That's the whole idea of popular sovereignty — that the American people are capable of ruling themselves - that they need no kings and no dictators. It's still a shock to people who can't believe anything is so unless Papa says it is.

The Ballot Box Schizophrenic!

Reds Threaten Friendly Jamaica

By Victor Riesel

KINGSTON, JAMAICA

Many folks think of the tiny Caribbean nations as beaches instead of possible beachheads for some future enemy.

Victor Riesel

Then when the riots break out and the machine guns sputter and stutter and general strikes are called to paralyze a friendly land which Americans long took for granted — as they flared in Santo Domingo — everybody back home is surprised.

No one should be surprised. No one should let the brilliant sands of the gold coasts obscure the two worlds of tiny nations, such as the island country known as Jamaica.

It's not generally realized that this city of Kingston, far from the gay beaches where among others Charlie Chaplin and his brood have been cavorting, is the capital of the only truly labor government in the free world.

Since its independence three years ago little Jamaica has had a prime minister who also has been the leader of the island's most powerful labor movement.

KNOWN AS "BUSTA," he is named Sir William Alexander Bustamante. And the name of the labor movement is Bustamante's Industrial Trade Union (BITU). It is as though George Meany had been president of the U.S.

This union federation is the basis of power of the Jamaican Labor party and a pattern for a blend of politicalized industrial action in vital islands stretching across thousands of miles vital to the U.S.

Nor is the opposition Peoples' National Party much different. Its strength is based on its National Workers' Union.

At the moment these parties are pro-U.S. In this firecely proud island nation — which has a firm voice in the United Nations and all other affiliated international bodies—there was scarcely a ripple when President Johnson poured 22,000 American troops, airmen and marines into nearby Santo Domingo.

THE JAMAICANS are with us. Communist Cuba which is 90 miles distant might as well be on the moon for all the influence Castro has among the 1.7 million Jamaicans, most of whom are of African descent. So much with us are they that some of their press are running features on the progress of the Negroes in South Carolina.

But here and there the glow of friendship begins to dim a bit. Uneasiness is developing. The people are poor. Sunshine does not fill an empty belly.

Some 70 per cent of this island's working force is below hunger level.

They earn about $9 a week or less.

Out in the countryside — the other world — where the slum towns sprout on the hillsides—at least 20 per cent are jobless or without any means of support.

Here in this traffic jammed city of some 400,000 people, some 25 per cent are unemployed.

Sugar is the blood of the economy. And Cuba, with its slave labor battalions in the cane fields, is knocking the cane world from under these people.

Already there is restlessness — though ever so slight and barely noticed except by the close observer.

NEATLY LETTERED anti-American slogans have begun appearing on walls in the city and out near the prime minister's home. "Yankee Get Out of Viet Nam and Jamaica" and "Yankee Go Home" say the messages.

Left wing forces in the opposition party are pressuring the leadership to get up in Parliament and attack the U.S. for its recent actions in Viet Nam and Santo Domingo.

Government officials to whom I spoke privately, mentally leapfrog the next few years. What concerns them is the grim fact that some 40 per cent of the population is under 14 years old. What happens to this little land in five to ten years when they become stalwart young men and women without jobs or means of support?

What happens to this pivotal island nation in the guts of whose mountains is the world's largest deposit of bauxite, from which aluminum is made? And the world's most accessible deposit, too.

WHAT HAPPENS to this little nation with its beautiful bay—fifth or sixth largest in the world—just a few hours' run from Cuba?

What happens to this tiny band of people if their land should fall into the hands of loud leftists some day—leftists who can shout so loudly it would seem that Jamaica's 4,411 square miles are as vast as the Chinese mainland? It happened in Cuba. It happened in Santo Domingo. It could happen here.

All this could happen if the moderate labor leaders are driven from the leadership of the movements here.

This land is more than a beach. As a nation it's one of the rare, devoted friends the U.S. has anywhere in the world. It must be kept from ever becoming a beachhead.

CBS announced Tuesday Mostel will be costarred with Carol Brunett in a comedy - variety hour special program. It will be shown early next year.

LONDON (AP)—Queen Elizabeth approved today the appointment of Lord Casey as governor general of Australia.

Lord Casey, 74, is an Australian. He is the former R.G. Casey who until 1960 had been Australian minister of external affairs (foreign secretary) for more than eight years.

British Holidays

Though Britain's national holidays are geared to the suspension of bank business, they are as dear to the Anglo - Saxon heart as fiestas are to Latins.

Commercial streets are still as tombs. Cities turn inside out as the outdoors - minded British take to the countryside in a tangle of cars, buses, bikes and charabancs.

Britons celebrate four bank holidays each year. They are Whitmonday (June 7, in 1965), the last Monday in August, Boxing Day on Dec. 26 and Easter Monday. Banks also close on two religious national holidays—Christmas and Good Friday.

The business holiday is fitting, for Britain led the industrial revolution. The Bank of England is the mother of banks. London's financial center, the City of London, remains the citadel of the sterling area and is often called the world's richest square mile.

Surprisingly, Britain and the United States have only one holiday in common — Christmas. As in most countries, however, British holidays stem largely from religious festivals.

Coy Candidates

By David Lawrence

Rockefeller May Be Setting Stage

The best way to be a presidential candidate evidently is to appear not to be one. That's the paradoxical lesson which national politics has taught over the years. Hence, in declaring he "will not be a candidate in the next presidential election," Gov. Rockefeller of New York may be said to have made the wisest statement possible for someone in his position. It may do more to get him the Republican presidential nomination some day than anything he has done thus far.

David Lawrence

The strategy is not new and has been effective on more than one occasion. The late Adlai Stevenson, when governor of Illinois, tried it in the pre-convention days of 1952 on the Democratic side and won the presidential nomination.

Back in 1916, Charles Evans Hughes, as a Supreme Court justivce, couldn't campaign or even issue statements of a generalized character, but he was the most talked-about man in the Republican party in the months preceding the Republican national convention. He was nominated despite his declarations that he was not a presidential candidate and had no intention of doing anything to bring about his own nomination.

IN THE PRE-CONVENTION period, however, leaders in the Republican party had urged the draft of Mr. Hughes, even though there was some fear that, if he were nominated, he wouldn't accept. This correspondent recalls writing of a visit to Washington by ex-President William Howard Taft on May 16, 1916, and excerpts from that dispatch follow:

"Realizing the extraordinary sentiment for a man who has made no campaign, who has not sought the nomination, but whose high character and record as governor of New York bear him steadily onward as the logical choice of the party, Mr. Taft thinks that the selection of Hughes is almost a certainty. . . .

"Mr. Taft authorized no statement while he was here. But in the not-far-distant future, it may fall to him to remove the doubts of skeptical Republicans as to whether or not Justice Hughes should accept if nominated. If the man who put Hughes on the bench thinks the justice ought to heed the call of higher duty, that certainly should have great weight with the justice himself."

The Republican party in 1916 had experienced the worst split in its history. Unlike 1964 when the split was merely a defection from support of Sen. Goldwater by some leading Republicans and no corresponding pledge to vote for the Democratic presidential nominee, there had been in 1912 a third party under former President Theodore Roosevelt which actually polled more votes than the regular Republican nominee, William Howard Taft. Mr. Hughes in 1916 seemed to be the best possible harmonizer of discordant elements in the party.

GOV. ROCKEFELLER has stated that he plans to be a harmonizer. He speaks of the "scars" of the 1964 campaign and the necessity of healing them. He recognizes, by implication, that the Goldwater bloc has to be given at least respectful treatment in party councils, for it does represent a sizeable number of Republican votes.

There is more, however, to Mr. Rockefeller's strategy than the uniting of his party for the next presidential contest in 1968. He himself has to win re-election to the governorship of New York State in 1966. If he were defeated, he certainly would be eliminated from consideration for a presidential nomination two years later.

It's important, too, for him to assure the voters of New York State that he isn't going to be diverted from a concentration on the problems of the state.

It's necessary also for him to give the impression that he means to serve out his four-year term in Albany if he wins re-election. A draft movement for the 1968 nomination, therefore, would not be attributable to his activities.

Gov. Rockefeller may even be thinking in terms of 1972 as the time he might possibly get the big prize. By then, some of the obstacles he faced in 1964 may not really be as important as they seemed to be last year. His 64th birthday would be at convention time. Six men have been inaugurated president of the United States at the age of 60 or over, and President Eisenhower was 66 when re-elected in 1956.

SOME NEWSPAPER reports spoke of Mr. Rockefeller's declaration on television on Sunday as a "Sherman-like" statement. But Gen. Sherman said: "If nominated, I will not accept; if elected, I will not serve." Nothing so explicit or final has come from the lips of any possible presidential nominee since those days.

So, if Gov. Rockefeller acts like a man who really isn't trying to get a presidential nomination, he may wind up with it just the same. Everything will depend on how successful he is in producing the very "concensus" that brings about a "draft" that is really a draft.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO—Five generations were represented at the family reunion of the descendants of Henry Cooley, near Rogers, at the summer camp of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Boggs.

Mrs. Elmer Eppley, director of the Junior Choir of the Chester First Methodist Episcopal Church, was honored with a surprise party by members of the choir.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—The Chester Flower and Garden Club made arrangements for its first show in September.

With only 458 votes cast, Mayor G. Cecil Rauch won renomination at Lisbon.

Lee's AME Chapel of Wellsville launched a drive for $1,500 to complete the auditorium of its church, which was swept by fire in December of 1943.

TEN YEARS AGO — Boatswain's Mate William L. Grier of Beechwood St., a veteran of 10 years in the armed services, received a commendation from the Navy for his part in helping rescue the crew of a crashed helicopter in Far eastern waters.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce announced plans to provide a scholarship to the City Hospital School of Nursing. The committee in charge included Dr. K. W. Turner, Winston A. Porter and Robert E. Goodman.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

Members of the local Board of Education in fumbling with the proper phraseology to impose a 3.5-mill levy on the citizens, would do well to forget the whole thing.

They are surely aware of the action of the state legislature in granting a $200 increase to every teacher in Ohio. They are cognizant of the passage of the second proposed constitutional amendment, granting aid to Ohio's educational facilities. They must surely know that federal aid to education is now a law. Then, too, they are seeking to increase the sales tax by a 25 per cent increase in the November election. Where is this going to stop?

To have the business agent of the teachers' group come into our city and decree that our citizens can afford this terrific increase in taxes is an insult to the property owners of our city, who have already been more than generous.

No matter how the proponents of this tax increase try to dress it up, the fact is that passage of it will almost double our present tax rates. And we haven't felt the impact of the new school building program yet. It's not on the tax duplicate.

Various governmental agencies have recognized the burden the property owners have been bearing to educate our children, and have met the issue partially, as mentioned before.

Let us hope the local board will let this matter die now, without further injustice to our fellow taxpayers.

Fenn College Trustees Agree On State School

CLEVELAND (AP) — Fenn College, a private institution that will die Aug. 31, could not compete in the years ahead without becoming part of a state institution.

H. F. Burmester, chairman of the Fenn Trustees, made that remark Tuesday as trustees approved an agreement to turn Fenn into Cleveland State University.

The agreement will take effect in October after court approval. Fenn, founded in 1881 with a small evening program, will cease at the end of August and Cleveland State University will begin operations in the present Fenn buildings Sept. 1.

Man Hit With Brick Treated At Hospital

A city man was treated at City Hospital Tuesday night for a laceration of the forehead suffered when struck in the head with a brick during a fight in Green Ln.

Lawrence Mathes, of 312 E. 3rd St. was taken to the hospital in a cruiser after walking to City Hall to report the incident.

He told police he was in a fight with two men. One hit him between the eyes with a brick, Mathes said. No charges were filed.

Johnson

equal opportunity, better housing and improved health.

"And I do not want to see all those hopes — the dreams of so many people for so many years — ground in the wasteful ravages of war."

Johnson pledged that "I will do all I can so that never happens."

The President opened the news conference by reading a 1,200-word statement that grew out of a week of high-level policy talks here on Viet Nam. He noted that "15 efforts have been made to start discussions" with the Communists aimed at peace — all without response.

"But we will persist, if persist we must," he said, "until death and desolation have led to the same conference table where others could not join us at so much smaller cost."

Johnson said his first goal in Viet Nam is to "convince the Communists that we cannot be defeated by force of arms."

In a key passage on the dispatch of increased American manpower to the jungle war, the President said:

"I have today ordered to Viet Nam the Air Mobile Division, and certain other forces which will raise our fighting strength from 75,000 to 125,000 men. Additional forces will be needed later and they will be sent. This will make it necessary to increase our active fighting forces by raising the monthly draft call from 17,000 — which it now is — to 35,000; and stepping up our campaign for voluntary enlistments."

In advance of the conference, there had been much speculation about a possible goal of 200,000 men in Viet Nam and an order for the muster of reservists and National Guard units.

"After this past week of deliberations," Johnson said, "I have concluded it is not essential to order Reserve units into service. If that necessity should later be indicated, I will give the matter careful consideration, and I will give the country due an adequate notice before acting."

Johnson made only a passing reference to the mounting cost of the war in Viet Nam. He said Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara "will ask the Senate Appropriations Committee to add a limited amount to present legislation to help meet part of this new cost."

Johnson indicated that a supplemental defense appropriation measure, involving more money, would be sent to Congress next January.

"These steps, like our actions in the past," he said, "are carefully measured to do what must be done to bring about an end to aggression and a peaceful settlement."

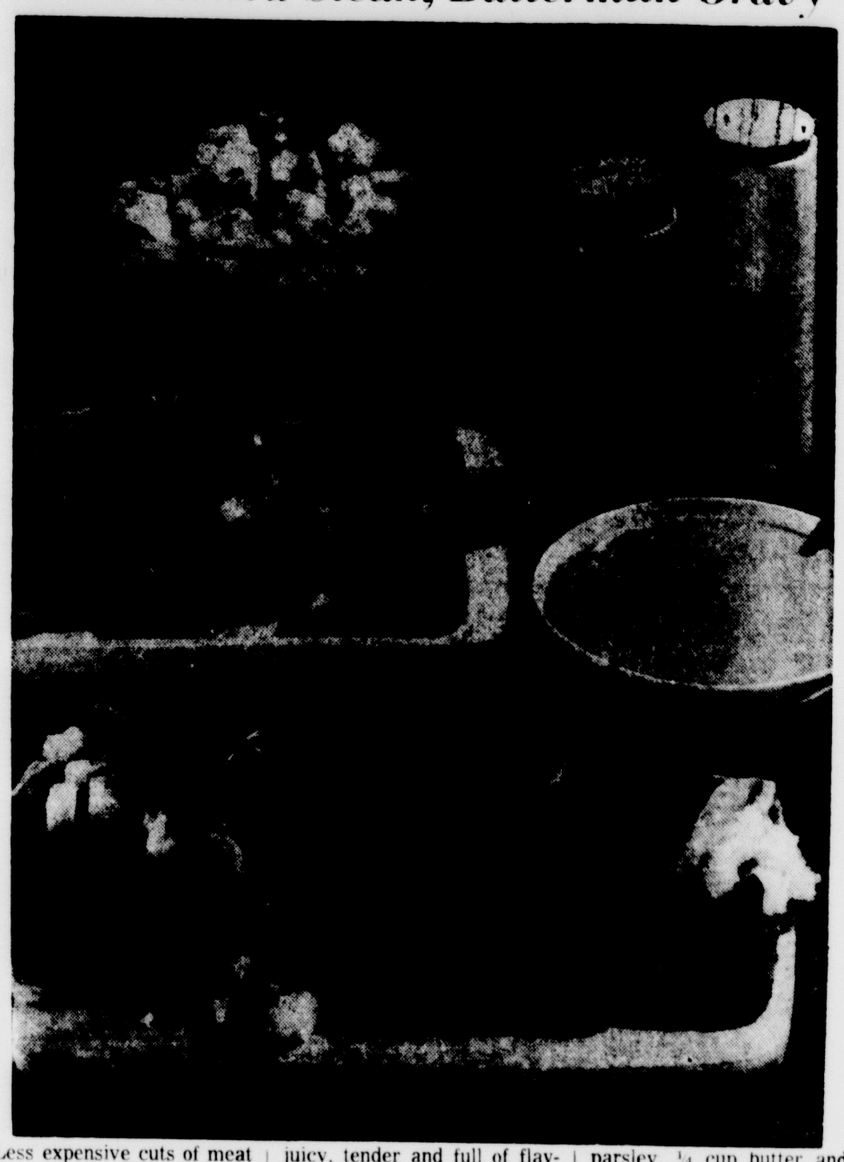
Johnson predicted that "once the Communists know, as we know, that a violent solution is impossible, then a peaceful solution will be inevitable."

Youths Get Probation

CLEVELAND (AP) — An 18-month probation is the penalty given two Bedford youths accused of stealing 90-millimeter artillery shells from the Ravenna Arsenal earlier this month.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Nathaniel R. Jones placed the youths — 16 and 17—on probation Tuesday after conferring with them and their parents.

Stuffed Rolled Steak, Buttermilk Gravy



Less expensive cuts of meat are a blessing to budget-conscious homemakers.

A major part of the food dollar is spent on protein sources such as meat, and the less expensive cuts are just as good a source of protein as the more expensive ones.

Less expensive cuts of meat are usually less tender and are cooked with moist heat. A pot roast is an example of a delicious main dish prepared from a less tender cut of meat.

Stuffed rolled steak with buttermilk gravy is another main dish that features a less tender cut of meat. As you know, the long, slow cooking makes the final product juicy, tender and full of flavor.

The delicately - seasoned bread stuffing adds to the flavor or does the buttermilk gravy served over the meat.

STUFFED ROLLED STEAK WITH BUTTERMILK GRAVY

4 cups bread cubes
2-3 cup chopped onion
¼ cup chopped parsley
½ cup butter, melted (1 stick)
3 teaspoons seasoned salt
2 1-pound slices boned round steak, cut ¼- to ⅜-inch thick
½ cup water
2 beef bouillon cubes
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
2 cups buttermilk

Combine bread cubes, onion, parsley, ¼ cup butter and 1 teaspoon seasoned salt; mix. Divided in half. Sprinkle remaining seasoned salt over 2 slices of meat. Cover each slice of meat with ½ of meat mixture.

Roll each up and tie. Melt remaining ¼ cup of butter in large frypan over low heat. Brown meat rolls on all sides, turning as needed. Add water and bouillon cubes; cover and cook slowly until meat is tender, about 2 hours.

Remove meat from pan. Blend flour and salt into pan drippings. Add buttermilk; cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Slice meat and serve with gravy. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Fortas Given Justice Post By President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson today named Abe Fortas — quoted two days ago as saying he wanted no government job "from president on down" — to be a justice of the Supreme Court.

Fortas, 55 and a Washington lawyer, will succeed Arthur J. Goldberg, who formally resigned Monday to become U.S. ambassador to the United Nations as successor to the late Adlai E. Stevenson.

Johnson said Fortas was his first choice for the high court vacancy.

Fortas is a close friend and unofficial adviser to the President. His service to presidents —official and unofficial —dates back to New Deal days.

leadership also stood to lose. Reliable sources say that apart from the specter of a new missile confrontation, the Kremlin feared that Soviet-U.S. strains would force big military budget increases, setbacks to the consumer economy program, the use of Viet Nam indefinitely by the Chinese as a stick to beat Moscow for lack of total support to a revolutionary cause, and enhancement of Chinese chances to spread influence at Moscow's expense.

Something new was added when the missile bases were bombed. Red China already is crying that "a showdown between the people (meaning the Communists) of the world and U.S. imperialism is inevitable." In effect, Peking tells Moscow: "Put up or shut up."

U.S. Planes Attack In Rescue Operation

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Navy fighter-bombers attacked North Vietnamese troops in North Viet Nam today in support of a rescue operation for a downed American pilot, a military spokesman announced tonight.

The spokesman said it was the first reported case of U.S. war planes making a deliberate assault against troops in North Viet Nam. He gave this account:

The soldiers were moving up a hill toward a U.S. Navy A4 Skyhawk that went down because of mechanical trouble on a mission 65 miles north of the border.

Mother, Child Are Returned In Kidnaping

PITTSBURGH — A 23-year-old Northside woman and her infant daughter were safe at home today after being abducted at gunpoint Tuesday night by an admirer who reportedly had sought to date the young woman.

The abduction took place in Ross Township while the victim, Mrs. Sylvia Stavcimak, was visiting at the home of her mother.

The abduction had set off a wide search for Mrs. Stavcimak, her daughter, Linda Lee, five months old, and the abductor, who police identified as Robert Workman, 38, of Northside.

Mrs. Stavcimak and her mother, Mrs. Angelina Dudley, were sitting in the front yard when Workman drove up and, carrying a rifle, approached Mrs. Stavcimak with the comment: "Come on, I've had enough." He then forced her and the infant into his car.

Authorities said that Workman, after riding around for some five hours — including a trip into neighboring Ohio—then returned the woman and her child safely to the Dudley residence.

Workman drove off and is being sought today, with a warrant having been issued charging him with kidnaping and violation of the firearms act.

Crispy Herb Dumplings Atop Beef Stew

If you are the gardener of the family, committee chairman, Cub Scout chauffeur and chief cook and bottle washer, you'll need to be stingy with your time in the kitchen.

Not that we want you to neglect your family, mind you! It's just that these busy days are the perfect time to take advantage of the "meal-in-a-can" type of convenience foods.

More and more homemakers are using these items as the starting point to truly creative meals; no longer are canned entrees thought to be "not good enough" or "just for the younsters". We're addicted to them because so much of the drudgery is done for us.

One of our finds has been this recipe for beef stew—canned, of course — topped with flavorful herb dumplings.

The dumplings are quickly and easily made with biscuit mix and herbs that make up crispy and golden brown outside, delicately moist and very flavorful inside!

For added interest, we like the idea of rolling the dumpling dough balls in cheese-flavored cracker crumbs first, before arranging them atop the rich and meaty stew to be baked.

STEW AND DUMPLINGS

2 1-pound 8-ounce (or 3 15½-ounce) cans beef stew

Combine biscuit mix, parsley, sugar, salt, sage and marjoram; stir in milk to make a soft dough. Shape into 8 balls; roll in cracker crumbs. Place stew in 1½-quart baking dish; arrange dumplings on top. Bake at 425 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Cracker crumbs made from crackers flavored with different seasonings, such as barbecue, bacon or pizza flavor may be substituted for cheese cracker crumbs.

DUMPLINGS

1 cup biscuit mix
1 teaspoon chopped parsley
½ teaspoon sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon sage
⅛ teaspoon marjoram
1-3 cup milk
¼ cup cheese - flavored cracker crumbs

Ex-Steeler King Given New Lease On NFL Life

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

BEMIDJI, Minn. (AP) — Phil King hunched his 6-foot-4 frame into a window seat of a DC3, buzzing over the lake country of northern Minnesota, and spoke the thoughts of a 29-year-old pro football player who has just been traded.

"This makes three clubs in two years," said King, a New York Giants' fixture for six years (five winners) until he was shuttled to Pittsburgh last fall, and then traded to Minnesota Monday.

"New system, new people, new coach," he said. "But most of all a chance to start all over again with a clean bill of health. Someplace where they really want me. I can't tell you how much I am looking forward to playing with the Vikings. I just didn't want to go back to Pittsburgh again.

"I was going good for Pittsburgh until I cracked some ribs. Buddy Parker (Steeler coach) went to Clarence Peaks and John Henry Johnson and I didn't play any more, just a pinch hitter the rest of the way, although we lost five straight at the end.

"During the winter I wrote Buddy and asked to be traded. It wasn't anything personal. I have nothing against anybody. But I made up my mind I had been around too long to have a coach who had made up his mind that I couldn't play.

"Those were wonderful years with the Giants from 1958 through 1963. We won five times but lost the championship each time. You know, I'm the only guy in pro football who is 0-5 in championship games."

Field Of 180 To Open Western Amateur Today

BENTON HARBOR, Mich. (AP) — A giant of a golf course, lurking with trouble at every turn, faces a field of 180 players teeing off today in one of the game's great endurance tests — the 63rd Western Amateur Championship.

The 7,000-yard, par-71 Point o' Wood's layout poses a supreme test for a star-packed field which includes six former Walker Cup players and the 1964 National Amateur runner-up, Ed Tutweiler of Indianapolis.

Now that the National Amateur has shifted to 72 holes of medal play, the Western remains as the biggest tournament featuring man-to-man combat of match play.

The format, however, is unique. There are 72 holes of qualifying — 18 each on Wednesday and Thursday. The field then is trimmed to the low 50 scorers and ties for Friday's 36-hole windup.

After this introduction, the 16 low scorers enter match play with two rounds Saturday leading to the 18-hole semifinals Sunday morning and the 18-hole championship match in the afternoon.

If experience prevails, favorites must be listed among Tutweiler and former Walker Cuppers Dr. Ed Updegraff, Tuscon, Ariz.; Bob Gardner, Essex Fells, N.J.; Bill Hynaman, Huntingdon Valley, Pa.; Dick Davis, Los Angeles; Bob Cochran, Normandy, Mo.; and Jimmy Jackson, Kirkwood, Mo.

Supreme Court Rules On Taxes For Legislators

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Members of the Ohio General Assembly must pay Columbus' one per cent city income tax on their legislative salaries and travel allowances, the State Supreme Court held today.

The 5-2 decision said it was the duty of Columbus City Auditor John Price to enforce the income tax ordinance "including institution of law suits to collect delinquent taxes due."

The court allowed a writ asked by Edwin Miller, sales manager for Westinghouse Appliance Sales, Columbus, who lives outside the city.

Price refused to sue for the taxes on grounds none was due, Miller said.

He contended that because the 137 representatives and 33 senators received a substantial part of their 1963-63 salary of $5,000 a year while in session in the Statehouse here they were subject to the tax. He estimated they owed the city a total of about $10,000 annually.

Salaries of lawmakers in the current legislative session that began Jan. 4 were boosted to $8,000 a year.

Pineapple Fluff Cool Treat On Hot Days

As the temperature goes higher, the demand for cool light desserts also rises.

One treat your family will love is Pineapple Fluff, a cool finish to any meal. It combines juicy pineapple, lemon gelatin, velvetized evaporated milk and chopped nuts.

The dessert is light and airy because the evaporated milk first is whipped into billowing clouds and then folded into the gelatin mixture.

PINEAPPLE FLUFF
(Makes 8 servings)

1 can (1 pound, 4½ ounces) pineapple chunks, undrained
Water
1 package (3 ounces) lemon flavor gelatin
1 cup undiluted velvetized evaporated milk
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup coarsely chopped walnuts

Drain pineapple syrup into cup measure. Add enough water to make 1 cup. Heat syrup to boiling; pour over gelatin in large bowl and stir until dissolved. Chill until consistency of unbeaten egg white. Chill evaporated milk in refrigerator tray until soft ice crystals form around edges of tray (15 or 20 minutes). Whip until stiff (about 1 minute). Add lemon juice. Whip very stiff (2 minutes longer). Fold walnuts and whipped evaporated milk into gelatin mixture. Alternate layers of whipped mixture and pineapple chunks in serving dish. Chill until firm. Sprinkle additional walnuts on top, if desired.

WHIPPED MIXED FRUIT AND RICE PUDDING

1½ cups cold cooked rice
½ cup coconut
½ cup well-drained canned fruit cocktail
½ cup seedless raisins
¼ cup chopped walnuts (optional)
2-3 cup (small can) undiluted velvetized evaporated milk.
2 tablespoons lemon juice.
½ cup sifted confectioners' sugar

Mix rice, coconut, fruit cocktail, raisins and walnuts in bowl. Chill evaporated milk in refrigerator tray until soft ice crystals form around edges of tray (15 to 20 minutes). Whip until stiff (about 1 minute.) Add lemon juice and whip very stiff (about 2 minutes longer). Beat in sugar. Fold whipped evaporated milk into rice mixture. Spoon into serving dishes.

Take It Slow

BIG CYPRESS, Fla. — The trick to catching rattlesnakes with your bare hands is not to move fast, reports an 18-year-old Seminole Indian expert, James Osceola.

"The secret is to move your hand very slowly. A rattlesnake will not strike an object that is moving very slowly."

Nevertheless, he said, the safest way is the conventional one of pinning the snake's lethal head down with a forked stick and grasping it by the neck, out of reach of the poison-injecting fangs.

Agent Cites Tax Evasion In Testimony

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Internal Revenue Service intelligence agent Frank Coots has testified that income of $347,157 in 1958, 1959 and 1960 was not reported by operators of the now - closed Glen Rendezvous gambling casino in Newport.

Coots told a U.S. District Court jury his two-year investigation indicated Tito Carinci and Abraham Maius ran the operation. Carinci and Maius, accused of evading $176,000 in taxes for the Glen Corp. during the three - year period, have pleaded innocent.

Coots' testimony Tuesday came after the defense conceded the prosecution could introduce 617 witnesses who could testify they gave checks for gambling losses.

U.S. Dist. Atty. E. W. Rivers used Coots to connect Carinci and Maius with gambling operations during the years the alleged tax deficiencies occurred.

The IRS agent said his investigation showed a daily report covering winnings and losses was prepared by Maius and that Carinci used these to prepare a ledger book from which tax returns were composed.

He added that the probe showed the casino collected checks for $40,940 in October, November and December, 1960, but that no entries were put on the ledger for check income during that period.

Seven men testified they lost a total of more than $45,000 in a relatively short time and that they paid by checks made out to cash.

He Can't See It

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Ray Walker is a professional building wrecker who climbs around on rooftops, walks on beams and once edged along the top of a 175-foot high smokestack.

He is blind.

"I fool many people," says Walker, who looks like any other workman when he wields a hammer or crowbar on a wrecking job. In 18 years in the business, he has demolished more than 2,000 buildings.

Walker's only concession to his disability is a cane he carries on the job. He has been blind 31 years.

Banana Almond Cake, A Delicious Dessert

Many a former GI will remember — whenever he munches a banana out of hand —the how - to - survive - on land-and-sea advice given by the War Department: "Watch monkeys. You can eat anything a monkey eats. . ."

This was in case of an unplanned landing in some jungle and monkeys are wild for bananas.

Bananas should be ripened at room temperature, then stored in the refrigerator, as far as possible from the freezing unit. In time the skin will turn dark brown or black after such chilling, but the inside will show no discoloration or side effects of low temperature.

This rich and flavorful cake, topped with halved bananas and broiled - on nut - and - coconut spread, makes a delicious dessert after an otherwise low-calorie main course.

BANANA ALMOND CAKE

½ cup soft butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
2 large eggs
2 cups sifted cake flour
½ teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
1-3 cup buttermilk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 cup mashed ripe bananas
¼ cup butter or margarine, melted
½ cup dark brown sugar
¾ cup flaked coconut
½ cup chopped almonds

Cream butter or margarine and sugar until light. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Sift together cake flour, soda, salt and baking powder. Add to creamed mixture alternately with buttermilk, starting and ending with dry ingredients. Stir in vanilla extract and mashed bananas.

Turn into a greased and lightly floured 7½x12-inch pan. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 50 minutes or until cake tester inserted in the center comes out clean. Let cool 5 minutes.

Slice bananas in half lengthwise and arrange on cake. Combine ¼ cup melted butter or margarine, brown sugar, coconut and almonds and spread on cake. Place 3 to 4 inches under broiler and broil until topping is browned, about 2 minutes. Yield: One loaf cake.

BANANA PUDDING

1 cup mashed ripe bananas
1 teaspoon fresh lemon juice
1 package (8 oz.) cottage cheese, strained
1 cup confectioners' sugar
1 teaspoon rum flavor
1 oz. unsweetened chocolate, grated
5 to 6 (½ cup) macaroons, crumbled

Blend together bananas, lemon juice, cottage cheese, sugar and rum flavor using medium speed of mixer. Beat 2 to 3 minutes until smooth. Add chocolate and stir until blended.

Sprinkle crumbs in bottom and side of buttered 1-quart casserole. Pour in mixture and refrigerate until firm and chilled. Yield: 6 servings.

BANANA LONG SHORTCAKE

2 cups sifted all - purpose flour
2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1-3 cup sugar
1 teaspoon grated orange peel
½ cup butter or margarine
2 large eggs, beaten
¼ cup milk
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
2 tablespoons sugar
6 ripe bananas
1 cup heavy cream
1 tablespoon sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla extract
½ teaspoon fresh lemon juice

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, sugar, orange peel and the ½ cup butter or margarine. Mix with a pastry blender or two knives until consistency of coarse crumbs. Stir in beaten eggs and milk to form a light dough.

Turn into a greased 11x7x2-inch pan. Brush top of dough with melted butter or margarine and sprinkle sugar over entire surface. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (375 degree F.) 20 minutes or until golden. Remove from oven and cool.

Cut bananas into ¼-inch lengthwise slices and arrange over top of cake. Whip cream with sugar and vanilla extract until stiff; stir in lemon juice. Spread over top of cake and top with additional banana slices if desired. Yield: One loaf cake.

down six U.S. planes Tuesday and said three American pilots were captured.

A U.S. military spokesman reported that another F105 Thunderchief was shot down Tuesday on a strike against the Cam Doi barracks 30 miles westnortheast of Hanoi. The spokesman said no parachute was observed and the pilot was presumed killed.

The Pentagon announced Tuesday that 46 F105 Thunderchiefs made a low-level attack on the missile sites. The Pentagon said pilots reported one site destroyed and the other damaged.

It was the first attack reported against missile sites which the Soviet Union is presumed to have installed in North Viet Nam. An Air Force F4C Phantom jet was downed in a raid near Hanoi Saturday, and the Defense Department said there were indications it was hit by an antiaircraft missile.

In the only strike reported today against North Viet Nam, eight F105s and four F4C Phantoms struck the Dien Bien Phu barracks 180 miles northwest of Hanoi, spokesmen said.

Pilots reported 12 buildings were destroyed and seven others damaged.

Housing

homes by governmental preemption or natural disaster, would be eligible for the subsidies.

These would help pay a fair rent for accomodations in structures owned or to be built by churches, cooperatives or other nonprofit or limited-dividend organizations. It was estimated the subsidies would stimulate use of 375,000 such units. Subsidies would not be paid to private landlords in business for profit.

While the congressionally approved legislation went along with the principle of subsidies, a new departure advocated by the President, it changed the application significantly. The original proposal was designed to help those with income too high for low-rent public housing but too low for privately built homes and apartments at the going rates.

A family receiving the subsidy would have to pay 25 per cent of its income for rent. The subsidy would then make up the difference between this payment and the rent needed to obtain adequate housing in the specified kind of project. If the family's income increased, the subsidy would decline or be eliminated entirely.

Arm

break itself was no different than what could happen to anyone else, and probably will mend just as easily," he said.

Knowles said until the fall last week, he had been able to lift as much as 15 pounds with the arm. He said he has no real use of his fingers. He can move them only slightly.

Since the first operation, he has undergone a series of others to try to regain full use of the arm and hand. Tendons have been connected and nerves repaired. Just last month a one-inch piece of bone was placed inside the palm of the hand to keep his thumb in better position. His arm was in a cast when he fell.

Knowles blamed the cast for the break. He said he did not think the arm would have broken had the upper arm and shoulder not been forced to bend against it.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: All the rods in our closets are the usual adult height, but we need lower rods for the youngsters.

I took two wire coat hangers and pulled them out straight to make long, narrow loops with a hook on one end.

I hung these on the clothes bar and inserted a broom handle in the loops. (A third hanger may be placed in the center of the extension to give added strength.)

The hangers can be taped or stapled to the broom handle to prevent them from slipping off.

My nieces share one closet, so I made the extension hanger just long enough to take care of one child's clothes (we hang baby clothes, bluses, etc., on the top bar above the extension).

The other child, who is tall enough to reach the clothes rod, uses the other end of the top bar.

The extension bar may be cut to fit the full length of the closet, or as the situation requires.

It certainly doubled our closet space.

AUNTIE.

DEAR HELOISE: I always had a hard time putting all my hair up into my swimming cap because my hair was so long.

I found that if I put a regular hair net over my hair first, and then put on the swimming cap, it is much easier to get all of my hair into the cap.

LELIA THOMAS (age 11).

DEAR HELOISE: Try putting fancy adhesive backed paper on telephone directories. They look quite attractive on a telephone stand.

ELEANOR MAY.

DEAR HELOISE: This is for ladies who have portable hair dryers with shoulder straps, and the straps dig into their shoulders.

Get the sponge strap-cover piece off an old pair of roller skates, run the dryer strap through the pad just as you would a skate strap.

Or, get a small sponge, (the type used for cleaning purposes) and put two small slits in it, the width of the strap, and slide the strap through.

No more sore shoulders.

U.C.M.

DEAR HELOISE: I used to live and run my home by a set schedule.

In subtle ways, my husband began to let me know that he preferred a home that was a bit disarranged. He wanted our home to have a warm and "lived in" look.

ANOTHER SENSIBLE HOUSEWIFE.

I agree wholeheartedly with your husband. And now, don't you feel better, sugar.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I have read many hints about uses for baby food jars, but I have one for a baby bottle . . . other than its intended use!

The ounces are marked on the bottle, so it is a simple matter to pour in the desired amount of vinegar, oil, and other seasonings for dressing.

I just put the plastic protector cap on the bottle, put it in the refrigerator, and it takes very little space.

VALERIA.

DEAR HELOISE: I have found that perspiration odor can be removed from washable clothing by wetting the garment in suds and then sprinkling it freely with baking soda. Rub to a thick paste and let stand for about 20 minutes. Then wash as usual.

This has worked on all kinds of natural and synthetic white fabrics, and has not harmed any of my washable materials.

Jack Trout, 25, Columbus and James Roy Rush, 22, of Tennessee were arrested in Circleville Tuesday night by police checking out a telephone tip.

County Officials Assured By State On Road Work

LISBON — Assurances on the start of some Route 30 projects west of Lisbon next year and for assistance on construction of a new access road for Highlandtown Lake were received by Columbiana County officials from state authorities at Columbus Tuesday.

Commissioners Max Gard, James Boyd and Frank Wilson, County Engineer John Ursu and Don Gosney, aide to Rep. Wayne L. Hays, met with executives of the Ohio Highway Department and the Division of Natural Resources yesterday afternoon.

After some discussion of the county's highway needs, the highway officials assured the delegation some projects will be undertaken for improvement of Route 30 between Lisbon and the Stark County line.

Elimination of a curve at Beacon Light Hill, where a new extension of Depot Rd. will intersect with Route 30, will get priority, with reduction of other curves to follow, the county group said it was told.

The delegation met first with Earl Nelson, Division 11 deputy director, and Levi Kimball of the department, and later conferred with C. D. Miller, deputy director in charge of planning.

Later, the group met with officials of the Department of Natural Resources, who said the legislature has approved a bill providing $7.5 million for development of park access roads.

Ursu was requested to submit a cost estimate for the new road at Highlandtown, made necessary after the closing of a section of the Old Steubenville Pike because of the lake project.

New Zealand's Day-Old Quints Are 'Doing Fine'

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP) — New Zealand's day-old Lawson quintuplets are in very good condition, a medical bulletin said today.

The boy and four girls lay in incubators at Auckland's National Women's Hospital as congratulatory wires and offers of help arrived for the parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. (Sam) Lawson.

She is 26 and a former model. He runs a fish and chips shop.

"The birth is an occasion of great joy in which we all share," said Prime Minister Keith Holyoake. He said that he would see that the Lawsons get adequate housing, nursing help and anything else they need.

"It's wonderful, I can't believe it, I'm so excited I can't really describe how I feel," Mrs. Lawson said. "My 5-year-old daughter Lee Ann is absolutely thrilled. As for my husband, I think he's flabbergasted."

The quints have not yet been named.

The boy, born first, weighed exactly 4 pounds at birth. The girls weighed 3 pounds 3 ounces, 4 pounds 3 ounces, 4 pounds 2 ounces and 3 pounds 7½ ounces.

During the summer months, two days of every week finds Crucible employes in the classroom attending Midland works' annual fire school. The classes are held to acquaint employes with fire prevention, fire fighting methods and use of various fire fighting equipment.

Fires are infrequent in the plant, but should one happen, Crucible people are ready and able to act quickly with the knowledge of the extensive equipment available to confine and extinguish fires.

Training in fire fighting is only one element in a company safety program aimed at keeping people safe and in good health while they are in the plant. Rotary Hears Dr. Paxson

'Unity Of Nations' Seen Under Common Market

"The European Common Market will be used to establish a continuity of nations like never seen before. . .and will accomplish a unity, through economic means, which has eluded attempts through military action for many years," according to Dr. A. M. Paxson, who spoke at a noon luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club Tuesday at the Travelers Hotel.

Dr. Paxson, administrative director of the Economic and Business Foundation and educator and economist at Youngstown University, feels the Common Market "is the prime way of establishing political stability, and will eventually result in a United States of Europe."

He explained that the forerunner of the Common Market was the Treaty of Benelux in 1948 among Belgium, Netherlands and Luxemburg, which was a move to expedite trade by lowering and /or eliminating tariffs.

The European Economic Community became a reality in 1957 when Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxemburg were joined by France, West Germany and Italy, who agreed on a 12-point program.

Among the goals was the gradual elimination of tariffs, quotas and other barriers of trade among the member nations, with reductions to be temporarily postponed, where adjustments forced by tariff reductions would be too severe.

Over the transition period, a uniform tariff schedule will be created by the six to apply to imports from the rest of the world. Dr. Paxson explained, however, that even though by 1967 all tariff barriers will be eliminated, those to the rest of the world will not be. He said the purpose of the agreement is to eliminate tariffs among the member nations and to negotiate as a single unit and tariff adjustments with the rest of the world.

Other goals include the abolition of restrictions on movements of services, labor, capital and business enterprises among the six nations.

The speaker pointed out it was decided that cartels and similar trade restraints are prohibited unless they contribute to improvements in production and distribution or technological and economic progress and declared that member nations are to coordinate their monetary and fiscal policies.

The member nations agreed that two investment funds are to be established to channel capital from the more advanced areas to the less developed areas (one to operate in Europe and the other in the territories) and voted to establish equal pay for men and women.

A social fund was established to help relieve possible economic injuries to workers resulting from trade liberalization and an administrative organization to rule the market was decided upon.

Copied from the United States and Switzerland forms of government, the administrative unit will be governed by a council of ministers made up of memberships of one each from each of the six countries.

Their function will be to "coordinate general economic policies of members and decide important issues arising in establishing and maintaining the Common Market."

In discussing France's opposition to England's entering the market, Dr. Paxson explained he believes DeGaulle is concerned with restoring France to the days of grandeur such as under Napoleon, and wants to conquer the continent. . .by economic means rather than with military power."

Dr. Paxson said he believes DeGaulle fears that England's trade position would replace France's as the Common Market leader. The educator predicted, however, that within five years Germany, and not France, will be the dominating power in the market, "due to its vast industrial growth."

He outlined several of the accomplishments of the market since 1957 and noted that many of the trade advantages — including the offering of lower priced goods due to lower tariffs — were becoming less effective, due to a growing rate of inflation and higher wages resulting from a shortage of labor.

Dr. Paxson was introduced by George Hargraves. Leland Pittenger was program chairman.

'Fedicare' Offered As New Political Word

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Republican leader, Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, has contributed a word — "fedicare" — to the political vocabulary.

Ford said Tuesday Congress should declare "Fedicare Day" because it had passed a $7.5-billion housing bill with a rent subsidy provision and a $6.5-billion Social Security measure which includes health care of the elderly. Ford called these "renticare" and "medicare."

Saigon Report Says U.S. Sailor In Reds' Hands

SAIGON (AP) — An unconfirmed report reached Saigon today that Donald Dawson, the American sailor who came to Viet Nam to trace his missing brother, was seen in Viet Cong captivity early this month.

Dawson, 25, of Astoria, Calif., came to Viet Nam in January after his older brother, Lt. Daniel L. Dawson, a U.S. Army pilot, was shot down in the jungle in November.

Dawson spent several dangerous months trying to trace his brother. Then, finally believing that he was dead, he determined to find the body.

He decided to go into the Viet Cong-controlled D Zone north of Saigon to meet guerrilla leaders who were reported to have said they would take him to his brother's grave.

The Viet Cong demanded that Dawson bring his own interpreter, Collette Emberger, 21, a Vietnamese citizen, agreed to accompany him.

A source close to the Emberger family said today the family had received a report in the past few days that the two were seen being taken through a village in D Zone early in July.

Judge Suspends Jail Penalty In Job Benefit Case

A Glenmoor man, charged with obtaining Ohio unemployment benefits fraudulently, was given a suspended sentence this morning in Municipal Court after Judge Samuel Chertoff was advised full restitution of the money had been made.

George R. Virden, 28, of Glenn St., Glenmoor, had pleaded guilty to the charge at a hearing July 15. The judge continued Virden's case for sentencing after Virden agreed to make restitution for the $156 he allegedly obtained by reporting he was unemployed for three weeks.

Victor DeGeorge, an investigator for the Bureau of Unemplyoment Compensation, told the judge that Virden had paid back all the money.

Virden was accused of filing the false certification in February.

The judge said he had to sentence Virden on his admission of guilt. He then decreed a 10-day term in the Columbiana County Jail at Lisbon, which was suspended, and ordered him to pay court costs.

The 1959 auto left the highway at 12:45 a. m. while he was headed south. The front wheel was damaged, deputies said.

Warrants Issued On Tax Charges

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff issued bench warrants for two persons who failed to appear this morning for hearings on charges of violating the city income tax ordinance by failing to file returns.

A third defendant appeared, but his case was continued to allow him time to make payment.

The bench warrants were issued for Thomas White, 1428 Dorothy St., and Frank Christy, 740 Cartwright St.

They were among 12 issued warrants to appear today. All the others appeared and made payment, according to Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson, who then had the charges withdrawn.

Donley C. Davis, 1149 Pennsylvania Ave., appeared and said he had not filed a final report on his 1964 earnings because he did not have a statement.

After a discussion, the judge directed Davis to file a report immediately or make arrangements to pay. He continued Donley's case until Aug. 3 to give him time to complete the filing.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I read with interest the letter from the 45-year-old widow seeking to re-enter the business world, and found all doors closed until she was advised by a personnel director to shave 10 years off her age.

You asked for an answer to the widow's question, "Why does industry refuse to hire women over 40?" As a secretary who began her career at 37 (22 years ago) I believe I can answer.

Many companies, especially large organizations who offer fringe benefits, are reluctant to hire older people because the benefit programs are underwritten by insurance contracts which have a maximum age limit for new employes — usually 35. Taking on employes over 35 increases the cost of the program.

Then there's a second reason that isn't discussed in polite business society, but it's very real. The men want younger women around the office — not older ones.

They may scream about inefficient, lame-brained, wet-behind-the-ears, dumbbells who can't spell, can't punctuate, can't get in on time, and so on, yet they continue to hire the cute young things with their high bosoms and tight skirts.

The gray-haired motherly types with 18 years' experience are told, "Sorry. We have nothing for you." — P.C.I.

Dear P.C.I.: Wow! And thank you.

Fouled Out

Dear Ann: I've been in my room crying for an hour. My eyes are so swollen I can hardly see to write this letter.

Last night I had some kids over. (We are all between 16 and 17:. Bill (a boy I like a lot) told a joke that had some not-so-nice words in it but everybody knows what they mean. That very minute my dad walked in. He was in the next room and he heard everything. I almost died when I saw him.

Dad said, "Who told that joke?" Bill answered, "I did. Anything in it you didn't understand, Clyde?"

All the kids laughed. My dad got real mad and said, "We don't allow that kind of talk in this house, young man. There's the door." He took Bill by the arm and ushered him out.

The kids were flabbergasted and left right away. My party was ruined. I'll bet they'll never come again. I know Bill is through with me for good.

My dad is not mean or prudish. I never saw him act like this before. How can I square this with the kids? Please help me. — AGNES.

Dear Agnes: I don't see that you have anything to square. Foul language is out of place in decent company. Bill is the one who should be squaring things.

If Bill doesn't come around any more you haven't lost a thing. He sounds like a wet wick to me.

Father's Right

Dear Ann: My sister and her husband were divorced many years ago. Neither has remarried.

Their eldest daughter was married in a beautiful church ceremony last week. The bride came down the aisle on her father's arm. The bride's mother was seated in the first row. When the minister asked, "Who giveth this woman in marriage?" the bride's father answered in a loud voice, "I do."

He has not been a real father to that girl for years. Her mother raised the girl with very little help from anyone. Don't you feel that he should have answered, "Her mother and I do?" — JUST WONDERING.

Dear Just: Sorry, but the father of the bride gives his daughter in marriage. And the response to the question should be the traditional one regardless of the circumstances.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Dear Friends,

One thing a family should not expect the funeral director to do is to suggest the cost of the funeral to be selected. His advice may be invited, but the decision rests with the family. The financial aspects must of necessity be candidly discussed, to avoid hardship and to have complete understanding by all concerned.

The Law

One of the more unusual cases decided in recent tax law involved what most of us would simply consider a hole in the ground.

The problem was one of determination of the proper use of a tax depreciation allowance when it came to certain types of property. The result set a new precedent in the law.

This case involved the owner of a refuse dump. The dump was a large excavation which had been purchased for the specific purpose of using it for such a disposal area.

WHEN IT came time to pay income taxes, the dump's owner claimed a very unusual type of depreciation which would reduce his taxes. He said, in effect, that he had purchased a "hole," not the land surrounding it.

He contended that because the hole was becoming smaller as he filled it with refuse it would not last indefinitely so a deduction should be allowed for depreciation. The amount of taxes, he concluded, should be affected by the space remaining in the hole, not on its original size.

The government, however, felt differently about the matter and took the case into court. They contended that the dump was simply real estate with a permanent life and that the taxes were based on the solid terra firma, not a "hole." The law doesn't permit such a depreciation, they contended.

THE COURT, however, ruled in favor of the owner of the dump, thus putting a new interpretation on tax law as involves real property. The court said that the dump owner could take the depreciation deduction upon this "hole" used in his refuse business, based on the quantity of space exhausted by filling in each year.

In its ruling, the court noted that so - called superadjacent air space can be subdivided for various purposes in such places as multistories office buildings and elsewhere.

They did say, however, that the hole is not a true "natural resource," on which other tax laws apply. The fact that the hole was put there by man, rather than natural forces, rued out this possibility, the court said.

Acoustic tile can be painted successfully, according to the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association. Flat paint, somewhat thinned, should be used. Before thinning the paint, talk to your dealer about your project.

Chicken Casserole Has A Piquant Touch

Young chickens can be fried, broiled or barbecued, but the secret of repeat menu appeal is a surprise flavor note in serving variety.

For instance, adding a piquancy with the touch of brown prepared mustard to a sauce makes the dish fresh as spring. Take tender chicken breasts, as an idea, and combine them in a casserole with peas and ham strips.

Then spoon over a mustard-seasoned cream sauce before baking. It's a delicious combination and a seasoning success.

For a real summer menu, serve the casserole with fresh asparagus, green onions and cherry tomatoes, and fresh strawberries with cream for dessert.

Chicken Casserole

2 chicken breasts
6 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
6 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 (10 oz.) pkg. frozen peas
1 cup cooked or canned ham strips
2 envelopes golden seasoning and broth*
1½ cups water
3 tablespoons prepared mustard
½ cup heavy cream
*or 2 chicken bouillon cubes

Cut 2 chicken breasts into halves. Preheat oven 350 degrees F. Mix flour, salt, pepper together. Set aside 4 tablespoons seasoned flour. Use remaining flour to coat chicken breasts. Melt 3 tablespoons butter in skillet. Add floured chicken breasts and brown on both sides.

Pour boiling water over frozen peas. Drain very well. Put peas in bottom of 9-inch baking dish. Mix ham strips with peas. Arrange chicken breasts on top of ham and peas. Melt remaining 3 tablespoons butter.

Stir in flour and mustard. Mix seasoning and broth with hot water. Gradually add to butter - flour mix, mixing until smooth.

Cook, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens. Stir in heavy cream. Cook for 1 minute longer. Pour over chicken. Cover and bake 40 minutes. Makes four servings.

Paint Brush Will Last If Given Proper Care

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

There are some things you just can't check.

One of them is the amount of money wasted each year by home owners who don't take care of paint brushes.

Good-quality, modern brushes are designed to last for years. But it is the rare individual indeed who gets years of wear out of them. Most of us are inclined to use them a few times, then permit them to harden or get out of shape, or both.

When it comes time to paint again, we look at the battered brush, think how much trouble it will be to restore it to usefulness, then go out and buy a new one.

All this is fine for the paint brush manufacturers, although it must be admitted most of them are constantly urging us to take care of their products. But it's not good for our pocketbooks.

An allied disadvantage of lack of care is that we sometimes use an abused brush and wonder why we don't get good results.

When a professional painter buys a new brush, he takes it to his place of business, twirls the handle briskly between his hands for several minutes, then rubs one hand back and forth across the bristles a while longer.

He then wraps the brush in heavy paper that doesn't have print on it and suspends it for 24 hours in raw linseed oil. Note that he suspends it, being careful not to bend the bristles. After the one-day bath, the brush is removed from the oil, which is squeezed out by rubbing the flat side of the bristles against the edge of a board or across a smooth wire.

Arinsing in turpentine, a thorough drying — and the brush is ready to put a new finish on the interior or exterior of your home. If you intend to do the painting yourself, why not follow the professional's example?

When finished with a job, clean the brush with the same solvent for the particular finishing material for which it was used.

That is, if you used paint, varnish or enamel, the solvent is turpentine or mineral spirits. For water-base or any of the latex paints, the solvent is water. For lacquer, it's lacquer thinner. And for shellac, it's denatured alcohol. Always read the label on the container of an odorless paint to determine the type of cleaning agent for the brush or, for that matter, for a roller.

If the brush is not to be used for a while, wrap it in aluminum foil, wax paper or any similar type of material and store it so that the bristles will not be bent.

1 would receive 6.06 per cent boosts. Widows and survivors of deceased members would get $6 more a month. At present, there are about 250,000 contributing members of the public employes, teachers retirement, and public school employes retirement systems.

The Senate reinstated a provision, stricken by the House, under which maximum pensions would be $18,000 a year.

The Senate also went along Tuesday night with a bill aimed at putting the financially troubled Highway Patrol pension program on a sounder basis. It increases investment authority of the Patrol Pension Board and boosts state contributions from the present 5 per cent to a minimum of 9 per cent and maximum of 21 per cent.

In other developments during a busy, 12-hour day, the House agreed to Senate amendments to a measure creating additional common pleas judgeships in Cuyahoga, Summit, Hamilton, Stark, and Medina counties. It now goes to the governor.

The House also accepted Senate amendments and completed passage of a Senate bill extending tax exemption to industries installing water pollution control equipment after next Jan. 1.

Before applying paint to floors, you must be sure that the surface is properly cleaned, warns the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association. Otherwise the foreign matter will interfere with the adhesion of the paint to the floor.

Cincinnati Mass March Eyed

Rights Leaders Set Plan To Block Building Work

CINCINNATI (AP) — Local civil rights leaders say their program for the rest of the summer includes tying up all construction work in town and a possible mass march in the streets.

"To start down the street one day with about 150 Negro clergymen from the Cincinnati area leading us...this is my personal aim and that is the thing we pray most for," Clyde W. Vinegar, community coordinator of the Congress of Racial Equality, said Tuesday night.

The round of demonstrations began Monday when 16 persons, many of them members of CORE, were arrested when they climbed on building forms and into the cellar of an unfinished school site stopping the work. All were freed on bail the same day.

That demonstration was to protest alleged racial discrimination in the building trades unions and Vinegar said there will be more demonstrations on the theory of "work for everybody where public funds are concerned, or work for none."

He said another aim for the demonstrations will be "to unite the Negro community and white people who believe in justice and freedom and fill up all the building sites and jails."

"We will use up all the police department's money locking us up and filling the jails," he told a civil rights rally at Carmel Presbyterian Church in the Avondale section. About 220 persons attended the rally.

As targets for demonstrations, Vinegar named "about half a dozen" school sites, the University of Cincinnati, General Hospital and the new convention hall the city is building as part of its urban renewal program.

The building trades unions have denied they practice discrimination, and have offered to give jobs to qualified Negroes. CORE and other civil rights groups contend Negroes can only get jobs as common laborers.

The demonstration Monday at the East Avondale Elementary School led to the city's getting a temporary restraining order to bar CORE from more such demonstrations, but civil rights leaders feel this applies only to that one site.

Sheriff's Deputy Killed, Partner Hurt In Wreck

CHARDON, Ohio (AP) — A veteran Geauga County sheriff's deputy was killed and his partner injured today in a collision involving their cruiser on U.S. 322 about four miles southeast of here.

Dead at the scene was Lummie Sanders, 50, of Chagrin Falls, 20 years a deputy.

Deputy Eugene Baker, 31, of Chesterland was admitted to Geauga County Community Hospital with serious head injuries.

Also hospitalized was Frank Roblesky, 27, of Huntsburg, driver of the other car in the crash. Four passengers in his car suffered less severe injuries.

The Highway Patrol said the sheriff's cruiser, driven by Baker, crashed into the oncoming Roblesky car when it skidded as Baker applied the brakes to avoid hitting a car that turned left in front of the cruiser to enter a service station.

The cruiser overturned following the collision and both deputies were thrown out, with Sanders pinned beneath the vehicle.

Expect Enlarged Draft

Governors Wait Johnson Report On Viet Situation

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — The nation's governors, awaiting President Johnson's televised report on the situation in Viet Nam, obviously expect the President to announce an enlarged draft on American resources and manpower to balance off the Communist aggression.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey told the governors as much Tuesday night in carefully screened words at the black-tie dinner that marks the social peak of their annual conference.

Humphrey cautioned the governors that the decisions Johnson will announce at a Washington news conference today will touch the lives of thousands of American families.

Humphrey pledged the governors that "we are not going to falter" in opposing an effort by aggressors in South Viet Nam to "demonstrate that murder and terrorism — and not peaceful coexistence — is the path of eventual Communist triumph."

The governors were to take a look at the Johnson administration's antipoverty program today.

Humphrey exercises general supervision of the program, but it was up to Sargent Shriver Jr., director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, to answer to the governors for what several of them regard as its shortcomings.

A majority of the governors vigorously opposed the House action which all but eliminated their veto over projects in their states.

The governors acted on two issues by unanimous consent Tuesday.

They adopted a resolution calling for a study of the possibility of returning to the states a portion of the revenues the federal government collects, and approved a report calling for a comprehensive highway study.

Health Service Reports

2.4 Million Americans Have Never Seen Doctor

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service reported today that an estimated 2.4 million Americans — or 1.3 per cent of the civilian population — say they've never seen or talked to a physician for care or advice.

Most of them are under 15 years of age, and most are nonwhites, but a few contend they've gone 75 years or more without seeking out a doctor.

Estimates of the total number are based on a nationwide household sampling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. James Z. Appel, president of the American Medical Association, has called for rejection of the administration plan for a network of regional medical centers.

Appel told the House Commerce Committee Tuesday that the proposed legislation is vague and unclear.

The centers would include a medical school and teaching hospital, plus research institutes and diagnostic and treatment stations in outlying community hospitals.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Young Americans for Freedom have announced plans for a national campaign against trade with Communist Romania.

President Robert E. Bauman said Tuesday the goal will be to show the administration "just how strongly the average American citizen is opposed to trade with Communist countries which can be used to increase Communist military potential."

The decision followed a Senate speech by Sen. J. W. Fulbright D-Ark., and a presidentially ordered investigation of a now dropped plan to build a synthetic rubber plant in Romania.

Fulbright said the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. scotched such plans after a pressure campaign by the Young Americans for Freedom. He also said a Firestone competitor, Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., tried to capitalize on this by linking Firestone with the Communist country.

500 In Sudan To Face Trial After Rebellion

CAIRO (AP)—Sudan's government radio announced today that about 500 persons will go on trial in connection with a recent rebellion in the black belt of south Sudan.

The broadcast said mass arests followed the outbreaks in the provinces of Equatoria, Bahr El Ghazal and Upper Nile earlier this month. Unconfirmed reports said more than 120 persons were killed.

It apparently was a revival of the dispute between south Sudan's Negro population and the Moslem Arabs of the north who dominate the Sudanese government.

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — One Colombian was killed and five were injured Monday when a bomb exploded near the U.S. military mission office in the War Ministry building.

Indonesia May Blast First A-Bomb In Fall

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Indonesia is likely to explode its first atomic bomb after the second Afro-Asian conference in Algiers next November, the director of army arsenals said today.

Brig. Gen. R. Hartono's statement in the armed forces newspaper Ngyatan Bersendjata did not elaborate on the bomb project. President Sukarno said recently Indonesia would be capable of producing the bomb "in the near future."

150 Take Part In Service At Bethel Church

More than 150 attended the annual homecoming services at the Bethel Methodist Church near Hookstown Sunday, marking the 120th anniversary of the church.

A varied program was featured, with the morning service directed by the current pastor, the Rev. John J. Haney. Special numbers were presented by both the primary and adult choirs, accompanied by Eugene Beal. Lunch was served in the social room.

Miss Eleanor Whitehall, accompanied by Harold Stewart of East Liverpool, was in charge of the afternoon song service. Featured on the program were Glen Brady, Mrs. Paul Staley, Mrs. Carol Csonka, Mrs. Gilbert McHaffie and Miss Cathy Fazikas.

The Scripture lesson was read by the Rev. A J Musselman and the sermon was presented by the Rev. Ellsworth D. Crispens of Dunbar, Pa. Both are former ministers at the church.

Mrs. Glen Brady of Georgetown was honored as the oldest guest and Louis Andrew Kolenich, 10-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kolenich of Burgettstown, as the youngest. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Aten of Inverness, Fla., traveled the farthest.

Democrats Hear Palestine Speech

EAST PALESTINE — Byron Cope served as spokesman for candidates during a meeting of 30 members of the Democratic Club Tuesday night at City Park.

Cope emphasized that "we have no quarrel with the city government—we just think it's time for a change."

"This year's slate of candidates is a working crew and we intend to win in November," he added.

Mrs. Ruth Geiger, club president, announced that the annual club picnic will be Aug. 7 at City Park, with Don Gosney of Columbiana and John P. Vargo of Lisbon guest speakers.

July 4 In August

The skies put on their own Fourth of July display in August.

The Perseid meteor shower occurs around Aug. 11 each year. Then the earth is bombarded with tons of debris from space. Meteors streak across the sky every minute by the thousands in a pyrotechnic display.

The speed with which the meteors fall generates great heat from air friction, the National Geographic Society says. They become white - hot and often blaze bright trails of incandescent gas.

Old Faithful of meteor showers, the Perseids were first recorded in A.D. 36. Unlike other swarms that wheel around the sun in clusters, the Perseids form a stream that fills their entire orbit with dust and pebbles. Every August, the earth passes through this cosmic river.

In 1862, Italian astronomer Giovanni Schiaparelli, while observing a faint, unspectacular comet, noticed that its orbit was almost identical to that of the Perseids. He concluded it was the source of the August display.

Bidders On Milwaukee Building

Ship On Bottom Of Lake Will Be Auctioned Today

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — How do you auction off a ship lying under water?

This is the way it will be done Wednesday when the Prins Willem V, a 258-foot Dutch ocean-going diesel cargo ship lying at the bottom of Lake Michigan, is auctioned off.

Prospective bidders will assemble atop one of Milwaukee's newest and tallest downtown buildings commanding a splendid view of the harbor. The auction will start at $27,000.

Experienced divers will be available on request to assist potential buyers.

The Prins Willem V was insured for $2 million. It sank Oct. 14, 1954, after colliding with a towed oil barge. It is lying on its side in about 75 feet of water four miles east of the Milwaukee harbor entrance. Sporadic efforts have been made to bring the ship to the surface. The ship's sealed cargo was insured for $750,000.

At first it was believed that the highest point of the sunken ship was 31 feet below the surface and thus a hazard to navigation. As such it became U.S. government property with the ship owners relinquishing title.

The Army contracted with Max Eugene Nohl, a Milwaukee deep sea diver, to clear the wreckage to a safe depth of 40 feet. The terms gave Nohl title to the Prins Willem.

The navigational hazard turned out to be a gangplank. A few strokes of a diver's knife and Nohl had fulfilled the contract. After some litigation he collected nearly all of his $50,000 contract figure.

Nohl and his wife were killed in an automobile accident in Arkansas in 1960. A corporation formed by his heirs contracted with Samuel L. Witnernitz, a Chicago industrial auction firm, to sell the ship and cargo on an "as is, where is" basis.

The 715-ton cargo consists of printing machinery, chemicals in steel drums, leather, hides, television picture tubes, musical instruments, outboard motors, slide projects and other items of U.S. manufacture. The cargo, sealed and packed for export, is presumed to be undamaged.

Best Photo Of Mars Shows It's Dead Orb

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Times reported today that Mariner 4's best pictures of Mars show the red planet apparently is a dead orb similar to the moon.

The newspaper said it learned that the pictures — not yet made public — show craters gouged in the surface of the planet but no evidence of canals.

Some astronomers have theorized that canals exist on Mars.

Meet The Press To Change Time

Uprooting a TV landmark like "Meet the Press" and planting it deeper into TV's Sunday afternoon ghetto for think programs may not strike a lot of viewers as progress.

Hal Humphrey

"Meet the Press" moved into TV from radio on Nov. 6, 1947, which makes it the oldest regular program on TV today. After being in a series of different time spots, NBC anchored it at 6 p.m. Sundays on Oct. 12, 1952, where "Meet the Press" has remained intact and impervious to change of almost any kind.

But on next Sept. 19 NBC is moving "Meet the Press" to 1 p.m. Sundays to make way for a program it says will place more emphasis on "hard news." It is to be called the Sunday program, a title already used by the network on Sundays for a show that has covered feature news.

"Hard news" is a journalistic term which TV has borrowed from the press to define news of a compelling nature and which generally is happening at the moment.

WHAT NBC'S executives do not seem to realize is that Lawrence Spivak with his guests and interviewing newsmen is developing a good part of the hard news to come along on the average Sunday, which notably is a slow news day.

Frequently Monday's newspapers report something said by a politician, labor leader or someone else of importance who appeared on Spivak's "Meet the Pres" the evening before.

NBC president, Robert Kintner, says the new Sunday program and the "Scherer-MacNeil Report," a new Saturday news program to start this September, are being put into early evening spots to sustain a continuity of hard news at approximately the same evening hour throughout the week.

It will be interesting to see how much of NBC's new Sunday news half-hour can sustain viewer interest and how often it will be reporting something said on "Meet the Press" a few hours earlier.

MOST TV newscasts remain superficial and lack information on subjects where it really counts. Last week's political explosion in Greece was a good example. The national network newscats on TV reported the riots but seemed to have no explanation of causes. The viewer had to get that from his newspaper.

By burying Spivak on Sunday afternoon, NBC may be virtually eliminating one of its best newsmen from the news scene. Kintner says Spivak will have an even bigger audience at 1 p.m. Sundays. Spivak says he doesn't know what to think. He hopes his loyal audience will follow him. "It certainly will be a good test," he adds, with perhaps a trace of apprehension.

Spivak sold "Meet the Press" to NBC 10 years ago so he had nothing to say in the network's decision to pull it from its 6 p.m. berth. He was not even consulted beforehand nor told why he was being switched to another time.

WHAT MIGHT be termed a crumb or two of sustenance has been tossed Spivak's way in "a number of special full-hour 'Meet the Press programs' to be telecast in the 6:30;7:30 p.m. time Sundays. NBC does not specify exactly how many of these there will be — probably just enough to prove to Spivak that the bulk of his audience is available at 6 p.m. but not at 1 p.m. on Sunday

According to the rating services, "Meet the Press" has a steady and respectably sized audience at 6 p.m. (5 p.m. in the Midwest time zone). Occasionally, as he did last November with Juana Castro (Fidel's sister), Spivak has scored above a 16 rating. No straight newscast ever does that well with the men who conjure up the mystical rating numbers.

And on a Sunday afternoon at 1 p.m. there generally aren't that many people watching all three networks combined.

Employment's Down In Executive Branch

WASHINGTON (AP) — A report that employment in the executive branch of the government is down 602 from the level of last year has brought commendations from President Johnson.

The report, listing employment at 2,468,663 as of June 30, was made by Budget Director Charles Schultze. Johnson told the Cabinet Tuesday he is greatly gratified at the success of an effort to hold down the pay roll.

The Charter of the United Nations was signed June 26, 1945, in San Francisco, Calif.

Minnesota Gains Split; Indians Dump White Sox, 7-3

Orioles Win But Remain 4 Off Pace

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bert Campaneris has found a job he likes. He's busy digging the Kansas City Athletics out of the American League cellar.

Campaneris, the Athletics' ambidextrous shortstop-outfielder, rapped six hits, including an inside-the-park homer, scored six runs and stole two bases Tuesday night, leading a 7-3, 10-8 KC sweep of the skidding Boston Red Sox.

The doubleheader victory moved the A's within one game of the ninth- place Red Sox. They can escape 10th place for the first time since April 21 by winning the remaining two games of the Boston series.

Campy, who does everything but pitch and catch for the A's, dazzled the Red Sox with his bat and legs Tuesday night. He singled twice in the first game and stole his 35th and 36th bases — high in the league — before stroking a triple and two more singles in addition to his fourth homer in the nightcap.

He leads the league in triples with 10, ranks fifth in hits with 104 and has a creditable .273 batting average.

At the other end of the AL ladder, first-place Minnesota, paced by Don Mincher's two-run homer in the seventh, beat Washington 9-5 in the second game of a twi-night double header after dropping the opener 10-7. The split cut the Twins' lead to four games over the second-place Baltimore Orioles, who edged the Los Angeles Angels 3-2 in 10 innings.

Elsewhere, Pedro Gonzalez led Cleveland to a 7-3 victory over the Chicago White Sox while New York and Detroit divided a twin bill, the Yankees winning the twilight game 4-3 on Tom Tresh's two-run homer and the Tigers taking the night game 3-0 with a three-run rally in the eighth.

Mincher's 13th home run put Minnesota ahead to stay in the Washington nightcap after Earl Battey's second homer of the evening pulled the league leaders within range. Mike Brumley, a .142 hitter going into the doubleheader, sparked the Senators in the opener with his first and second homers of the year.

Brooks Robinson's single off Dean Chance in the 10th scored Russ Snyder, who led off the inning with a pinch hit double, with the winning run at Baltimore. The loss was Chance's eighth in 14 decisions.

Gonzalez drove in three Cleveland runs with a double and single, helping Ralph Terry record his 10th victory as the third-place Indians moved within 4½ games of first place.

Whitey Ford became the league's first 12-game winner in the New York opener but needed relief help from Pedro Ramos and Steve Hamilton after Tresh's sixth-inning homer erased a 3-2 Detroit lead.

The Tigers broke up a scoreless duel between Joe Sparma and New York's Jim Bouton in the nightcap on Don Wert's sacrifice fly, Jerry Lumpe's squeeze bunt and a bases-loaded walk to Dick McAuliffe in the eighth. The victory was Sparma's fourth straight against the Yankees this season.

Spahn Goes Distance But Loses 3-0 To Cards

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Lou Brock broke for first. He had struck out, but the ball evaded catcher Tom Haller. When Haller tried to pick it up, the ball wasn't there. Umpire Augie Donatelli, trying to get out of the way, had kicked it.

That brief fiasco occurred in the third inning Tuesday and foreshadowed the kind of night Warren Spahn was in for.

Brock didn't score —Spahn picked him off — but the fading southpaw still lost a four-hitter 3-0 as St. Louis defeated San Francisco.

The complete game was the first since June 11 for the 44-year-old pitcher, who is making a determined effort to prove he still can win. He hasn't won since May 25, but he certainly can expect more chances at improving on his record as the winningest left-hander in history.

Spahn, now 4-13 with a nine-game losing streak, whittled his earned run average from 4.57 to 4.40 while watching his week-old teammates go scoreless for the first time in a month.

The performance was in great contrast to his first start with the Giants after leaving the New York Mets. Cincinnati rocked him for three runs in only 2 1-3 innings last Thursday.

The Cardinals, however, were anything but brutal as they backed Bob Purkey's five-hit pitching. After Bill White homered in the second inning, Spahn allowed only two hits. St. Louis, in fact, didn't even get a hit in scoring its final run in the ninth.

★ ★ ★ Dodgers Win; Bucs Split ★ ★ ★

Curt Flood grounded to third baseman Jim Hart, who tossed the ball past first base. Flood raced to second, then continued all the way home when Haller picked up the ball and fired it into left field.

Elsewhere in the National League, Los Angeles outlasted Cincinnati 9-7 in a wild game, Milwaukee whipped Houston 7-1, Pittsburgh edged Philadelphia 3-2 in 10 innings after losing 3-1 and Chicago defeated New York 6-3.

The Dodgers recorded two errors, four wild pitches and a passed ball, but Jim Gilliam powered them past the Reds, driving in four runs with a homer, double and single. Maury Wills extended his hitting streak to 20 games and stole his 70th and 71st bases. Deron Johnson hit a two-run homer for Cincinnati.

Milwaukee swept by Houston behind Felipe Alou and Joe Torre. Each hit a homer and drove in two runs. Billy O'Dell saved Tony Cloninger's 13th triumph against eight defeats, pitching out of a bases-loaded jam in the seventh inning.

Philadelphia relief pitcher Gary Wagner split a doubleheader, losing the second game when Pittsburgh's Willie Stargell doubled and Donn Clendenon singled him home in the 10th. The Phillies had tied it in the eighth when John Herrnstein singled in Clay Dalrymple.

Bob Friend was headed for his second straight shutout in the opener until the Phillies erupted for three runs with two out in the ninth. Tony Gonzalez tied it with a run-scoring single, and Cookie Rojas won it with a two-run double.

Ernie Banks drove in four runs with a bases-loaded double and a bases-empty home run as Chicago downed the Mets, who played under interim manager Wes Westrum. Bob Buhl posted his 11th victory against seven defeats.

EL Merchants Lose 12-8 To Beaver Falls

The Friendly Bowling-Merchants waited until the sixth inning to score eight runs but this didn't prove enought as Beaver Falls picked up a 12-8 victory Tuesday at Crucible Field in a Beaver County League game.

Beaver Falls tallied five runs in the first inning, one in the third and six in the fourth.

The winners clubbed three triples in gaining the victory while Meeks tagged one for the Merchants.

Hasenstab paced Friendly at the plate with three hits.

Friendly will meet Monaca today at Crucible Field at 6 p. m.

Robin Roberts Placed On Waivers By Orioles

BALTIMORE (AP) — Robin Roberts, still planning his pitching future near the end of a brilliant baseball career, has been placed on waivers by the Baltimore Orioles at his own request.

Dropped out of the starting rotation after losing seven straight decisions, the 38-year-old right-hander didn't relish his unfamiliar role as a spot starter and long reliever.

"I have no quarrel at not being used as a starter," Roberts said prior to Tuesday night's game against the Los Angeles Angels. "I just don't want to participate otherwise."

Roberts, who ranks No. 16 among all-time major league winners with 276 victories, viewed his bullpen duty as the possible prelude to his final season.

The veteran campaigner said he wanted to become a regular starter with another club for the rest of the season, "thus placing myself in a position of pitching as a regular next year."

Frank Paytors was on the mound for Chester while Gerald Bryson was the loser.

Florists Halt Dentists Bid For Playoffs

The Dentists need a victory tonight over the Riverview Florists if they expect to make the Colt League playoffs. Riverview handed the Dentists a 5-3 setback Tuesday and the same two teams meet tonight in the final regularly scheduled game.

Riverview posted a run in the first inning and three in the third to clinch the victory. All three Dentists' runs came in the third.

Bob Pancake bested Mike Piatt on the mound as both hurlers gave up five hits.

Buzz Arrington with a double and single paced Riverview while Duffy collected two hits for Dentists.

Wooster Lad Captures Jaycee Links Tourney

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Dave Anderson of Wooster maintained his mastery over the 7,000-yard River Bend Country Club course Tuesday, shooting a one-under-par 71 to win the Ohio Junior Chamber of Commerce Championship with a 36-hole score of 140.

Anderson, 17-year-old golfer who twice has won the Cleveland Junior championship, broke out of a three-way tie after Monday's opening round and led the field by two strokes.

Doug Steffen of Mogadore finished second with an even-par 72-72—142.

The top four scorers won the right to represent Ohio in the National Jaycee Tournament Aug. 8-13 at Houston, Tex.

Deon Good of Salem, who tied for fourth place with Chris Hardman of Greenville and Jerry Lammers of Toledo, at 144, won a one-hole playoff to qualify for the national competition.

In the novice division, Larry Nicolet of Lima easily won the title with a 73-74—147.

Football Officials To Meet Thursday

The Columbiana County Football Officials Association will hold an important meeting Thursday at 8:30 p. m. at the YMCA.

Reds Obtain New Sponsor, Hoyt Seen Out

CINCINNATI (AP) — When the Cincinnati Reds start playing next season they'll most likely have a new radio announcer to report their games.

The Reds announced a change of sponsors Tuesday, with the Wiedemann Brewing Co. succeeding Burger Brewing Co., and this probably will mean the departure of Waite Hoyt, who has reported Reds games for Burger since 1941.

Hoyt's successor apparently will be Paul Sommerkamp, a Cincinnati advertising man who has made announcements on the Crosley Field public address system for 14 years. Sources indicated his partner will be someone with previous experience in major league broadcasting.

The 65-year-old Hoyt, a former New York Yankees pitching star, has both ardent fans and bitter critics among the thousands who follow the Reds' fortunes on radio.

While Sommerkamp declined to comment on reports about his future, Hoyt said in Los Angeles, "You might say my status is in a suspended state at this time."

The future of Hoyt's partner, Claude Sullivan, also remained unclear. Sullivan came here last year from Louisville, Ky.

Casey Should Be Back On His Feet By Friday

NEW YORK (AP) — Indomitable old Casey Stengel, his left hip held together by a metal ball following successful surgery for a displaced fracture, looked forward today to being back on his feet and walking with the aid of a cane by the end of the week.

Stengel, who'll be 75 Friday, was expected to remain in Roosevelt Hospital for three weeks.

Dr. Peter LaMotte, club physician of the New York Mets, headed a team of orthopedic surgeons who performed the 45-minute operation on the elderly manager Tuesday.

Dr. LaMotte said the use of a metal ball instead of the conventional pin as a coupling device would enable Stengel to walk sooner. The operation was described as not complex but, because of Casey's age, a serious one.

Casey's wife, Edna, flew from their Glendale, Calif. home to be at her husband's side before the operation.

Stengel suffered the injury early Sunday morning following a party for oldtimers of the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants. The Mets had honored the oldtimers at Shea Stadium Saturday afternoon.

Dr. LaMotte said he thought the manager had injured himself getting out of a car. "I think he twisted his hip," the physician said. "He complained of pain before going to bed that night, and when he got up, the pain was more severe."

New U. S. Open champion Gary Player tied for 23rd place in the 1964 event with 295 and won $475. This year he shot 282, beat Kel Nagle in a playoff and earned $26,000.

Newell Scores 12-6 Hot Stove Victory

Newell came up with seven runs in the first inning and easily scored a 12-6 victory over Lawrenceville Tuesday in a South Side Hot Stove Senior League game.

Gary McNichol was the winning hurler and gave up four hits while fanning eight batters. Jim Durham's triple and single paced Newell at the plate. Lawrenceville committed eight errors as three hurlers went to the hill for the losers.

Browns Recall Memories About Past Star Games

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—As the Cleveland Browns near the College All-Star Game at Soldier Field in Chicago Aug. 6, a variety of memories are recalled about games—college and professional—played there in the past.

Pleasant memories were recalled at the Browns' training camp Tuesday by quarterback Jim Ninowski. He clicked with receiver Bobby Mitchell for two touchdown passes as the Detroit Lions fell to the collegians in 1958. Mitchell and Ninowski won co-honors for being the most valuable players in the game.

Fullback Jim Brown has mixed memories about games played at the Chicago field.

The first game there was with the collegians in 1957—the year Brown rode the bench most of the game. He says the experience was irritating but made him more determined to become an outstanding pro football player.

High School Defeats Central Nine By 8-5

The High School nine defeated Central School, 8-5, in a Southern Division game in the Playground League Tuesday.

J. Pittenger led the High School with three hits and M. Blankenship blasted a triple and single. Steve Staley had four hits in a losing cause.

Returns To Ring

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Undefeated middleweight boxer Jimmy Lester returns to ring action tonight in a rematch against former junior middleweight champion Denny Moyer of Portland at Kezar Pavilion.

A DEALER needs cars and pick-ups. Must be exceptionally sharp. Will pay cash or if payments too high will trade back to older model — finance balances paid off. "Say," why not trade back to one of the most economical cars in the world for approximately $1 a day. You can trade your big costly operating car for a like new Volkswagen with operating on 1c per mile, 5.3 pints of the best oil, get up to 43.2 miles on regular gas, up to 100,000 miles on your first set of tires, also in replacing a new rear fender costs only $18.95, insurance is much, much less on a Volkswagen. Make us prove it. You eliminate water pump, radiator, anti-freeze, hose, clamps, drive shaft assembly. It's a rear end air cooled engine. You can almost trade year for year for the price of power steering, power brakes, power windows, power seat, and automatic on your big costly operating car. Volkswagen has the lowest depreciation, providing you keep it sharp, highest trade in value, and it starts at $1,563 P.O.E. and up. You pay less and save 50c out of every $1 when you drive a Volkswagen versus a big costly operating car. Why not join the millions of people who are driving the Volkswagen. There must be a reason. Come in, write, or call and talk to our courteous salesmen. SEE your local representative Mr. CHUCK RINESTINE. See it — Drive it — Just try it. —There goes another Volkswagen. Why does he drive a Volkswagen? Ask the man who owns one. Beaver Valley Volkswagen, 294 State St., Vanport, Beaver, Pa. Your factory dealer, only 20 miles from East Liverpool, Ohio on Pa. Rt. 68. 775-4550.

P. S. PARTS AVAILABLE IMMEDIATELY or on tap within 24 hours. Service almost immediately. Call Mr. Charles Coen, your local man from Wellsville and our service manager or Mr. Earl King, parts manager for more information.

Stone Age Tribe

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — A hitherto unknown primitive tribe which still uses stone age implements has been discovered living on the northern fringe of the fast desert wastes of Southwest Africa.

The discovery was made by a scientific expedition from the Windhoek Museum. They made a brief film of the bushy-haired tribesmen, all of whom were just over 5 feet tall.

Interpreters had extreme difficulty in understanding the tribesmen, who spoke a strange, previously unheard, Herero dialect.

The men of the tribe are able to skin a buck in minutes using their stone (quartz) cutting tools.

Junior Editors Quiz on BODY ENERGY

QUESTION: How does the body renew its energy?

ANSWER: Our bodies are wonderful machines which work for us, making it possible for us to do the things we want—such as climbing a mountain top (big picture). The boys will need a lot of energy for their climb. Where are they going to get it?

The boys themselves are giving the main answer: from food. Food is a kind of body fuel. After being digested, it reaches the millions of body cells and oxidizes, or burns slowly. This releases the energy we need for everything we do. Oxidation also heals our bodies and does something no machine can do—it gives energy to repair worn-out tissues and build new ones. Sleep is another way in which the body renews energy. Yet digestion goes on; a supply of energy is piled up for later use. Exercise helps too, because it speeds up the body processes, including those which make energy. Before getting together for their climb, each of the boys had a long night's sleep. They're getting their food and they are going to have a lot of exercise. They'll make it to the top!

FOR YOU DO: It's fun to eat, but even more fun to eat in the open air. Try an outdoor cookout, making your own fireplace (be very sure to put the fire out afterward). Our picture shows three types of fireplaces often built by experienced campers.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1932, Maj. Gen. Douglas MacArthur, acting under White House orders, drove the veterans' "Bonus Army" from Washington. The veterans, originally 10,000 strong, had camped in makeshift shacks in an effort to force immediate payment of a cash bonus to which they were entitled on less immediate terms.

On this date

In 1750, composer Johann Sebastian Bach died.

In 1829, a steam carriage invented by Sir Goldsworth Gurney traveled from London to Bath, England, and back at 15 miles an hour.

In 1896, Miami, Florida was incorporated with a population of 260.

In 1914, Austria declared war on Serbia at the opening of World War I.

In 1946, Gen. Charles de Gaulle urged an alliance between France and Britain to help offset the emergence of United States and Russia as the two major world powers.

Ten years ago — Three dishonorably discharged soldiers, who had renounced the United States for life in Red China two years before, arrived in San Francisco.

Five years ago—The Federal Reserve Board declared that its reduction in margin requirements for buying common stocks was not ordered to bolster stock prices or to stimulate credit and speculation.

One year ago—President John F. Kennedy's widow, Jacqueline, announced she had bought a cooperative apartment on New York's 5th Avenue.

The world's longest natural bridge is the Landscape Arch in Utah, which spans 291 feet about 100 feet above the canyon floor.

Greek Premier Bids To Line Up Confidence Vote

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Premier George Athanasiadis Novas sparred for time today in an effort to mobilize a majority in Parliament for the vote of confidence his government needs to survive.

The new premier, named by King Constantine 13 days ago to replace ousted Premier George Papandreou, had been generally expected to go before Parliament Thursday to ask for the confidence vote. But political sources said he now did not plan to make the request until Friday.

After opening formalities and a statement by the new premier, the 300-member Parliament was expected to recess for the weekend, postponing the confidence vote debate until Monday. The debate could last three or four days.

Man Freed From Prison Thanks One Who Saved Him

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — When short, wiry Richard Reilly walked out of the Tennessee State Prison a free man, one of the first things he did was go to the man who spared his life 18 years ago.

Reilly, gray at 38, had a job, a diploma, and a $300 college scholarship waiting for him.

First he wanted to thank former Gov. James McCord, "who had tears in his eyes the first time he met me around Easter in 1947.

"I just barged in the house like it was home," said Reilly in an interview Tuesday night.

"Gov. McCord seemed happy to see me. It was a far cry from our first meeting when he made me realize how final death is."

It was after this meeting that McCord commuted Reilly's death sentence to life imprisonment. The commutation came just 25 minutes before Reilly was to have walked to the electric chair.

McCord, now 86, appeared before the State Board of Pardon and Paroles two months ago to plead for Reilly's release on parole. His request was granted Tuesday.

Reilly, a native of Pittsburgh, Pa., was 20 years old when he was convicted of murdering a Memphis clothing store salesman. Until five years ago, prison officials say he was a troublemaker. Once he escaped. He spent three years in solitary confinement.

When Harry Avery became Tennessee corrections commissioner, he interviewed Reilly and released him from solitary.

"Gov. McCord saved my life, but Commissioner Avery gave me a chance to make something out of it," Reilly said.

Reilly began educating himself. Soon he was teaching other convicts such subjects as trigonometry, a course in which he scored 99 of a possible 100 by correspondence.

He recently won the college scholarship from the American School in Chicago in recognition of his outstanding grades — a four-year average of 94.

Hit By Car, Dies

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP)—John Morgan, 8, of Marietta died in Memorial Hospital Tuesday of injuries he received earlier in the day when struck by a car on Ohio 60 at the south edge of Lowell, 10 miles northwest of here.

Bailiffs Should Have Gun, Sheriff Claims

CLEVELAND, (AP) — Cuyahoga County Sheriff James J. McGettrick believes all court bailiffs should be armed and deputized.

The sheriff made the suggestion Tuesday after the shooting of Mrs. Ruth Lowe, 35, by her husband at Lakeside Courthouse Monday shortly before the couple's divorce case was to have been heard. John Lowe, 50, surrendered Tuesday and was held for investigation. His wife was hospitalized in satisfactory condition.

Johnson's Daughter Will Attend Texas U.

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Lynda Bird Johnson, older daughter of the President, will attend the University of Texas for her senior year, officials of her sorority said Tuesday.

Zeta Tau Alpha Alumna, Mrs. George Covert, a member of the corporation which owns the Zeta house, said, "We definitely are planning on her staying in the sorority house."

Housing Bill

Questions, Answers On Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are some questions and answers on major provisions of the housing bill awaiting President Johnson's signature, with its new feature of rent subsidies.

Q. Will the government pay part of the rent for everybody who thinks he needs a bigger or better apartment or house than he can afford?

A. No. In the first place, only those families whose income is low enough to qualify them for the present kinds of public housing would be eligible.

Q. How much is that?

A. The figure varies from place to place and according to family size. Local housing authorities set the level in each community. A family that meets this income test, is inadequately housed, or elderly or handicapped, or has lost its housing because of official condemnation of property or natural disaster, would be eligible for the subsidies.

Q. How much help would this mean?

A. The family would pay rent equivalent to 25 per cent of its income. The subsidy would cover the difference between that figure and a fair rent for safe and sanitary housing.

Q. The government would just pay the family's landlord the difference?

A. Not to just any landlord — no private landlord renting property for profit. The payments could be made to groups like churches, cooperatives, labor unions or limited-dividend organizations building or owning moderate cost housing. Part of the idea is to encourage such groups to build housing. The present bill would help finance 375,000 family units.

Q. Does the bill do anything else for inadequately housed people?

A. Several things. For example, there is a program of grants to impoverished homeowners to help them make their rundown properties livable. Those with annual incomes of $3,000 or less could get a grant of up to $1,500. The bill also provides for 240,000 units of public housing, with a new feature intended to provide housing quickly: up to 100,000 of these units could be obtained by purchase or rent of existing housing.

Q. How about the ordinary home owner or would-be home owner?

A. In general, existing housing, mortgage guarantee and similar programs are continued. There is a new plan of FHA-insured homes for servicemen and veterans with reduced down payments and a new plan for rural housing loans. An extra $150 million for direct loans for housing for the elderly also is provided.

Q. Does the legislation do anything about city improvement and real estate development?

A. A number of things. There are grants for urban beautification and land improvement, an additional $325 million for acquisition of land to be kept in open spaces, a new mortgage assistance program to assist in assembling tracts for development — and the urban renewal programs for slum clearance and the like are continued.

Man To Face Hearing After Skidding Wreck

An Irondale man escaped injury, but was cited for driving left of center and operating an unsafe vehicle by the Wintersville state patrol following a skidding mishap on Rt. 213, about a mile and a half south of Wellsville Tuesday at 2:05 p. m.

Officers said Thurman Allgood, 33, of Box 243 Irondale, was traveling west when he slid off the right side of the road, striking two poles and a gas pump located on the Aqua Club boat landing property and owned by Orville Howell of Irondale.

Officers estimated $150 in property damage and $100 in damages to Allgood's auto.

Allgood is to be given a hearing Tuesday before Squire A. H. Evans of Toronto.

Will Open To Traffic

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Nine miles of a 21-mile stretch of U.S. 30 under construction between Interstate 71 and the intersection of U.S. 250 west of Wooster will open to traffic in October, a month ahead of schedule, officials announced Tuesday.

Michigan, in 1847, was the first state to abolish capital punishment.

Pitt Post Quit By Litchfield

PITTSBURGH — Dr. Edward H. Litchfield resigned Tuesday as chancellor of the University of Pittsburgh.

He gave no specific reason himself for the action, but a medical report issued with his resignation said he was "strongly advised" to seek less strenuous activity.

Dr. Litchfield suffered a heart attack May 22 and at the time took a vacation in the Virgin Islands to recuperate.

Joseph G. Colangelo Jr., Pitt's public relations director, announced the resignation during a news conference at the Cathedral of Learning.

Dr. Litchfield, 51, became the university's 12th chancellor 10 years ago.

He has been under attack in recent months by several of Pitt's trustees, who charge he permitted the institution's financial structure to deteriorate to a crisis position.

Dawson Selected For Playlot Post

Robert G. Dawson, East Liverpool High School assistant basketball coach, has been appointed playgrounds director for the East Liverpool Recreation Council.

The Summitville slate is headed by Ernest Phillips, seeking a new term as nayor.

The board reminded the nonpartisan candidates for small villages, township and school district posts that the deadline for filing is next Wednesday, Aug. 4.

Automation Takes Over Job Of Winding Clock

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — No longer need George Bewig trudge up five flights of steep, winding stairs inside an ancient church spire to crank up the city clock.

Automation has taken over and the 62-year-old town clock winder is glad. "It's a wearisome task," he says.

"I had to first crank up the weights that strike the gong — and they weigh 1,200 pounds. Then, I had to crank up the weight that runs the clock itself — it weighs 175 pounds.

"Doing both of these each week — well, it isn't easy," said Bewig, who is 6 feet tall and weighs 200 pounds.

Bewig, a jeweler whose family firm was founded in 1871 by an uncle, has not missed a week in the three years he has been climbing the tower stairs at the First Presbyterian church to wind and adjust the clock.

Since 1857, the city has been paying someone to do this job.

I've been trying to get them to install an electrically powered gear system," said Bewig, whose clock-winder salary is $150 yearly.

"The city couldn't afford it until they put in a recent one-cent sales tax increase. Now, they can pay for the changeover."

The changeover will cost the city about $1,000 — double the amount paid 118 years ago for the original clock.

Bewig is not out of a job — he will continue to maintain the clock.

"If a power failure occurs, it will have to be set to the correct time, and it will still need maintenance and oiling. Now, I'll only have to go up about once every two or three months."

Drivers Aren't Hurt As Autos Sideswipe

No injuries or arrests were reported following a two-car collision on Hollow Rock Rd., about three miles south of Wellsville, Tuesday at 11:10 p.m., the Wintersville state patrol said.

Cars driven by Kenneth Tharp, 28, of Toronto and Robert Ray Morrison, 24, of Rogers sideswiped when they met on a narrow bridge, officers said.

Tharp was traveling south and Morrison north. Moderate damage was sustained by both cars.

Police Given Report On Theft At Millinery

Approximately $200 in cash and some stock was taken from the Kormos Millinery shop, 206 E. 5th St, over the weekend, police were told in a belated report Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Doris Farnsworth, an employe, discovered the theft Monday morning, Mrs. Shirley McBurney, owner, told officers. The money was taken from a drawer, but Police Capt. R. B. Pyle and Patrolman C. A. Winters said there were no indications of forcible entry.

Some stock also is missing, Mrs. McBurney told the officers.

Records Are Set By National Steel

PITTSBURGH — The National Steel Corp. attained all-time quarterly records for sales and shipments in the second quarter, ended June 30. Chairman Paul H. Carnahan has announced.

In addition, Carnahan disclosed, the company established records for any second quarter in net earnings and ingot production. In each case, second quarter performance was exceeded only by the 1964 fourth quarter earnings and ingot production.

"This record - setting performance," Carnahan said, "was due in part to the very high level of steel consumption by a booming American economy, in part to inventory accumulation by our customers against the uncertainties of a protracted labor contract negotiation, and in part to National Steel's readiness for such unprecedented demand as a result of its continued heavy capital spending for modern, high-capacity equipment."

Net income, after all charges, for the second quarter was $24,413,726, equal to $1.55 per share. This was an increase of 18 per cent over net income of $20,632,851, or $1.32 per share, for the second 1964 quarter.

First half net income of $47,166,811, was 21 per cent greater than first half 1964 earnings, which totalled $39,086,139. Per share earnings for the 1965 first half were $3, compared with $2.50 per share for the comparable 1964 period.

Washington Attorney In Line For Top Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House has knocked down reports that Washington attorney Abe Fortas is in line for an important appointment. Or has it?

Press secretary Bill D. Moyers said Monday Fortas has told President Johnson repeatedly he does not want any government post. Moyers elaborated Tuesday by saying he knew Fortas has turned down two offers and repeated he is not interested in any post in the government.

But Moyers added, with a smile, "I also want to make clear I've done the same thing. My arm was not twisted. I don't know how I got here, but here I am."

All Four Aboard Navy Plane Killed In Crash

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP) — All four men aboard a U.S. Navy patrol plane were killed when it crashed into the sea Monday just after taking off from Kindley Air Force Base.

The four-engine plane, a T3A Orion, burst into flames and narrowly missed some oil tanks before it plunged into 50 feet of water.

The names of the dead were withheld until next of kin were notified.

Vote On 2 Bond Issues

CINCINNATI (AP) — Hamilton County voters will have a chance this fall to vote on two bond issues to help hospitals in the county.

One will be to add 37.4 cents per $1,000 tax evaluation for 23 years to help build and equip new hospitals. The other is a 39.4 mill levy for five years to help pay for the upkeep of three existing hospitals and to aid child welfare. County commissioners voted Tuesday to put both on the ballot.

Payne is free on $3,000 bond.

STAY ALIVE IN '65!

A 17-year-old Salem youth was injured fatally late Tuesday night when his car collided head - on with a tractor - trailer truck on Route 62, west of Salem.

A Rogers woman and her son were hurt in another mishap early today near Wellsville.

Richard Arthur Girard of 368 Columbia St., Salem, was pronounced dead at Salem City Hospital with fractures of the neck, jaw and leg.

THE OHIO Highway Patrol at Lisbon said his 1960 sedan was headed east on Route 62, about 1½ miles west of Salem, when it went left of the center line and rammed an oncoming rig operated by Glenn Charles Hayes, 38, of Canton. The crash occurred at 11:55 p. m.

The car and the 1957 tractor were demolished in the collision, officers said. Hayes was taken to Salem Central Clinic for treatment of back injuries.

The youth, a gas station attendant, was the son of Mrs. Esther Girard. He would have been a senior at Salem High School.

His death was the 20th road fatality in Columbiana County this year, compared with 12 at this time in 1964. There have been six killed on county roads so far this month. Another Salem youth — Kenneth Konnerth, 16—was killed in a one-car mishap on Route 9 just 10 days ago.

Mrs. Grace McLeod, 34, of Rogers R.D. 1 was in "good" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered when the car in which she was a passenger overturned along a curve of Route 45 at 2:25 a. m. today.

SHE WAS in a car driven by Helen Olexa, 38, of 152 Belmont Court, Toronto, whose 1956 sedan was demolished in the mishap about five miles north of Wellsville.

The patrol said she veered off a curve and the auto overturned on an embankment, landing on its wheels.

Mrs. McLeod received bruises of the hand, abrasions of the leg and shoulder and possible back and neck injuries.

The driver was treated for bruises of the arm and Ronald McLeod was treated for abrasions of the right forearm.

The driver was charged with speeding.

Robert John Nelson, 19, of Steubenville was cited for speeding after his car rammed the rear of another on Route 30 in the Substation area yesterday morning at 8:25.

Officers said his car hit the rear of one operated by Raymond Larrick, 47, of Akron. Damage was minor.

Johnson Takes Action

Doubling Of Draft Calls Ordered In Viet Step-Up

U.S. Planes Hit Reds In North Viet

First Direct Attack In Sector Made To Protect Airman

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. warplanes made their first announced direct attack on North Vietnamese troops in North Viet Nam today. They strafed an advancing Communist force to protect a downed pilot until he could be lifted to safety by helicopter.

The action 65 miles north of the border followed by 24 hours the first American aerial strikes at Soviet-supplied missile bases in the Hanoi area.

Military spokesmen said five U.S. Air Force F105 fighter-bombers were lost on the strikes Tuesday. Pilots reported they destroyed one missile site and damaged another about 40 miles northwest of Hanoi.

The spokesmen said three of the jets were shot down by conventional ground fire and two others crashed after colliding near their home base as they returned from the raids.

Planes involved in the action against the North Vietnamese troops were Navy fighter-bombers from the carrier Midway, a spokesman said. Newsmen were told mechanical trouble forced down a Navy A4 Skyhawk during raids on a group of bridges. The pilot parachuted.

North Vietnamese soldiers moved up a hill toward the plane but were held off by rocket-and cannon-fire of a half-dozen Navy Skyraiders, the spokesman said. Casualties, if any, among the troops were not determined.

A U.S. Air Force helicopter picked up the pilot. He was reported in good condition.

Meantime, U.S. Marines and Vietnamese troops joined in a sweep under guerrilla fire through rice paddies 60 miles south of Da Nang in an attempt to smash Viet Cong forces estimated to total three battalions. They overran the village of Duc An in a sweep toward the sea from a helicopter landing zone inland.

The Marines killed 12 Viet Cong and captured three. American and Vietnamese casualties were termed light.

First news of the strike against the missile sites came from the Pentagon in Washington Tuesday. Briefing officers here added some details today.

Two of the pilots whose planes were shot down were presumed to have been killed or captured, an announcement said, while the third was rescued.

The pilots of the two planes which collided were presumed to have been killed, the announcement said.

Missile Site Bombing May Spur Escalation Of War

Chips May Be Down Soon For Russians In Viet Nam

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

The time may be near when the chips will be down for the Russians in the Viet Nam crisis.

The Pentagon announcement that U.S. bombers knocked out an antiaircraft missile site and damaged another in North Viet Nam could mean a big step has been taken in escalation of the war. The Soviets' installed the sites and probably are manning them.

From all appearances, this is the sort of development the Russians feared. The Kremlin felt obliged to install antiaircraft missiles sites in North Viet Nam to demonstrate its willingness to aid a brother Communist regime. Now the sites have been attacked. Will it mean another confrontation similar to the 1962 Cuban missile crisis when Nikita Khrushchev backed away from a brink-of-war situation?

The development can cause trouble in the Kremlin, already involved in jockeying as the result of internal and external pressures.

Perhaps a large section of the Communist world has banked on years of U.S. involvement in a costly Vietnamese war. Peking, at least, seemed to be gambling on it. Red China could afford to be patient, to look upon attrition as a useful tool against the United States and at the same time against Soviet influence in Asia.

Up to now, at relatively small expense, Red China seemed the principal beneficiary of a prolonged war. It would seem that the longer the localized conflict, the more Peking stood to gain through the losses of others.

The United States so far has paid a price in men, material, prestige and propaganda setbacks, in prospective domestic dislocations from increasingly heavy commitments, in quarrelling at home over policy, in the diffusion of U.S. forces and in the impact on U.S. alliances.

Quotas Due Increasing To 35,000

President Declares Reserves Not Now Needed In Strategy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson announced today that monthly draft calls will be more than doubled — from 17,000 to 35,000 — in order to help increase the U.S. military forces in South Viet Nam from 75,000 to 125,000 men.

Johnson, reporting to the nation on Viet Nam policy talks, told a news conference that "additional forces will be needed later and they will be sent."

But he said he has concluded there is no need at this time to mobilize military reserve units or call any National Guard forces to active duty.

"If that necessity should later be indicated," he said, "I will give the matter careful consideration, and I will give the country due and adequate notice before acting."

Expressing American determination in Viet Nam, Johnson said: "We will not surrender. And we will not retreat."

The news conference was held in the East Room of the White House, and was carried into millions of homes by radio and television.

As he has many times before, the President spoke of eagerness to promote peace in Southeast Asia, and he announced an initial assignment for Arthur J. Goldberg, the new U.S. ambassador to the United Nations. He said:

"I have directed Ambassador Goldberg to go to New York immediately and to present to the secretary-general a letter from me requesting that all the resources, energy and immense prestige of the United Nations be employed to find ways to halt aggression and bring peace in Viet Nam."

Speaking of his own dreams as President, Johnson said he wants to promote education,

Governors To Meet President Thursday

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Gov. Grant Sawyer of Nevada announced today that the country's governors will hold a three-hour conference at the White House Thursday with President Johnson on the Viet Nam situation.

Sawyer, chairman of the National Governors Conference, told his colleagues to be ready to leave early Thursday afternoon for a 5 p.m., Washington time, briefing by the President.

Johnson To Get Measure

Health Care Bill Due Senate's OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill providing a new health-care system for the elderly and other sweeping increases in Social Security comes up for a final Senate vote today, with leaders predicting approval by a margin of at least 3 to 1.

Passage would send the legislation to President Johnson, who has placed a top-priority tag on the measure.

The House passed Tuesday, 307 to 116, the compromise version of legislation embodying the greatest single expansion of Social Security ever voted. The health-care portion ends a generation of effort in Congress to write such a provision into the Social Security System.

The Senate took up the measure Tuesday but held up the final vote until today so that some absentees could be on hand.

Sponsors said they were certain Johnson would sign the bill this month, probably Thursday or Friday, so that the increases in present Social Security benefits can come in September.

The $6.5-billion bill contains broad new health protection available to all 19 million Americans 65 or over as a matter of right and at small cost.

It also increases all present Social Security checks — for retirees, disabled persons and family survivors — by 7 per cent, retroactive to Jan. 1. Checks going to 20 million beneficiaries will be increased.

Everyone is guaranteed an increase of at least $4 a month. An individual who has been receiving the present retirement minimum, $40, will get $44. One who has been receiving the maximum, $127, will have his check increased to $135.90. Couples in which the wife also is of retirement age get 50 per cent above the single person's figure in each case.

The pay-roll tax is increased to help pay for the benefit expansions.

The health program is in two parts:

1. A basic plan financed under Social Security covering hospital stays, posthospital nursing-home care, outpatient hospital diagnostic services, and some health visits.

2. A voluntary supplemental insurance plan covering doctors' fees for services at home, in the office or the hospital, as well as some other services not included in the basic plan.

Nearly all features of this program take effect July 1 next year.

Heath Chosen New Head Of British Party

Conservative Set For Onslaught On Labor Government

LONDON (AP) — Edward Heath took control of Britain's Conservative party today at a critical stage in British politics, signaling a furious onslaught on the embattled Labor government.

Heath's two declared rivals, Reginald Maudling and Enoch Powell, withdrew from the race. The withdrawals came after Heath, on a first ballot of Conservative members of the House of Commons, won 150 of the 298 votes cast Tuesday.

The party's new rules required the winner to poll both a majority and 15 per cent more than the runner-up. Although he had the majority, Heath lacked the 15 per cent because Maudling polled 133 votes. But the latter bowed out and promised to fully support Heath.

New trials emerged for Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Laborites, who rule with a majority of only three votes in Commons.

Wilson's financial executive, Chancellor of the Exchequer James Callaghan, announced a series of urgent economic measures. Callaghan ordered tighter controls on mortgages and installment buying, cuts in government spending both at home and abroad, and a general squeeze on public and private spending.

His purpose was to accelerate the process of balancing Britain's trade and so maintain the value of the pound sterling. The new program was sure to cause grumbling among the voters.

Heath, 49, will make his first real assault on the government as opposition chief next Tuesday.

Up for debate is a Conservative motion deploring the 7 per cent increase in the cost of living since Labor turned the Tories out last October. If the government loses the censure vote, it will have to resign.

Truck Mishap Hurts Beaver County Driver

Melvin Rowley, 27, of Industry R.D. was in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with possible back injuries received in a truck mishap.

Driver for the T. B. Ferguson Trucking Co., of Darlington, Pa., he was admitted to the hospital at 10 a. m. Authorities lacked details of the accident, but said it occurred in southern Beaver County.

The company reported his truck went into a ditch along Route 168 between Laughlin's Corners and Frankfort Springs.

Father, 4 Children Killed In 2-Car Crash

BLUFFTON, Ind. (AP)—William Caley and his four children died in a traffic accident Tuesday night at the same intersection where his parents and three other persons were killed nearly six years ago.

Police said Caley's car collided with another at the intersection of Ind. 116 and Ind. 303, 10 miles northwest of Bluffton. Caley's wife and the other driver were injured.

The Caleys, of Markle Ind., were en route to a 4H fair in Bluffton, where the children were showing livestock.

Caley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Caley, were killed in an auto collision at the same intersection Sept. 17, 1959, as they returned from a Bluffton fair.

School, Liquor Sale Bills

2 Big Ohio Issues Face Showdown

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two of the biggest issues of the legislative session headed for a showdown today in the Ohio House.

Representatives were scheduled to vote on Senate amendments to the veto-threatened school foundation bill and the hotly contested measure to permit restricted sale of liquor on Sunday.

The school bill was considered the biggest roadblock to final adjournment, which the lawmakers had hoped would come this week.

Its fate was clouded again Tuesday when Finance Director Richard Krabach warned of an impending veto by Gov. James A. Rhodes unless the House took out $9 million added to the bill by the Senate Finance Committee.

Krabach said the additional money would force local governments to hike their taxes. Members of the Senate committee said money would be available to cover the increase and described the finance director's remarks as "ill advised."

The bill, as passed by the Senate, would earmark $634 million for Ohio school districts in the 1965-67 biennium.

House leaders called the controversial liquor bill up for a vote but announced preparation of an amendment which would limit sales to the state's two largest counties — Cuyahoga and Hamilton.

The Senate-approved measure, as recommended by the House Liquor Committee, would allow Sunday sales after 1 p.m. in counties of 200,000 or more population, subject to approval at local elections.

The amendment expected to be offered today would restrict sales to counties of 800,000 or more population.

In rapid fire order, the Senate approved two and a half dozen bills Tuesday in a bid to clear its decks.

Among them was a House-passed measure providing increases in the pensions of Ohio's three state retirement systems. An etimated 50,000 retired employes would receive $10 monthly increases this year under the proposal.

Housing Bill Due Approval Of President

Measure Expected To Be Given Swift Presidential Okay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Only President Johnson's signature was needed today to put into law a housing bill that includes the first program of rent subsidies to aid low-income families.

Swift presidential approval was expected for the $7.5-billion measure which follows the main lines of Johnson's housing recommendations to Congress earlier in the year.

The bill, given final congressional clearance by a 251-168 House vote Tuesday, provides new money and authorizations for the major government housing programs over the next four years.

The rent subsidy proposal makes available $350 million over a four-year period to help some of the families eligible for public housing.

In effect, the program would provide an alternative for publicly financed housing developments for such persons. Eligible low-income families — the standards would vary from place to place — who are occupying substandard housing, or are elderly or handicapped, or have been displaced from their

Was Severed By Train, Re-Implanted

Youth, 15, Breaks Arm That Made Medical News

BOSTON (AP) — Everett Knowles, 15, has broken one of the most important right arms in medical hsitory.

The frisky, freckle-faced teenager, whose arm was cut off more than three years ago by a wheel of a slow work train but was then successfully re-implanted, fell recently from a stone wall — and landed on the still highly sensitive arm.

The Associated Press has learned that the boy was then rushed to the Massachusetts General Hospital where some of the surgeons who performed the original operation re-examined the arm.

They worked late into the night a week ago Tuesday and found that the arm had been broken less than an inch from where it had been torn from his body in the freight yard accident.

It was on May 23, 1962 that the doctors had performed what is believed to be the first operation in which a human limb was successfully rejoined to the body. Since then there have been several others.

The hospital confirmed today that young Knowles will have to remain hospitalized for several weeks because of the break and a knee injury also suffered in the fall.

Knowles said he and some friends had gone out for the evening and were sitting on damp grass on the side of a monument in his hometown of Somerville, near Boston, when he slipped and fell.

He said, in an interview, he dropped about 12 feet to the pavement and as he hit, thought, "My God, the arm."

"I knew I had hurt it because I couldn't straighten it out anymore," Knowles said. "Actually the bang on the knee hurt more than the arm."

A spokesman for the surgical-medical team at the hospital said it now appears that the bone break, a crack in the upper forearm, will probably have no effect on the long re-implantation process.

"The arm had become so strongly re-implanted that the

Youth Seized After Taking $120 At Home

A 17-year-old Pennsylvania youth was apprehended shortly after committing a burglary in an East End home early today.

The youth, who resides in Smiths Ferry, entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cledith Miller, 2218 Crawford Ave., while they were sleeping about 3 a. m. and took $120 in cash from the pocket of Miller's trousers.

The youth was spotted taking the money by Mrs. Miller, who had awakened. He then fled.

The money, six $20 bills, was recovered when the youth was picked up a short time later near the Pennsylvania - Ohio state line.

Police said the front door at the home was not locked at the time of entry.

Police were called and Pa-

Visits City's Negro Area

Dr. King In Cleveland To Press Voter Signup

CLEVELAND (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., after breakfast at dawn today with area clergymen, prepared to visit the city's Negro area to encourage voter registration.

The integration leader planned to spend the second day of his two - day Cleveland visit in appearances at shopping centers, street rallies and indoor rally before leaving tonight for Philadelphia. This is the second of four northern cities King will visit.

The Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, King's assistant, addressed a rally of some 2,000 persons at a recreation center Tuesday night, calling for a "grand alliance of labor, civil rights groups and religious organizations."

He said the main goal of the alliance "is to attack the primary problems of education and police brutality."

"We are ready to go to jail in Cleveland and we will stand with you and do whatever you want us to do—as long as you want us to," he said. "They had better get the Cleveland jails clean."

At a meeting with seven Cleveland civil rights groups before the rally, King pledged himself and his Southern Christian Leadership Conference to a massive Negro voter-registration drive in Cleveland.

He said the aim is to use the polls to remove all city officials and members of the Cleveland Board of Education who are considered against the civil rights movement.

King arrive in Cleveland Tuesday from Chicago, accompanied by 10 civil rights leaders.

At a news conference at Cleveland Hopkins International Airport, King said he wanted "to find out what type and quality of leadership there is in Cleveland."

He mentioned the possibility of a civil rights march here, but said "one had not been decided on at the moment." King led some 10,000 demonstrators through downtown Chicago the day before arriving here.

During his Cleveland stay, the 36-year-old 1964 Nobel Peace Prize winner will review Cleveland problems which aides summarized for him in advance.

He said increased Negro voter registration is "necessary here in Cleveland because the Negro has felt for a long time that he has nothing for which to vote in Northern cities.

Leaders "should articulate to the Negroes that the vote is the way to solve many problems of deprivation," King said.

Retired Generals See Need Of More Force In Viet Nam

By The Associated Press

Some retired American generals who fought the Communists in Korea believe greater force is needed to bring victory in Viet Nam.

Four of the generals say there should be a single armed forces command for U.S. and South Vietnamese troops.

One of the generals, Edward M. Almond, favors use of atomic bombs if "needed to protect our troops."

Gens. Mark Clark and John E. Hull say there is no present need for such a weapon in Viet Nam. However, Clark says he might change this view if there is increased participation by an outside Communist power, such as Red China.

The four generals — Almond, Clark, Hull and Matthew Ridgway—made their comments on Tuesday's 12th anniversary of the Korean armistice, in response to an Associated Press survey.

Clark, 69, was supreme Allied commander when he signed the Korean armistice in 1953. Almond, 72, commanded the 10th Army Corps which was hit by the first Communist attack in Korea.

Hull, 70, succeeded Clark as commander of U.N. forces in the Far East.

Ridgway, 70, was former U.N. commander in Korea during the fighting.

Glenmoor Man Fined Here For 'Wrecker's' Condition

A Glenmoor man charged with driving an unsafe vehicle—an auto wrecker -- was fined $10 and costs at a hearing today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Eugene P. Bowyer of the Y. & O. Rd. pleaded guilty to the charge filed by the State Highway Patrol.

Bowyer was operating a wrecker owned by Robert's Sunoco of Route 30 at the scene of an accident on County Rd. 424 the night of July 19. The investigating patrolman noticed the wrecked did not have tail lights in operation.

The officer said he checked and found the wrecker also did not have stop lights, clearance lights, a windshield and the door glass on the right side of the cab was cracked bad enough to cause some view obstruction.

The judge commented that the wrecker seemed to be in worse shape than the car it was sent to tow. He warned Bowyer to make sure the wrecker is in good condition before he uses it again, pointing out, "You are the one that got stuck with the fine."

One of the drivers involved in the accident also was fined. He is John F. Schmitt Jr. of the Cannons Mills Rd., who was charged with failure to yield half of the roadway.

He pleaded no contest and was fined $15 and costs. Schmitt said he swerved to avoid hitting something in the road and then struck an oncoming car. The patrol said he crossed over a double yellow line and hit the other vehicle head-on.

Raymond E. Humphrey, 34, of 1851 Smithfield St. was given a 10-day suspended jail sentence on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident. He was ordered to pay damages to Harold Moore, 47, of Dixonville, whose pickup truck was hit in the mishap Saturday at the intersection of Boyce St. and Pennsylvania Ave.

Humphrey was arraigned Monday, but the case was continued to allow him to obtain an attorney.

Humphrey testified he did not realize the truck had been hit by his car. Testimony showed damage was very minor.

Five members of the 1924 Washington Senators managed in the major leagues. They were Bucky Harris, Ossie Bluege, Roger Peckinpaugh, Herold (Muddy) Ruel and Walter Johnson.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Dieter Breaks Pattern Of Overeating

Ida Jean Kain

Food tastes are not unalterable, and a rambunctious appetite can be checked. One reader used a brief illness to launch a slimming program through improved nutrition. She reports:

"I was a compulsive eater from away back. It sounds ridiculous that I, a grown woman, could feel powerless to stop overeating when I knew it was endangering my health and ruining my looks — especially when it was something I didn't even want to eat. I know the books say your emotional life has much to do with eating compulsions, but as far as I can figure, I'm quite happy and contented. I'm not monstrous in size, but at 150 pounds for my short stature I looked messy and felt fat.

"BUT — I THINK I've licked my problem and I feel like an addict who's kicked the habit. It all began when I became ill and was confined to bed for a short time. For two days I felt so wretched, I couldn't stand the sight of food. When I started my regular meals again, I found I simply didn't want so much to eat. I decided to take advantage of this lull in appetite and to continue to eat very lightly. G'ory be, I have cut that ravenous appetite down to size. But most marvelous of all, I'm free of that horrible craving for something sweet that kept me nibbling long after mealtimes were over.

"From this experience I learned that one's food capacity can be lessened. I know that doctors do not recommend starvation diets, but I think if one can hold out a day or two without eating anything, this shrinks your stomach so that you then can feel contented on half the food you formerly consumed. I lost nine pounds in 10 days without really trying. Maybe this might help someone else, who knows"

LET'S ANALYZE what helped this dieter: For two days she had no desrie for food, and following this brief fast she ate lightly. She decided to take advantage of her lessened appetite . . . and continued to eat small meals, avoiding sweets.

It is true that the less you eat sweets, the less you crave sweets. You will want them at first, for nature takes a little time to adjust to change. But once you recognize the necessity of stopping the powerful stimulus to insulin secretion that is causing the craving, with its rebound to hunger, you're in the control tower. Nutrition knowledge is power when you put it into effect!

This dieter will be the winner if she decides to never again deliberately overeat. Overeating generally, or at any one meal, enlarges the stomach and increases food capacity. In short, overeating lessens resistance to overeating.

Talk with your own doctor about a two - day fast, followed by smaller meals.

West Virginian Tells Story Of How He Got Into Politics

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Harley O. Staggers, West Virginia Democrat who is in line to become chairman of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee, tells the story of how he got into politics.

"I was walking along the street at home some years ago when I overheard some friends talking about how they had just selected their candidate for county sheriff," he said.

"I continued walking but then decided to go back and ask them who the candidate would be. 'It's you,' they told me. That was the first I'd heard of it."

Staggers said he didn't take the matter seriously until more friends looked him up and told him they wanted him to run. He finally decided to go along with their proposal and then went on to win the election.

Staggers served as West Virginia's Mineral County sheriff from 1937 to 1941.

After World War II service as a naval aviation navigator, Staggers was elected to the 81st Congress in 1948.

He has been re-elected in eight consecutive elections, thus building up the seniority that placed him in line for the chairmanship of the Commerce Committee.

He also got an assist from Rep. John Bell Williams, the Mississippi Democrat who was stripped of his party seniority because he supported Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater last year.

Williams arrived in Congress one term earlier than Staggers. Except for the party disciplinary action he would have been in line for the chairmanship.

President Johnson's announcement Monday that he was nominating Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., Commerce Committee head, to be a judge in the U.S. District Court in Arkansas cleared the way for Staggers to move into the chairmanship when Harris leaves Capitol Hill.

The White House announcement said that Harris is expected to remain in Congress until the present session adjourns.

Desegregation In U.S. Farm Agencies Occurring Rapidly

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Behind the more dramatic forms of racial problems, desegregation has occurred quietly and rapidly in federal agricultural agencies and related activities over much of the South.

Dual staffs of agricultural extension services have been consolidated. Negroes have been named to state advisory committees and review posts for the first time. Functions of 4-H Clubs and home demonstration clubs are being placed on an unsegregated basis. Biracial committees judge 4-H Club records.

Some of Alabama's home demonstration clubs decided to disband rather than sign desegregation compliance forms. "We cannot see staying in the program under the present circumstances," said Mrs. Leo Pynes of Dupree, Ala. She was president of the Dupree clubs which disbanded in June.

Under the Civil Rights Act, federal employes, such as the county farm agent and home demonstration agent, cannot participate in segregated activities.

"This does not affect our work with individuals," said Dr. Fred Robertson, director of the Department of Agriculture Extension Service at Auburn University.

"It could have some far-reaching effects on our program and cause us to work with some groups, individuals, rather than county or statewide groups," Robertson said.

In 4-H Clubs, Robertson said, "we have to work with schools that either are desegregated or working under plans approved by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare."

These agencies have until Dec. 31 to come into full compliance with the law.

An Associated Press survey indicated, however, that most of the extension agencies in the South have moved into desegregation without trouble.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Sweetened Drinks Should Be Limited

Children and adults need to consume adequate liquids, especially during hot weather. But most of the soft drinks on the market are sweetened. The sugar they contain do harm to the teeth. Besides, it may contribute to excessive weight, or dull the appetite for amply balanced nutritious foods, or cause malnutrition. Some of the most frequently consumed soft drinks contain stimulating substance such as caffein.

Dr. Garry Myers

Parents who wouldn't think of letting their young children drink tea or coffee, think nothing of letting them have several bottles a day of pop which may be as stimulating to the nervous system as one or more cups of coffee.

SOME summer camps, which may supply the children in them with well-balanced meals, also make available many soft drinks and other sweets which the children buy, limited only by their spending money. Revenue from these sweets may go to provide special services or to add to the camp's profits.

During the last school year your child may have attended an elementary school where the children were taught in the classroom the value of well-balanced nutritious food. They were also taught to avoid such stimulants as tea and coffee.

Yet in that same school building these children may have been lured by soft-drinks made available there for them to purchase freely. Some of these soft - drinks may have been highly stimulating.

Then teachers and parents often wonder why there are so many jittery children! Of course, the revenue from these soft-drinks may go for purchase of library books and other school services.

FAMILIES going with children on motor trips in summer find that these children often want to stop for a bottle of soft-drink. A certain father once told me he could hardly get his youngsters past a gas station "without stopping for some pop."

Even if such excessive consumption of soft-drink were not physically harmful to the children, there is still the character problem of their learning to limit the frequency and amount of expenditure, of learning within reason to wait and of not always having what they want right when they want it.

During summer at home, or away from home, some children consume so much pop between meals that they have a poor appetite for the wholesome foods prepared for them at mealtime.

Some parents make available at home a generous supply of soft-drinks which their youngsters consume at pleasure, thereby reducing their desire to make several trips a day to the nearest drugstore.

A FEW other parents limit the quantity of such on hand, and the amount of money their children may have to spend, through a budgeted allowance.

Still some other parents provide at home a reasonable amount of fruit juices, fruits and milk, especially during summer, as a substitute or partial - substitute for sweetened soft-drinks.

We have no desire to deny children of all such luxuries. The purpose of this column today is to cause some parents who read it to face the problems it suggests. Parents who doubt what has been stated, might be wise in checking with their child's dentist and pediatrician.

My bulletins, "Allowances," and "Eating Problems: Their Prevention and Solution I & II," may be secured by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Homecoming At Pine Grove Marked By Varied Program

One hundred attended the Sunday afternoon session of the homecoming of Pine Grove Ridge, near Hammondsville.

Shadyside And The Future

The efforts of Cindy Deshler, an 11-year-old girl, and other Shadyside Ave. district residents to have the narrow, hazardous hillside road improved should not be considered a pure self-interest project.

The safety of many children and adults is involved, along with convenience of travel and increased residential benefits.

Shadyside represents both a city street and a county road leading to an area which has a great potential for further development.

Here is not just a matter of widening a roadway for a few people. Shadyside is an artery which could be instrumental in the further development of Liverpool Township as part of the larger complex pattern of regional growth.

As the area's officials and residents become more aware of the inter - relationships of each community and each subdivision, the need for keeping our highways, utilities, residential and industrial standards as efficient and modern as possible becomes more evident to all.

Shadyside Ave. should represent more than a project of a determined 11-year-old girl interested primarily in safer school bus travel.

It is a needed improvement to which city and county authorities should continue to devote serious attention. Action is in order as quickly as possible.

Seal The Caves

At their meeting this week, the Wellsville Jaycees renewed a discussion of sealing cave entrances along the East Liverpool-Wellsville highway.

They would be performing another service if they turned the discussion into action, with the actual sealing resulting. Permanent closing of a dangerous cave could mean the saving of a life or lives.

Other organizations might give the project serious attention in their areas if the situation so demands.

A New Chief For HEW

The next secretary of health, education and welfare will be John W. Gardner, whose background indicates he may be the best qualified of the appointees so far to this still new responsibility in federal service.

Mr. Gardner has a diversified background in both education and welfare.

The only other secretary of the department with comparable qualifications was Arthur S. Flemming, a highly regarded educator with a long record of federal service in a variety of assignments.

The first secretary was Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby of Texas, a token woman appointee in President Eisenhower's cabinet. She was replaced by Marion S. Folsom, who had been a pioneer in organizing private social security and employment plans.

President Kennedy's choice for the position was Abraham A. Ribicoff, who was followed by Anthony J. Celebrezze. Both were noted for their organizing ability, Ribicoff as a popular and successful governor of Connecticut, Celebrezze as a popular and successful mayor of Cleveland.

Mr. Gardner's accession to this potentially vital cabinet position will give President Johnson a chance to move Mr. Celebrezze into a federal judgeship on the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the 6th District.

It will give Mr. Gardner a chance to put more push into the educational role of a department still feeling its way in federal service.

With a little luck, the next head of the department might even be a health expert.

Unrest In Greece

The clash between 25-year-old King Constantine of Greece and 77-year-old George Papandreou, the ousted premier, is an embarrassment to Americans who have invested more than $3 billion in Greek aid.

It also is a threat to the hopes of those who remember how the Truman Doctrine of military support for Greece and Turkey stopped the westward march of Communism in Europe.

This makes it that much harder to understand why Greeks today are attacking President Johnson and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

There can be only one explanation for such behavior—that more than a domestic political crisis is involved.

When Papandreou was dismissed by King Constantine, he is believed to have been trying to purge a right-wing group in the Greek army. His son, Andreas, a member of the Greek parliament, has been accused of and denied being involved with a secret left-wing group in the army.

The new premier, George Athanassiades-Novas, has the implicit support of NATO. Papandreou is supported by the Greek working class. Unfortunately, much of the tumult in his behalf is being stimulated by known Greek leftists.

Why Casey Stengel Exists

The whole world knows that Casey Stengel, whose 75th birthday was a major sports event last Sunday, broke his hip Saturday night and couldn't attend the party.

The unanswered question is whether Casey Stengel exists or is a figment of the sports world's imagination.

People who have studied Stengelmania can produce evidence to show the latter is true. The 75-year-old manager of the New York Mets, they feel sure, exists only in imagination—the public's and his own.

They say he is a showman who plays a winning role to the hilt; that the real Charles Dillon Stengel is a person apart from the giant gnome whose mannerisms and words have been built into American folklore.

But granted they are right, what has been proved?

Was the late Bernard M. Baruch really a sage whose advice could have saved the country from grief if it had been heeded?

Was the late Douglas MacArthur really a military genius with special insight into strategy and tactics?

Does Ed Wynn really get that much fun out of being silly, does Maurice Chevalier go through life on a song, does Dwight D. Eisenhower always go into a brown study over Republican policy, did the late Eleanor Roosevelt always carry the weight of the world on her shoulders?

It takes all kinds of images to sustain the American way of life. Casey Stengel is one of them. We have to believe there can be a 75-year-old man who thrives on whimsy, humor, circumlocution and enjoys dressing up in a baseball suit and taking part in a kid game every day during the good old summertime.

Long Live Papa!

By Truman Twill

Some of my fellow patriots are grousing about disclosures that the late John F. Kennedy got into his pants one leg at a time when he was president of the United States.

They want to believe the chief executive comes into possession of supernatural power when he takes the oath.

These people need to believe in a father image to make life bearable. They look upon every president of the United States as being either 10 feet or 10 inches tall, depending on their partisanship.

For them to learn, as they have been learning from the writings of confidants of President Kennedy, that he went through the same agonies of indecision, remorse, frustration and bitter recriminations that other mortals go through is more than they can bear.

But when, in the name of reality, was it ever any other way?

Every U.S. president has embodied all the human frailties along with varying amounts of human strength.

If we could know what they cried into their pillows about, whom they cursed behind closed doors, what deplorable blunder they had on their consciences, what misgivings gnawed at their composure and how often they doubted their ability to perform their duties, the superman doctrine of government would be shattered.

As it is, the doctrine is nursed along by escapists who cannot face the reality of representative democracy, which commits all of us to the ministrations of people not measurably smarter or less fallible than we are.

Starting with George Washington, every president has been staggered by the faith of those among his fellow citizens who elevated him to supernatural standing. Our first president had to throw cold water on the idea that he might turn into a king.

Yet as recently as the era of Franklin Roosevelt, Americans still were idolizing their chief executive. It is contrary to the American ideal.

John Kennedy was a Massachusetts politician, son of a wealthy father who wanted a presidency in the family and methodically laid the groundwork to make it possible. It was a narrow squeak in the showdown — only a handful of votes.

John Kennedy was charming. As presidents go, he was adequate. But it should be no surprise to learn that he got into his pants one leg at a time, that he didn't always make infallible judgments between right and wrong, workable and unworkable.

Yet, the information is being resented by hero-worshippers.

Hero worship has no place in a people's government — never did. That's the whole idea of popular sovereignty — that the American people are capable of ruling themselves - that they need no kings and no dictators. It's still a shock to people who can't believe anything is so unless Papa says it is.

The Ballot Box Schizophrenic!

Reds Threaten Friendly Jamaica

By Victor Riesel

KINGSTON, JAMAICA

Many folks think of the tiny Caribbean nations as beaches instead of possible beachheads for some future enemy.

Victor Riesel

Then when the riots break out and the machine guns sputter and stutter and general strikes are called to paralyze a friendly land which Americans long took for granted — as they flared in Santo Domingo — everybody back home is surprised.

No one should be surprised. No one should let the brilliant sands of the gold coasts obscure the two worlds of tiny nations, such as the island country known as Jamaica.

It's not generally realized that this city of Kingston, far from the gay beaches where among others Charlie Chaplin and his brood have been cavorting, is the capital of the only truly labor government in the free world.

Since its independence three years ago little Jamaica has had a prime minister who also has been the leader of the island's most powerful labor movement.

KNOWN AS "BUSTA," he is named Sir William Alexander Bustamante. And the name of the labor movement is Bustamante's Industrial Trade Union (BITU). It is as though George Meany had been president of the U.S.

This union federation is the basis of power of the Jamaican Labor party and a pattern for a blend of politicalized industrial action in vital islands stretching across thousands of miles vital to the U.S.

Nor is the opposition Peoples' National Party much different. Its strength is based on its National Workers' Union.

At the moment these parties are pro-U.S. In this firecely proud island nation — which has a firm voice in the United Nations and all other affiliated international bodies—there was scarcely a ripple when President Johnson poured 22,000 American troops, airmen and marines into nearby Santo Domingo.

THE JAMAICANS are with us. Communist Cuba which is 90 miles distant might as well be on the moon for all the influence Castro has among the 1.7 million Jamaicans, most of whom are of African descent. So much with us are they that some of their press are running features on the progress of the Negroes in South Carolina.

But here and there the glow of friendship begins to dim a bit. Uneasiness is developing. The people are poor. Sunshine does not fill an empty belly.

Some 70 per cent of this island's working force is below hunger level.

They earn about $9 a week or less.

Out in the countryside — the other world — where the slum towns sprout on the hillsides—at least 20 per cent are jobless or without any means of support.

Here in this traffic jammed city of some 400,000 people, some 25 per cent are unemployed.

Sugar is the blood of the economy. And Cuba, with its slave labor battalions in the cane fields, is knocking the cane world from under these people.

Already there is restlessness — though ever so slight and barely noticed except by the close observer.

NEATLY LETTERED anti-American slogans have begun appearing on walls in the city and out near the prime minister's home. "Yankee Get Out of Viet Nam and Jamaica" and "Yankee Go Home" say the messages.

Left wing forces in the opposition party are pressuring the leadership to get up in Parliament and attack the U.S. for its recent actions in Viet Nam and Santo Domingo.

Government officials to whom I spoke privately, mentally leapfrog the next few years. What concerns them is the grim fact that some 40 per cent of the population is under 14 years old. What happens to this little land in five to ten years when they become stalwart young men and women without jobs or means of support?

What happens to this pivotal island nation in the guts of whose mountains is the world's largest deposit of bauxite, from which aluminum is made? And the world's most accessible deposit, too.

WHAT HAPPENS to this little nation with its beautiful bay—fifth or sixth largest in the world—just a few hours' run from Cuba?

What happens to this tiny band of people if their land should fall into the hands of loud leftists some day—leftists who can shout so loudly it would seem that Jamaica's 4,411 square miles are as vast as the Chinese mainland? It happened in Cuba. It happened in Santo Domingo. It could happen here.

All this could happen if the moderate labor leaders are driven from the leadership of the movements here.

This land is more than a beach. As a nation it's one of the rare, devoted friends the U.S. has anywhere in the world. It must be kept from ever becoming a beachhead.

British Holidays

Though Britain's national holidays are geared to the suspension of bank business, they are as dear to the Anglo - Saxon heart as fiestas are to Latins.

Commercial streets are still as tombs. Cities turn inside out as the outdoors - minded British take to the countryside in a tangle of cars, buses, bikes and charabancs.

Britons celebrate four bank holidays each year. They are Whitmonday (June 7, in 1965), the last Monday in August, Boxing Day on Dec. 26 and Easter Monday. Banks also close on two religious national holidays—Christmas and Good Friday.

The business holiday is fitting, for Britain led the industrial revolution. The Bank of England is the mother of banks. London's financial center, the City of London, remains the citadel of the sterling area and is often called the world's richest square mile.

Surprisingly, Britain and the United States have only one holiday in common — Christmas. As in most countries, however, British holidays stem largely from religious festivals.

Coy Candidates

By David Lawrence

Rockefeller May Be Setting Stage

The best way to be a presidential candidate evidently is to appear not to be one. That's the paradoxical lesson which national politics has taught over the years. Hence, in declaring he "will not be a candidate in the next presidential election," Gov. Rockefeller of New York may be said to have made the wisest statement possible for someone in his position. It may do more to get him the Republican presidential nomination some day than anything he has done thus far.

David Lawrence

The strategy is not new and has been effective on more than one occasion. The late Adlai Stevenson, when governor of Illinois, tried it in the pre-convention days of 1952 on the Democratic side and won the presidential nomination.

Back in 1916, Charles Evans Hughes, as a Supreme Court justivce, couldn't campaign or even issue statements of a generalized character, but he was the most talked-about man in the Republican party in the months preceding the Republican national convention. He was nominated despite his declarations that he was not a presidential candidate and had no intention of doing anything to bring about his own nomination.

IN THE PRE-CONVENTION period, however, leaders in the Republican party had urged the draft of Mr. Hughes, even though there was some fear that, if he were nominated, he wouldn't accept. This correspondent recalls writing of a visit to Washington by ex-President William Howard Taft on May 16, 1916, and excerpts from that dispatch follow:

"Realizing the extraordinary sentiment for a man who has made no campaign, who has not sought the nomination, but whose high character and record as governor of New York bear him steadily onward as the logical choice of the party, Mr. Taft thinks that the selection of Hughes is almost a certainty. . . .

"Mr. Taft authorized no statement while he was here. But in the not-far-distant future, it may fall to him to remove the doubts of skeptical Republicans as to whether or not Justice Hughes should accept if nominated. If the man who put Hughes on the bench thinks the justice ought to heed the call of higher duty, that certainly should have great weight with the justice himself."

The Republican party in 1916 had experienced the worst split in its history. Unlike 1964 when the split was merely a defection from support of Sen. Goldwater by some leading Republicans and no corresponding pledge to vote for the Democratic presidential nominee, there had been in 1912 a third party under former President Theodore Roosevelt which actually polled more votes than the regular Republican nominee, William Howard Taft. Mr. Hughes in 1916 seemed to be the best possible harmonizer of discordant elements in the party.

GOV. ROCKEFELLER has stated that he plans to be a harmonizer. He speaks of the "scars" of the 1964 campaign and the necessity of healing them. He recognizes, by implication, that the Goldwater bloc has to be given at least respectful treatment in party councils, for it does represent a sizeable number of Republican votes.

There is more, however, to Mr. Rockefeller's strategy than the uniting of his party for the next presidential contest in 1968. He himself has to win re-election to the governorship of New York State in 1966. If he were defeated, he certainly would be eliminated from consideration for a presidential nomination two years later.

It's important, too, for him to assure the voters of New York State that he isn't going to be diverted from a concentration on the problems of the state.

It's necessary also for him to give the impression that he means to serve out his four-year term in Albany if he wins re-election. A draft movement for the 1968 nomination, therefore, would not be attributable to his activities.

Gov. Rockefeller may even be thinking in terms of 1972 as the time he might possibly get the big prize. By then, some of the obstacles he faced in 1964 may not really be as important as they seemed to be last year. His 64th birthday would be at convention time. Six men have been inaugurated president of the United States at the age of 60 or over, and President Eisenhower was 66 when re-elected in 1956.

SOME NEWSPAPER reports spoke of Mr. Rockefeller's declaration on television on Sunday as a "Sherman-like" statement. But Gen. Sherman said: "If nominated, I will not accept; if elected, I will not serve." Nothing so explicit or final has come from the lips of any possible presidential nominee since those days.

So, if Gov. Rockefeller acts like a man who really isn't trying to get a presidential nomination, he may wind up with it just the same. Everything will depend on how successful he is in producing the very "concensus" that brings about a "draft" that is really a draft.

Down Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO—Five generations were represented at the family reunion of the descendants of Henry Cooley, near Rogers, at the summer camp of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Boggs.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—The Chester Flower and Garden Club made arrangements for its first show in September.

With only 458 votes cast, Mayor G. Cecil Rauch won renomination at Lisbon.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

Members of the local Board of Education in fumbling with the proper phraseology to impose a 3.5-mill levy on the citizens, would do well to forget the whole thing.

They are surely aware of the action of the state legislature in granting a $200 increase to every teacher in Ohio. They are cognizant of the passage of the second proposed constitutional amendment, granting aid to Ohio's educational facilities. They must surely know that federal aid to education is now a law. Then, too, they are seeking to increase the sales tax by a 25 per cent increase in the November election. Where is this going to stop?

To have the business agent of the teachers' group come into our city and decree that our citizens can afford this terrific increase in taxes is an insult to the property owners of our city, who have already been more than generous.

No matter how the proponents of this tax increase try to dress it up, the fact is that passage of it will almost double our present tax rates. And we haven't felt the impact of the new school building program yet. It's not on the tax duplicate.

Various governmental agencies have recognized the burden the property owners have been bearing to educate our children, and have met the issue partially, as mentioned before.

Let us hope the local board will let this matter die now, without further injustice to our fellow taxpayers.

Midland Man Jailed, Fined

A Midland motorist was sentenced to 10 days in jail and fined $200 and costs Tuesday by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff after being convicted on a charge of drunken driving following a lengthy hearing.

The jail term and fine were handed Edward Larry King, 29, of 740 Penn Ave., Midland, whose Ohio driver's license was suspended for a year by the judge.

King was arrested early Thursday on the River Rd. by Patrolman J. F. Strobel, assisted by Patrolman W. F. Copestick.

He pleaded innocent when arraigned the same day and a continuance was granted to allow him time to obtain counsel. He was represented by Atty. Ben H. Berman, while Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark appeared for the city.

When King obtained his Ohio driver's license in February, 1964, his address was listed as 912 Watson Ave.

Fenn College Trustees Agree On State School

CLEVELAND (AP) — Fenn College, a private institution that will die Aug. 31, could not compete in the years ahead without becoming part of a state institution.

H. F. Burmester, chairman of the Fenn Trustees, made that remark Tuesday as trustees approved an agreement to turn Fenn into Cleveland State University.

The agreement will take effect in October after court approval. Fenn, founded in 1881 with a small evening program, will cease at the end of August and Cleveland State University will begin operations in the present Fenn buildings Sept. 1.

Man Hit With Brick Treated At Hospital

A city man was treated at City Hospital Tuesday night for a laceration of the forehead suffered when struck in the head with a brick during a fight in Green Ln.

Lawrence Mathes, of 312 E. 3rd St. was taken to the hospital in a cruiser after walking to City Hall to report the incident.

He told police he was in a fight with two men. One hit him between the eyes with a brick, Mathes said. No charges were filed.

Johnson

equal opportunity, better housing and improved health.

"And I do not want to see all those hopes — the dreams of so many people for so many years — ground in the wasteful ravages of war."

Johnson pledged that "I will do all I can so that never happens."

The President opened the news conference by reading a 1,200-word statement that grew out of a week of high-level policy talks here on Viet Nam. He noted that "15 efforts have been made to start discussions" with the Communists aimed at peace — all without response.

"But we will persist, if persist we must," he said, "until death and desolation have led to the same conference table where others could not join us at so much smaller cost."

Johnson said his first goal in Viet Nam is to "convince the Communists that we cannot be defeated by force of arms."

In a key passage on the dispatch of increased American manpower to the jungle war, the President said:

"I have today ordered to Viet Nam the Air Mobile Division, and certain other forces which will raise our fighting strength from 75,000 to 125,000 men. Additional forces will be needed later and they will be sent. This will make it necessary to increase our active fighting forces by raising the monthly draft call from 17,000 — which it now is — to 35,000; and stepping up our campaign for voluntary enlistments."

In advance of the conference, there had been much speculation about a possible goal of 200,000 men in Viet Nam and an order for the muster of reservists and National Guard units.

"After this past week of deliberations," Johnson said, "I have concluded it is not essential to order Reserve units into service. If that necessity should later be indicated, I will give the matter careful consideration, and I will give the country due an adequate notice before acting."

Johnson made only a passing reference to the mounting cost of the war in Viet Nam. He said Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara "will ask the Senate Appropriations Committee to add a limited amount to present legislation to help meet part of this new cost."

Johnson indicated that a supplemental defense appropriation measure, involving more money, would be sent to Congress next January.

"These steps, like our actions in the past," he said, "are carefully measured to do what must be done to bring about an end to aggression and a peaceful settlement."

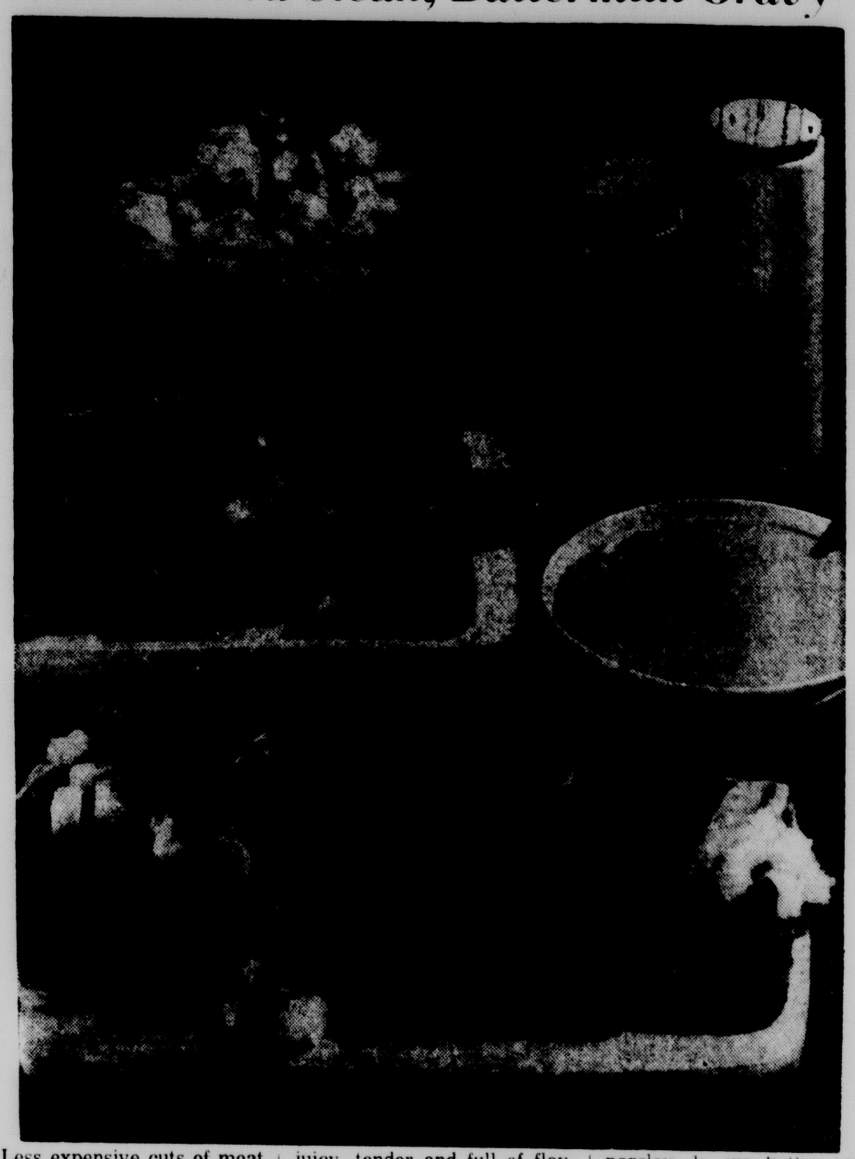
Johnson predicted that "once the Communists know, as we know, that a violent solution is impossible, then a peaceful solution will be inevitable."

Youths Get Probation

CLEVELAND (AP) — An 18-month probation is the penalty given two Bedford youths accused of stealing 90-millimeter artillery shells from the Ravenna Arsenal earlier this month.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Nathaniel R. Jones placed the youths — 16 and 17—on probation Tuesday after conferring with them and their parents.

Stuffed Rolled Steak, Buttermilk Gravy



Less expensive cuts of meat are a blessing to budget-conscious homemakers.

A major part of the food dollar is spent on protein sources such as meat, and the less expensive cuts are just as good a source of protein as the more expensive ones.

Less expensive cuts of meat are usually less tender and are cooked with moist heat. A pot roast is an example of a delicious main dish prepared from a less tender cut of meat.

Stuffed rolled steak with buttermilk gravy is another main dish that features a less tender cut of meat. As you know, the long, slow cooking makes the final product juicy, tender and full of flavor.

The delicately - seasoned bread stuffing adds to the flavor or does the buttermilk gravy served over the meat.

STUFFED ROLLED STEAK WITH BUTTERMILK GRAVY

4 cups bread cubes
2-3 cup chopped onion
¼ cup chopped parsley
½ cup butter, melted (1 stick)
3 teaspoons seasoned salt
2 1-pound slices boned round steak, cut ¼- to ⅜-inch thick
½ cup water
2 beef bouillon cubes
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
2 cups buttermilk

Combine bread cubes, onion, parsley, ¼ cup butter and 1 teaspoon seasoned salt; mix. Divided in half. Sprinkle remaining seasoned salt over 2 slices of meat. Cover each slice of meat with ½ of meat mixture.

Roll each up and tie. Melt remaining ¼ cup of butter in large frypan over low heat. Brown meat rolls on all sides, turning as needed. Add water and bouillon cubes; cover and cook slowly until meat is tender, about 2 hours.

Remove meat from pan. Blend flour and salt into pan drippings. Add buttermilk; cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Slice meat and serve with gravy. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Fortas Given Justice Post By President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson today named Abe Fortas — quoted two days ago as saying he wanted no government job "from president on down" — to be a justice of the Supreme Court.

Fortas, 55 and a Washington lawyer, will succeed Arthur J. Goldberg, who formally resigned Monday to become U.S. ambassador to the United Nations as successor to the late Adlai E. Stevenson.

Johnson said Fortas was his first choice for the high court vacancy.

Fortas is a close friend and unofficial adviser to the President. His service to presidents —official and unofficial —dates back to New Deal days.

leadership also stood to lose. Reliable sources say that apart from the specter of a new missile confrontation, the Kremlin feared that Soviet-U.S. strains would force big military budget increases, setbacks to the consumer economy program, the use of Viet Nam indefinitely by the Chinese as a stick to beat Moscow for lack of total support to a revolutionary cause, and enhancement of Chinese chances to spread influence at Moscow's expense.

Something new was added when the missile bases were bombed. Red China already is crying that "a showdown between the people (meaning the Communists) of the world and U.S. imperialism is inevitable." In effect, Peking tells Moscow: "Put up or shut up."

U.S. Planes Attack In Rescue Operation

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Navy fighter-bombers attacked North Vietnamese troops in North Viet Nam today in support of a rescue operation for a downed American pilot, a military spokesman announced tonight.

The spokesman said it was the first reported case of U.S. war planes making a deliberate assault against troops in North Viet Nam. He gave this account:

The soldiers were moving up a hill toward a U.S. Navy A4 Skyhawk that went down because of mechanical trouble on a mission 65 miles north of the border.

Ratio In Viet Put At 8 To 1

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon thinking now tends toward the view that an 8 to 1 edge, rather than the often-quoted 10 to 1 ratio, is a more realistic goal for a manpower advantage needed to deal with Communist insurgents in South Viet Nam.

Even an 8 to 1 ratio would indicate a far greater input of U.S. troops than seems in prospect. The indicated buildup need under this formula would come to perhaps 650,000 more men. If a 10 to 1 ratio were applied, it would point to a requirement for about 900,000 more troops in South Viet Nam.

American troops there now or due soon total about 83,000 and indications are that about 100,000 will be added by the end of this year. Both figures are far short of filling the 8 to 1 ratio.

Calculations for troop strength needed to handle the guerrillas have been lowered because of the rising number of Communist troops, coupled with their bigger fighting units.

The basis for this seeming paradox is the theory that the more the Viet Cong insurgents get away from hit and run tactics and the more men they field, the easier it becomes to hit them.

The 650,000-man increase on the 8-to-1 ratio is based on the current estimate that about 165,000 Communist troops are opposing about 500,000 Vietnamese troops, plus the 83,000 Americans there or expected shortly and several thousand Koreans, Australians and New Zealanders.

Agent Cites Tax Evasion In Testimony

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Internal Revenue Service intelligence agent Frank Coots has testified that income of $347,157 in 1958, 1959 and 1960 was not reported by operators of the now - closed Glen Rendezvous gambling casino in Newport.

Coots told a U.S. District Court jury his two-year investigation indicated Tito Carinci and Abraham Maius ran the operation. Carinci and Maius, accused of evading $176,000 in taxes for the Glen Corp. during the three - year period, have pleaded innocent.

Coots' testimony Tuesday came after the defense conceded the prosecution could introduce 617 witnesses who could testify they gave checks for gambling losses.

U.S. Dist. Atty. E. W. Rivers used Coots to connect Carinci and Maius with gambling operations during the years the alleged tax deficiencies occurred.

The IRS agent said his investigation showed a daily report covering winnings and losses was prepared by Maius and that Carinci used these to prepare a ledger book from which tax returns were composed.

He added that the probe showed the casino collected checks for $40,940 in October, November and December, 1960, but that no entries were put on the ledger for check income during that period.

Seven men testified they lost a total of more than $45,000 in a relatively short time and that they paid by checks made out to cash.

Walker's only concession to his disability is a cane he carries on the job. He has been blind 31 years.

Banana Almond Cake, A Delicious Dessert

Many a former GI will remember — whenever he munches a banana out of hand —the how - to - survive - on land-and-sea advice given by the War Department: "Watch monkeys. You can eat anything a monkey eats. . ."

This was in case of an unplanned landing in some jungle and monkeys are wild for bananas.

Bananas should be ripened at room temperature, then stored in the refrigerator, as far as possible from the freezing unit. In time the skin will turn dark brown or black after such chilling, but the inside will show no discoloration or side effects of low temperature.

This rich and flavorful cake, topped with halved bananas and broiled - on nut - and - coconut spread, makes a delicious dessert after an otherwise low-calorie main course.

BANANA ALMOND CAKE

½ cup soft butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
2 large eggs
2 cups sifted cake flour
½ teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
1-3 cup buttermilk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 cup mashed ripe bananas
¼ cup butter or margarine, melted
½ cup dark brown sugar
¾ cup flaked coconut
½ cup chopped almonds

Cream butter or margarine and sugar until light. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Sift together cake flour, soda, salt and baking powder. Add to creamed mixture alternately with buttermilk, starting and ending with dry ingredients. Stir in vanilla extract and mashed bananas.

Turn into a greased and lightly floured 7½x12-inch pan. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 50 minutes or until cake tester inserted in the center comes out clean. Let cool 5 minutes.

Slice bananas in half lengthwise and arrange on cake. Combine ¼ cup melted butter or margarine, brown sugar, coconut and almonds and spread on cake. Place 3 to 4 inches under broiler and broil until topping is browned, about 2 minutes. Yield: One loaf cake.

BANANA PUDDING

1 cup mashed ripe bananas
1 teaspoon fresh lemon juice
1 package (8 oz.) cottage cheese, strained
1 cup confectioners' sugar
1 teaspoon rum flavor
1 oz. unsweetened chocolate, grated
5 to 6 (½ cup) macaroons, crumbled

Blend together bananas, lemon juice, cottage cheese, sugar and rum flavor using medium speed of mixer. Beat 2 to 3 minutes until smooth. Add chocolate and stir until blended.

Sprinkle crumbs in bottom and side of buttered 1-quart casserole. Pour in mixture and refrigerate until firm and chilled. Yield: 6 servings.

BANANA LONG SHORTCAKE

2 cups sifted all - purpose flour
2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1-3 cup sugar
1 teaspoon grated orange peel
½ cup butter or margarine
2 large eggs, beaten
¼ cup milk
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
2 tablespoons sugar
6 ripe bananas
1 cup heavy cream
1 tablespoon sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla extract
½ teaspoon fresh lemon juice

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, sugar, orange peel and the ½ cup butter or margarine. Mix with a pastry blender or two knives until consistency of coarse crumbs. Stir in beaten eggs and milk to form a light dough.

Turn into a greased 11x7x2-inch pan. Brush top of dough with melted butter or margarine and sprinkle sugar over entire surface. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (375 degree F.) 20 minutes or until golden. Remove from oven and cool.

Cut bananas into ¼-inch lengthwise slices and arrange over top of cake. Whip cream with sugar and vanilla extract until stiff; stir in lemon juice. Spread over top of cake and top with additional banana slices if desired. Yield: One loaf cake.

Viet Nam

down six U.S. planes Tuesday and said three American pilots were captured.

A U.S. military spokesman reported that another F105 Thunderchief was shot down Tuesday on a strike against the Cam Doi barracks 30 miles west-northeast of Hanoi. The spokesman said no parachute was observed and the pilot was presumed killed.

The Pentagon announced Tuesday that 46 F105 Thunderchiefs made a low-level attack on the missile sites. The Pentagon said pilots reported one site destroyed and the other damaged.

It was the first attack reported against missile sites which the Soviet Union is presumed to have installed in North Viet Nam. An Air Force F4C Phantom jet was downed in a raid near Hanoi Saturday, and the Defense Department said there were indications it was hit by an antiaircraft missile.

In the only strike reported today against North Viet Nam, eight F105s and four F4C Pahntoms struck the Dien Bien Phu barracks 180 miles northwest of Hanoi, spokesmen said.

Pilots reported 12 buildings were destroyed and seven others damaged.

Housing

homes by governmental preemption or natural disaster, would be eligible for the subsidies.

These would help pay a fair rent for accomodations in structures owned or to be built by churches, cooperatives or other nonprofit or limited-dividend organizations. It was estimated the subsidies would stimulate use of 375,000 such units. Subsidies would not be paid to private landlords in business for profit.

While the congressionally approved legislation went along with the principle of subsidies, a new departure advocated by the President, it changed the application significantly. The original proposal was designed to help those with income too high for low-rent public housing but too low for privately built homes and apartments at the going rates.

A family receiving the subsidy would have to pay 25 per cent of its income for rent. The subsidy would then make up the difference between this payment and the rent needed to obtain adequate housing in the specified kind of project. If the family's income increased, the subsidy would decline or be eliminated entirely.

Arm

break itself was no different than what could happen to anyone else, and probably will mend just as easily," he said.

Knowles said until the fall last week, he had been able to lift as much as 15 pounds with the arm. He said he has no real use of his fingers. He can move them only slightly.

Since the first operation, he has undergone a series of others to try to regain full use of the arm and hand. Tendons have been connected and nerves repaired. Just last month a one-inch piece of bone was placed inside the palm of the hand to keep his thumb in better position. His arm was in a cast when he fell.

Knowles blamed the cast for the break. He said he did not think the arm would have broken had the upper arm and shoulder not been forced to bend against it.

Mother, Child Are Returned In Kidnaping

PITTSBURGH — A 23-year-old Northside woman and her infant daughter were safe at home today after being abducted at gunpoint Tuesday night by an admirer who reportedly had sought to date the young woman.

The abduction took place in Ross Township while the victim, Mrs. Sylvia Stavcimak, was visiting at the home of her mother.

The abduction had set off a wide search for Mrs. Stavcimak, her daughter, Linda Lee, five months old, and the abductor, who police identified as Robert Workman, 38, of Northside.

Mrs. Stavcimak and her mother, Mrs. Angelina Dudley, were sitting in the front yard when Workman drove up and, carrying a rifle, approached Mrs. Stavcimak with the comment: "Come on, I've had enough." He then forced her and the infant into his car.

Authorities said that Workman, after riding around for some five hours — including a trip into neighboring Ohio—then returned the woman and her child safely to the Dudley residence.

Workman drove off and is being sought today, with a warrant having been issued charging him with kidnaping and violation of the firearms act.

The new stamp shows Sir John in uniform. In the background is an electricity transmission tower. The portrait was by Melbourne artist Wes Walters.

Crispy Herb Dumplings Atop Beef Stew

If you are the gardener of the family, committee chairman, Cub Scout chauffeur and chief cook and bottle washer, you'll need to be stingy with your time in the kitchen.

Not that we want you to neglect your family, mind you! It's just that these busy days are the perfect time to take advantage of the "meal-in-a-can" type of convenience foods.

More and more homemakers are using these items as the starting point to truly creative meals; no longer are canned entrees thought to be "not good enough" or "just for the younsters". We're addicted to them because so much of the drudgery is done for us.

One of our finds has been this recipe for beef stew—canned, of course — topped with flavorful herb dumplings.

The dumplings are quickly and easily made with biscuit mix and herbs that make up crispy and golden brown outside, delicately moist and very flavorful inside!

For added interest, we like the idea of rolling the dumpling dough balls in cheese-flavored cracker crumbs first, before arranging them atop the rich and meaty stew to be baked.

STEW AND DUMPLINGS

2 1-pound 8-ounce (or 3 15½-ounce) cans beef stew

Combine biscuit mix, parsley, sugar, salt, sage and marjoram; stir in milk to make a soft dough. Shape into 8 balls; roll in cracker crumbs. Place stew in 1½-quart baking dish; arrange dumplings on top. Bake at 425 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Cracker crumbs made from crackers flavored with different seasonings, such as barbecue, bacon or pizza flavor may be substituted for cheese cracker crumbs.

1 cup biscuit mix
1 teaspoon chopped parsley
½ teaspoon sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon sage
⅛ teaspoon marjoram
1-3 cup milk
¼ cup cheese - flavored cracker crumbs

Ex-Steeler King Given New Lease On NFL Life

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

BEMIDJI, Minn. (AP) — Phil King hunched his 6-foot-4 frame into a window seat of a DC3, buzzing over the lake country of northern Minnesota, and spoke the thoughts of a 29-year-old pro football player who has just been traded.

"This makes three clubs in two years," said King, a New York Giants' fixture for six years (five winners) until he was shuttled to Pittsburgh last fall, and then traded to Minnesota Monday.

"New system, new people, new coach," he said. "But most of all a chance to start all over again with a clean bill of health. Someplace where they really want me. I can't tell you how much I am looking forward to playing with the Vikings. I just didn't want to go back to Pittsburgh again.

"I was going good for Pittsburgh until I cracked some ribs. Buddy Parker (Steeler coach) went to Clarence Peaks and John Henry Johnson and I didn't play any more, just a pinch hitter the rest of the way, although we lost five straight at the end.

"During the winter I wrote Buddy and asked to be traded. It wasn't anything personal. I have nothing against anybody. But I made up my mind I had been around too long to have a coach who had made up his mind that I couldn't play.

"Those were wonderful years with the Giants from 1958 through 1963. We won five times but lost the championship each time. You know, I'm the only guy in pro football who is 0-5 in championship games."

Field Of 180 To Open Western Amateur Today

BENTON HARBOR, Mich. (AP) — A giant of a golf course, lurking with trouble at every turn, faces a field of 180 players teeing off today in one of the game's great endurance tests — the 63rd Western Amateur Championship.

The 7,000-yard, par-71 Point o' Wood's layout poses a supreme test for a star-packed field which includes six former Walker Cup players and the 1964 National Amateur runner-up, Ed Tutweiler of Indianapolis.

Now that the National Amateur has shifted to 72 holes of medal play, the Western remains as the biggest tournament featuring man-to-man combat of match play.

The format, however, is unique. There are 72 holes of qualifying — 18 each on Wednesday and Thursday. The field then is trimmed to the low 50 scorers and ties for Friday's 36-hole windup.

After this introduction, the 16 low scorers enter match play with two rounds Saturday leading to the 18-hole semifinals Sunday morning and the 18-hole championship match in the afternoon.

If experience prevails, favorites must be listed among Tutweiler and former Walker Cuppers Dr. Ed Updegraff, Tucson, Ariz.; Bob Gardner, Essex Fells, N.J.; Bill Hyndman, Huntingdon Valley, Pa.; Dick Davis, Los Angeles; Bob Cochran, Normandy, Mo.; and Jimmy Jackson, Kirkwood, Mo.

Supreme Court Rules On Taxes For Legislators

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Members of the Ohio General Assembly must pay Columbus' one per cent city income tax on their legislative salaries and travel allowances, the State Supreme Court held today.

The 5-2 decision said it was the duty of Columbus City Auditor John Price to enforce the income tax ordinance "including institution of law suits to collect delinquent taxes due."

The court allowed a writ asked by Edwin Miller, sales manager for Westinghouse Appliance Sales, Columbus, who lives outside the city.

Price refused to sue for the taxes on grounds none was due, Miller said.

He contended that because the 137 representatives and 33 senators received a substantial part of their 1963-63 salary of $5,000 a year while in session in the Statehouse here they were subject to the tax. He estimated they owed the city a total of about $10,000 annually.

Salaries of lawmakers in the current legislative session that began Jan. 4 were boosted to $8,000 a year.

Rust can be removed before priming by using steel wool. Once the primer is dry, aluminum, rubber - base, enamel, semi-gloss or flat paint can be applied successfully.

Pineapple Fluff Cool Treat On Hot Days

As the temperature goes higher, the demand for cool light desserts also rises.

One treat your family will love is Pineapple Fluff, a cool finish to any meal. It combines juicy pineapple, lemon gelatin, velvetized evaporated milk and chopped nuts.

The dessert is light and airy because the evaporated milk first is whipped into billowing clouds and then folded into the gelatin mixture.

PINEAPPLE FLUFF
(Makes 8 servings)

1 can (1 pound, 4½ ounces) pineapple chunks, undrained
Water
1 package (3 ounces) lemon flavor gelatin
1 cup undiluted velvetized evaporated milk
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup coarsely chopped walnuts

Drain pineapple syrup into cup measure. Add enough water to make 1 cup. Heat syrup to boiling; pour over gelatin in large bowl and stir until dissolved. Chill until consistency of unbeaten egg white. Chill evaporated milk in refrigerator tray until soft ice crystals form around edges of tray (15 or 20 minutes). Whip until stiff (about 1 minute). Add lemon juice. Whip very stiff (2 minutes longer). Fold walnuts and whipped evaporated milk into gelatin mixture. Alternate layers of whipped mixture and pineapple chunks in serving dish. Chill until firm. Sprinkle additional walnuts on top, if desired.

WHIPPED MIXED FRUIT AND RICE PUDDING

1½ cups cold cooked rice
½ cup coconut
½ cup well-drained canned fruit cocktail
½ cup seedless raisins
¼ cup chopped walnuts (optional)
2-3 cup (small can) undiluted velvetized evaporated milk.
2 tablespoons lemon juice.
½ cup sifted confectioners' sugar

Mix rice, coconut, fruit cocktail, raisins and walnuts in bowl. Chill evaporated milk in refrigerator tray until soft ice crystals form around edges of tray (15 to 20 minutes). Whip until stiff (about 1 minute.) Add lemon juice and whip very stiff (about 2 minutes longer). Beat in sugar. Fold whipped evaporated milk into rice mixture. Spoon into serving dishes.

Take It Slow

BIG CYPRESS, Fla. — The trick to catching rattlesnakes with your bare hands is not to move fast, reports an 18-year-old Seminole Indian expert, James Osceola.

"The secret is to move your hand very slowly. A rattlesnake will not strike an object that is moving very slowly."

Nevertheless, he said, the safest way is the conventional one of pinning the snake's lethal head down with a forked stick and grasping it by the neck, out of reach of the poison-injecting fangs.

Rotary Hears Dr. Paxson

'Unity Of Nations' Seen Under Common Market

"The European Common Market will be used to establish a continuity of nations like never seen before. . .and will accomplish a unity, through economic means, which has eluded attempts through military action for many years," according to Dr. A. M. Paxson, who spoke at a noon luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club Tuesday at the Travelers Hotel.

Dr. Paxson, administrative director of the Economic and Business Foundation and educator and economist at Youngstown University, feels the Common Market "is the prime way of establishing political stability, and will eventually result in a United States of Europe."

He explained that the forerunner of the Common Market was the Treaty of Benelux in 1948 among Belgium, Netherlands and Luxemburg, which was a move to expedite trade by lowering and /or eliminating tariffs.

The European Economic Community became a reality in 1957 when Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxemburg were joined by France, West Germany and Italy, who agreed on a 12-point program.

Among the goals was the gradual elimination of tariffs, quotas and other barriers of trade among the member nations, with reductions to be temporarily postponed, where adjustments forced by tariff reductions would be too severe.

Over the transition period, a uniform tariff schedule will be created by the six to apply to imports from the rest of the world. Dr. Paxson explained, however, that even though by 1967 all tariff barriers will be eliminated, those to the rest of the world will not be. He said the purpose of the agreement is to eliminate tariffs among the member nations and to negotiate as a single unit and tariff adjustments with the rest of the world.

Other goals include the abolition of restrictions on movements of services, labor, capital and business enterprises among the six nations.

The speaker pointed out it was decided that cartels and similar trade restraints are prohibited unless they contribute to improvements in production and distribution or technological and economic progress and declared that member nations are to coordinate their monetary and fiscal policies.

The member nations agreed that two investment funds are to be established to channel capital from the more advanced areas to the less developed areas (one to operate in Europe and the other in the territories) and voted to establish equal pay for men and women.

A social fund was established to help relieve possible economic injuries to workers resulting from trade liberalization and an administrative organization to rule the market was decided upon.

Copied from the United States and Switzerland forms of government, the administrative unit will be governed by a council of ministers made up of memberships of one each from each of the six countries.

Their function will be to "coordinate general economic policies of members and decide important issues arising in establishing and maintaining the Common Market."

In discussing France's opposition to England's entering the market, Dr. Paxson explained he believes DeGaulle is concerned with restoring France to the days of grandeur such as under Napoleon, and wants to conquer the continent. . .by economic means rather than with military power."

Dr. Paxson said he believes DeGaulle fears that England's trade position would replace France's as the Common Market leader. The educator predicted, however, that within five years Germany, and not France, will be the dominating power in the market, "due to its vast industrial growth."

He outlined several of the accomplishments of the market since 1957 and noted that many of the trade advantages — including the offering of lower priced goods due to lower tariffs — were becoming less effective, due to a growing rate of inflation and higher wages resulting from a shortage of labor.

Dr. Paxson was introduced by George Hargraves. Leland Pittenger was program chairman.

'Fedicare' Offered As New Political Word

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Republican leader, Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, has contributed a word — "fedicare" — to the political vocabulary.

Ford said Tuesday Congress should declare "Fedicare Day" because it had passed a $7.5-billion housing bill with a rent subsidy provision and a $6.5-billion Social Security measure which includes health care of the elderly. Ford called these "renticare" and "medicare."

Saigon Report Says U.S. Sailor In Reds' Hands

SAIGON (AP) — An unconfirmed report reached Saigon today that Donald Dawson, the American sailor who came to Viet Nam to trace his missing brother, was seen in Viet Cong captivity early this month.

Dawson, 25, of Astoria, Calif., came to Viet Nam in January after his older brother, Lt. Daniel L. Dawson, a U.S. Army pilot, was shot down in the jungle in November.

Dawson spent several dangerous months trying to trace his brother. Then, finally believing that he was dead, he determined to find the body.

He decided to go into the Viet Cong-controlled D Zone north of Saigon to meet guerrilla leaders who were reported to have said they would take him to his brother's grave.

The Viet Cong demanded that Dawson bring his own interpreter. Collette Emberger, 21, a Vietnamese citizen, agreed to accompany him.

A source close to the Emberger family said today the family had received a report in the past few days that the two were seen being taken through a village in D Zone early in July.

Judge Suspends Jail Penalty In Job Benefit Case

A Glenmoor man, charged with obtaining Ohio unemployment benefits fraudulently, was given a suspended sentence this morning in Municipal Court after Judge Samuel Chertoff was advised full restitution of the money had been made.

George R. Virden, 28, of Glenn St., Glenmoor, had pleaded guilty to the charge at a hearing July 15. The judge continued Virden's case for sentencing after Virden agreed to make restitution for the $156 he allegedly obtained by reporting he was unemployed for three weeks.

Victor DeGeorge, an investigator for the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, told the judge that Virden had paid back all the money.

Virden was accused of filing the false certification in February.

The judge said he had to sentence Virden on his admission of guilt. He then decreed a 10-day term in the Columbiana County Jail at Lisbon, which was suspended, and ordered him to pay court costs.

East End Driver Cited After Hancock Mishap

Robert H. Curtis, 33, of Ohio Ave. was cited by Hancock County sheriff's deputies early today after his car veered off Route 66 near Waterford Park race track.

Curtis posted a $65 bond for a hearing before Squire John D. Herron at New Cumberland next Tuesday on a charge of failure to have his vehicle under control.

The 1959 auto left the highway at 12:45 a. m. while he was headed south. The front wheel was damaged, deputies said.

Warrants Issued On Tax Charges

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff issued bench warrants for two persons who failed to appear this morning for hearings on charges of violating the city income tax ordinance by failing to file returns.

A third defendant appeared, but his case was continued to allow him time to make payment.

The bench warrants were issued for Thomas White, 1428 Dorothy St., and Frank Christy, 740 Cartwright St.

They were among 12 issued warrants to appear today. All the others appeared and made payment, according to Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson, who then had the charges withdrawn.

Donley C. Davis, 1149 Pennsylvania Ave., appeared and said he had not filed a final report on his 1964 earnings because he did not have a statement.

After a discussion, the judge directed Davis to file a report immediately or make arrangements to pay. He continued Donley's case until Aug. 3 to give him time to complete the filing.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: All the rods in our closets are the usual adult height, but we need lower rods for the youngsters.

I took two wire coat hangers and pulled them out straight to make long, narrow loops with a hook on one end.

I hung these on the clothes bar and inserted a broom handle in the loops. (A third hanger may be placed in the center of the extension to give added strength.)

The hangers can be taped or stapled to the broom handle to prevent them from slipping off.

My nieces share one closet, so I made the extension hanger just long enough to take care of one child's clothes (we hang baby clothes, bluses, etc., on the top bar above the extension).

The other child, who is tall enough to reach the clothes rod, uses the other end of the top bar.

The extension bar may be cut to fit the full length of the closet, or as the situation requires.

It certainly doubled our closet space.

AUNTIE.

DEAR HELOISE: I always had a hard time putting all my hair up into my swimming cap because my hair was so long.

I found that if I put a regular hair net over my hair first, and then put on the swimming cap, it is much easier to get all of my hair into the cap.

LELIA THOMAS (age 11).

DEAR HELOISE: Try putting fancy adhesive backed paper on telephone directories. They look quite attractive on a telephone stand.

ELEANOR MAY.

DEAR HELOISE: This is for ladies who have portable hair dryers with shoulder straps, and the straps dig into their shoulders.

Get the sponge strap-cover piece off an old pair of roller skates, run the dryer strap through the pad just as you would a skate strap.

Or, get a small sponge, (the type used for cleaning purposes) and put two small slits in it, the width of the strap, and slide the strap through.

No more sore shoulders.

U.C.M.

DEAR HELOISE: I used to live and run my home by a set schedule.

In subtle ways, my husband began to let me know that he preferred a home that was a bit disarranged. He wanted our home to have a warm and "lived in" look.

ANOTHER SENSIBLE HOUSEWIFE.

I agree wholeheartedly with your husband. And now, don't you feel better, sugar.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I have read many hints about uses for baby food jars, but I have one for a baby bottle . . . other than its intended use!

The ounces are marked on the bottle, so it is a simple matter to pour in the desired amount of vinegar, oil, and other seasonings for dressing.

I just put the plastic protector cap on the bottle, put it in the refrigerator, and it takes very little space.

VALERIA.

DEAR HELOISE: I have found that perspiration odor can be removed from washable clothing by wetting the garment in suds and then sprinkling it freely with baking soda. Rub to a thick paste and let stand for about 20 minutes. Then wash as usual.

This has worked on all kinds of natural and synthetic white fabrics, and has not harmed any of my washable materials.

The Law

One of the more unusual cases decided in recent tax law involved what most of us would simply consider a hole in the ground.

The problem was one of determination of the proper use of a tax depreciation allowance when it came to certain types of property. The result set a new precedent in the law.

This case involved the owner of a refuse dump. The dump was a large excavation which had been purchased for the specific purpose of using it for such a disposal area.

WHEN IT came time to pay income taxes, the dump's owner claimed a very unusual type of depreciation which would reduce his taxes. He said, in effect, that he had purchased a "hole," not the land surrounding it.

He contended that because the hole was becoming smaller as he filled it with refuse it would not last indefinitely so a deduction should be allowed for depreciation. The amount of taxes, he concluded, should be affected by the space remaining in the hole, not on its original size.

The government, however, felt differently about the matter and took the case into court. They contended that the dump was simply real estate with a permanent life and that the taxes were based on the solid terra firma, not a "hole." The law doesn't permit such a depreciation, they contended.

THE COURT, however, ruled in favor of the owner of the dump, thus putting a new interpretation on tax law as involves real property. The court said that the dump owner could take the depreciation deduction upon this "hole" used in his refuse business, based on the quantity of space exhausted by filling in each year.

In its ruling, the court noted that so - called superadjacent air space can be subdivided for various purposes in such places as multistories office buildings and elsewhere.

They did say, however, that the hole is not a true "natural resource," on which other tax laws apply. The fact that the hole was put there by man, rather than natural forces, rued out this possibility, the court said.

Chicken Casserole Has A Piquant Touch

Young chickens can be fried, broiled or barbecued, but the secret of repeat menu appeal is a surprise flavor note in serving variety.

For instance, adding a piquancy with the touch of brown prepared mustard to a sauce makes the dish fresh as spring. Take tender chicken breasts, as an idea, and combine them in a casserole with peas and ham strips.

Then spoon over a mustard-seasoned cream sauce before baking. It's a delicious combination and a seasoning success.

For a real summer menu, serve the casserole with fresh asparagus, green onions and cherry tomatoes, and fresh strawberries with cream for dessert.

Chicken Casserole

2 chicken breasts
6 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
6 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 (10 oz.) pkg. frozen peas
1 cup cooked or canned ham strips
2 envelopes golden seasoning and broth*
1½ cups water
3 tablespoons prepared mustard
½ cup heavy cream
*or 2 chicken bouillon cubes

Cut 2 chicken breasts into halves. Preheat oven 350 degrees F. Mix flour, salt, pepper together. Set aside 4 tablespoons seasoned flour. Use remaining flour to coat chicken breasts. Melt 3 tablespoons butter in skillet. Add floured chicken breasts and brown on both sides.

Pour boiling water over frozen peas. Drain very well. Put peas in bottom of 9-inch baking dish. Mix ham strips with peas. Arrange chicken breasts on top of ham and peas. Melt remaining 3 tablespoons butter.

Stir in flour and mustard. Mix seasoning and broth with hot water. Gradually add to butter - flour mix, mixing until smooth.

Cook, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens. Stir in heavy cream. Cook for 1 minute longer. Pour over chicken. Cover and bake 40 minutes. Makes four servings.

Paint Brush Will Last If Given Proper Care

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

There are some things you just can't check.

One of them is the amount of money wasted each year by home owners who don't take care of paint brushes.

Good-quality, modern brushes are designed to last for years. But it is the rare individual indeed who gets years of wear out of them. Most of us are inclined to use them a few times, then permit them to harden or get out of shape, or both.

When it comes time to paint again, we look at the battered brush, think how much trouble it will be to restore it to usefulness, then go out and buy a new one.

All this is fine for the paint brush manufacturers, although it must be admitted most of them are constantly urging us to take care of their products. But it's not good for our pocketbooks.

An allied disadvantage of lack of care is that we sometimes use an abused brush and wonder why we don't get good results.

When a professional painter buys a new brush, he takes it to his place of business, twirls the handle briskly between his hands for several minutes, then rubs one hand back and forth across the bristles a while longer.

He then wraps the brush in heavy paper that doesn't have print on it and suspends it for 24 hours in raw linseed oil. Note that he suspends it, being careful not to bend the bristles. After the one-day bath, the brush is removed from the oil, which is squeezed out by rubbing the flat side of the bristles against the edge of a board or across a smooth wire.

A rinsing in turpentine, a thorough drying — and the brush is ready to put a new finish on the interior or exterior of your home. If you intend to do the painting yourself, why not follow the professional's example?

When finished with a job, clean the brush with the same solvent for the particular finishing material for which it was used.

That is, if you used paint, varnish or enamel, the solvent is turpentine or mineral spirits. For water-base or any of the latex paints, the solvent is water. For lacquer, it's lacquer thinner. And for shellac, it's denatured alcohol. Always read the label on the container of an odorless paint to determine the type of cleaning agent for the brush or, for that matter, for a roller.

If the brush is not to be used for a while, wrap it in aluminum foil, wax paper or any similar type of material and store it so that the bristles will not be bent.

The Senate reinstated a provision, stricken by the House, under which maximum pensions would be $18,000 a year.

The Senate also went along Tuesday night with a bill aimed at putting the financially troubled Highway Patrol pension program on a sounder basis. It increases investment authority of the Patrol Pension Board and boosts state contributions from the present 5 per cent to a minimum of 9 per cent and maximum of 21 per cent.

In other developments during a busy, 12-hour day, the House agreed to Senate amendments to a measure creating additional common pleas judgeships in Cuyahoga, Summit, Hamilton, Stark, and Medina counties. It now goes to the governor.

The House also accepted Senate amendments and completed passage of a Senate bill extending tax exemption to industries installing water pollution control equipment after next Jan. 1.

County Officials Assured By State On Road Work

LISBON — Assurances on the start of some Route 30 projects west of Lisbon next year and for assistance on construction of a new access road for Highlandtown Lake were received by Columbiana County officials from state authorities at Columbus Tuesday.

Commissioners Max Gard, James Boyd and Frank Wilson, County Engineer John Ursu and Don Gosney, aide to Rep. Wayne L. Hays, met with executives of the Ohio Highway Department and the Division of Natural Resources yesterday afternoon.

After some discussion of the county's highway needs, the highway officials assured the delegation some projects will be undertaken for improvement of Route 30 between Lisbon and the Stark County line.

Elimination of a curve at Beacon Light Hill, where a new extension of Depot Rd. will intersect with Route 30, will get priority, with reduction of other curves to follow, the county group said it was told.

The delegation met first with Earl Nelson, Division II deputy director, and Levi Kimball of the department, and later conferred with C. D. Miller, deputy director in charge of planning.

Later, the group met with officials of the Department of Natural Resources, who said the legislature has approved a bill providing $7.5 million for development of park access roads.

Ursu was requested to submit a cost estimate for the new road at Highlandtown, made necessary after the closing of a section of the Old Steubenville Pike because of the lake project.

New Zealand's Day-Old Quints Are 'Doing Fine'

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP) — New Zealand's day-old Lawson quintuplets are in very good condition, a medical bulletin said today.

The boy and four girls lay in incubators at Auckland's National Women's Hospital as congratulatory wires and offers of help arrived for the parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. (Sam) Lawson.

She is 26 and a former model. He runs a fish and chips shop.

"The birth is an occasion of great joy in which we all share," said Prime Minister Keith Holyoake. He said that he would see that the Lawsons get adequate housing, nursing help and anything else they need.

"It's wonderful, I can't believe it, I'm so excited I can't really describe how I feel," Mrs. Lawson said. "My 5-year-old daughter Lee Ann is absolutely thrilled. As for my husband, I think he's flabbergasted."

The quints have not yet been named.

The boy, born first, weighed exactly 4 pounds at birth. The girls weighed 3 pounds 3 ounces, 4 pounds 3 ounces, 4 pounds 2 ounces and 3 pounds 7½ ounces.

SUMMER CLASSES

During the summer months, two days of every week finds Crucible employes in the classroom attending Midland works' annual fire school. The classes are held to acquaint employes with fire prevention, fire fighting methods and use of various fire fighting equipment.

Fires are infrequent in the plant; but should one happen, Crucible people are ready and able to act quickly with the knowledge of the extensive equipment available to confine and extinguish fires.

Training in fire fighting is only one element in a company safety program aimed at keeping people safe and in good health while they are in the plant. "Safety First" is a slogan born in the steel industry more than 50 years ago. At Crucible we give it a new twist - - First Safety so people can work with plant and capital for progress.

Cincinnati Mass March Eyed

Rights Leaders Set Plan To Block Building Work

CINCINNATI (AP) — Local civil rights leaders say their program for the rest of the summer includes tying up all construction work in town and a possible mass march in the streets.

"To start down the street one day with about 150 Negro clergymen from the Cincinnati area leading us...this is my personal aim and that is the thing we pray most for," Clyde W. Vinegar, community coordinator of the Congress of Racial Equality, said Tuesday night.

The round of demonstrations began Monday when 16 persons, many of them members of CORE, were arrested when they climbed on building forms and into the cellar of an unfinished school site stopping the work. All were freed on bail the same day.

That demonstration was to protest alleged racial discrimination in the building trades unions and Vinegar said there will be more demonstrations on the theory of "work for everybody where public funds are concerned, or work for none."

He said another aim for the demonstrations will be "to unite the Negro community and white people who believe in justice and freedom and fill up all the building sites and jails."

"We will use up all the police department's money locking us up and filling the jails," he told a civil rights rally at Carmel Presbyterian Church in the Avondale section. About 220 persons attended the rally.

As targets for demonstrations, Vinegar named "about half a dozen" school sites, the University of Cincinnati, General Hospital and the new convention hall the city is building as part of its urban renewal program.

The building trades unions have denied they practice discrimination, and have offered to give jobs to qualified Negroes. CORE and other civil rights groups contend Negroes can only get jobs as common laborers.

The demonstration Monday at the East Avondale Elementary School led to the city's getting a temporary restraining order to bar CORE from more such demonstrations, but civil rights leaders feel this applies only to that one site.

Sheriff's Deputy Killed, Partner Hurt In Wreck

CHARDON, Ohio (AP) — A veteran Geauga County sheriff's deputy was killed and his partner injured today in a collision involving their cruiser on U.S. 322 about four miles southeast of here.

Dead at the scene was Lummie Sanders, 50, of Chagrin Falls, 20 years a deputy.

Deputy Eugene Baker, 31, of Chesterland was admitted to Geauga County Community Hospital with serious head injuries.

Also hospitalized was Frank Roblesky, 27, of Huntsburg, driver of the other car in the crash. Four passengers in his car suffered less severe injuries.

The Highway Patrol said the sheriff's cruiser, driven by Baker, crashed into the oncoming Roblesky car when it skidded as Baker applied the brakes to avoid hitting a car that turned left in front of the cruiser to enter a service station.

The cruiser overturned following the collision and both deputies were thrown out, with Sanders pinned beneath the vehicle.

Expect Enlarged Draft

Governors Wait Johnson Report On Viet Situation

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — The nation's governors, awaiting President Johnson's televised report on the situation in Viet Nam, obviously expect the President to announce an enlarged draft on American resources and manpower to balance off the Communist aggression.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey told the governors as much Tuesday night in carefully screened words at the black-tie dinner that marks the social peak of their annual conference.

Humphrey cautioned the governors that the decisions Johnson will announce at a Washington news conference today will touch the lives of thousands of American families.

Humphrey pledged the governors that "we are not going to falter" in opposing an effort by aggressors in South Viet Nam to "demonstrate that murder and terrorism — and not peaceful coexistence — is the path of eventual Communist triumph."

The governors were to take a look at the Johnson administration's antipoverty program today.

Humphrey exercises general supervision of the program, but it was up to Sargent Shriver Jr., director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, to answer to the governors for what several of them regard as its shortcomings.

A majority of the governors vigorously opposed the House action which all but eliminated their veto over projects in their states.

The governors acted on two issues by unanimous consent Tuesday.

They adopted a resolution calling for a study of the possibility of returning to the states a portion of the revenues the federal government collects, and approved a report calling for a comprehensive highway study.

Health Service Reports

2.4 Million Americans Have Never Seen Doctor

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service reported today that an estimated 2.4 million Americans — or 1.3 per cent of the civilian population — say they've never seen or talked to a physician for care or advice.

Most of them are under 15 years of age, and most are nonwhites, but a few contend they've gone 75 years or more without seeking out a doctor.

Estimates of the total number are based on a nationwide household sampling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. James Z. Appel, president of the American Medical Association, has called for rejection of the administration plan for a network of regional medical centers.

Appel told the House Commerce Committee Tuesday that the proposed legislation is vague and unclear.

The centers would include a medical school and teaching hospital, plus research institutes and diagnostic and treatment stations in outlying community hospitals.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Young Americans for Freedom have announced plans for a national campaign against trade with Communist Romania.

President Robert E. Bauman said Tuesday the goal will be to show the administration "just how strongly the average American citizen is opposed to trade with Communist countries which can be used to increase Communist military potential."

The decision followed a Senate speech by Sen. J. W. Fulbright D-Ark., and a presidentially ordered investigation of a now dropped plan to build a synthetic rubber plant in Romania.

Fulbright said the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. scotched such plans after a pressure campaign by the Young Americans for Freedom. He also said a Firestone competitor, Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., tried to capitalize on this by linking Firestone with the Communist country.

500 In Sudan To Face Trial After Rebellion

CAIRO (AP)—Sudan's government radio announced today that about 500 persons will go on trial in connection with a recent rebellion in the black belt of south Sudan.

The broadcast said mass arests followed the outbreaks in the provinces of Equatoria, Bahr El Ghazal and Upper Nile earlier this month. Unconfirmed reports said more than 120 persons were killed.

It apparently was a revival of the dispute between south Sudan's Negro population and the Moslem Arabs of the north who dominate the Sudanese government.

July 4 In August

The skies put on their own Fourth of July display in August.

The Perseid meteor shower occurs around Aug. 11 each year. Then the earth is bombarded with tons of debris from space. Meteors streak across the sky every minute by the thousands in a pyrotechnic display.

The speed with which the meteors fall generates great heat from air friction, the National Geographic Society says. They become white - hot and often blaze bright trails of incandescent gas.

Old Faithful of meteor showers, the Perseids were first recorded in A.D. 36. Unlike other swarms that wheel around the sun in clusters, the Perseids form a stream that fills their entire orbit with dust and pebbles. Every August, the earth passes through this cosmic river.

In 1862, Italian astronomer Giovanni Schiaparelli, while observing a faint, unspectacular comet, noticed that its orbit was almost identical to that of the Perseids. He concluded it was the source of the August display.

Bidders On Milwaukee Building

Ship On Bottom Of Lake Will Be Auctioned Today

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — How do you auction off a ship lying under water?

This is the way it will be done Wednesday when the Prins Willem V, a 258-foot Dutch ocean-going diesel cargo ship lying at the bottom of Lake Michigan, is auctioned off.

Prospective bidders will assemble atop one of Milwaukee's newest and tallest downtown buildings commanding a splendid view of the harbor. The auction will start at $27,000.

Experienced divers will be available on request to assist potential buyers.

The Prins Willem V was insured for $2 million. It sank Oct. 14, 1954, after colliding with a towed oil barge. It is lying on its side in about 75 feet of water four miles east of the Milwaukee harbor entrance. Sporadic efforts have been made to bring the ship to the surface. The ship's sealed cargo was insured for $750,000.

At first it was believed that the highest point of the sunken ship was 31 feet below the surface and thus a hazard to navigation. As such it became U.S. government property with the ship owners relinquishing title.

The Army contracted with Max Eugene Nohl, a Milwaukee deep sea diver, to clear the wreckage to a safe depth of 40 feet. The terms gave Nohl title to the Prins Willem.

The navigational hazard turned out to be a gangplank. A few strokes of a diver's knife and Nohl had fulfilled the contract. After some litigation he collected nearly all of his $50,000 contract figure.

Nohl and his wife were killed in an automobile accident in Arkansas in 1960. A corporation formed by his heirs contracted with Samuel L. Witnernitz, a Chicago industrial auction firm, to sell the ship and cargo on an "as is, where is" basis.

The 715-ton cargo consists of printing machinery, chemicals in steel drums, leather, hides, television picture tubes, musical instruments, outboard motors, slide projects and other items of U.S. manufacture. The cargo, sealed and packed for export, is presumed to be undamaged.

Best Photo Of Mars Shows It's Dead Orb

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Times reported today that Mariner 4's best pictures of Mars show the red planet apparently is a dead orb similar to the moon.

The newspaper said it learned that the pictures — not yet made public — show craters gouged in the surface of the planet but no evidence of canals.

Some astronomers have theorized that canals exist on Mars.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I read with interest the letter from the 45-year-old widow seeking to re-enter the business world, and found all doors closed until she was advised by a personnel director to shave 10 years off her age.

You asked for an answer to the widow's question, "Why does industry refuse to hire women over 40?" As a secretary who began her career at 37 (22 years ago) I believe I can answer.

Many companies, especially large organizations who offer fringe benefits, are reluctant to hire older people because the benefit programs are underwritten by insurance contracts which have a maximum age limit for new employes — usually 35. Taking on employes over 35 increases the cost of the program.

Then there's a second reason that isn't discussed in polite business society, but it's very real. The men want younger women around the office — not older ones.

They may scream about inefficient, lame-brained, wet-behind-the-ears, dumbbells who can't spell, can't punctuate, can't get in on time, and so on, yet they continue to hire the cute young things with their high bosoms and tight skirts.

The gray-haired motherly types with 18 years' experience are told, "Sorry. We have nothing for you." — P.C.I.

Dear P.C.I.: Wow! And thank you.

Fouled Out

Dear Ann: I've been in my room crying for an hour. My eyes are so swollen I can hardly see to write this letter.

Last night I had some kids over. (We are all between 16 and 17;. Bill (a boy I like a lot) told a joke that had some not-so-nice words in it but everybody knows what they mean. That very minute my dad walked in. He was in the next room and he heard everything. I almost died when I saw him.

Dad said, "Who told that joke?" Bill answered, "I did. Anything in it you didn't understand, Clyde?"

All the kids laughed. My dad got real mad and said, "We don't allow that kind of talk in this house, young man. There's the door." He took Bill by the arm and ushered him out.

The kids were flabbergasted and left right away. My party was ruined. I'll bet they'll never come again. I know Bill is through with me for good.

My dad is not mean or prudish. I never saw him act like this before. How can I square this with the kids? Please help me. — AGNES.

Dear Agnes: I don't see that you have anything to square. Foul language is out of place in decent company. Bill is the one who should be squaring things.

If Bill doesn't come around any more you haven't lost a thing. He sounds like a wet wick to me.

Father's Right

Dear Ann: My sister and her husband were divorced many years ago. Neither has remarried.

Their eldest daughter was married in a beautiful church ceremony last week. The bride came down the aisle on her father's arm. The bride's mother was seated in the first row. When the minister asked, "Who giveth this woman in marriage?" the bride's father answered in a loud voice, "I do."

He has not been a real father to that girl for years. Her mother raised the girl with very little help from anyone. Don't you feel that he should have answered, "Her mother and I do?" — JUST WONDERING.

Dear Just: Sorry, but the father of the bride gives his daughter in marriage. And the response to the question should be the traditional one regardless of the circumstances.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Minnesota Gains Split; Indians Dump White Sox, 7-3

Orioles Win But Remain 4 Off Pace

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bert Campaneris has found a job he likes. He's busy digging the Kansas City Athletics out of the American League cellar.

Campaneris, the Athletics' ambidextrous shortstop-outfielder, rapped six hits, including an inside-the-park homer, scored six runs and stole two bases Tuesday night, leading a 7-3, 10-8 KC sweep of the skidding Boston Red Sox.

The doubleheader victory moved the A's within one game of the ninth- place Red Sox. They can escape 10th place for the first time since April 21 by winning the remaining two games of the Boston series.

Campy, who does everything but pitch and catch for the A's, dazzled the Red Sox with his bat and legs Tuesday night. He singled twice in the first game and stole his 35th and 36th bases — high in the league — before stroking a triple and two more singles in addition to his fourth homer in the nightcap.

He leads the league in triples with 10, ranks fifth in hits with 104 and has a creditable .273 batting average.

At the other end of the AL ladder, first-place Minnesota, paced by Don Mincher's two-run homer in the seventh, beat Washington 9-5 in the second game of a twi-night double header after dropping the opener 10-7. The split cut the Twins' lead to four games over the second-place Baltimore Orioles, who edged the Los Angeles Angels 3-2 in 10 innings.

Elsewhere, Pedro Gonzalez led Cleveland to a 7-3 victory over the Chicago White Sox while New York and Detroit divided a twin bill, the Yankees winning the twilight game 4-3 on Tom Tresh's two-run homer and the Tigers taking the night game 3-0 with a three-run rally in the eighth.

Mincher's 13th home run put Minnesota ahead to stay in the Washington nightcap after Earl Battey's second homer of the evening pulled the league leaders within range. Mike Brumley, a .142 hitter going into the doubleheader, sparked the Senators in the opener with his first and second homers of the year.

Brooks Robinson's single off Dean Chance in the 10th scored Russ Snyder, who led off the inning with a pinch hit double, with the winning run at Baltimore. The loss was Chance's eighth in 14 decisions.

Gonzalez drove in three Cleveland runs with a double and single, helping Ralph Terry record his 10th victory as the third-place Indians moved within 4½ games of first place.

Whitey Ford became the league's first 12-game winner in the New York opener but needed relief help from Pedro Ramos and Steve Hamilton after Tresh's sixth-inning homer erased a 3-2 Detroit lead.

The Tigers broke up a scoreless duel between Joe Sparma and New York's Jim Bouton in the nightcap on Don Wert's sacrifice fly, Jerry Lumpe's squeeze bunt and a bases-loaded walk to Dick McAuliffe in the eighth. The victory was Sparma's fourth straight against the Yankees this season.

Spahn Goes Distance But Loses 3-0 To Cards

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Lou Brock broke for first. He had struck out, but the ball evaded catcher Tom Haller. When Haller tried to pick it up, the ball wasn't there. Umpire Augie Donatelli, trying to get out of the way, had kicked it.

That brief fiasco occurred in the third inning Tuesday and foreshadowed the kind of night Warren Spahn was in for.

Brock didn't score —Spahn picked him off — but the fading southpaw still lost a four-hitter 3-0 as St. Louis defeated San Francisco.

The complete game was the first since June 11 for the 44-year-old pitcher, who is making a determined effort to prove he still can win. He hasn't won since May 25, but he certainly can expect more chances at improving on his record as the winningest left-hander in history.

Spahn, now 4-13 with a nine-game losing streak, whittled his earned run average from 4.57 to 4.40 while watching his week-old teammates go scoreless for the first time in a month.

The performance was in great contrast to his first start with the Giants after leaving the New York Mets. Cincinnati rocked him for three runs in only 2 1-3 innings last Thursday.

The Cardinals, however, were anything but brutal as they backed Bob Purkey's five-hit pitching. After Bill White homered in the second inning, Spahn allowed only two hits. St. Louis, in fact, didn't even get a hit in scoring its final run in the ninth.

★ ★ ★ Dodgers Win; Bucs Split ★ ★ ★

Curt Flood grounded to third baseman Jim Hart, who tossed the ball past first base. Flood raced to second, then continued all the way home when Haller picked up the ball and fired it into left field.

Elsewhere in the National League, Los Angeles outlasted Cincinnati 9-7 in a wild game, Milwaukee whipped Houston 7-1, Pittsburgh edged Philadelphia 3-2 in 10 innings after losing 3-1 and Chicago defeated New York 6-3.

The Dodgers recorded two errors, four wild pitches and a passed ball, but Jim Gilliam powered them past the Reds, driving in four runs with a homer, double and single. Maury Wills extended his hitting streak to 20 games and stole his 70th and 71st bases. Deron Johnson hit a two-run homer for Cincinnati.

Milwaukee swept by Houston behind Felipe Alou and Joe Torre. Each hit a homer and drove in two runs. Billy O'Dell saved Tony Cloninger's 13th triumph against eight defeats, pitching out of a bases-loaded jam in the seventh inning.

Philadelphia relief pitcher Gary Wagner split a doubleheader, losing the second game when Pittsburgh's Willie Stargell doubled and Donn Clendenon singled him home in the 10th. The Phillies had tied it in the eighth when John Herrnstein singled in Clay Dalrymple.

Bob Friend was headed for his second straight shutout in the opener until the Phillies erupted for three runs with two out in the ninth. Tony Gonzalez tied it with a run-scoring single, and Cookie Rojas won it with a two-run double.

Ernie Banks drove in four runs with a bases-loaded double and a bases-empty home run as Chicago downed the Mets, who played under interim manager Wes Westrum. Bob Buhl posted his 11th victory against seven defeats.

TWO DEAD HEATS occurred in the same race for first and third places in the fifth race Tuesday at Monmouth Park. Graig Lynn (3) is nose to nose with Trojan Fleet (8) for first place while Morrislea (1) and Peto (7) finish in a dead heat for third. (UPI Telephoto)

EL Merchants Lose 12-8 To Beaver Falls

The Friendly Bowling-Merchants waited until the sixth inning to score eight runs but this didn't prove enought as Beaver Falls picked up a 12-8 victory Tuesday at Crucible Field in a Beaver County League game.

Beaver Falls tallied five runs in the first inning, one in the third and six in the fourth.

The winners clubbed three triples in gaining the victory while Meeks tagged one for the Merchants.

Hasenstab paced Friendly at the plate with three hits.

Friendly will meet Monaca today at Crucible Field at 6 p. m.

Robin Roberts Placed On Waivers By Orioles

BALTIMORE (AP) — Robin Roberts, still planning his pitching future near the end of a brilliant baseball career, has been placed on waivers by the Baltimore Orioles at his own request.

Dropped out of the starting rotation after losing seven straight decisions, the 38-year-old right-hander didn't relish his unfamiliar role as a spot starter and long reliever.

"I have no quarrel at not being used as a starter," Roberts said prior to Tuesday night's game against the Los Angeles Angels. "I just don't want to participate otherwise."

Roberts, who ranks No. 16 among all-time major league winners with 276 victories, viewed his bullpen duty as the possible prelude to his final season.

The veteran campaigner said he wanted to become a regular starter with another club for the rest of the season, "thus placing myself in a position of pitching as a regular next year."

Florists Halt Dentists Bid For Playoffs

The Dentists need a victory tonight over the Riverview Florists if they expect to make the Colt League playoffs. Riverview handed the Dentists a 5-3 setback Tuesday and the same two teams meet tonight in the final regularly scheduled game.

Riverview posted a run in the first inning and three in the third to clinch the victory. All three Dentists' runs came in the third.

Bob Pancake bested Mike Piatt on the mound as both hurlers gave up five hits.

Buzz Arrington with a double and single paced Riverview while Duffy collected two hits for Dentists.

Meet The Press To Change Time

Uprooting a TV landmark like "Meet the Press" and planting it deeper into TV's Sunday afternoon ghetto for think programs may not strike a lot of viewers as progress.

Hal Humphrey

"Meet the Press" moved into TV from radio on Nov. 6, 1947, which makes it the oldest regular program on TV today. After being in a series of different time spots, NBC anchored it at 6 p.m. Sundays on Oct. 12, 1952, where "Meet the Press" has remained intact and impervious to change of almost any kind.

But on next Sept. 19 NBC is moving "Meet the Press" to 1 p.m. Sundays to make way for a program it says will place more emphasis on "hard news." It is to be called the Sunday program, a title already used by the network on Sundays for a show that has covered feature news.

"Hard news" is a journalistic term which TV has borrowed from the press to define news of a compelling nature and which generally is happening at the moment.

WHAT NBC'S executives do not seem to realize is that Lawrence Spivak with his guests and interviewing newsmen is developing a good part of the hard news to come along on the average Sunday, which notably is a slow news day.

Frequently Monday's newspapers report something said by a politician, labor leader or someone else of importance who appeared on Spivak's "Meet the Pres" the evening before.

NBC president, Robert Kintner, says the new Sunday program and the "Scherer-MacNeil Report," a new Saturday news program to start this September, are being put into early evening spots to sustain a continuity of hard news at approximately the same evening hour throughout the week.

It will be interesting to see how much of NBC's new Sunday news half-hour can sustain viewer interest and how often it will be reporting something said on "Meet the Press" a few hours earlier.

MOST TV newscasts remain superficial and lack information on subjects where it really counts. Last week's political explosion in Greece was a good example. The national network newscats on TV reported the riots but seemed to have no explanation of causes. The viewer had to get that from his newspaper.

By burying Spivak on Sunday afternoon, NBC may be virtually eliminating one of its best newsmen from the news scene. Kintner says Spivak will have an even bigger audience at 1 p.m. Sundays. Spivak says he doesn't know what to think. He hopes his loyal audience will follow him. "It certainly will be a good test," he adds, with perhaps a trace of apprehension.

Spivak sold "Meet the Press" to NBC 10 years ago so he had nothing to say in the network's decision to pull it from its 6 p.m. berth. He was not even consulted beforehand nor told why he was being switched to another time.

WHAT MIGHT be termed a crumb or two of sustenance has been tossed Spivak's way in "a number of special full-hour 'Meet the Press programs' to be telecast in the 6:30;7:30 p.m. time Sundays. NBC does not specify exactly how many of these there will be — probably just enough to prove to Spivak that the bulk of his audience is available at 6 p.m. but not at 1 p.m. on Sunday.

According to the rating services, "Meet the Press" has a steady and respectably sized audience at 6 p.m. (5 p.m. in the Midwest time zone). Occasionally, as he did last November with Juana Castro (Fidel's sister), Spivak has scored above a 16 rating. No straight newscast ever does that well with the men who conjure up the mystical rating numbers.

And on a Sunday afternoon at 1 p.m. there generally aren't that many people watching all three networks combined.

2 Drivers Fined $10, Costs At Cumberland

NEW CUMBERLAND—Jackie R. Scott, 25, of New Cumberland R.D. 2 was fined $10 and costs by Squire John D. Herron in a hearing Monday for having no auto inspection sticker. Sheriff's deputies made the arrest.

In another hearing conducted by Herron Monday, Clark N. Gaston, 17, of New Cumberland R.D. 1 was fined $10 and costs for having defective brakes on his automobile. Gaston was arrested by West Virginia state police.

Employment's Down In Executive Branch

WASHINGTON (AP) — A report that employment in the executive branch of the government is down 602 from the level of last year has brought commendations from President Johnson.

The report, listing employment at 2,468,663 as of June 30, was made by Budget Director Charles Schultze. Johnson told the Cabinet Tuesday he is greatly gratified at the success of an effort to hold down the pay roll.

The Charter of the United Nations was signed June 26, 1945, in San Francisco, Calif.

The Columbiana County Football Officials Association will hold an important meeting Thursday at 8:30 p. m. at the YMCA.

Reds Obtain New Sponsor, Hoyt Seen Out

CINCINNATI (AP) — When the Cincinnati Reds start playing next season they'll most likely have a new radio announcer to report their games.

The Reds announced a change of sponsors Tuesday, with the Wiedemann Brewing Co. succeeding Burger Brewing Co., and this probably will mean the departure of Waite Hoyt, who has reported Reds games for Burger since 1941.

Hoyt's successor apparently will be Paul Sommerkamp, a Cincinnati advertising man who has made announcements on the Crosley Field public address system for 14 years. Sources indicated his partner will be someone with previous experience in major league broadcasting.

The 65-year-old Hoyt, a former New York Yankees pitching star, has both ardent fans and bitter critics among the thousands who follow the Reds' fortunes on radio.

While Sommerkamp declined to comment on reports about his future, Hoyt said in Los Angeles, "You might say my status is in a suspended state at this time."

The future of Hoyt's partner, Claude Sullivan, also remained unclear. Sullivan came here last year from Louisville, Ky.

Casey Should Be Back On His Feet By Friday

NEW YORK (AP) — Indomitable old Casey Stengel, his left hip held together by a metal ball following successful surgery for a displaced fracture, looked forward today to being back on his feet and walking with the aid of a cane by the end of the week.

Stengel, who'll be 75 Friday, was expected to remain in Roosevelt Hospital for three weeks.

Dr. Peter LaMotte, club physician of the New York Mets, headed a team of orthopedic surgeons who performed the 45-minute operation on the elderly manager Tuesday.

Dr. LaMotte said the use of a metal ball instead of the conventional pin as a coupling device would enable Stengel to walk sooner. The operation was described as not complex but, because of Casey's age, a serious one.

Casey's wife, Edna, flew from their Glendale, Calif. home to be at her husband's side before the operation.

Stengel suffered the injury early Sunday morning following a party for oldtimers of the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants. The Mets had honored the oldtimers at Shea Stadium Saturday afternoon.

Dr. LaMotte said he thought the manager had injured himself getting out of a car. "I think he twisted his hip," the physician said. "He complained of pain before going to bed that night, and when he got up, the pain was more severe."

New U. S. Open champion Gary Player tied for 23rd place in the 1964 event with 295 and won $475. This year he shot 282, beat Kel Nagle in a playoff and earned $26,000.

Newell Scores 12-6 Hot Stove Victory

Newell came up with seven runs in the first inning and easily scored a 12-6 victory over Lawrenceville Tuesday in a South Side Hot Stove Senior League game.

Gary McNichol was the winning hurler and gave up four hits while fanning eight batters. Jim Durham's triple and single paced Newell at the plate. Lawrenceville committed eight errors as three hurlers went to the hill for the losers.

Browns Recall Memories About Past Star Games

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—As the Cleveland Browns near the College All-Star Game at Soldier Field in Chicago Aug. 6, a variety of memories are recalled about games—college and professional—played there in the past.

Pleasant memories were recalled at the Browns' training camp Tuesday by quarterback Jim Ninowski. He clicked with receiver Bobby Mitchell for two touchdown passes as the Detroit Lions fell to the collegians in 1958. Mitchell and Ninowski won co-honors for being the most valuable players in the game.

Fullback Jim Brown has mixed memories about games played at the Chicago field.

The first game there was with the collegians in 1957—the year Brown rode the bench most of the game. He says the experience was irritating but made him more determined to become an outstanding pro football player.

High School Defeats Central Nine By 8-5

The High School nine defeated Central School, 8-5, in a Southern Division game in the Playground League Tuesday.

J. Pittenger led the High School with three hits and M. Blankenship blasted a triple and single. Steve Staley had four hits in a losing cause.

Planes Flies Wagner, Bride To Gulf Island

MARCO ISLAND, Fla. (AP)— A private plane whisked New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner and his bride to this Gulf of Mexico island for a 10-day honeymoon in seclusion.

The mayor and the former Barbara Joan Cavanagh flew here from Tampa Tuesday after a flight from New York, where they were married Monday.

Marco Island is about 50 miles south of Fort Myers.

Stone Age Tribe

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — A hitherto unknown primitive tribe which still uses stone age implements has been discovered living on the northern fringe of the fast desert wastes of Southwest Africa.

The discovery was made by a scientific expedition from the Windhoek Museum. They made a brief film of the bushy-haired tribesmen, all of whom were just over 5 feet tall.

Interpreters had extreme difficulty in understanding the tribesmen, who spoke a strange, previously unheard, Herero dialect.

The men of the tribe are able to skin a buck in minutes using their stone (quartz) cutting tools.

Greek Premier Bids To Line Up Confidence Vote

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Premier George Athanasiadis Novas sparred for time today in an effort to mobilize a majority in Parliament for the vote of confidence his government needs to survive.

The new premier, named by King Constantine 13 days ago to replace ousted Premier George Papandreou, had been generally expected to go before Parliament Thursday to ask for the confidence vote. But political sources said he now did not plan to make the request until Friday.

After opening formalities and a statement by the new premier, the 300-member Parliament was expected to recess for the weekend, postponing the confidence vote debate until Monday. The debate could last three or four days.

Man Freed From Prison Thanks One Who Saved Him

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — When short, wiry Richard Reilly walked out of the Tennessee State Prison a free man, one of the first things he did was go to the man who spared his life 18 years ago.

Reilly, gray at 38, had a job, a diploma, and a $300 college scholarship waiting for him.

First he wanted to thank former Gov. James McCord, "who had tears in his eyes the first time he met me around Easter in 1947.

"I just barged in the house like it was home," said Reilly in an interview Tuesday night.

"Gov. McCord seemed happy to see me. It was a far cry from our first meeting when he made me realize how final death is."

It was after this meeting that McCord commuted Reilly's death sentence to life imprisonment. The commutation came just 25 minutes before Reilly was to have walked to the electric chair.

McCord, now 86, appeared before the State Board of Pardon and Paroles two months ago to plead for Reilly's release on parole. His request was granted Tuesday.

Reilly, a native of Pittsburgh, Pa., was 20 years old when he was convicted of murdering a Memphis clothing store salesman. Until five years ago, prison officials say he was a troublemaker. Once he escaped. He spent three years in solitary confinement.

When Harry Avery became Tennessee corrections commissioner, he interviewed Reilly and released him from solitary.

"Gov. McCord saved my life, but Commissioner Avery gave me a chance to make something out of it," Reilly said.

Reilly began educating himself. Soon he was teaching other convicts such subjects as trigonometry, a course in which he scored 99 of a possible 100 by correspondence.

He recently won the college scholarship from the American School in Chicago in recognition of his outstanding grades — a four-year average of 94.

Bailiffs Should Have Gun, Sheriff Claims

CLEVELAND, (AP) — Cuyahoga County Sheriff James J. McGettrick believes all court bailiffs should be armed and deputized.

John Lowe, 50, surrendered Tuesday and was held for investigation. His wife was hospitalized in satisfactory condition.

Johnson's Daughter Will Attend Texas U.

A DEALER needs cars and pick-ups. Must be exceptionally sharp. Will pay cash or if payments too high will trade back to older model — finance balances paid off. "Say," why not trade back to one of the most economical cars in the world for approximately $1 a day. You can trade your big costly operating car for a like new Volkswagen with operating on 1c per mile, 5.3 pints of the best oil, get up to 43.2 miles on regular gas, up to 100,000 miles on your first set of tires, also in replacing a new rear fender costs only $18.95, insurance is much, much less on a Volkswagen. Make us prove it. You eliminate water pump, radiator, anti-freeze, hose, clamps, drive shaft assembly. It's a rear end air cooled engine. You can almost trade year for year for the price of power steering, power brakes, power windows, power seat, and automatic on your big costly operating car. Volkswagen has the lowest depreciation, providing you keep it sharp, highest trade in value, and it starts at $1,563 P.O.E. and up. You pay less and save 50c out of every $1 when you drive a Volkswagen versus a big costly operating car. Why not join the millions of people who are driving the Volkswagen. There must be a reason. Come in, write, or call and talk to our courteous salesmen. SEE your local representative Mr. CHUCK RINESTINE. See it — Drive it — Just try it. —There goes another Volkswagen. Why does he drive a Volkswagen? Ask the man who owns one. Beaver Valley Volkswagen, 294 State St., Vanport, Beaver, Pa. Your factory dealer, only 20 miles from East Liverpool, Ohio on Pa. Rt. 68. 775-4550.

P. S. PARTS AVAILABLE IMMEDIATELY or on tap within 24 hours. Service almost immediately. Call Mr. Charles Coen, your local man from Wellsville and our service manager or Mr. Earl King, parts manager for more information.

Housing Bill

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Questions, Answers On Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are some questions and answers on major provisions of the housing bill awaiting President Johnson's signature, with its new feature of rent subsidies.

Q. Will the government pay part of the rent for everybody who thinks he needs a bigger or better apartment or house than he can afford?

A. No. In the first place, only those families whose income is low enough to qualify them for the present kinds of public housing would be eligible.

Q. How much is that?

A. The figure varies from place to place and according to family size. Local housing authorities set the level in each community. A family that meets this income test, is inadequately housed, or elderly or handicapped, or has lost its housing because of official condemnation of property or natural disaster, would be eligible for the subsidies.

Q. How much help would this mean?

A. The family would pay rent equivalent to 25 per cent of its income. The subsidy would cover the difference between that figure and a fair rent for safe and sanitary housing.

Q. The government would just pay the family's landlord the difference?

A. Not to just any landlord — no private landlord renting property for profit. The payments could be made to groups like churches, cooperatives, labor unions or limited-dividend organizations building or owning moderate cost housing. Part of the idea is to encourage such groups to build housing. The present bill would help finance 375,000 family units.

Q. Does the bill do anything else for inadequately housed people?

A. Several things. For example, there is a program of grants to impoverished homeowners to help them make their rundown properties livable. Those with annual incomes of $3,000 or less could get a grant of up to $1,500. The bill also provides for 240,000 units of public housing, with a new feature intended to provide housing quickly: up to 100,000 of these units could be obtained by purchase or rent of existing housing.

Q. How about the ordinary home owner or would-be home owner?

A. In general, existing housing, mortgage guarantee and similar programs are continued. There is a new plan of FHA-insured homes for servicemen and veterans with reduced down payments and a new plan for rural housing loans. An extra $150 million for direct loans for housing for the elderly also is provided.

Q. Does the legislation do anything about city improvement and real estate development?

A. A number of things. There are grants for urban beautification and land improvement, an additional $325 million for acquisition of land to be kept in open spaces, a new mortgage assistance program to assist in assembling tracts for development — and the urban renewal programs for slum clearance and the like are continued.

Man To Face Hearing After Skidding Wreck

An Irondale man escaped injury, but was cited for driving left of center and operating an unsafe vehicle by the Wintersville state patrol following a skidding mishap on Rt. 213, about a mile and a half south of Wellsville Tuesday at 2:05 p. m.

Officers said Thurman Allgood, 33, of Box 243 Irondale, was traveling west when he slid off the right side of the road, striking two poles and a gas pump located on the Aqua Club boat landing property and owned by Orville Howell of Irondale.

Officers estimated $150 in property damage and $100 in damages to Allgood's auto.

Allgood is to be given a hearing Tuesday before Squire A. H. Evans of Toronto.

Will Open To Traffic

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Nine miles of a 21-mile stretch of U.S. 30 under construction between Interstate 71 and the intersection of U.S. 250 west of Wooster will open to traffic in October, a month ahead of schedule, officials announced Tuesday.

Michigan, in 1847, was the first state to abolish capital punishment.

Pitt Post Quit By Litchfield

PITTSBURGH — Dr. Edward H. Litchfield resigned Tuesday as chancellor of the University of Pittsburgh.

He gave no specific reason himself for the action, but a medical report issued with his resignation said he was "strongly advised" to seek less strenuous activity.

Dr. Litchfield suffered a heart attack May 22 and at the time took a vacation in the Virgin Islands to recuperate.

Joseph G. Colangelo Jr., Pitt's public relations director, announced the resignation during a news conference at the Cathedral of Learning.

Dr. Litchfield, 51, became the university's 12th chancellor 10 years ago.

He has been under attack in recent months by several of Pitt's trustees, who charge he permitted the institution's financial structure to deteriorate to a crisis position.

Dawson Selected For Playlot Post

Robert G. Dawson, East Liverpool High School assistant basketball coach, has been appointed playgrounds director for the East Liverpool Recreation Council.

Dawson, of 406 Vine St., will succeed Keith Dunlevy, who will end his duties Aug. 20 and leave for a teaching post in Maryland.

Dawson is now working with Dunlevy and will direct the winter sports program and be in charge of the Council's 17 playlots next summer.

School Personnel Due Pay Hike In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Across-the-board raises of at least $100 for all Cleveland school system personnel are provided in the school board's 1966 budget of $76 million.

Teachers, under the budget approved Tuesday, would receive an additional $200 under the proposed state foundation bill. Clerical employes would get a $300 pay hike, their first since 1961. The raises will be effective Sept. 1.

Reports Income Up

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Gas & Electric Co. says its income for the year ending June 30 was up more than $3 million—$26,508,219 or $1.60 a share, compared with $1.38 a share the year before.

More Candidates File On Nonpartisan Slate

A slate of candidates from Summitville, a lone candidate for a Washingtonville post, five and a lone school board candidate have filed petitions with the County Election Board as non-partisan candidates at the Nov. 2 general election.

The Summitville slate is headed by Ernest Phillips, seeking a new term as nayor.

The other village candidates include Marjorie C. Roberts, clerk; Evelyn Rogers, treasurer, and William Swinger, Dean T. Downell, Dominic Sabatino and George W. Kellison seeking Council seats.

George H. Garrod entered as a candidate for the Fairfield-Waterford school board and John G. King filed for clerk of Washingtonville village.

The board reminded the nonpartisan candidates for small villages, township and school district posts that the deadline for filing is next Wednesday, Aug. 4.

Automation Takes Over Job Of Winding Clock

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — No longer need George Bewig trudge up five flights of steep, winding stairs inside an ancient church spire to crank up the city clock.

Automation has taken over and the 62-year-old town clock winder is glad. "It's a wearisome task," he says.

"I had to first crank up the weights that strike the gong — and they weigh 1,200 pounds. Then, I had to crank up the weight that runs the clock itself — it weighs 175 pounds.

"Doing both of these each week — well, it isn't easy," said Bewig, who is 6 feet tall and weighs 200 pounds.

Bewig, a jeweler whose family firm was founded in 1871 by an uncle, has not missed a week in the three years he has been climbing the tower stairs at the First Presbyterian church to wind and adjust the clock.

Since 1857, the city has been paying someone to do this job.

I've been trying to get them to install an electrically powered gear system," said Bewig, whose clock-winder salary is $150 yearly.

"The city couldn't afford it until they put in a recent one-cent sales tax increase. Now, they can pay for the changeover."

The changeover will cost the city about $1,000 — double the amount paid 118 years ago for the original clock.

Bewig is not out of a job — he will continue to maintain the clock.

"If a power failure occurs, it will have to be set to the correct time, and it will still need maintenance and oiling. Now, I'll only have to go up about once every two or three months."

Drivers Aren't Hurt As Autos Sideswipe

No injuries or arrests were reported following a two-car collision on Hollow Rock Rd., about three miles south of Wellsville, Tuesday at 11:10 p.m., the Wintersville state patrol said.

Cars driven by Kenneth Tharp, 28, of Toronto and Robert Ray Morrison, 24, of Rogers sideswiped when they met on a narrow bridge, officers said.

Tharp was traveling south and Morrison north. Moderate damage was sustained by both cars.

Police Given Report On Theft At Millinery

Approximately $200 in cash and some stock was taken from the Kormos Millinery shop, 206 E. 5th St, over the weekend, police were told in a belated report Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Doris Farnsworth, an employe, discovered the theft Monday morning, Mrs. Shirley McBurney, owner, told officers. The money was taken from a drawer, but Police Capt. R. B. Pyle and Patrolman C. A. Winters said there were no indications of forcible entry.

Some stock also is missing, Mrs. McBurney told the officers.

Records Are Set By National Steel

PITTSBURGH — The National Steel Corp. attained all-time quarterly records for sales and shipments in the second quarter, ended June 30, Chairman Paul H. Carnahan has announced.

In addition, Carnahan disclosed, the company established records for any second quarter in net earnings and ingot production. In each case, second quarter performance was exceeded only by the 1964 fourth quarter earnings and ingot production.

"This record - setting performance," Carnahan said, "was due in part to the very high level of steel consumption by a booming American economy, in part to inventory accumulation by our customers against the uncertainties of a protracted labor contract negotiation, and in part to National Steel's readiness for such unprecedented demand as a result of its continued heavy capital spending for modern, high-capacity equipment."

Net income, after all charges, for the second quarter was $24,413,726, equal to $1.55 per share. This was an increase of 18 per cent over net income of $20,632,851, or $1.32 per share, for the second 1964 quarter.

First half net income of $47,166,811, was 21 per cent greater than first half 1964 earnings, which totalled $39,086,139. Per share earnings for the 1965 first half were $3, compared with $2.50 per share for the comparable 1964 period.

Victims Of Pakistan Cyclone Due U.S. Aid

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP) —The United States is going to provide more than $14 million in aid for cyclone victims in East Pakistan, a government spokesman told the National Assembly today.

A cyclone and tidal wave hit East Pakistan on May 12, killing more than 17,000 persons and causing property damage estimated at more than $200 million.

Block To Be Cleared For URA Program

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Wrecking crews will go to work this fall to clear a block next to the Butler County Courthouse for Hamilton's $3.5 million urban renewal program.

Developer Arthur J. Beerman of Dayton signed a contract for the job Tuesday.

Washington Attorney In Line For Top Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House has knocked down reports that Washington attorney Abe Fortas is in line for an important appointment. Or has it?

Press secretary Bill D. Moyers said Monday Fortas has told President Johnson repeatedly he does not want any government post. Moyers elaborated Tuesday by saying he knew Fortas has turned down two offers and repeated he is not interested in any post in the government.

But Moyers added, with a smile, "I also want to make clear I've done the same thing. My arm was not twisted. I don't know how I got here, but here I am."

All Four Aboard Navy Plane Killed In Crash

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP) — All four men aboard a U.S. Navy patrol plane were killed when it crashed into the sea Monday just after taking off from Kindley Air Force Base.

The four-engine plane, a T3A Orion, burst into flames and narrowly missed some oil tanks before it plunged into 50 feet of water.

The names of the dead were withheld until next of kin were notified.

Vote On 2 Bond Issues

CINCINNATI (AP) — Hamilton County voters will have a chance this fall to vote on two bond issues to help hospitals in the county.

One will be to add 37.4 cents per $1,000 tax evaluation for 23 years to help build and equip new hospitals. The other is a 39.4 mill levy for five years to help pay for the upkeep of three existing hospitals and to aid child welfare. County commissioners voted Tuesday to put both on the ballot.

Payne Faces Hearing Thursday At Lisbon

LISBON — A preliminary hearing is scheduled at 1:30 p.m. Thursday for Robert Payne, 37, of Massillon, who is charged with assault with intent to commit robbery July 18.

Payne, who will appear before Judge J. L. MacDonald in Southwest Area County Court here, is allegedly one of two men who bound and gagged Stella Frantum at a rest home. He was arrested July 22 by the Columbiana County sheriff's office.

Payne is free on $3,000 bond.

Takes Hospital Post

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, July 28, the 209th day of 1965. There are 156 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1932, Maj. Gen. Douglas MacArthur, acting under White House orders, drove the veterans' "Bonus Army" from Washington. The veterans, originally 10,000 strong, had camped in makeshift shacks in an effort to force immediate payment of a cash bonus to which they were entitled on less immediate terms.

On this date

In 1750, composer Johann Sebastian Bach died.

In 1829, a steam carriage invented by Sir Goldsworth Gurney traveled from London to Bath, England, and back at 15 miles an hour.

In 1896, Miami, Florida was incorporated with a population of 260.

In 1914, Austria declared war on Serbia at the opening of World War I.

In 1946, Gen. Charles de Gaulle urged an alliance between France and Britain to help offset the emergence of United States and Russia as the two major world powers.

Ten years ago — Three dishonorably discharged soldiers, who had renounced the United States for life in Red China two years before, arrived in San Francisco.

Five years ago—The Federal Reserve Board declared that its reduction in margin requirements for buying common stocks was not ordered to bolster stock prices or to stimulate credit and speculation.

One year ago—President John F. Kennedy's widow, Jacqueline, announced she had bought a cooperative apartment on New York's 5th Avenue

Junior Editors Quiz on BODY ENERGY

QUESTION: How does the body renew its energy?

ANSWER: Our bodies are wonderful machines which work for us, making it possible for us to do the things we want—such as climbing a mountain top (big picture). The boys will need a lot of energy for their climb. Where are they going to get it?

The boys themselves are giving the main answer: from food. Food is a kind of body fuel. After being digested, it reaches the millions of body cells and oxidizes, or burns slowly. This releases the energy we need for everything we do. Oxidation also heals our bodies and does something no machine can do—it gives energy to repair worn-out tissues and build new ones. Sleep is another way in which the body renews energy. Yet digestion goes on; a supply of energy is piled up for later use. Exercise helps too, because it speeds up the body processes, including those which make energy. Before getting together for their climb, each of the boys had a long night's sleep. They're getting their food and they are going to have a lot of exercise. They'll make it to the top!

FOR YOU DO: It's fun to eat, but even more fun to eat in the open air. Try an outdoor cookout, making your own fireplace (be very sure to put the fire out afterward). Our picture shows three types of fireplaces often built by experienced campers.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Dieter Breaks Pattern Of Overeating

Ida Jean Kain

Food tastes are not unalterable, and a rambunctious appetite can be checked. One reader used a brief illness to launch a slimming program through improved nutrition. She reports:

"I was a compulsive eater from away back. It sounds ridiculous that I, a grown woman, could feel powerless to stop overeating when I knew it was endangering my health and ruining my looks — especially when it was something I didn't even want to eat. I know the books say your emotional life has much to do with eating compulsions, but as far as I can figure, I'm quite happy and contented. I'm not monstrous in size, but at 150 pounds for my short stature I looked messy and felt fat.

"BUT — I THINK I've licked my problem and I feel like an addict who's kicked the habit. It all began when I became ill and was confined to bed for a short time. For two days I felt so wretched, I couldn't stand the sight of food. When I started my regular meals again, I found I simply didn't want so much to eat. I decided to take advantage of this lull in appetite and to continue to eat very lightly. Glory be, I have cut that ravenous appetite down to size. But most marvelous of all, I'm free of that horrible craving for something sweet that kept me nibbling long after mealtimes were over.

"From this experience I learned that one's food capacity can be lessened. I know that doctors do not recommend starvation diets, but I think if one can hold out a day or two without eating anything, this shrinks your stomach so that you then can feel contented on half the food you formerly consumed. I lost nine pounds in 10 days without really trying. Maybe this might help someone else, who knows?"

LET'S ANALYZE what helped this dieter: For two days she had no desrie for food, and following this brief fast she ate lightly. She decided to take advantage of her lessened appetite and continued to eat small meals, avoiding sweets.

It is true that the less you eat sweets, the less you crave sweets. You will want them at first, for nature takes a little time to adjust to change. But once you recognize the necessity of stopping the powerful stimulus to insulin secretion that is causing the craving, with its rebound to hunger, you're in the control tower. Nutrition knowledge is power when you put it into effect.

This dieter will be the winner if she decides to never again deliberately overeat. Overeating generally, or at any one meal, enlarges the stomach and increases food capacity. In short, overeating lessens resistance to overeating.

Talk with your own doctor about a two - day fast, followed by smaller meals.

West Virginian Tells Story Of How He Got Into Politics

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Harley O. Staggers, West Virginia Democrat who is in line to become chairman of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee, tells the story of how he got into politics.

"I was walking along the street at home some years ago when I overheard some friends talking about how they had just selected their candidate for county sheriff," he said.

"I continued walking but then decided to go back and ask them who the candidate would be. 'It's you,' they told me. That was the first I'd heard of it."

Staggers said he didn't take the matter seriously until more friends looked him up and told him they wanted him to run. He finally decided to go along with their proposal and then went on to win the election.

Staggers served as West Virginia's Mineral County sheriff from 1937 to 1941.

After World War II service as a naval aviation navigator, Staggers was elected to the 81st Congress in 1948.

He has been re-elected in eight consecutive elections, thus building up the seniority that placed him in line for the chairmanship of the Commerce Committee.

He also got an assist from Rep. John Bell Williams, the Mississippi Democrat who was stripped of his party seniority because he supported Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater last year.

Williams arrived in Congress one term earlier than Staggers. Except for the party disciplinary action he would have been in line for the chairmanship.

President Johnson's announcement Monday that he was nominating Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., Commerce Committee head, to be a judge in the U.S. District Court in Arkansas cleared the way for Staggers to move into the chairmanship when Harris leaves Capitol Hill.

The White House announcement said that Harris is expected to remain in Congress until the present session adjourns.

Desegregation In U.S. Farm Agencies Occurring Rapidly

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Behind the more dramatic forms of racial problems, desegregation has occurred quietly and rapidly in federal agricultural agencies and related activities over much of the South.

Dual staffs of agricultural extension services have been consolidated. Negroes have been named to state advisory committees and review posts for the first time. Functions of 4-H Clubs and home demonstration clubs are being traced on an unsegregated basis. Biracial committees judge 4-H Club records.

Some of Alabama's home demonstration clubs decided to disband rather than sign desegregation compliance forms. "We cannot see staying in the program under the present circumstances," said Mrs. Leo Pynes of Dupree, Ala. She was president of the Dupree clubs which disbanded in June.

Under the Civil Rights Act, federal employes, such as the county farm agent and home demonstration agent, cannot participate in segregated activities.

"This does not affect our work with individuals," said Dr. Fred Robertson, director of the Department of Agriculture Extension Service at Auburn University.

"It could have some far-reaching effects on our program and cause us to work with some groups, individuals, rather than county or statewide groups," Robertson said.

In 4-H Clubs, Robertson said, we have to work with schools that either are desegregated or working under plans approved by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare."

These agencies have until Dec. 31 to come into full compliance with the law.

An Associated Press survey indicated, however, that most of the extension agencies in the South have moved into desegregation without trouble.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Sweetened Drinks Should Be Limited

Children and adults need to consume adequate liquids, especially during hot weather. But most of the soft drinks on the market are sweetened. The sugar they contain do harm to the teeth. Besides, it may contribute to excessive weight, or dull the appetite for amply balanced nutritious foods, or cause malnutrition. Some of the most frequently consumed soft drinks contain stimulating substance such as caffein.

Dr. Garry Myers

Parents who wouldn't think of letting their young children drink tea or coffee, think nothing of letting them have several bottles a day of pop which may be as stimulating to the nervous system as one or more cups of coffee.

SOME summer camps, which may supply the children in them with well-balanced meals, also may make available many soft drinks and other sweets which the children buy, limited only by their spending money. Revenue from these sweets may go to provide special services or to add to the camp's profits.

During the last school year your child may have attended an elementary school where the children were taught in the classroom the value of well-balanced nutritious food. They were also taught to avoid such stimulants as tea and coffee.

Yet in that same school building these children may have been lured by soft-drinks made available there for them to purchase freely. Some of these soft - drinks may have been highly stimulating.

Then teachers and parents often wonder why there are so many jittery children! Of course, the revenue from these soft-drinks may go for purchase of library books and other school services.

FAMILIES going with children on motor trips in summer find that these children often want to stop for a bottle of soft-drink. A certain father once told me he could hardly get his youngsters past a gas station without stopping for some pop."

Even if such excessive consumption of soft-drink were not physically harmful to the children, there is still the character problem of their learning to limit the frequency and amount of expenditure of learning within reason to wait and of not always having what they want right when they want it.

During summer at home, or away from home, some children consume so much pop between meals that they have a poor appetite for the wholesome foods prepared for them at mealtime.

Some parents make available at home a generous supply of soft-drinks which their youngsters consume at pleasure, thereby reducing their desire to make several trips a day to the nearest drugstore.

A FEW other parents limit the quantity of such on hand, and the amount of money their children may have to spend, through a budgeted allowance.

Still some other parents provide at home a reasonable amount of fruit juices, fruits and milk, especially during summer, as a substitute or partial - substitute for sweetened soft-drinks.

We have no desire to deny children of all such luxuries. The purpose of this column today is to cause some parents who read it to face the problems it suggests. Parents who doubt what has been stated, might be wise in checking with their child's dentist and pediatrician.

My bulletins, "Allowances," and "Eating Problems: Their Prevention and Solution I & II," may be secured by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Homecoming At Pine Grove Marked By Varied Program

One hundred attended the Sunday afternoon session of the homecoming of Pine Grove Lodge, near Hammondsville.

The program opened with services in the morning at the Methodist Church. A picnic dinner was served at noon in the old school building, now used as a community center. The school was closed in 1932.

Lindsey Riggs led the opening prayer. Silent prayer was held for those who died during the past year. Tommy Messler led the salute to the American flag, the Christian flag and the Bible.

Area talent presented a program of readings, recitations, solos, duets, instrumental selections, etc. Fred Barnett led in group singing, accompanied by Miss Nancy Clark.

Former students spoke. Awards went to Tom Saltsman of Wellsville and Mrs. Chalissa Lawrence Swickard of Knoxville, oldest students present; Mrs. Hazel Grafton Householder, youngest student present; David Householder, 15 months, youngest person present, and Allen E. Maple of California, the person traveling the farthest distance.

Mrs. Saltsman also was the oldest person present. She will be 90 Dec. 31.

Officers named for the 1966 reunion were Stanley Baker, president; Mrs. Raymond Lowry, vice president; Mrs. Alice Householder, alternate; Mrs. Virginia Greco, secretary, and Mrs. Grace Twaddle, treasurer. The table committee includes Mrs. Hazel Householder, Mrs. Joann Saltsman, Herman Mathes and Wayne Householder.

Fred Saltsman and Charles G. Cronin will be in charge of grounds and maintenance.

Clyde Crook gave the closing prayer Sunday.

The first concert was held July 15, with the third and final scheduled Aug. 12, when the Monaca Cornet Band will play.

Midland Man Jailed, Fined

A Midland motorist was sentenced to 10 days in jail and fined $200 and costs Tuesday by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff after being convicted on a charge of drunken driving following a lengthy hearing.

The jail term and fine were handed Edward Larry King, 29, of 740 Penn Ave., Midland, whose Ohio driver's license was suspended for a year by the judge.

King was arrested early Thursday on the River Rd. by Patrolman J. F. Strobel, assisted by Patrolman W. F. Copestick.

He pleaded innocent when arraigned the same day and a continuance was granted to allow him time to obtain counsel. He was represented by Atty. Ben H. Berman, while Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark appeared for the city.

When King obtained his Ohio driver's license in February, 1964, his address was listed as 912 Watson Ave.

LaCroft Man Assisted In Rescue Operation

Boilerman 3C Thomas J. Czech, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Czech of 7th Ave., LaCroft, a crewman aboard the destroyer Barry, participated in extensive search and rescue operations for survivors of an Air Force Lockheed C-121 that ditched July 12 in the Atlantic Ocean, 100 miles east of Nantucket Island, Mass.

The destroyer operates out of Newport, R.I., and was on anti-submarine warfare maneuvers in the general area at the time of the incident.

Ratio In Viet Put At 8 To 1

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon thinking now tends toward the view that an 8 to 1 edge, rather than the often-quoted 10 to 1 ratio, is a more realistic goal for a manpower advantage needed to deal with Communist insurgents in South Viet Nam.

Even an 8 to 1 ratio would indicate a far greater input of U.S. troops than seems in prospect. The indicated buildup need under this formula would come to perhaps 650,000 more men. If a 10 to 1 ratio were applied, it would point to a requirement for about 900,000 more troops in South Viet Nam.

American troops there now or due soon total about 83,000 and indications are that about 100,000 will be added by the end of this year. Both figures are far short of filling the 8 to 1 ratio.

Calculations for troop strength needed to handle the guerrillas have been lowered because of the rising number of Communist troops, coupled with their bigger fighting units.

The basis for this seeming paradox is the theory that the more the Viet Cong insurgents get away from hit and run tactics and the more men they field, the easier it becomes to hit them.

The 650,000-man increase on the 8-to-1 ratio is based on the current estimate that about 165,000 Communist troops are opposing about 500,000 Vietnamese troops, plus the 83,000 Americans there or expected shortly and several thousand Koreans, Australians and New Zealanders.

Mother, Child Are Returned In Kidnaping

PITTSBURGH — A 23-year-old Northside woman and her infant daughter were safe at home today after being abducted at gunpoint Tuesday night by an admirer who reportedly had sought to date the young woman.

The abduction took place in Ross Township while the victim, Mrs. Sylvia Stavcimak, was visiting at the home of her mother.

The abduction had set off a wide search for Mrs. Stavcimak, her daughter, Linda Lee, five months old, and the abductor, who police identified as Robert Workman, 38, of Northside.

Mrs. Stavcimak and her mother, Mrs. Angelina Dudley, were sitting in the front yard when Workman drove up and, carrying a rifle, approached Mrs. Stavcimak with the comment: "Come on, I've had enough." He then forced her and the infant into his car.

Authorities said that Workman, after riding around for some five hours — including a trip into neighboring Ohio—then returned the woman and her child safely to the Dudley residence.

Workman drove off and is being sought today, with a warrant having been issued charging him with kidnaping and violation of the firearms act.

Stamps In The News

A new definite pictorial series and an Abraham Lincoln centenary set have been issued by Togo. The regular values in the definitive series depict a butterfly, scorpion, flower, chameleon and an African squirrel. The airmail shows a parrot. The Lincoln set features a common design of a large portrait of the U.S. President. The 1 franc is maroon, 5 fr turquoise, 20 fr brown, 25 fr grey, 100 fr beige. A postage due set was issued by Togo with each stamp illustrating a different shell.

Australia has issued a 5 pence stamp to commemorate the centenary of the birth of General Sir John Monash, one of that country's most distinguished soldiers. During World War I Gen. Monash served with honor at Gallipoli and in France.

He was not only a great soldier to Australians but noted as Vice Chancellor of the University of Melbourne and as Chairman of the Victorian Electricity Commission. The new stamp shows Sir John in uniform. In the background is an electricity transmission tower. The portrait was by Melbourne artist Wes Walters.

Paraguay has announced the issuance of a new set of stamps honoring the sixth meeting of the Inter - American Development Banks. There are three stamps for ordinary mail and two for airmail. The stamps depict an outline map of North and South America behind a sunburst in the center and an inscription at the bottom reading "Centenario de la Epopeya Nacional."

FIRST DAY cover collectors will be glad to see the 1965 edition of the "United States Specialized Catalog of First Day Covers" just published by the Washington Press. There are almost 200 price changes listed. The edition brings up to date the values of various old covers and the latest ones.

Other special sections include a newly revised introduction to first day cover collecting, and a set of detailed instructions for securing covers. It sells for 65 cents and is available at your local stamp dealer.

NEW HEBRIDES will issue a set of four new stamps to honor the late Sir Winston Churchill and to celebrate the 25th anniversary of the Battle of Britain. The values will be 5, 15, 25 and 30 gold centimes. The design will depict a portrait of Sir Winston and St. Paul's Cathedral during the bombings.

Also to be issued are two stamps for the International Cooperation Year on 10-24 to coincide with United Nations Day. The design will feature two hands clasped in the laurel wreath emblem as suggested by the United Nations Postal Administration.

JAPAN HAS issued a set of two stamps honoring Aso National Park. The 5 yen stamp shows Mount Naka-dake. The 10 yen depicts five mountains seen from Shiroyama. Also issued by that country are stamps commemorating the ITU centenary and International Cooperation Year.

Crispy Herb Dumplings Atop Beef Stew

If you are the gardener of the family, committee chairman, Cub Scout chauffeur and chief cook and bottle washer, you'll need to be stingy with your time in the kitchen.

Not that we want you to neglect your family, mind you! It's just that these busy days are the perfect time to take advantage of the "meal-in-a-can" type of convenience foods.

More and more homemakers are using these items as the starting point to truly creative meals; no longer are canned entrees thought to be "not good enough" or "just for the younsters". We're addicted to them because so much of the drudgery is done for us.

One of our finds has been this recipe for beef stew—canned, of course — topped with flavorful herb dumplings.

The dumplings are quickly and easily made with biscuit mix and herbs that make up crispy and golden brown outside, delicately moist and very flavorful inside!

For added interest, we like the idea of rolling the dumpling dough balls in cheese-flavored cracker crumbs first, before arranging them atop the rich and meaty stew to be baked.

STEW AND DUMPLINGS

2 1-pound 8-ounce (or 3 15½-ounce) cans beef stew

Combine biscuit mix, parsley, sugar, salt, sage and marjoram; stir in milk to make a soft dough. Shape into 8 balls; roll in cracker crumbs. Place stew in 1½-quart baking dish; arrange dumplings on top. Bake at 425 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Cracker crumbs made from crackers flavored with different seasonings, such as barbecue, bacon or pizza flavor may be substituted for cheese cracker crumbs.

STEW AND DUMPLINGS

1 cup biscuit mix
1 teaspoon chopped parsley
½ teaspoon sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon sage
⅛ teaspoon marjoram
1-3 cup milk
¼ cup cheese - flavored cracker crumbs

Ex-Steeler King Given New Lease On NFL Life

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

BEMIDJI, Minn. (AP) — Phil King hunched his 6-foot-4 frame into a window seat of a DC3, buzzing over the lake country of northern Minnesota, and spoke the thoughts of a 29-year-old pro football player who has just been traded.

"This makes three clubs in two years," said King, a New York Giants' fixture for six years (five winners) until he was shuttled to Pittsburgh last fall, and then traded to Minnesota Monday.

"New system, new people, new coach," he said. "But most of all a chance to start all over again with a clean bill of health. Someplace where they really want me. I can't tell you how much I am looking forward to playing with the Vikings. I just didn't want to go back to Pittsburgh again.

"I was going good for Pittsburgh until I cracked some ribs. Buddy Parker (Steeler coach) went to Clarence Peaks and John Henry Johnson and I didn't play any more, just a pinch hitter the rest of the way, although we lost five straight at the end.

"During the winter I wrote Buddy and asked to be traded. It wasn't anything personal. I have nothing against anybody. But I made up my mind I had been around too long to have a coach who had made up his mind that I couldn't play.

"Those were wonderful years with the Giants from 1958 through 1963. We won five times but lost the championship each time. You know, I'm the only guy in pro football who is 0-5 in championship games."

Field Of 180 To Open Western Amateur Today

BENTON HARBOR, Mich. (AP) — A giant of a golf course, lurking with trouble at every turn, faces a field of 180 players teeing off today in one of the game's great endurance tests — the 63rd Western Amateur Championship.

The 7,000-yard, par-71 Point o' Wood's layout poses a supreme test for a star-packed field which includes six former Walker Cup players and the 1964 National Amateur runner-up, Ed Tutweiler of Indianapolis.

Now that the National Amateur has shifted to 72 holes of medal play, the Western remains as the biggest tournament featuring man-to-man combat of match play.

The format, however, is unique. There are 72 holes of qualifying — 18 each on Wednesday and Thursday. The field then is trimmed to the low 50 scorers and ties for Friday's 36-hole windup.

After this introduction, the 16 low scorers enter match play with two rounds Saturday leading to the 18-hole semifinals Sunday morning and the 18-hole championship match in the afternoon.

If experience prevails, favorites must be listed among Tutweiler and former Walker Cuppers Dr. Ed Updegraff, Tucson, Ariz.; Bob Gardner, Essex Fells, N.J.; Bill Hyndman, Huntingdon Valley, Pa.; Dick Davis, Los Angeles; Bob Cochran, Normandy, Mo.; and Jimmy Jackson, Kirkwood, Mo.

Supreme Court Rules On Taxes For Legislators

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Members of the Ohio General Assembly must pay Columbus' one per cent city income tax on their legislative salaries and travel allowances, the State Supreme Court held today.

The 5-2 decision said it was the duty of Columbus City Auditor John Price to enforce the income tax ordinance "including institution of law suits to collect delinquent taxes due."

The court allowed a writ asked by Edwin Miller, sales manager for Westinghouse Appliance Sales, Columbus, who lives outside the city.

Price refused to sue for the taxes on grounds none was due, Miller said.

He contended that because the 137 representatives and 33 senators received a substantial part of their 1963-63 salary of $5,000 a year while in session in the Statehouse here they were subject to the tax. He estimated they owed the city a total of about $10,000 annually.

Salaries of lawmakers in the current legislative session that began Jan. 4 were boosted to $8,000 a year.

Steel windows should be coated with one of the metal primers especially devised for the purpose before painting, according to the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association. Rust can be removed before priming by using steel wool. Once the primer is dry, aluminum, rubber - base, enamel, semi-gloss or flat paint can be applied successfully.

Pineapple Fluff Cool Treat On Hot Days

As the temperature goes higher, the demand for cool light desserts also rises.

One treat your family will love is Pineapple Fluff, a cool finish to any meal. It combines juicy pineapple, lemon gelatin, velvetized evaporated milk and chopped nuts.

The dessert is light and airy because the evaporated milk first is whipped into billowing clouds and then folded into the gelatin mixture.

PINEAPPLE FLUFF
(Makes 8 servings)

1 can (1 pound, 4½ ounces) pineapple chunks, undrained
Water
1 package (3 ounces) lemon flavor gelatin
1 cup undiluted velvetized evaporated milk
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup coarsely chopped walnuts

Drain pineapple syrup into cup measure. Add enough water to make 1 cup. Heat syrup to boiling; pour over gelatin in large bowl and stir until dissolved. Chill until consistency of unbeaten egg white. Chill evaporated milk in refrigerator tray until soft ice crystals form around edges of tray (15 or 20 minutes). Whip until stiff (about 1 minute). Add lemon juice. Whip very stiff (2 minutes longer). Fold walnuts and whipped evaporated milk into gelatin mixture. Alternate layers of whipped mixture and pineapple chunks in serving dish. Chill until firm. Sprinkle additional walnuts on top, if desired.

WHIPPED MIXED FRUIT AND RICE PUDDING

1½ cups cold cooked rice
½ cup coconut
½ cup well-drained canned fruit cocktail
½ cup seedless raisins
¼ cup chopped walnuts (optional)
2-3 cup (small can) undiluted velvetized evaporated milk.
2 tablespoons lemon juice.
½ cup sifted confectioners' sugar

Mix rice, coconut, fruit cocktail, raisins and walnuts in bowl. Chill evaporated milk in refrigerator tray until soft ice crystals form around edges of tray (15 to 20 minutes). Whip until stiff (about 1 minute.) Add lemon juice and whip very stiff (about 2 minutes longer). Beat in sugar. Fold whipped evaporated milk into rice mixture. Spoon into serving dishes.

Take It Slow

BIG CYPRESS, Fla. — The trick to catching rattlesnakes with your bare hands is not to move fast, reports an 18-year-old Seminole Indian expert, James Osceola.

"The secret is to move your hand very slowly. A rattlesnake will not strike an object that is moving very slowly."

Nevertheless, he said, the safest way is the conventional one of pinning the snake's lethal head down with a forked stick and grasping it by the neck, out of reach of the poison-injecting fangs.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: All the rods in our closets are the usual adult height, but we need lower rods for the youngsters.

I took two wire coat hangers and pulled them out straight to make long, narrow loops with a hook on one end.

I hung these on the clothes bar and inserted a broom handle in the loops. (A third hanger may be placed in the center of the extension to give added strength.)

The hangers can be taped or stapled to the broom handle to prevent them from slipping off.

My nieces share one closet, so I made the extension hanger just long enough to take care of one child's clothes (we hang baby clothes, bluses, etc., on the top bar above the extension).

The other child, who is tall enough to reach the clothes rod, uses the other end of the top bar.

The extension bar may be cut to fit the full length of the closet, or as the situation requires.

It certainly doubled our closet space.

AUNTIE.

DEAR HELOISE: I always had a hard time putting all my hair up into my swimming cap because my hair was so long.

I found that if I put a regular hair net over my hair first, and then put on the swimming cap, it is much easier to get all of my hair into the cap.

LELIA THOMAS (age 11).

DEAR HELOISE: Try putting fancy adhesive backed paper on telephone directories. They look quite attractive on a telephone stand.

ELEANOR MAY.

DEAR HELOISE: This is for ladies who have portable hair dryers with shoulder straps, and the straps dig into their shoulders.

Get the sponge strap-cover piece off an old pair of roller skates, run the dryer strap through the pad just as you would a skate strap.

Or, get a small sponge, (the type used for cleaning purposes) and put two small slits in it, the width of the strap, and slide the strap through.

No more sore shoulders.

U.C.M.

DEAR HELOISE: I used to live and run my home by a set schedule.

In subtle ways, my husband began to let me know that he preferred a home that was a bit disarranged. He wanted our home to have a warm and "lived in" look.

ANOTHER SENSIBLE HOUSEWIFE.

I agree wholeheartedly with your husband. And now, don't you feel better, sugar.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I have read many hints about uses for baby food jars, but I have one for a baby bottle . . . other than its intended use!

The ounces are marked on the bottle, so it is a simple matter to pour in the desired amount of vinegar, oil, and other seasonings for dressing.

I just put the plastic protector cap on the bottle, put it in the refrigerator, and it takes very little space.

VALERIA.

DEAR HELOISE: I have found that perspiration odor can be removed from washable clothing by wetting the garment in suds and then sprinkling it freely with baking soda. Rub to a thick paste and let stand for about 20 minutes. Then wash as usual.

This has worked on all kinds of natural and synthetic white fabrics, and has not harmed any of my washable materials.

County Officials Assured By State On Road Work

LISBON — Assurances on the start of some Route 30 projects west of Lisbon next year and for assistance on construction of a new access road for Highlandtown Lake were received by Columbiana County officials from state authorities at Columbus Tuesday.

Commissioners Max Gard, James Boyd and Frank Wilson, County Engineer John Ursu and Don Gosney, aide to Rep. Wayne L. Hays, met with executives of the Ohio Highway Department and the Division of Natural Resources yesterday afternoon.

After some discussion of the county's highway needs, the highway officials assured the delegation some projects will be undertaken for improvement of Route 30 between Lisbon and the Stark County line.

Elimination of a curve at Beacon Light Hill, where a new extension of Depot Rd. will intersect with Route 30, will get priority, with reduction of other curves to follow, the county group said it was told.

The delegation met first with Earl Nelson, Division 11 deputy director, and Levi Kimball of the department, and later conferred with C. D. Miller, deputy director in charge of planning.

Later, the group met with officials of the Department of Natural Resources, who said the legislature has approved a bill providing $7.5 million for development of park access roads.

Ursu was requested to submit a cost estimate for the new road at Highlandtown, made necessary after the closing of a section of the Old Steubenville Pike because of the lake project.

New Zealand's Day-Old Quints Are 'Doing Fine'

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP) — New Zealand's day-old Lawson quintuplets are in very good condition, a medical bulletin said today.

The boy and four girls lay in incubators at Auckland's National Women's Hospital as congratulatory wires and offers of help arrived for the parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. (Sam) Lawson.

She is 26 and a former model. He runs a fish and chips shop.

"The birth is an occasion of great joy in which we all share," said Prime Minister Keith Holyoake. He said that he would see that the Lawsons get adequate housing, nursing help and anything else they need.

"It's wonderful, I can't believe it, I'm so excited I can't really describe how I feel," Mrs. Lawson said. "My 5-year-old daughter Lee Ann is absolutely thrilled. As for my husband, I think he's flabbergasted."

The quints have not yet been named.

The boy, born first, weighed exactly 4 pounds at birth. The girls weighed 3 pounds 3 ounces, 4 pounds 3 ounces, 4 pounds 2 ounces and 3 pounds 7½ ounces.

Motorist Fined $35 On Separate Charges

Josephine Dudgeon, 33, of 5th St., Chester, was fined a total of $35 and costs Tuesday on two separate charges stemming from an auto accident Monday night in which her car struck another parked vehicle.

She was fined $10 and costs for driving left of center on River St., where the accident occurred, and $25 and costs for not possessing a city driver's license.

Mayor Harry Abrams, who conducted the hearing, said today that a $25 fine is the minimum for not possessing the city driver's license. No extensions for obtaining the licenses have been granted, he added.

SUMMER CLASSES

During the summer months, two days of every week finds Crucible employes in the classroom attending Midland works' annual fire school. The classes are held to acquaint employes with fire prevention, fire fighting methods and use of various fire fighting equipment.

Fires are infrequent in the plant; but should one happen, Crucible people are ready and able to act quickly with the knowledge of the extensive equipment available to confine and extinguish fires.

Training in fire fighting is only one element in a company safety program aimed at keeping people safe and in good health while they are in the plant. "Safety First" is a slogan born in the steel industry more than 50 years ago. At Crucible we give it a new twist - - First Safety so people can work with plant and capital for progress.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I read with interest the letter from the 45-year-old widow seeking to re-enter the business world, and found all doors closed until she was advised by a personnel director to shave 10 years off her age.

You asked for an answer to the widow's question, "Why does industry refuse to hire women over 40?" As a secretary who began her career at 37 (22 years ago) I believe I can answer.

Many companies, especially large organizations who offer fringe benefits, are reluctant to hire older people because the benefit programs are underwritten by insurance contracts which have a maximum age limit for new employes — usually 35. Taking on employes over 35 increases the cost of the program.

Then there's a second reason that isn't discussed in polite business society, but it's very real. The men want younger women around the office — not older ones.

They may scream about inefficient, lame-brained, wet-behind-the-ears, dumbbells who can't spell, can't punctuate, can't get in on time, and so on, yet they continue to hire the cute young things with their high bosoms and tight skirts.

The gray-haired motherly types with 18 years' experience are told, "Sorry. We have nothing for you." — P.C.I.

Dear P.C.I.: Wow! And thank you.

Fouled Out

Dear Ann: I've been in my room crying for an hour. My eyes are so swollen I can hardly see to write this letter.

Last night I had some kids over. (We are all between 16 and 17;. Bill (a boy I like a lot) told a joke that had some not-so-nice words in it but everybody knows what they mean. That very minute my dad walked in. He was in the next room and he heard everything. I almost died when I saw him.

Dad said, "Who told that joke?" Bill answered, "I did. Anything in it you didn't understand, Clyde?"

All the kids laughed. My dad got real mad and said, "We don't allow that kind of talk in this house, young man. There's the door." He took Bill by the arm and ushered him out.

The kids were flabbergasted and left right away. My party was ruined. I'll bet they'll never come again. I know Bill is through with me for good.

My dad is not mean or prudish. I never saw him act like this before. How can I square this with the kids? Please help me. — AGNES.

Dear Agnes: I don't see that you have anything to square. Foul language is out of place in decent company. Bill is the one who should be squaring things.

If Bill doesn't come around any more you haven't lost a thing. He sounds like a wet wick to me.

Father's Right

Dear Ann: My sister and her husband were divorced many years ago. Neither has remarried.

Their eldest daughter was married in a beautiful church ceremony last week. The bride came down the aisle on her father's arm. The bride's mother was seated in the first row. When the minister asked, "Who giveth this woman in marriage?" the bride's father answered in a loud voice, "I do."

He has not been a real father to that girl for years. Her mother raised the girl with very little help from anyone. Don't you feel that he should have answered, "Her mother and I do?" — JUST WONDERING.

Dear Just: Sorry, but the father of the bride gives his daughter in marriage. And the response to the question should be the traditional one regardless of the circumstances.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Dear Friends,

One thing a family should not expect the funeral director to do is to suggest the cost of the funeral to be selected. His advice may be invited, but the decision rests with the family. The financial aspects must of necessity be candidly discussed, to avoid hardship and to have complete understanding by all concerned.

Meet The Press To Change Time

Uprooting a TV landmark like "Meet the Press" and planting it deeper into TV's Sunday afternoon ghetto for think programs may not strike a lot of viewers as progress.

Hal Humphrey

"Meet the Press" moved into TV from radio on Nov. 6, 1947, which makes it the oldest regular program on TV today. After being in a series of different time spots, NBC anchored it at 6 p.m. Sundays on Oct. 12, 1952, where "Meet the Press" has remained intact and impervious to change of almost any kind.

But on next Sept. 19 NBC is moving "Meet the Press" to 1 p.m. Sundays to make way for a program it says will place more emphasis on "hard news." It is to be called the Sunday program, a title already used by the network on Sundays for a show that has covered feature news.

"Hard news" is a journalistic term which TV has borrowed from the press to define news of a compelling nature and which generally is happening at the moment.

WHAT NBC'S executives do not seem to realize is that Lawrence Spivak with his guests and interviewing newsmen is developing a good part of the hard news to come along on the average Sunday, which notably is a slow news day.

Frequently Monday's newspapers report something said by a politician, labor leader or someone else of importance who appeared on Spivak's "Meet the Pres" the evening before.

NBC president, Robert Kintner, says the new Sunday program and the "Scherer-MacNeil Report," a new Saturday news program to start this September, are being put into early evening spots to sustain a continuity of hard news at approximately the same evening hour throughout the week.

It will be interesting to see how much of NBC's new Sunday news half-hour can sustain viewer interest and how often it will be reporting something said on "Meet the Press" a few hours earlier.

MOST TV newscasts remain superficial and lack information on subjects where it really counts. Last week's political explosion in Greece was a good example. The national network newscats on TV reported the riots but seemed to have no explanation of causes. The viewer had to get that from his newspaper.

By burying Spivak on Sunday afternoon, NBC may be virtually eliminating one of its best newsmen from the news scene. Kintner says Spivak will have an even bigger audience at 1 p.m. Sundays. Spivak says he doesn't know what to think. He hopes his loyal audience will follow him. "It certainly will be a good test," he adds, with perhaps a trace of apprehension.

Spivak sold "Meet the Press" to NBC 10 years ago so he had nothing to say in the network's decision to pull it from its 6 p.m. berth. He was not even consulted beforehand nor told why he was being switched to another time.

WHAT MIGHT be termed a crumb or two of sustenance has been tossed Spivak's way in "a number of special full-hour 'Meet the Press programs' to be telecast in the 6:30;7:30 p.m. time Sundays. NBC does not specify exactly how many of these there will be — probably just enough to prove to Spivak that the bulk of his audience is available at 6 p.m. but not at 1 p.m. on Sunday

According to the rating services, "Meet the Press" has a steady and respectably sized audience at 6 p.m. (5 p.m. in the Midwest time zone). Occasionally, as he did last November with Juana Castro (Fidel's sister), Spivak has scored above a 16 rating. No straight newscast ever does that well with the men who conjure up the mystical rating numbers.

And on a Sunday afternoon at 1 p.m. there generally aren't that many people watching all three networks combined.

2 Drivers Fined $10, Costs At Cumberland

NEW CUMBERLAND—Jackie R. Scott, 25, of New Cumberland R.D. 2 was fined $10 and costs by Squire John D. Herron in a hearing Monday for having no auto inspection sticker. Sheriff's deputies made the arrest.

In another hearing conducted by Herron Monday, Clark N. Gaston, 17, of New Cumberland R.D. 1 was fined $10 and costs for having defective brakes on his automobile. Gaston was arrested by West Virginia state police.

Employment's Down In Executive Branch

WASHINGTON (AP) — A report that employment in the executive branch of the government is down 602 from the level of last year has brought commendations from President Johnson.

The report, listing employment at 2,468,663 as of June 30, was made by Budget Director Charles Schultze. Johnson told the Cabinet Tuesday he is greatly gratified at the success of an effort to hold down the pay roll.

The Charter of the United Nations was signed June 26, 1945, in San Francisco, Calif.

75 AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

A DEALER needs cars and pick-ups. Must be exceptionally sharp. Will pay cash or if payments too high will trade back to older model — finance balances paid off. "Say," why not trade back to one of the most economical cars in the world for approximately $1 a day. You can trade your big costly operating car for a like new Volkswagen with operating on 1c per mile, 5.3 pints of the best oil, get up to 43.2 miles on regular gas, up to 100,000 miles on your first set of tires, also in replacing a new rear fender costs only $18.95, insurance is much, much less on a Volkswagen. Make us prove it. You eliminate water pump, radiator, anti-freeze, hose, clamps, drive shaft assembly. It's a rear end air cooled engine. You can almost trade year for year for the price of power steering, power brakes, power windows, power seat, and automatic on your big costly operating car. Volkswagen has the lowest depreciation, providing you keep it sharp, highest trade in value, and it starts at $1,563 P.O.E. and up. You pay less and save 50c out of every $1 when you drive a Volkswagen versus a big costly operating car. Why not join the millions of people who are driving the Volkswagen. There must be a reason. Come in, write, or call and talk to our courteous salesmen. SEE your local representative Mr. CHUCK RINESTINE. See it — Drive it — Just try it. —There goes another Volkswagen. Why does he drive a Volkswagen? Ask the man who owns one. Beaver Valley Volkswagen, 294 State St., Vanport, Beaver, Pa. Your factory dealer, only 20 miles from East Liverpool, Ohio on Pa. Rt. 68. 775-4550.

P. S. PARTS AVAILABLE IMMEDIATELY or on tap within 24 hours. Service almost immediately. Call Mr. Charles Coen, your local man from Wellsville and our service manager or Mr. Earl King, parts manager for more information.

Junior Editors Quiz on BODY ENERGY

QUESTION: How does the body renew its energy?

ANSWER: Our bodies are wonderful machines which work for us, making it possible for us to do the things we want—such as climbing a mountain top (big picture). The boys will need a lot of energy for their climb. Where are they going to get it?

The boys themselves are giving the main answer: from food. Food is a kind of body fuel. After being digested, it reaches the millions of body cells and oxidizes, or burns slowly. This releases the energy we need for everything we do. Oxidation also heals our bodies and does something no machine can do—it gives energy to repair worn-out tissues and build new ones. Sleep is another way in which the body renews energy. Yet digestion goes on; a supply of energy is piled up for later use. Exercise helps too, because it speeds up the body processes, including those which make energy. Before getting together for their climb, each of the boys had a long night's sleep. They're getting their food and they are going to have a lot of exercise. They'll make it to the top!

FOR YOU DO: It's fun to eat, but even more fun to eat in the open air. Try an outdoor cookout, making your own fireplace (be very sure to put the fire out afterward). Our picture shows three types of fireplaces often built by experienced campers.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, July 28, the 209th day of 1965. There are 156 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1932, Maj. Gen. Douglas MacArthur, acting under White House orders, drove the veterans' "Bonus Army" from Washington. The veterans, originally 10,000 strong, had camped in makeshift shacks in an effort to force immediate payment of a cash bonus to which they were entitled on less immediate terms.

On this date

In 1750, composer Johann Sebastian Bach died.

In 1829, a steam carriage invented by Sir Goldsworth Gurney traveled from London to Bath, England, and back at 15 miles an hour.

In 1896, Miami, Florida was incorporated with a population of 260.

In 1914, Austria declared war on Serbia at the opening of World War I.

In 1946, Gen. Charles de Gaulle urged an alliance between France and Britain to help offset the emergence of United States and Russia as the two major world powers.

Ten years ago — Three dishonorably discharged soldiers, who had renounced the United States for life in Red China two years before, arrived in San Francisco.

Five years ago—The Federal Reserve Board declared that its reduction in margin requirements for buying common stocks was not ordered to bolster stock prices or to stimulate credit and speculation.

One year ago—President John F. Kennedy's widow, Jacqueline, announced she had bought a cooperative apartment on New York's 5th Avenue

The world's longest natural bridge is the Landscape Arch in Utah, which spans 291 feet about 100 feet above the canyon floor.
